Andrew Carnegie Establishes Fund for Prevention of War.

Washington, Dec. 15-Surrounded by 27 trustees of his choosing, comprising former cabinet members, exambassadors, college presidents, lawyers and educators. Andrew Carnegie yesterday transferred $10,000,-000 in 5 per cent bonds, valued at $11,500,000, to be devoted primarily to the establisment of universal peace by the abolition of war between nations and such frictions as may impair "the progress and happiness of man."

When wars between nations shall have ceased the fund is to be applied to such altruistic purposes as will "best help man in his glorious ascent onward and upward," by the barishment of the "most degrading evil or evils" then harrassing mankind.

Applauded His Purpose. As Mr. Carnegie read an informal deed of trust, announcing at length the general purpose of his gift, there was prolonged applause. He then explained the incidents which inspired the giving of the money at this time and declared with emphasis that if the English-speaking race in the United States and Great Britain were once consolidated in the movement for international peace, the success of the measure in the rest of the world would be assured. That Great Britain stood ready to co-operate with this country Mr. Carnegie said he felt certain, and all that was now needed, he added, was the concurrence of the President and the Senate in promulgating the movement

A resolution of thanks was presented by Joseph H. Choate, former United States ambassador to Great Britain, which was adopted, and John L. Cadwaller, of New York, proposed that a committee of seven be appointed to consider the subject of the organization of the body of trustees, the form of charter to be obtained and other details of organization.

Senator Elihu Root, of New York. was unanimously elected permanent chairman, and James Barry Scott, Solicitor of the State Department, was chosen permanent secretary of the board of trustees until a more definite organization shall have been affected.

Mr. Carnegle declined to be included in the future organization of the board of trustees.

Mr. Carnegie will explain further the purposes of his gift at the opening session of the American Society for the Settlement of International Disputes, which will be held to-night, at which time his subject will be the "Moral Issue of War."

President Taft has consented to be honorary president of the founda-

Smiley, Lake Mohonk, educator and humanitarian; Dr. Chas. W. Elito, president emeritus of Harvard University; James B. Scott, Solicitor of the State Department; J W. Foster, lawyer, ex-Secretary of State; Wm. M. Howard, lawyer and Congressman, Lexington, Ga.; Jas. , Slayden, Congressman, San Antonio, Texas; Andrew D. White, exambassador to Turkey; John Sharp Williams, Senator-elect from Mississippi; C. L. Taylor, Pittsburg, chairman of the Carnegie hero fund commission, and Geo. W. Perkins, New York, financier and philanthropist.

"Hurrah for Carnegie!" Baron de Constant, the French member of The Hague Peace Tribunal, one of the leaders in the French Chamber of Deputies when the Peace Conference was called in 1899, who came to this country in 1902 to lecture on the work which was started in The Haugue, has cabled as follows to the New York World:

"Hurrah for Carnegie and your country! I have always believed in the American remedy. America has already liberated The Hague Court from European governmental boycottage, bringing her first cause, then building her first palace. Now she stants an irresistible association of superior individual good wills scattered over the world.

"It is an immense material help for the peace organization, but the moral effect will be still greater, giving new strength to public opinion against official routine. Governments will resist, blindly ordering more dreadnoughts for themselves and for

FIRST TRACKLESS TROLLEY.

Line Has Been Opened Near Los Angeles, California.

The first trackless trolley in America has just been opened in Wooderland Point, Lookout Mountain, near Los Angeles, Cal. This line is being operated through the entire length of Laurel Canyon, beginning The bill soon to be filed will be Pacific Electric Road and ending at at a junction with the Los Angelesthe inn at the head of the canyon.

The trackless trolleys look more like two large autos. No tracks have been laid, but the cars are propelled by electricity, secured through flexible trolleys running on overhead wires in any city. The flexible trolley gives the cars a leadway of thirty feet, ample room for passing any vehicles, autos or teams that may be met en route. Two cars have been installed so far with a seating capacity of about thirty each. Two lines of wires have been strung and the current will be grounded, doing away with the return of the current through the rails, as in a regular trolley system.

A club house, which is located at Wooderland Point, Lookout Mountain, 1,400 feet above the sea level, has been completed and will serve as a stopping place until the large hotel, now in course of construction, is completed.

The Land of Christmas Trees.

My papa works in a lumber camp In the land of Christmas trees, And he wrote to me, I wish you could see Such Christmas trees as these!

In the swamp so cold, in the swamp so damp, There are cedars green and great

There are pines so high That they touch the sky. re are hemlocks slim and straight.

'They smile to the moon, they sing to the star, They nod to the passing breeze, And every bough Wears diamonds now, In the land of Christmas trees."

O wonderful land in the north woods O wonderful, beautiful land!

In my cot so white I dream at night Of the forest green and grand.

My mamma says that the snow that

In the land where the great trees grow Is like the spread

Of my little bed Where at night to sleep I go. That underneath with tigh, shut

The flowers are slumbering-There snug and warm

From the winter storm They wait for the call of spring. when I kneel for the night's So.

amen, I think of the Chrimtas land, I say a prayer
For my papa there
In the forest green and grand;

And another prayer I whisper then While I kneel on bended knees That the Lord will keep

The flowers that sleep In the land of Christmas trees. -Douglas Malloch.

Outline of What the D. A. R. are Going to Do.

Miss Marye R. Shelor, historian of Andrew Pickens Chapter, D. A. R., several weeks ago wrote to Mrs. Mayes, State Regent, asking that the D. A. R. take up the education of the mountaineers of Oconee and Pickens. Mrs. Mayes mentioned this in her yearly message to the convention that met in Orangeburg, an account of which appeared in the Sunday State recently.

Mrs. Mayes has just written Miss Shelor that the D. A. R. will help, and that she, with others over the State, are interested in the Salem community, and that the rally Miss Shelor had there this summer has attracted great attention.

Miss Shelor has been successful this fall with her Sunshine work, and with the D. A. R. sisters will push the work in the mountains in every way helpful and uplifting.
