SUNDAY, DECEMBER 8, 1912.

Subject: "The Child in the Midst." Matt. XVIII:1-14.

Golden Text: "In heaven their angels do always behold the face of my Father which is in heaven." Matt. XVIII:10.

- Verse 1—What and where is the kingdom of heaven as Jesus taught?
- What idea did the disciples have about the kingdom of heaven and its chief men?
- Verses 2-3—In what respects did the disciples need to be converted?
- From Jesus' estimate of a child, would you say that all children are members of the kingdom of heaven? Why?
- In what respects are we to become like children in order to be saved?
- Verse 4—Why does Jesus make humility the standard of greatness in his kingdom?
- Verse 5—Why should Christ take a kindness done to a little child the same as if done to himself?
- If one loves and tenderly cares for children why should that not constitute him a Christian?
- Verse 6—What is the difference in the culpability of one who offends a child or an obscure person who believes in Jesus and one who does the same thing to a person who does not believe in Jesus?
- Why is a sin against a child or any weak person deserving of such great punishment as Christ here intimates?
- Verse 7—What are the most serious of the ways in which people "offend" other people?
- Jesus states "It must needs be that offences come." But why is this so?
- What is the "woe" to those - who offend or hurt their fellow men?

- Verses 8-9—What are some of the things which the average man desires most?
- What is the most important thing in life?
- What are life's chief temptations?
- Verse 10—How are we liable to offend one of Christ's little ones?
- What is the significance of the fact that the guardian angels of Christ's little ones are always looking into the face of God?
- Verse 11—Who are the lost?
- How does Jesus save those that are lost? (This is one of the questions that may be answered in writing by members of the club.)
- Verses 12-13—Why does a man rejoice more over finding one treasure that he had lost than over ninety and nine similar treasures he had kept safely?
- Verse 14—It is God's wish that all shall be saved. Why, then, will all not be saved?

CADET JERRY MOORE.

Boy Champion, Now Clemson Cadet, Goes to Chicago.

Columbia, Nov. 29.—Jerry Moore, of Winona, Florence county, who produced 228 bushels of corn on one acre, and who is styled "the champion boy corn grower of the world," in company with Col. E. J. Watson, State Commissioner of Agriculture, left yesterday for Chicago, where he will be a star feature for the National Show in which South Carolina will play a conspicuous part.

Jerry was in his uniform. He is a cadet in the freshman class at Clemson College. W. M. Riggs, president of the college, has granted him a furlough in order that he might be one of the representatives of this State in Chicago. One of the features of the show will be certain hours daily allotted to the States, in which their representatives can give talks along the lines of improved agriculture. Jerry Moore will lecture daily, telling how and by what methods he produced his prize acre of corn. In writing to Col. Watson several months ago requesting a sketch of Jerry's life, the Chicago Tribune stated that he would be more of a drawing card than Col. Roosevelt, the Bull Moose. All Jerry's talks will be in the Coliseum, where the land show is staged.

The South Carolina exhibit, which has been assigned to one of the most conspicuous reservations in the Coliseum, was sent to Chicago Thursday in charge of James D. Lee. The exhibit has been selected with the minutest care and will be one of the most attractive ever sent out of this State. It will be preserved intact to be shown at the National Corn Exposition to be held here from January 28th to February 8th.

Four Killed in Wreck.

Philadelphia, Nov. 28.—Four men were killed and more than 50 persons were injured on the Pennsylvania railroad at Glenloch, 25 miles west of here, last midnight when the Cincinnati express was derailed, eight cars going down a high embankment. The dead are: L. D. Fitley, Pittsburg; J. A. Baldwin, Brooklyn; E. R. Jones, New York, and an unidentified man.

The heavy train, known as the Cincinnati express, was hauled by two locomotives. It is the belief of railroad officials that a broken rail was responsible for the wreck.

JERUSALEM HAS MODERN HOTEL.

Proprietor to Visit Asheville for Purpose of Gathering Dots.

(Asheville Citizen.)
A. Morcos, one of the owners of the Grand New Hotel, at Jerusalem, Palestine, is expected to arrive in Asheville next month for a stay of several weeks at the Battery Park Hotel. While here Mr. Morcos will make a thorough study of American hotel methods and will make preparations to conduct an advertising campaign in Asheville's behalf at his hotel.

