Subject: "Daniel in the Lion's Den." Dan. vi.

Golden Text: "The angel of the Lord encampeth round about them that fear him, and delivereth them." Ps. xxxiv:7

1. Verse 1—Who was King Darius; whom did he succeed; what kind of a man was he?
2. Verses 2-3—What had been Daniel's history up to this time?
3. What is the relative importance to success in life, of intellectual ability and an excellent spirit, that is a kind heart with polite, winning manner?
4. What are the really essential qualities to success in life?
5. Verses 4-5—Why did the "presidents and princes" dislike, and seek the injury of Daniel?
6. What proportion of men are jealous of the success of others?
7. Why are so many men jealous, instead of rejoicing at the success of others?
8. Is it possible for all Christians to go live as to perfectly please God?
9. Verses 6-9—Are rich or highly educated men, as liable to be jealous, and seek the injury of another, as are the poor and ignorant?
10. There are two classes of men, one which seeks to injure, and the other which seeks to help their fellows. Where do we mostly find them, in or out of the church?
11. What was the scheme of these men for injuring Daniel?
12. Verses 10-11—Why is it wise or otherwise in these days, to open our windows, so our neighbors may hear our prayers?
13. Does the narrative indicate, or is it anywhere in the Bible stated as to how many times a day we should engage in formal prayer?
14. Verses 12-15—What is the moral difference in the turpitude of killing a man in anger, and killing him by a cold-blooded and systematic follow-up plan?

15. What reasons are there for or against the breaking of a promise that never should have been made?

16. Verses 16-17—Was Darius sincere in saying it, and what reason had he to think that God would deliver Daniel?

17. Verses 18-23—What did fasting avail the king, and of what use is it to us?

18. What is the spiritual value of this miraculous deliverance of Daniel to us?

19. If this story should prove to be of the nature of a parable, and not actual history, would its religious value be any the less or more to us? (This is one of the questions that may be answered in writing by members of the club.)

20. Verses 24-28—Was the king just as bad in causing the cruel death of all these enemies of Daniel, as they had been?

21. What is the character of the act to try by threat to make people serve our God?

Under this system before an appeal can be had it must be certified by either the trial judge or one of the judges of the Appellate Court that there is merit in the appeal; otherwise the case cannot be carried to the Court of Appeals. In this State, on the contrary, any case may be appealed whether there is any merit in the points raised or not, and consequently the prisoner may be sure of a suspension of sentence for a time at least, since the case cannot be reached by the Supreme Court for perhaps several months. It was this facility of appeal which permitted Bigham and Avant, for instance, to get out of the jurisdiction of the South Carolina courts after they had been convicted of manslaughter. In the more or less justly celebrated case of Henry C. Beattie, Jr., in Virginia, the excellence of the Virginia method will be illustrated, since Beattie's case cannot be carried to the Appellate Court unless the trial judge, or a judge of the Appellate Court, certifies there are meritorious grounds for the appeal.

FLOOD'S TOLL FIVE MILLION.

Death Record in Chinese Provinces from Flood and Famine.

New York, Sept. 9.—Flood and rains in the Yang-Tse Kiang Valley have claimed at least 5,000,000 souls within the decade, according to conservative computations of missionary societies and other organizations. In the famine of 1906-07, the most awful camp of which history has any record, was established outside the wall of the ancient city of Tsing Kiang Pui, situated on the grand canal about 100 miles north of the Yang-Tse river, almost 150,000 persons were huddled in huts of mud. Despite the effort made by the Chinese government, by devoted missionaries and by well disposed foreigners thousands died every day. A large contingent of Chinese and influential foreign residents believe that the greatest responsibility confronting the Chinese government to-day is the solving of an engineering problem that will save the lives of the 150,000 persons who now inhabit the valley and make possible its continued human occupation. The recurring floods are due partly to the denudation floods of the upper valleys. Huge dams hold the flood waters from reaching natural channels in many places, and completely submerge millions of acres yearly. The engineering problems referred to are staggering. Here is a territory seven hundred miles long and two hundred miles wide, that at periods recurring yearly is fully or partially flooded. Canals and reservoirs were built, but they are poor remedies unless the great river can be controlled.

MARSE HENRY'S BALKY MULE.

"A German from New York, He Twis' He Tail.

(Mack's National Monthly.) A wholesale feed house owned a balky mule named Napoleon, and employed an old negro named Abe, to drive him.

One day when Napoleon balked and old Abe had spent his energies on him for an hour in the vain endeavor to get him to start Abe went into a store to telephone his employers.

The following was Abe's end of the conversation: "Please, marm, gimme number two hund'ed an' 'leven."

"Is dat you, Marse Henry?"

"Yes, sir, dis is Abe. I dun rung 'er up, sir, to tell 'er about Napoleon."

"Napoleon, he dun balk down 'er on Broad street, sir."

"'Bout a hour, sir."

"'Yessir, I bus' him in de head."

"I dun wa' de whip hand' out on him, sir."

"'Yessir, I dun klick him 'bout eighty times, sir."

"Marse Henry, I would ha' klick um some mo', but I ha' me big toe on um de las' time I klick um."

"'Twis' he tail? No, sir, not dis nigger. A german from New York, he twis' he tail."

"No, sir, I don't tink he daid. De doctor take him 'way in de ambulance."

"'Yessir, it was sure foolish."

"'Yes, Marse Henry, dun sot fire under Napoleon."

"De harness? Dun bu'n de harness clean off um."

"De cart? 'Yessir, dun bu'n de cart, too, sir—all 'cep one wheel, sir."

"'Yessir, I git de feed out fust, sir."

