COL. W. W. LUMPKIN IS DEAD.

Distinguished Columbian Passed Away at Asheville, N. C.

Col. W. W. Lumpkin, one of the best known residents of Columbia, died at the home of his son-in-law, Dr. E. B. Glenn, at Asheville, N. C., early Sunday morning. Col. Lumpkin was taken ill while visiting his daughter, Mrs. Glenn, last Friday a week ago, and for the past three days he had been at death's door. His remarkably strong vitality tided him over until the end came peacefully this morning. At his bedside when the end came were his four sons, Rev. H. H. Lumpkin, of Darlington; A. M. Lumpkin, of Columbia; M. C. Lumpkin and Bryan Lumpkin, and his three daughters, Mrs. E. B. Glenn, Miss Grace Lumpkin and Miss Katherine Lumpkin.

Col. Lumpkin was born at the old Lumpkin homestead, in Oglethorpe county, Georgia, February 14, 1849. He enlisted in Company D, 3d Georgia, at the age of 15, and served during the war. After the war his family moved to Green county, where he practiced law for several years, and where he became connected with the Georgia Railroad as attorney. Col. Lumpkin moved to Columbia about fifteen years ago, where he acted as commercial agent for his road. He was prominent in fraternal organizations and was a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity of the Masonic order; the Knights Templars, the Shriners, and the Knights of Pythias. He was past High Priest and Past Eminent Commander of Columbia Encampment, and was Grand Generalissimo for South Carolina, which in another year would have made him Grand Commander of the State. Col. Lumpkin was married in 1875 to Miss Annie C. Elliott, of Augusta, who, with four sons and three daughters, survive him.

Col. Lumpkin's remains were interred in Elmwood Cemetery, Columbia, Monday at noon.

GAFFNEY BOY SHOTS FATHER.

W. H. Bright Probably Fatally Wounded by Son.

Gaffney, March 14.—W. H. Bright is lying at the office of Dr. Pittman in a critical condition, from a gunshot wound through the bowels, fired by his son, Travis Bright, at the home of a Mr. Smart, in Gaffney, this morning, about 5 o'clock. The wounded man and his son have been conducting a meat market in what is known as West End for several months, and have been doing a fairly good business, except when Mr. Bright, Sr., would get on a drunken spree, which happened pretty frequently, and at times he was very violent.

Yesterday he was drinking, and when his wife went to help her daughter nurse a sick child, he followed her and ordered her to go home at once. Travis Bright, who is about 20 years of age, and who is married, was at his sister's also. When Mrs. Bright refused to go, her husband struck her a heavy blow in the face, which left a deep mark, and when Travis attempted to interfere, his father struck him also. This was about 3 a. m. Mrs. Bright then went up town and demanded protection from the police, asking that she be locked in jail, as she was afraid her husband would kill her. She remained in the waiting room at the station until almost 5 o'clock, when her husband came up and persuaded her to go home.

Mrs. Bright refused to stop at home, but went to Mr. Smart's, who lived near, where she found Travis. Bright then came up and accused Travis of keeping his mother away from home, and when the young man denied having done so, his father slapped his face. The young man then shot him. Immediately after the shooting young Bright went to the county jail and surrendered to Sheriff Thomas. Travis has the reputation of being a quiet and sober young man.

THE NEWS FROM FAIR PLAY.

Death of H. E. Thompson Deplored. The Sunday School Workers.

Fair Play, March 14.—Special: On the afternoon of Monday, March 7th, as the sun filled this dark earth with brightness, a happy home was overshadowed with gloom as the gentle spirit of Herbert E. Thompson departed to dwell with Him for whom he had labored so long. This unexpected death caused even strangers to say, "How sad," and made his friends and relatives say, "Why was he taken from his dear, precious children, who were called upon only a few days before to give up a dear, loving mother?" God is omnipotent, all-wise and supreme, and why question his dispensations of Providence?

The deceased was an elder in the Presbyterian church at Fair Play, and at the time of his death was superintendent in the Sabbath school. An earnest, devoted Christian worker for the cause of Christ, truly a man of God has lain down his armor, sword and shield, and gone to dwell with Him who never makes any mistakes. He will be missed in the church he had served so faithfully, in his home where happiness reigned, in his community where he was respected and esteemed by all. Herbert Thompson was the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Thompson, of Fair Play, and to them and one sister, Miss Helen, and brother, Carl, he extend condolence in this dark hour of bereavement. Of the little children we can safely say, God will keep them under the shadow of His wing. He is a Father to the fatherless and the orphans. In the presence of a large number of sorrowing relatives and friends all that was mortal of Herbert Thompson was committed to mother earth in the new Presbyterian cemetery by the side of his wife, who preceded him to the grave only a few days ago, funeral services being conducted by his pastor, Rev. M. E. Peabody.

Miss Zelma Isbell has returned from a visit to Georgia. She was accompanied home by her aunt, who will remain some time with relatives here.

Leon Harris made a business trip to Seneca Saturday.

The friends of Prof. J. L. Kiser are pleased to know he is able to resume his duties in the school room this (Monday) morning.

Mrs. T. R. Harris is convalescing from her recent illness.

The Sunday school at the Beaverdam Baptist church has taken up the home department work, also the cradle roll system. Mrs. W. L. Dobbs is the efficient superintendent of the home department, while the cradle roll will be skillfully presided over by Mrs. Thomas Isbell. These ladies feel the need of reaching the mothers whose opportunities are such that they rarely ever get to Sunday school, and with the assistance of the young ladies of the community we feel that nothing short of success will crown their efforts.

We are sorry to chronicle the indisposition of Mr. Bishop, who was unfortunate in displacing his shoulder on Saturday.

The friends of Mrs. Carl Thompson and Mrs. A. T. Thompson will be glad to learn that they are recovering from their recent illness.

Mrs. John Elrod has returned from a pleasant visit to relatives at Hartwell, Ga.

Teachers' and Trustees' Meeting.

The trustees and teachers of Center township held a very enthusiastic meeting on the first Saturday of March. Several questions of importance to school work were discussed. That of attendance was deemed the most vital, and was considered at length. A number of feasible plans and suggestions were presented for solving this rather difficult problem, and thus arouse more intelligent interest in our schools. This is a question that concerns patrons, trustees and teachers, and cannot be successfully solved without the co-operation of all. Not all of the teachers and trustees of the township were present.

At our next meeting, which will be the last for this school year, we hope to have every teacher and trustee, with as many of the patrons as possible. This meeting will be held on April 9th. A forenoon and afternoon session is held, with an hour's intermission, during which time a most bountiful picnic dinner was served on the porch by the patrons of the school.
