

BAPTIZING AT BEAR PEN.

Candidates Immersed in Limpid Waters of Mountain Stream.

Little River, Sept. 15.—Special: It was the good pleasure of your correspondent to attend the baptizing at Bear Pen on the first Sunday in September. There were nine candidates baptized in the limpid waters of the beautiful stream at M. Nicholson's mill. I think this the most beautiful place at which I ever saw the ordinance of baptism administered. Rev. Sam Reid, of North Carolina, officiated in his impressive manner. The congregation was three times as large as the house could hold, and seats were moved out to the grove, which was only partly sufficient to seat the ladies. After the candidates were received into the church Rev. Wade Nicholson preached a very impressive sermon to the audience. Good order prevailed, with very slight exception. A collection was taken for missions. At the close of the service something was said about building a new church at Bear Pen. The proposition seemed to strike a key note, and it is hoped soon the new church may be erected. The following ministers were present on this occasion: Rev. Sam Reid, Rev. Wade Nicholson, Revs. D. and R. A. Hudson.

After the service was over and there had been many good handshakes, I took leave with my comrades for home, which place I reached at 3 p. m., feeling that the day that your correspondent enjoyed with his Baptist brethren on the mountain side would be long remembered.

Miss Ida Holden, after spending two weeks with her brother, John Holden, and family, of the Bethlehem section, has returned home.

L. G. Lusk is remodeling his dwelling house, which will add much to looks and convenience when finished. His brother, N. A. Lusk, of Glenville, N. C., is overseeing the work.

Mrs. J. S. Holden spent last Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Perry, of the Salem section.

John Breedlove, of the Whitewater section, made a business trip here the past week.

Mrs. J. P. Moore, who has been very sick for two weeks past, has recovered, to the delight of her many friends.

Elijah Littleton has recovered from his injury, received by his mule running away with him, to the extent that he is able to work some at this time.

Mrs. E. A. Perry and daughter, Mrs. J. S. Holden, spent part of last week visiting in Salem.

R. E. Smith has purchased a farm in the Stamp Creek section and is preparing to move. We wish him and his much success in their new home. Mr. Smith is a good farmer and when he moves will be in the section where he was raised.

Jack Verner, of Walhalla, in company with S. Childress, of Salem, has been hunting for fox in this section. They had a few chases without any catch so far as our correspondent could learn. If Cupid's arrow does not miss its way Jack will likely come hunting again some day.

Fodder pulling is in full blast in this section at this time.

Rev. C. L. Craig has closed his school and returned to his home in Pickens.

Miss Katie Harrison closed her school at Smeltzer Friday for fodder pulling. Her brother Baylis came up and accompanied her home.

PREMIER MAY SURVIVE ATTACK.

Physicians Hold Out Hope—Third Attempted Assassination.

Kiev, Russia, Sept. 15.—There appears to be ground for hope to-day that Premier Stolypin will for the third time survive the attack of an assassin.

Fired upon at close range as he sat defenseless in his chair at the Municipal Theater last night, the premier escaped with two wounds, neither of which, it is said, are necessarily fatal.

The assassination was attempted under circumstances most dramatic. The would-be murderer, who described himself as a junior member of a firm of lawyers and the son of a well known attorney and wealthy house owner, M. Bogroff, chose a moment when attention of the audience centered readily upon his first unexpected move.

The day had been one of festivities in which Emperor Nicholas and others of the Imperial family had personally participated.

Premier Attacked in Theater.

The day's program was to close with a gala performance of the opera and ballet, "Tsar Soltan." Admission to the Municipal theater was by card, and these permits had been issued with great discrimination to leading citizens.

At 9 o'clock the curtain rose. The Imperial box was occupied by Emperor Nicholas, the heir apparent, Grand Duke Alexis, and the emperor's daughters, the Grand Duchesses Olga, Tatiana, Marie and Anastasia. In the front row of the pit, directly at the rear of the orchestra, were seated Premier Stolypin and his associates in the ministry.

