—Dr. Thos. G. C. Fahnestock, dentist, will be in his office every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.
—W. M. Brown left Saturday night for the mule and horse market. He will bring back some nice stock. Look for notice.
—Louis O. Russell, of Greenville, was among his many Wallhalla friends last week, delighting numbers of the fair sex with auto trips on the "speed-way."
—Stolen—Red, horned yearling. Liberal reward for recovery of same, or for information to convict thief. L. Good, Wallhalla, S. C.
—Mrs. J. M. Stilton left last week for Columbia, where she will spend some time with her husband, who is at present engaged in business in that city.
—Rev. J. A. Bond will preach at Double Springs next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. All members are urged to attend promptly, and the public has a cordial invitation to attend.
—Be sure to attend the sale at Fowler Bros. store next Saturday, February 4th.
—Rev. J. H. Farmer will preach at Rocky Knoll church the first Sunday in February (next Sunday) at 11 o'clock a. m., and Saturday before at 2.30 p. m. Public cordially invited to attend both services.
—A source of much amusement and many "bumps" is the skating rink at Pritchford's Hall, under the management of Dick Biemann and Earl Beard. The rink is open each Tuesday and Friday evening.
—Red rust proof seed oats at Bauknight's.
—Mrs. Jas. G. Breazeale and children, of Westminster, passed through Wallhalla yesterday on their way home from a short visit to Mrs. Breazeale's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Russell, at Russell's, this county.
—W. L. Dobbs and Floyd B. Watson, of Fair Play, and W. L. Thomas, of South Union, were among the business visitors to Wallhalla Monday. They report good business and favorable conditions in their respective communities.
—We can save you "dollars" on windows and doors. We have the goods, and the price cannot be met by any concern. Try us and see, Matheson Hardware Co., Westminster, S. C.
—When in Seneca call on D. S. Abbott, who will show you Chase Bros. pianos, Huckleby pianos, Carlsie pianos or Schulz pianos. Forty Putnam organs, left factory for Seneca on Monday, January 30th. Get prices and terms on them.
—Married, on Sunday, January 29th, at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. J. A. Bond, near Wallhalla, Miss Eva Duckett and Robert Johnson, both of Wallhalla. The young couple have numerous friends here who wish them well.
—For Sale—240 acres of land, 2 good dwellings, 2 tenant houses; fine location for store; in Whetstone Valley. Land lies well, with 10 acres splendid creek bottom, in high state of cultivation. Price right; terms reasonable. Apply to L. W. Henry, Whetstone, S. C.
—R. Lee and family, of Greenville, have moved to Wallhalla and are occupying the cottage belonging to J. W. Holleman on Ann street. Mr. Lee has accepted a position in the Wallhalla Cotton Mills as overseer of spinning and will make this his home.
—Friends of Dr. P. H. E. Sloan, of Clemson College, were sorry to learn that last Friday he had the misfortune to have his leg broken by a fall. We are glad to report, however, that he is doing well, and hopes are entertained for a speedy recovery from his injuries.
—Oliver plows and repairs; poultry wire and field fence. Regular jobbers' prices to the consumer, Matheson Hardware Co., Westminster, S. C.
—We are requested by letter from Rev. A. E. Driggers, who is now at Lake City, Fla., to give notice that the services at the Methodist church for next Sunday will be called in. Rev. Mr. Driggers will not return to Wallhalla in time to conduct the services. He informs us that he is having a most enjoyable trip in "The Land of Flowers."
—On Saturday, February 4th, we will make the lowest prices on goods ever offered in Oconee county. Fowler Bros., Wallhalla.

—Palms, roofing, guttering, etc. See D. E. Good, Wallhalla.
—R. H. Dilworth is now clerking for C. W. Pritchford. He will be pleased to have his many friends call and see him.
—The Ladies' Aid Society of the Lutheran church will meet Wednesday afternoon, February 8th, at 3.30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Carrie Stern.
—Two car loads windows and doors. If you are needing anything in sash and doors it will pay you to drop us a line and get our prices. Do it now; don't delay. Matheson Hardware Co., Westminster, S. C.
—The following contributions have been received for the Confederate monument: Lee G. Holleman, Anderson, $1; T. E. Alexander, Wallhalla, $5. This leaves a balance of only $10 to be paid on the monument.
