POSTAL BANKS NOVEMBER 1.

They May Be in Operation as Soon As October 15th.

Washington, Aug. 6.—By October 15th at the earliest, or by November 1st at the latest, the postal savings bank system will be put in operation throughout the country.

The indications are that at the beginning one town in each State will be designated as a postal savings bank.

Uncle Sam is not finding it an easy task to set up in the banking business.

The departmental committee which is working out the details of organization of the new bank has under consideration a device proposed as a substitute for the pass book.

SIXTEEN REASONS WHY

Plenty of Cowpeas Should be Sown. They Are Helpful to Land.

Dr. S. A. Knapp, special agent in charge of the farmers' co-operative demonstration work of the bureau of plant industry, United States Department of Agriculture, has sent a "personal letter" to Southern planters about cowpeas.

1. They are a fairly good human food. 2. They are one of our most nutritious foods for stock.

3. They shade the soil during the hottest part of the summer, thus aiding in the formation of valuable nitrates.

4. If turned under, the vines add considerable fertility to the land.

5. The presence of decaying roots, stubble and vines in the soil helps to convert mineral substances into plant food.

6. If picked, the peas alone are worth from eight to twelve dollars per acre.

7. The vines that grow on an acre planted between the corn are worth from six to ten dollars for stock food.

8. Through their roots, peas put into the soil from four to six dollars worth of nitrogen per acre.

9. The vines, roots and stubble help to make the soil loose and easily cultivated.

10. They also absorb and retain moisture that will aid the next crop to go easily through a drought.

11. The roots of pea vines are good subsoilers. They go to considerable depth and open up the earth so that air and water can make a deeper soil.

12. Peas get their nitrogen from the air, free of cost to the farmer, so that very little nitrogen is needed in their fertilizers except for very poor soils.

13. Peas feed strongly upon the supply of potash and phosphoric acid; therefore, these substances should be supplied to them.

14. The price of peas is high, but this does not keep the wise farmer from planting them.

15. Let no farmer neglect to plant abundantly of this important crop. Plant some for hay; plant some on poor land for turning under; plant some for grazing by horses, cows, hogs and other farm stock.

16. Plenty of cowpeas on the farm make loose fertile lands, strong fine stock and contented, prosperous farmers.

MESSERVY SERVE SENTENCE.

Colleton Murder Case Has Been Decided by the Supreme Court.

(News and Courier Special.) Columbia, Aug. 4.—J. W. Messervy, who was convicted of the killing of Constable C. P. Fishburne, at Ravenel station, in Colleton county, July 6, 1909, and given a sentence of twenty years in the penitentiary, lost his appeal to the Supreme Court, the decision being filed this evening.

The crime for which Messervy will spend practically the rest of his life in prison took place a few feet from the depot platform at Ravenel, a small station in Colleton. Messervy was receiving from the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company a shipment of alcohol, said to have been purchased by his wife, L. W. Messervy, and shipped from Cincinnati.

The Killing. C. P. Fishburne, the dispensary constable, who met his death at the hands of Messervy, attempted to seize the alcohol, horse, wagon and harness belonging to Messervy. According to the defendant's side, there followed an altercation, in which the constable was shot by Messervy. The shooting took place early in the evening, about 7:20 o'clock, and Fishburne died a few hours later.

The defendant was tried before the late Judge Charles G. Dantzler at the November term of Court for Colleton county, in 1909. The jury returned a verdict of manslaughter and not guilty of carrying concealed weapons, and after a motion for a new trial was refused, the defendant was sentenced to imprisonment in the State penitentiary for a period of twenty years.

Already in Penitentiary. Shortly after the trial Messervy was brought here for safe keeping, and inquiry at the State prison tonight brings out the fact that Messervy is here now. He was not told to-night of the decision of the highest court in the State.

An interesting feature of the bringing of Messervy to the penitentiary was the statement made that he was chained to some negro prisoners, who were being brought here at the same time. The story created quite a sensation. Messervy is said to possess a violent temper. He is a cripple.

Questions Involved. The appeal to the Supreme Court was of much interest, in that one of the exceptions affects the Carey-Cothran Act, the contention being that inasmuch as the State dispensary had been abolished, the Governor was required to appoint constables to enforce the Carey-Cothran Act.

Another point taken by the defense was that the alcohol being an interstate shipment and not yet delivered to the consignee, at her home, its ultimate destination, and yet being in the same original package as when shipped from Cincinnati, it was not liable to seizure by constables.