During the second act intermission Premier Stolypin, leaning his left arm upon the orchestra fence, had turned his face to the right toward the center aisle, conversing with the minister of war, Gen. Soukhomlinoff and Count Potocky. A young man in evening dress moved quietly down the center aisle, approached the row occupied by the ministers and appeared to accost M. Stolypin.

A second later he drew a revolver from his coat and emptied it seemingly point blank at M. Stolypin.

Wild Cry from Spectators.

There was a wild cry from the spectators, who rose simultaneously, many of the women immediately sinking into their chairs fainting.

Emperor Nicholas sprang from his chair, and, stepping to the front of the Imperial box, stared in the direction of the wounded premier. With a quick realization of what had occurred, his majesty ordered the orchestra to play the national anthem.

One of the coolest figures was that of M. Stolypin, who was twice wounded. One bullet had entered the right breast and the other the right wrist. With great courage he faced the imperial box and made the sign of the cross toward the emperor. Then he dropped into his seat and removed his uniform coat to examine his injuries.

Amid wild confusion Bogroff slipped toward an exit. Before he could reach it, however, he was seized and trampled under foot. He was rescued by police. As the premier was being taken down the aisle he witnessed a remarkable demonstration of loyalty. While, responding to the command of the emperor, the orchestra played the national anthem the curtain rose and the artists, still in the costumes of the opera, knelt at the anthem and repeated it five times, the audience joining in a chorus of "God Save Thy People." The emperor made his acknowledgment. Then with his children he left the theater.

With the departure of the royal family the police took possession of the opera house. The audience was allowed to leave only one by one, after the identification.

Wounds Not Fatal.

A hurried examination satisfied the physicians that the premier's wounds were probably not fatal. It is officially whispered, however, that the condition of Premier Stolypin is hopeless.

Wrong Kind of a Letter.

(Boston Traveller.)

"Good morning," said the young woman as she stepped to the window at the Stowe post office. "Is there a letter for me to-day?"

"I'll look," answered the clerk.

The young woman blushed a little and she added, "It's a business letter."

The man inside the window took up a handful of letters and looked them over hastily. Then he informed the lady that there was nothing for her, and with great disappointment depleted on her lovely features she went away from there. In five minutes she was back again—this time blushing more furiously than before. "I—I deceived you," she stammered. "It—it wasn't a business letter I was expecting. Will you please see if there is something for me among the love letters?"

THE THORNWELL ORPHANAGE.

Now Caring for Three Hundred Children of All Denominations.

The Thornwell Home and Schools for Orphans is the name of the Presbyterian Orphanage under the control of the synods of South Carolina, Georgia and Florida, and is one that hopes to share in the benefit of orphan work day. It may interest the readers of this paper to know that the orphanage was begun some 37 years ago with a half dollar, the gift of an orphan; that it was opened with four little boys and four little girls; that it has no agent, neither are any assessments made for its support by the church, nor any days appointed for collections, being wholly dependent upon the voluntary gifts of benevolent people. It now has sixteen cottage homes, with some 300 orphans, with ten teachers in the schools, with a matron in each cottage. It has a farm, a shoe shop, a carpenter and machine shop, a steam laundry and other industrial departments in which the children are taught trades. All of the children do something toward their support, and in the aggregate they save to the home, by this labor, not less than $15,000. It costs about $60 a year to provide board for each pupil. A fine education, beginning with the alphabet and ending with a college course, is open to them. Surely such an institution is worthy of support. The pupils in the home are mainly from South Carolina, Georgia and Florida, but there are many scattered from New York to Oklahoma now with us. There is neither local nor denominational restriction as to reception of orphans. Those received, however, must be worthy, intelligent orphans, without means of support. The institution is located in Clinton, S. C. Rev. Dr. Jacobs is president.

Elizabeth Evans Dies in Bavaria.

Aibling, Upper Bavaria, Sept. 14.—Elizabeth Edson Evans, the American author, died here to-day. She was born in Newport, N. H., in 1822, and had resided in Europe since 1870.