—Dr. Arthur P. McElroy, of Union, S. C., spent last night in Wallhalla, visiting at the home of his aunt, Mrs. W. H. Cary. Dr. McElroy is pleasantly remembered here by many friends. He is an old Oconee boy, having lived and spent his earlier years at Seneca.
—Have those old lines run and nice plat made of your farm and save future trouble. You are the man I mean. W. M. Fennell, surveyor, Wallhalla, R. F. D. No. 1.
—Mrs. J. P. McCarey and children left Monday for Seneca, where they will make their home in the future. Mrs. McCarey has accepted a position with Ruskin Anderson as sales-lady in his department store. Their many friends here regret exceedingly their departure.
—Oulla & Morrow, of Anderson, are making a specialty of their loose-leaf ledger business, which is proving quite popular these days. When you wish anything in this line, write them. They will be pleased to give all inquiries prompt and careful attention. See announcement elsewhere in this issue.
—J. W. Shirley, of Townville, sustained quite painful injuries last Friday, when his shoulder was dislocated by the falling of a large tree, which had been cut, but had lodged against another. The shoulder was painfully injured and his collar bone broken. Mr. Shirley's many Oconee friends will learn with pleasure, however, that his injuries are not of a very serious nature. He is able to be up and about his home, but still suffers great pain and no little inconvenience.
—The Carter Hardware Company and the Carter Company, of Wallhalla, are now occupying the same store-room on Main street, the stock of hardware having been moved to the Carter Company stand. Both branches of the business will be enlarged, and the patrons of each will find that they can receive even better service in the future than in the past. See advertisement and call on them when you need anything in general merchandise or hardware.
—We have just received the descriptive catalogue of T. W. Wood & Sons, seedmen, of Richmond, Va., which is gotten out in the usual attractive and instructive form. If you have not received this catalogue and are interested in good Southern-grown seeds for farm and garden, write T. W. Wood & Sons at once, and you will receive their 1911 catalogue, containing valuable information. Their advertisement will be found elsewhere in this issue.
—Blacksmith tools, Oliver plows and repairs. Our prices are putting these goods into the farmers' hands. Matheson Hardware Co., Westminster, S. C.
—The many friends of Sidney Adams will regret to learn that he is quite sick at the home of his parents in Rock Hill. Mr. Adams left here Tuesday of last week for Durham, N. C., to assume his duties in the auditing department of the Durham and Southern Railroad, and was taken sick while on the train. Shortly after his arrival at Durham he realized that he would be unable to attend to his new work and left at once for his old home. We are glad to learn this morning, however, that his condition is now rapidly improving, and we join with his host of Wallhalla friends in the wish that he may soon be entirely well.
—We have before us a copy of the "Rules and Regulations of the Company of the Wallhalla Riflemen," which company was organized in October, 1852. The book was printed at the office of the Deutsche Zeitung, Charleston, and is in both the German and English languages, each page being printed side by side in the two languages throughout the book. It is a very interesting little pamphlet, and by reference to the list of officers and members of the company we find that, so far as we are able to ascertain, there is now living but one—Wm. Waldt, of West Union. The list brings to mind numerous old German names that were once familiar, yet have almost passed out of the minds of most of us. The book is the only one we have ever seen, and there are doubtless few of them in existence to-day. This one is the property of C. B. Oehmig, of Wallhalla.

—Red rust proof and Burt seed oats at Bauknight's.
—Attention is directed to the announcement of M. S. Stribling, of Westminster, who is contemplating a change in his business in the near future. On this account he is making special offers in the lines he has carried heretofore. See him if you want bargains in dry goods, notions and shoes.
—Rev. N. G. Ballenger, of McCormick, was here for a short while yesterday among his many friends. He is paying a short visit to his brother, Capt. J. J. Ballenger, of Richland, who accompanied him to Wallhalla yesterday. Rev. Mr. Ballenger's friends here were delighted to meet him again and to note his excellent health.
—$1,000 to loan on good security. See J. B. S. Dendy.
—Married, on January 25th, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Holland, near Townville, by Rev. T. C. Ligon, Miss Laura H. Holland and Frank A. Dickson, son of the late Rev. J. Walter Dickson. The young couple have hosts of friends throughout this and other counties of the upper part of the State who will join with us in extending heartiest congratulations and best wishes.
