Mr. Hetrick has purchased the Mrs. Ida Darby residence on Faculty Hill, fronting on Mauldin street, for $2,000, and will soon move to his new home. They are most cordially welcomed to our midst. C. F. Hetrick is also here, and will move his family in the near future.

—The Wise and Otherwise Club held a business meeting at Pitchford's Hall last Friday afternoon, at which a great deal of work was disposed of. At this meeting the scrapbooks were brought in and sent to a number of shut-ins; also a course of work was planned for the next time. Miss Norma Moore was proposed for and received as a member. The club decided to subscribe for the Sunshine Bulletin, a monthly magazine, so as to keep in touch with other Sunshine societies. Before adjournment Miss Earle invited the club to meet with her at the regular hour on next Friday afternoon. The members present were: Misses Gertrude Blennann, Annie Crisp, Lula Earle, Olive Maxwell, Bertha Schumacher, Eloise Strother, Irene Strother and Annie Verner. Two visitors were Miss Mae Haley, of Westminster, and Miss Mamie Harrison.

—One of the most delightful club meetings of the season was that of the Emery Circle, which was entertained by Mrs. C. G. Jaynes from 4:30 to 6:30 o'clock, on Tuesday afternoon, July 29th. The large reception room was prettily and daintily decorated with graceful ferns and quantities of cut flowers artistically arranged in vases. After an hour spent in pleasant conversation, while the busy fingers plied the needle, the guests were invited into the dining room, which was decorated very effectively in pink and white. On the center of the dining table was placed a handsome piece of lace, upon which rested a large cut glass vase filled with pink roses. A delightful sweet course, consisting of cakes, cream and fudge, was served. Those enjoying the afternoon were: Mesdames Seaborn, Adams, Hughs, Darby, Sloan, Bauknight; Mrs. Dodd, of Atlanta; Bauknight; of Bishopville; Mrs. Sitton, of Pendleton.