Mrs. Evans was a daughter of Dr. Willard Putnam and Lucia Field (Williams) Gibson. In 1868 she married Edward Payson Evans, the author, who is a native of Remsen, New York.

Mrs. Evans contributed verse and prose to the newspapers and magazines and her books included the novels "Laura," "An American Girl," "Transplanted Manners," "Confession," "A History of Religions," "The Story of the Kaspar Hauser," "The Story of Louise XVII of France" and "The Christ Myth."

Are You Nervous?
What makes you nervous? It is the weakness of your womanly constitution, which cannot stand the strain of the hard work you do. As a result, you break down, and ruin your entire nervous system. Don't keep this up! Take Cardui, the woman's tonic. Cardui is made from purely vegetable ingredients. It acts gently on the womanly organs, and helps them to do their proper work. It relieves pain and restores health, in a natural manner, by going to the source of the trouble and building up the bodily strength.

TAKE CARDUI The Woman's Tonic

Mrs. Grace Fortner, of Man, W. Va., took Cardui. This is what she says about it: "I was so weak and nervous, I could not bear to have anyone near me. I had fainting spells, and I lost flesh every day. The first dose of Cardui helped me. Now, I am entirely cured of the fainting spells, and I cannot say enough for Cardui, for I know it saved my life." It is the best tonic for women. Do you suffer from any of the pains peculiar to women? Take Cardui. It will help you. Ask your druggist.

PRICE OF COTTON SEED LOW.

President Dabbs Advises Holding Seed Till Price Rises.

To the Farmers' Unions, County and Local:

In our work for the price of cotton we have overlooked the ruinous prices that have been offered for cotton seed. At prices that have prevailed we should use them for fertilizer rather than sell. I have been informed, and believe it to be reliable, that the market for cotton seed oil and by-products, and the price of meal, would warrant $28 to $30 per ton for seed.

Take care of your seed. Pick and gin your cotton dry. Store the seed in small piles well protected from the weather and do not sell any seed till the market advances considerably.

E. W. Dabbs, President S. C. Farmers' Union.

Commits Suicide on Liner.

Charleston, Sept. 9.—J. H. Williams, aged 55 years, said to be from Jacksonville, committed suicide with a pistol at 1 o'clock this morning on board the Clyde steamship Iroquois while the liner was at sea. The bullet entered his mouth and pierced his head, making an ugly wound. Death was practically instantaneous. On hearing the shot, which startled sleeping passengers, officers rushed to him, but he was dead when reached. Williams was standing on the lower deck near the stern when he ended his life.

At the coroner's inquest it was brought out that a letter found on his person was addressed to A. S. Clement, Plymouth, Mass., its text, scrawled nervously in pencil, reading: "I have gone crazy. I don't know where mother is. "Signed: Father." Two sealed, but unaddressed envelopes were opened. They contained small amounts of money.

Woman's Danger Periods Made Safe

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

The Change of Life is the most critical period of a woman's existence, and neglect of health at this time invites disease.

Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to medicine that will so successfully carry women through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs. Here is proof:

Natick, Mass.—"I cannot express what I went through during the Change of Life before I tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was in such a nervous condition I could not keep still. My limbs were cold. I had creepy sensations and could not sleep nights. I was finally told by two physicians that I had a tumor.

"I read one day of the wonderful cures made by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it, and it has made me a well woman. My neighbors and friends declare it has worked a miracle for me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is worth its weight in gold for women during this period of life. If it will help others you may publish this letter."—Mrs. Nathan B. Grenton, 51 No. Main St., Natick, Mass.

ANOTHER SIMILAR CASE.

Cornwallville, N. Y.—"I have been taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for some time for Change of Life, nervousness, and a fibroid growth. "Two doctors advised me to go to the hospital, but one day while I was away visiting, I met a woman who told me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so and I know it helped me wonderfully. I am very thankful that I was told to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. Wm. Boughton, Cornwallville, N. Y., Greene Co.

The makers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have thousands of such letters as those above—they tell the truth, else they could not have been obtained for love or money. This medicine is no stranger—it has stood the test for years.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit. Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health free of charge. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.