—You had better drop Matheson Hardware Co. a line or so and get their prices on windows and doors. People are going for miles around to get their goods. Their prices are getting the business for them.
—A. T. Reid, of Wallhalla, has received a commission from Governor Blease as dispensary constable for Oconee county, to succeed H. C. Harbin, whose commission, along with all the other constables in the State, was revoked by the Governor. Mr. Harbin made one of the most efficient dispensary constables in the State and made a hard record for his successor to beat. Mr. Reid has, however, had experience in police, constable and revenue service, in which capacities he has a good record, and will doubtless make a worthy successor to Mr. Harbin. He is conscientious in the discharge of his duty, and we bespeak for him the assistance of the public in the faithful discharge of the duties of his new office.
—Sedentary habits, lack of outdoor exercise, insufficient mastication of food, constipation, a torpid liver, worry and anxiety, are the most common causes of stomach troubles. Correct your habits and take Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and you will soon be well again. For sale by all druggists.

ATLANTA CHALLENGES PASTOR.
Causes Excitement by Denying Millennium is Due in 1915.

Washington, Jan. 29.—When C. T. Russell, pastor of the Brooklyn Tabernacle, Brooklyn, N. Y., speaking today at Convention Hall on the millennium announced that Christ would return to earth in 1915, he was dramatically challenged by W. A. Cuddy, an evangelist of Atlanta, Ga. In the rapid fire exchange of words that followed the crowd became excited and a panic was averted only by the suppression of Cuddy, who was led aside by friends.
More than 1,000 people hissed and hooted when Cuddy interrupted Russell and declared that 1915 was altogether too soon for the millennium.
"Put him out!" shouted several in the audience.
"Let him stay; he's all right!" cried others.
When Russell was able to proceed he declared that the Bible supported his contention that the millennium was due soon. Cuddy burst forth again, charging Russell with "rants heresies" and with attempting to foist his views on weak-minded and ignorant people who never read the Bible. The crowd resented this and Cuddy was jostled about in the hall until he was out of hearing range.
When the meeting was concluded, however, Cuddy stationed himself outside the hall near the entrance and resumed his reputation of Russell's remarks. The police threatened arrest, but Cuddy defied them. Finally the police decided another way to accomplish their end would be to disperse the crowd and Cuddy walked angrily away.
—Forestalls Law's Operation.
Washington, Jan. 30.—President Taft has accepted the resignation from the army of Capt. Peter C. Haines, Jr., coast artillery corps, effective January 18. Capt. Haines is serving a penitentiary sentence for the murder of Wm. E. Annis, in 1898.
Congress recently passed an act, which took effect January 1, providing for the dropping from the military service of any officers who had been absent in prison for more than a year. By his resignation Haines has relieved the authorities of the necessity of applying this law to his case.
—Opportunities in the South.
Savannah, Ga., Jan. 30.—"There is no new South. The territory so-called has long passed the stage of rudimentary development. It is now the land of golden opportunities and the land to which the money interests of the North are turning their attention."
In refutation of the oft-repeated assertion that the South is a new territory, with a future, Brd S. Coler, New York capitalist, made the foregoing statement to a reporter here. Mr. Coler is a member of the party of Eastern capitalists who are just concluding a tour through the Southeast.
—Koester Buys the Daily Piedmont.
Greenville, Jan. 28.—George R. Koester, who founded and conducted the Daily Record, Columbia's afternoon paper, until two years ago, when he sold it to Jas. A. Hoyt, purchased this afternoon the Daily Piedmont, Greenville's afternoon paper.
He will move his family to Greenville and take charge of the paper as soon as receivership proceedings can be adjusted, which will probably be about February 1.

THE EVE OF APPOMATTOX.
How the Night Before Lee's Surrender Was Spent.
In Harper's for February, Major A. R. H. Ranson gives an interesting account of the scene at Gen. Lee's headquarters when he was still determined to strike one more blow.
"When I arrived at headquarters, Gen. Lee was in a tent, sitting with Gen. Longstreet on some bundles of rye straw (the ground being wet from the rain) at the upper side of the tent, with one candle for a light. I made my report, and the general told me to wait, as he wished to see me. He asked me if I had had anything to eat, and I told him no. He said he was sorry he had nothing to offer me. He gave me a bundle of straw and told me to sit near the door. It had been raining all afternoon, and I was quite wet. I was also very tired, so I put my foot through the bride rein of my mare standing outside, and lying down on the bundle of straw, was soon asleep.