This phase of the case is also of especial interest now, in connection with the recent ruling by Judge Memminger, under the Carey-Cothran Act. This ruling, however, affects only the dry counties, Colleton being wet at the time, the stock of the county dispensary not having been disposed of.

Attorney General Lyon a few days ago ruled that whiskey for personal use could not be seized. The decision in the Messervy case is by Chief Justice Jones.

HIS DEFEAT NOW TOLD.

Patterson's Judiciary Ticket Defeated in Tennessee Election.

Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 4.—The Independents elected their judicial tickets in Tennessee to-day in one of the most exciting and hard fought political contests ever known in the State.

The Independent headquarters here claims that the majority will approximate 40,000 votes. The regular Democrats, whose ticket was defeated, claim these figures will be cut by 10,000 or 15,000 votes and their leaders allege fraud in many places. They also charge that they were denied representation at the polls by the election commissioners, dominated by the Independent faction.

It took on added strength when the State committee ordered a blanket primary for nomination of both judicial and State officers. Three members of the Supreme Court, Chief Justice Beard and Justices Neal and Shields, and Judges Wilson and Taylor, of the Court of Civil Appeals, refused to enter the primary, and the Independent movement was on Judges McAlester and Bell, of the Supreme Court, the primary, and on the regular ticket.

Governor Stumped State. Governor Patterson entered the lists for the regular ticket and stumped the State for it. His enemies lined up solidly with the Independents.

The Cooper case, charges of attempted coercion of the Supreme Court by the Governor in its decision of the trial and his pardon of Col. Cooper, played leading roles in the campaign and served almost to make it a fight of Patterson and anti-Patterson. The Republican leaders, Newell Saunders and H. Clay Evans, entered the fight for the Independents, and it has been charged that there was a deal following a conference at the White House in which President Taft participated.

The endorsement by the Republican committee of the Independents was followed by a break in Republican ranks and the negro vote, it was alleged, was solidly for the regular ticket. Negroes were registered more freely than ever before and they paid their poll taxes. The revolt in the Republican ranks was led by Hon. Jesse Littleton and many of the blacks followed him, but it seems not in the numbers that have been predicted.

Enemies of Governor Patterson claim the result to-day will have a destructive effect on his political future. He is a candidate for re-election, but as yet the opposition has not shown its hand as to what steps will be taken in putting out a ticket against him.

Mule Spills Motocyclers. Logansport, Ind., Aug. 6.—Clyde Jenness took his sweetheart for a ride on his tandem motorcycle. Seeing a mule standing in the roadway he let on the gasoline and opened wide the exhaust.

"Watch him run," he said. When the mule didn't run Jenness turned to pass the animal, fearing a collision. Just as he was opposite the mule it let fly with both feet, striking the motorcycle amidship and hurling the riders over a steep bank. The machine was smashed and the riders were badly bruised.

Asked to Save Tallulah Falls. Tallulah Falls, Ga., Aug. 5.—The following telegram has been sent to the Governor of Georgia:

There is a Difference Between Wagons

A cheap wagon looks about as good as a Studebaker when it is new,—but it won't compare with a Studebaker after several years wear;

And what is more, The chances are that what you have paid on it for repairs, added to the original cost, would be more than we would ask for a new

The cheap wagon is "played out" in a few years, But, The Studebaker will be practically as good as new. The prudent farmer buys the wagon that will do his work well and wear well. He buys a Studebaker.

WORK WEAKENS THE KIDNEYS.

Doan's Kidney Pills Have Done Great Service for People Who Work in Walhalla.

Most Walhalla people work every day in some strained, unnatural position—bending constantly over a desk—riding on jolting wagons or cars—doing laborious housework; lifting, reaching or pulling, or trying the back in a hundred and one other ways. All these strains tend to wear, weaken and injure the kidneys until they fall behind in their work of filtering the poisons from the blood.

J. R. Hughes, Faculty Hill, Walhalla, S. C., says: "I have been a locomotive engineer for many years and the jolting of the engine weakened my kidneys. I had a pain across the small of my back and at times it extended into my shoulders. Several years ago I began using Doan's Kidney Pills when I was suffering from one of these attacks, and it was not long before I was free from the trouble. I procured this remedy at Dr. J. W. Bell's drug store and it did not require more than a few doses to give me relief. I do not think there is another preparation for kidney trouble equal to Doan's Kidney Pills."
