IN ATLANTA AUTO ACCIDENT.

One Lady is Killed and Another Critically Injured.

Atlanta, Oct. 17.—Miss M. A. Edwards is dead and her sister, Mrs. A. E. Dobbs, is critically injured, as the result of an auto accident about 7 o'clock last night.

Miss Edwards and her sister were on their way home. About 7 o'clock the street car stopped at the corner of Gordon and Holderness streets to let the two ladies get off.

Miss Edwards was dead within a few minutes. Mrs. Dobbs is being given every possible attention.

According to the street car conductor the auto was going at a high rate of speed, and did not slow up to any great extent as the car stopped.

Billousness is due to a disordered condition of the stomach. Chamberlain's Tablets are essentially a stomach medicine, intended especially to act on that organ; to cleanse it, strengthen it, tone and invigorate it, to regulate the liver and banish billousness positively and effectually.

Wants to Kill Boll Weevils.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 14.—Mrs. J. S. Buerge, of Valdosta, has written to T. G. Hudson, State Commissioner of Agriculture, to say that if he will pay her 25 cents an acre for the work, she will kill all the boll weevils in creation.

LOCAL NEWS FROM SENECA.

Part of School Closed as Precaution Against Diphtheria.

Seneca, Oct. 17.—Special: The meeting at the Presbyterian church closed Sunday night after a week of preaching. Rev. Mr. Melvain, of Charlotte, did the preaching, which was most acceptable to our people.

On Sunday last the Sunday school rally at the Baptist church was well attended and the entire program was splendidly given.

Misses Margaret Morrison and Verna Stribling, Alston Morrison and J. W. Stribling walked to Clemson on last Friday afternoon and took in the foot ball game Saturday afternoon.

A basket ball team has been organized among the girls of the high school, under the superintendency of Mrs. M. E. Brockman.

Our boys are practicing for the relay race between Walhalla and Seneca next Friday. While they feel confident of success, they will appreciate the encouragement and attendance of as many Seneca citizens as will go.

Miss Mary Julia Reid will return this week from a delightful visit to friends at Anderson and Greenville.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Neill and daughter Alice will leave this week for Danville, Va., where Mr. Neill has accepted a position.

A right good sprinkling of Seneca people witnessed the foot ball game at Clemson last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Floyd have taken charge of the electric plant here. They are recently from Pisgah Forest, N. C., where he held a similar position.

"Mum growers are beginning now to see some of the fruits of their year's work, and in a week or two the gorgeous autumn queens will be at their best."

Miss Stella Finckannon has been on the sick list for several days, but is improving, and her friends hope to see her restored to health and at her post of duty in a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Todd will go this week to McCall to visit their son Hal, who is sick with typhoid fever.

The board of health met with the school board of trustees this afternoon and decided to close the lower grades (all under the fifth) of the school for a week or ten days to prevent any possible spread of diphtheria.

R. Anderson is resuming business in Seneca, and will open up with a big sale, which begins Thursday of this week.

Anderson Man Makes 141 Bushels.

Anderson, Oct. 17.—Guy H. Norris, whose prize acre of corn was gathered by three representatives of the national department of agriculture, has received notice from the department that his official yield is 141 bushels.

INSURGENTS AGAINST TAFT.

Progressive Repubs. Formally Enter La Follette for 1912 Nomination.

Chicago, Oct. 16.—Two hundred progressive Republicans in their first national conference to-day endorsed Senator Robert M. La Follette, of Wisconsin, for President and declared in favor of a direct primary as a means for the expression of a presidential choice.

The endorsement came in the shape of resolutions framed in part by former Secretary of the Interior James R. Garfield, who, it was held by the delegates, appeared as expressing the views of Theodore Roosevelt, and who, it was feared, would oppose a declaration in favor of any individual.

The resolution followed a day of La Follette enthusiasm, in which his name was cheered repeatedly as it was mentioned by a dozen speakers. Contrary to expectations the conference was concluded in one day, most of the delegates leaving the city, and the progressive program outlined for to-morrow will be devoted to support of State and local candidates and conditions.

JUSTICE JOHN M. HARLAN DEAD.