"I was awakened by voices, and looking up, saw the colonel I had left in charge of the troops at the bridge standing in the tent. He reported that the rations had not arrived, and the starving and discouraged troops had all deserted in the darkness, leaving their arms in the trenches. Gen. Lee heard him to the end of his account, and then with a wave of his hand dismissed him. Turning to Gen. Longstreet, he said: 'This is very bad. That man is whipped. It is the first time I have seen one of my officers who had been whipped. It is very bad.' The conversation between the generals was then resumed in low tones, and I again fell asleep. I must have slept for some length of time, when I was awakened by Gen. Lee's voice, speaking in loud tones, louder than I had ever heard from him. He was saying, 'Gen. Longstreet, I will strike that man a blow in the morning.' Gen. Lee sometimes spoke of Gen. Grant as 'that man,' and of the Federal army as 'those people.'
"Gen. Longstreet replied in low tones, giving the strength and condition of his command, and the strength and position of the enemy, and concluded by saying, 'But you have only to give me the order, and the attack will be made in the morning.' Again the conversation was resumed in low tones, and I fell asleep. I must have slept for an hour at least, when I was awakened by the loud, almost fierce tones of Gen. Lee, saying, 'I tell you, Gen. Longstreet, I will strike that man a blow in the morning.' Gen. Longstreet again recounted the difficulties, ending as before, 'General, you know you have only to give the order and the attack will be made, but I must tell you I think it will be a useless waste of brave lives.'
"Thinking I had been present long enough at such an interview, I coughed and got up from the straw, and drawing back the flaps of the tent, looked out into the darkness. Gen. Lee said: 'Capt. Ranson, I beg your pardon, I had forgotten you. Go now and get something to eat and some rest. I will see you in the morning.'
"I found my poor mare lying flat on her side in the rain and fast asleep. It was past midnight and very dark, but I reached our camp, though neither I nor my mare got anything to eat that night.
"The morning came, and I listened for the sound of our attack, but all was still. There was no attack; our fighting days were over."
How to cure a cold is a question in which many are interested just now. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has won its great reputation and immense sale by its remarkable cure of colds. It can always be depended upon. For sale by all druggists.

STOPS PARADE OF ANARCHISTS.
"Kill the Japanese," They Shout as They March.
New York, Jan. 29.—A thousand men and women marching down Broadway to-night behind a large anarchistic banner brought out the police reserves, whose forcible arrest of the alleged leaders caused a small riot.
The parade followed a meeting in an East Side hall, at which speakers had denounced the execution in Tokyo last week of a dozen persons charged with plotting against the life of Japan's emperor. It is alleged that the crowd was marching on to the Japanese consulate to make a further demonstration there, when Patrolman Reilly sighted the crowd rounding into Broadway.
According to the officer the paraders filled the street for two blocks back, bearing a big red flag in their ranks. Men and women on the outside ranks were handing out circulars in Italian and Russian to the on-lookers, and the paraders seemed to vie to outdo one another in shouting, "Kill the Japanese!" could be heard in the babel. The lone officer, Reilly, stepped in the path of the approaching mass and demanded if they had a permit to parade. As he did so the flag bearer tossed the red banner to another man and bolted through the crowd. Reilly was after him and finally cornered the fugitive in the hallway of an office building.
The alleged flag bearer gave his name as Benjamin Weinstein, a Russian tailor of Brooklyn. The crowd became riotous when they learned of his capture and threatened the police who had now arrived in force. One woman who sought to snatch Weinstein away from the officer was arrested. She said she was Lillie Chessman, aged 23, a Russian dress-maker. The others taken were Simon Friedman, aged 18, a Russian hair goods worker; Doniniek Valentine, aged 17, an Italian silversmith, and Victor Plessour, aged 22, a Swiss cook. All were locked up after the crowd was dispersed.
You are probably aware that pneumonia always results from a cold, but you never heard of a cold resulting in pneumonia when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy was used. Why take the risk when this remedy may be had for a trifle? For sale by all druggists.