"Marse Henry, is you want me to come back to de store and go to wuk, or aus' I wait fer Napoleon to move?"

Talbert Against Tillman.

(Columbia Record.) That Hon. William Jasper Talbert, of Edgefield, will be a candidate for the seat in the United States Senate now held by Hon. B. R. Tillman is declared to be certain by those who are in his confidence. It is known that he has made the positive statement, in letters to friends, that he will be in the race, Providence permitting.

Col. Talbert was chairman of the State Democratic Convention in 1890 which nominated B. R. Tillman for Governor.

Mechanical Device Intended to Prevent Railroad Accidents.

After four years of investigation of numerous devices designed to prevent accidents on railroads, or at least to lessen this danger to travelers and rolling stock, the Interstate Commerce Commission, it is stated, has probably found one appliance which will perform this duty as perfectly as a machine can. The investigations have been made under an act of Congress, which authorized the expenditure of $50,000 for this purpose.

The commission set to work, and scattered broad-cast the information that any and all appliances designed to prevent or decrease accidents on railroads would be cheerfully received and investigated, if submitted by the inventor. A large number of these devices, ranging from the complex to the near-ludicrous, were sent in to the commission, the total number being 185. These were all closely investigated by experts, and one after another eliminated from the test. The few which were left were then given practical tests to prove their efficiency. It is stated that the latest and most promising of these tests has just closed, after continuing for nearly two months. The inventor is Frederick Lacreix, a native of Texas, who has been working for a long number of years upon the invention to prevent accidents upon railroads.

The principle of the invention lies in the "third rail." By this device, combined with electrical apparatus, including a dynamo operated by a steam turbine, within each engine, a danger signal is immediately flashed when two engines are on the same track within half a mile of each other. Immediately upon the flashing of the danger signal, power is immediately applied automatically to the brakes, and the trains are brought to a slow standstill before they can possibly arrive in contact.

The Erie Railroad, it is stated, installed the device on a ten mile stretch between Nutley and West Nutley, N. J., and following several tests, the Interstate Commerce Commission decided to investigate, and had a twelve-mile stretch of railroad equipped with the appliance. The tests began in February and continued until recently. During the time seven hundred different tests were made, under all imaginable circumstances and conditions, and the appliance appears to have been successful in every instance.

No announcement has yet been made by the commission as to whether the invention will be ordered into general use on the railroads throughout the country, but if the device is accepted it is presumed that this order will be published in a short time. The great loss of life, limb and property in railroad accidents in this country has been often the subject for criticism and anxiety on the part of the authorities of the land, and no doubt the general public will welcome the installation of any device which will aid in keeping down the number of accidents on railroads which draw such heavy tolls from American civilization each year.

Pittsburg Suburb Visited by Cloudburst—Caused Great Damage.

Pittsburg, Sept. 15.—A number of lives were lost to-day in floods that followed a cloudburst over suburbs of Pittsburg.

In the town of Etna search is being made for persons believed to have been swept down in the flood. Two hundred workmen were caught at the Spang-Charliff mills and hung suspended on the rafters of one of the buildings until the waters receded, or the workmen were taken off in boats.

The storm was general throughout Western Pennsylvania, but the principal damage was done in Allegheny county. At Millvale scores of persons were compelled to flee for their lives.

THE purpose in erecting a monument is to perpetuate the sacred memory of loved ones that have passed into eternal rest. That monument, then, should be the best: one that will stand the test of time and not crack or rot away, at the same time sparkling with beauty and replete with dignity. If it is carved from it will stand for aeons and aeons—the end of time will find it as beautiful and unbroken as the day it was set. Winnsboro Blue Granite will not crack or smut; its contrast when lettered renders the inscription plain and readable from a distance. In selecting a monument, specify Winnsboro Blue Granite.

WINNSBORO BLUE GRANITE "The Silk of the Trade"

Resolutions of Respect.

Mrs. A. P. Maret.
Whereas, it has pleased the Lord to call to her reward our sister and co-worker, Mrs. A. P. Maret, who was a faithful and zealous member of the New Westminster Baptist Church and of the Woman's Missionary Society; and,

Whereas, by her encouraging disposition she won others to Christ and greatly helped on the work of our Master, it becomes eminently fitting that we record our appreciation of her. Therefore be it resolved:

1. That in the death of our sister our society has lost a faithful member.
 2. That we thank God for these years of Christian influence, and for her beautiful devotion to home and family. The memory of her sweet and gentle life will ever be an inspiration to all who knew her.
 3. That our deepest, heartfelt sympathy be extended to her loved ones.
 4. That a page in our minutes, inscribed with these resolutions, be dedicated to her memory; that a copy be sent to her family, and that they be published in The Keowee Courier, Tugalo Tribune and Baptist Courier.

Gen. Boggs Passes Away.

Winston-Salem, Sept. 15.—Gen. William R. Boggs, one of the few remaining generals of the Confederate army, died here to-day.

William Robertson Boggs was graduated from West Point in 1853. He entered the service of the Confederacy in 1861, attaining the rank of a brigadier general. He was appointed chief of staff of the Trans-Mississippi department of the Southern army in 1863, and served in that capacity until the end of the war. He married, in 1855, Mary Sophia, daughter of Col. John Symington, U. S. A.

Patriotism

The stomach is a larger factor in "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness" than most people are aware. Patriotism can withstand hunger but not dyspepsia. The confirmed dyspeptic "is fit for treason, stratagems and spoils." The man who goes to the front for his country with a weak stomach will be a weak soldier and a fault finder.

A sound stomach makes for good citizenship as well as for health and happiness. Diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition are promptly and permanently cured by the use of