Distinguished Jurist Succumbs to Acute Attack of Bronchitis.

Washington, Oct. 14.—"Good-bye; I am sorry I kept you all waiting so long." With these words Associate Justice John M. Harlan, of the Supreme Court of the United States, often acclaimed the greatest constitutional authority of the day, once a conspicuous figure in national and Kentucky Republican politics, and long a leader in Presbyterian councils, passed away early to-day.

The famous jurist will be buried in the National Cemetery at Arlington or at Rock Creek Cemetery here following a service at the New York Avenue Presbyterian church, of which he was an active member.

Justice Harlan had been ill with acute bronchitis less than a week. He sat on the bench last Monday when the court heard arguments on the so-called anthracite coal trust case.

Justice Harlan, however, was in a much more serious condition than his colleagues in the court realized. Despite his advanced age, he was robust and ordinarily enjoyed the best of health.

The sudden death of Associate Justice Brewer very much affected Justice Harlan. Chief Justice Fuller's death in the summer of 1910 also was a shock to the venerable jurist.

Justice Harlan continued to perform his share of the work of the court. His great ambition was to serve until next June, when he would have exceeded the service of any other man who ever sat on that bench.

Field's was the longest service—34 years, six months and ten days; Marshall's 24 years, 5 months and five days; Harlan's 33 years, 10 months and 25 days.

His service did exceed that of Justice Story, who was on the bench 33 years, 9 months and 22 days.

It was while on the bench Monday that Justice Harlan first felt the attack of bronchitis. He asked them for such simple remedies as were at hand and remained on the bench, but by Tuesday considerable fever was manifest.

Yesterday he seemed a little better. His son, John M. Harlan, of Chicago, a lawyer, was summoned here, however, and another son, Dr. Richard C. Harlan, traveling in Europe, was notified.

The career of Justice Harlan was unique in the development of an ordinary country politician into one of the greatest legal intellects of the day.

Justice Harlan had the signal distinction of going down to posterity as a justice whose dissenting opinions were more widely known than those in which he joined with the majority of the court.

With the death of Justice Harlan the opportunity is given President Taft to select during his single term of office five members of the Supreme Court bench, or a majority.

Santa Barbara, Cal., Oct. 16.—Sheriff Stewart left here to-day for Gaviota to search for a mysterious man who is said to have placed 36 sticks of dynamite under the Southern Pacific steel bridge between Gaviota and El Capitan just before President Taft's train passed early to-day.

A watchman employed by the railroad since the shopmen's strike began saw the man and fired several shots at him as he fled.

NO OCONEE NOVEMBER COURT.

Death of Judge Klugh Makes November Term Impossible.

The death of Judge J. C. Klugh, who was to have presided over the November term of court for Oconee, makes the holding of that term impossible, as there is no judge now disengaged, and no other arrangements for the filling of his place have been made.

It is very probable that an extra term of court will be held in December. It is the desire of the members of the local bar to have a term at that time if possible.

Such vacancies are filled through appointment by the Governor only when less than twelve months remain of the term.

LEGISLATURE ELECT SUCCESSOR

Unexpired Portion of Judge Klugh's Term Over Twelve Months.

Columbia, Oct. 13.—Judge J. C. Klugh's death devolves upon the General Assembly the duty of electing, at its 1912 session, some one to serve out the unexpired portion of his term as Judge of the Eighth Circuit.

Pending the election of a judge to serve for the unexpired portion of Judge Klugh's term, which election is due to take place during the legislative session beginning in January next, the court terms at which Judge Klugh would have presided if he had lived and had been fit for duty, will be provided for as previous terms assigned to him in regular courts have been provided for; that is, by the assignment of other circuit judges temporarily disengaged to sit in his stead, or, in case no circuit judge was disengaged, by the appointment for the term of a special judge by the Governor, on the recommendation of the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court.

It has been many months since Judge Klugh was able to go on the circuit. His work has mainly been divided among his brethren on the circuit bench.

"OLD BILL" MINER IS GONE.

Robber, with Two Other Convicts, Gagged Guard and Got Away.

Mrs. M. A. Terrell, of Greenville, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Terrell, the latter part of last week.
