

SENECA'S LOCAL NEWS.

Several Enjoy Grand Opera—Preparing for Close of School.

Seneca, April 29.—Special: Misses Lulu and Sue Gignillat, Mrs. E. C. Doyle, Mrs. J. L. Marrett, Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Livingston, Mrs. T. E. Stribling and Miss Margaret Morrison were among the Seneca people who attended grand opera in Atlanta last week.

S. K. Dendy, Jr., spent last Thursday with his family here before leaving for his new territory in Texas.

Ben Lee Hamilton was in Seneca Monday selling tickets to the Coburn performance at Clemson Wednesday night.

Prof. Wm. S. Morrison delivered a talk at the Methodist church on last Sunday morning on Sunday school work.

Mrs. Runion, of Greenville, is visiting her son, E. Runion.

The Seneca track team will leave Friday on train No. 42 for Columbia, where the boys will take part in the State meet.

On Thursday afternoon Central High School, of Greenville, will cross bats with the high school nine here.

Mrs. S. Y. Stribling and daughter, Miss Nellie, of Roswell, Ga., are visiting relatives here and elsewhere in the county.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Hopkins and children, of West Union, visited the family of J. A. Brock last Sunday.

Miss Renner Farmer, of Anderson, spent Sunday with Miss Carrie Hunter on her way home to Anderson from Atlanta.

We heard one of Seneca's aforementioned widows suggest recently that the council tax our widowers and bachelors. This seems right suggestive to the writer, and that the plan might prove a good source of revenue goes without saying, not to mention other outcome which might result therefrom.

T. S. Stribling and son, Yancey, visited in Roswell, Ga., last week.

The Gossipers were delightfully entertained last week by Mrs. B. A. Lowry.

Mrs. W. H. Hamilton, of Ninety-Six, is visiting her father and sister, Rev. M. R. Kirkpatrick and Mrs. B. A. Lowry.

A large number of the pupils of the high school and others of the town will attend the performance by the Coburn Players at Clemson Wednesday night. The play presented will be "The Merchant of Venice."

Mrs. M. S. Stribling will visit relatives in Anderson the latter part of this week and attend the dedication of the handsome new Methodist church.

People all over the South are indebted to the Atlanta spirit for the opportunity afforded them of attending grand opera. It was a bold undertaking, but has succeeded, and those of limited means now have the best talent in the world brought to their own door, so to speak, and the result in an educational way cannot be estimated.

Just four weeks until the Seneca High School closes one of the most successful years in the history of the school. A most attractive program of closing exercises is being arranged, and our people hold in anticipation a real treat.

The preliminary debate between the boys for the debaters' medal at the close of school was held last Thursday night in the auditorium. Julien Holleman, Charles Lawrence and Wilkes Dendy were chosen by the judges as being best in the order named. These three, with three girls recently selected—namely, Misses Maka Harper, Inez Grant and Louise Lawrence—will debate at the close of school for the Doyle medal. The subject of debate last Thursday evening was "Resolved, That South Carolina should have compulsory education."

Just so long as we know that the "good people of Richland" believe and know that this writer has never said or hinted anything that would reflect upon them as citizens of the very highest type, it makes little difference to us what the young scribe from that place may advance as his opinion to the contrary. Opinions never affect the truth. The ugly and unwarranted attack made on the Seneca athletic team last fall by the young scribe for not entering a relay race when the mercury was hovering around zero, and the mild rejoinder by this correspondent, have brought on the little controversy which has run good-naturedly through several weeks. As it is no longer interesting to the general public we close with this: Anybody interested enough to read the files containing the little controversy from its inception will understand the real truth of the affair "though he be a wayfaring man." There is no possible way of misconstruing anything this writer has ever said in these columns. If the reader can understand pure English; if he cannot, then yours truly is not to be blamed for that!

Excursion to Tallulah Falls.

In the near future, during the month of May, an opportunity will be afforded the public of Oconee to see beautiful Tallulah Falls for the last time, as ere another summer comes this grand work of nature will be destroyed, and utilized as an industrial factor, and will be known to the coming generation by tradition only. The excursion will be run under the auspices of the Civic League and Library Association of Seneca, and will be a most delightful outing, as every adjunct that goes to make an orderly excursion will be secured. The starting point will be Greenville. This excursion is to be given for the building fund of the Carnegie Public Library of Seneca. The date will be announced later.

FAIR PLAY'S GOOD SCHOOL.

Exercises Last Week Brought Successful Session to a Close.

Fair Play, April 29.—Special: The members of the W. O. W. of this place attended the funeral of J. J. Haley at Westminster Monday, 29th instant. The sympathies of our people are extended to Mrs. Haley and family.

Miss Bessie Foster left for her home at Westminster Sunday afternoon after teaching a very successful term of school at Inez, Anderson county, adjoining this school. She will be sadly missed by our people.

A unanimous call has been extended by the congregation of Fair Play Presbyterian church to Rev. F. D. Vaughn to become pastor.

Mrs. J. D. Sheldon's many friends are delighted that she is able to come home, after two weeks' convalescence with her daughter, Mrs. W. B. Glenn, at Liberty. She is expected to reach home to-day.

Miss Bernice Heller and brothers, Guy and Fitz, of Townville, spent Friday here with their brother, Dr. J. R. Heller.

Mrs. Lucy King, of Lavonia, is spending a month's vacation with her mother, Mrs. D. V. Wright.

The Closing Exercises

of Fair Play High School left nothing to be desired, either in point of attendance or excellence of training exhibited by those taking part.

The weather was ideal and the interest manifested by the community at large was very gratifying. The little folks did themselves and their teachers great credit, their part of it adding quite a little to the interesting program.

The selection of characters for the different plays showed wise and careful choosing, some of those who participated exhibiting decided talent, and all showed careful training.

The contestants for the medals were listened to with breathless interest. The lovely young girls, beautifully dressed, made a charming picture on the stage, and it was an inspiration to see such a splendid array of boys, so fired with youthful enthusiasm and ambition that they forgot to be frightened.

The Glenn String Band furnished splendid music for the occasion.

Three interesting and instructive programs were rendered, the exercises occupying the evenings of three days—Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. Too much praise cannot be bestowed upon the pupils taking part in the exercises. The whole was as near ideal as possible.

Miss Pauline Marett won the girls' medal, which was presented in a very happy manner by Supt. of Education W. C. Hughs. The medal is engraved "P. P. H. S."

John B. Compton won first and Leon Harris second in boys' contest, and after impressive remarks by C. R. D. Burns and M. C. Long, of Walhalla, were presented with their respective medals, after which D. A. Smith, cheerfully entertained the audience with a few impromptu remarks.

As each contestant finished, little Misses Lucile King and Mildred Heller appeared upon the scene laden with flowers from admiring friends, and upon presentation of the medals Mrs. Ryder gracefully handed the fortunate ones a lovely bouquet of white roses.

With the delivering of certificates of promotion to the children from their respective grades, to the next higher, the session of Fair Play High School for 1911-12 closed amid expressions of praise and appreciation for Superintendent and Mrs. Ryder for their untiring energy in making this a notably successful term. Our people consider it a matter for congratulation that a probability exists of securing their services for next term.

Mr. and Mrs. Ryder have gone to Republican Grove, Va., where he will teach in the State Normal Training School for Teachers.

Parker Town and Fair Play base ball teams played a game here Wednesday afternoon, and Townville and Fair Play crossed bats Friday, resulting in a victory for Fair Play in each instance.
