ANDREW P. GILREATH DEAD.

Passed Away at Westminster Last Sunday-Local Matters,

Westminster, Nov. 12.—Special: The many triends of Andrew P. Gil-reath were grieved to hear of his death Sunday morning. His death was due to pellagra and a nervous breakdown. He had been sick for some time, but a few weeks ago he seemed to be improving rapidly. For a few days he felt so much better that he even made a business trip to Greenville in an automobile, but while there he suddenly grew worse and was brought here for worse and was brought home at once. In the early fall he went to a Battle Creek (Mich.) sanitarium, where he stayed for a few weeks, but he made no improvement and was advised to return home. Mr. Gilreath was a native of Greenville county, and spent the greater part of his life there. He was a member of one of the most influential families of that county. On April 9, 1907, he was mar-ried to Mrs. Ella Waite, of Westminster. He was a member of the Methodist church of this place. The body of the deceased was shipped to Greenville, and the interment was made in the family cemetery at Jack-son Grove church, near Taylor's station. Mr. Gilreath was 58 years old. He leaves his wife and two daughters, little Dorothy Gilreath and Mrs. Brockman, of Greenville, to mourn his death. The sympathy of many friends is extended to this bereaved family.

Columbia Winter Home ?

Columbia, Nov. 11 .--- A committeof citizens of Columbia left here Sun-day night for Princeton, N. J., bear-ing an invitation from Columbia to President-elect Wilson to make his winter home here.

The old Wilson home, formerly oc cupied by Governor Wilson and hi parents during their residence here has been secured for a winter Whit House.

Governor Wilson will be invited also to attend the National Corn Show, which will be held here in January.

Speaking of the invitation extended, Mr. Wilson said: "It's a very pretty sentiment. When I was a half grown boy my father built a house in Columbia which my mother alto-gether planned, and, of course, I re-member all the details of its building and the development of the little piece of property. These gentlement to-day came to tell me that m friends in South Carolina had inter ested themselves to get control of that house, which they would fix up in any way convenient for me to us in the winters if I wanted to g South while President. "The house is near a big and com-ortable hotel, built since our time. hat will make it quite convenient for the secretaries and their families to live within easy reach of me. It seemed to me it was an ideal sugger tion, and that it embodied a very pretty sentiment. In that little Souhen home I had perhaps the larges number of my boyhood association Of course, I expect to have my samold room when I return to the old homestead." -----

Death of Mrs. Luyry Simpson,

Oakway, Nov. 11.—Special: This community is saddened by the death of Mrs. Luyry Simpson, which occurred at her home on Sunday, No-vember 3. Mrs. Simpson was 57 years and 9 months old. She had been in declining health for several years with that dread disease, cancer, but hore her suffering without a murmur. All was done that medical aid and willing hands could do, but to no avail, and the all-wise God called her to her home above. Now there is another tie that draws us nearer that home, where all tears are wiped away and sad partings come no more.

Mrs. Simpson was preceded to the grave by her husband 24 years ago, and by a daughter (Mrs. Mollie Bowman) 7 years ago. She is survived by an aged mother, Mrs. Mary E. Mc-Donald; three daughters, Mrs. Mary E. Mc-Donald; three daughters, Mrs. Tebe Edcar, of Cross Roads; Mrs. J. C. Carroll and Mrs. M. S. Carroll, of this place; three sons, Elbert Simpson, of South Georgia; Bert Simpson, of Cross Roads, and Walter Simpson, of this place. They mourn not as those who have no hope, and may they say with full assurance in their hearts, "the Lord gave and the Lord taketh away: blessed be the name of the Lord."

Mrs. Simpson had been a consistent member of the Baptist church of this place for several years, and she will be greatly missed. Her remains were taken to the Old Westminster cemetery and laid beside ner husband to await the resurrection. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. A. P. Marett in the presence of a large concourse of sorrowing relatives and friends. Truly a good wo-man has gone to her reward.