The hotel with which Mr. Morcos is connected was constructed only a short time ago and was located at Jerusalem for the benefit of the tourists of the United States, England, France, Germany and Italy. It is in close proximity to all the principal points of interest in Jerusalem and is equipped with all modern conveniences, including electric lights and steam heat. It is situated opposite the tower of David and is very near the principal gate of the city. Mr. Morcos intends to put pictures of Asheville's points of interest in the lobby of his hotel, and will supply the rooms with literature concerning the metropolis of the Land of the Sky.

The fact that Jerusalem has a modern tourist hotel is not generally known. Few people can conceive the town in which a greater part of the Old Testament history was made having such a hostelry. One can look out of the window of this hotel and see the gates of Jerusalem, said to be the scene of Christ's triumphal entry into that city.

In a letter to Proprietor J. L. Alexander, of the Battery Park Hotel, Mr. Morcos said: "I have heard so many tourists speak of Asheville and the Battery Park Hotel that I have made up my mind to visit your city and get a few ideas on running an up-to-date hotel. I would like to have a large picture of the Battery Park to hang in my lobby. If you have any booklets I would be glad to get them. I expect to be in Asheville some time in December."

The above information will be read with interest by the people of Oconee, especially in view of the fact that J. L. Alexander, proprietor of the Battery Park Hotel, is a former Oconee boy. Mr. Alexander has made a great success of the hotel business, the fame of his hostelry being by no means confined to America.

Dr. W. W. Smith Dead.

Lynchburg, Nov. 29.—Dr. William Waugh Smith, Chancellor of the Randolph-Macon system of colleges and president of Randolph-Macon Women's College here, died early today after a lingering illness, aged 67 years. He served four years in the Confederate army and was wounded twice. He was a warm personal friend of Woodrow Wilson.

"IT'S THE STAGE CUSTOM."

Story of Cincinnati Girl Leads to Arrest of Atlanta Troupe.

(Atlanta Constitution.)
Following the story of an alleged attempt at white slavery told the police by a pretty 19-year-old Cincinnati girl, who, lured by the footlights, had traveled from her home to Atlanta to become an actress, a squad of detectives yesterday afternoon rounded up and carried to police headquarters the members of the Metropolitan Musical Company, chorus girls, soubrettes, leading actors, musicians and all.

After a thorough investigation by Chief Lanford and Chief Beavers, Mrs. Emma Pauline Hudson, an actress at whose home, 34 Garnett street, the show was being organized, Hazel Barrington, leading lady of the company, and Robert Grier, the stage director, were put under arrest. Charges of disorderly conduct were docketed against them, and bonds were set at $2,000 each.

Chorus Girls Questioned.
The remainder of the troupe were released after being subpoenaed for court this afternoon. Those brought to headquarters and questioned about the Cincinnati girl's story were F. C. Wilson and wife, of Newark, N. J., musicians, with the show; Buster and Esther Reed, of Atlanta, chorus girls; Miss Murray Weir, an actress, of Knoxville, Tenn.; Arthur Jackson, Atlanta; John S. Amosson, Macon, and William K. Turner. The latter three were actors.

The girl whose story led to the arrest is being detained at headquarters for the trial. Her name is Genevieve Goodwin, and her appeal to the police is also being investigated by the Federal department of justice.

Tells White Slave Story.
Coming to police headquarters after midnight Friday morning, she told to Capt. Poole a story of attempted white slavery upon the parts of members of the Metropolitan Stock Company, which show she had traveled from Cincinnati to join. She said that upon arriving in Atlanta late Wednesday night, she was met by the stage director of the troupe and carried to the Cumberland Hotel, at Broad and Marletta streets.

Later, she said, a short time prior to her first rehearsal, Mrs. Hudson, manager of the company, who conducted the work of organization, informed the new member of the show that she would have to be a "good fellow," and select a male member of the company with whom to pose as man and wife while on the road. "It saves expenses," the Goodwin girl quotes the actress as saying, "and besides, it's the custom."

Cured of "Stage Fever."
(Atlanta Georgian.)

Cured of a severe attack of "foot-light fever" by her recent Atlanta experience, Miss Genevieve Goodwin, the pretty 17-year-old nurse who turned reformer and caused a Federal investigation of alleged white slavery, says she hopes her revelations may serve as a danger signal to young girls.

"Cling tightly to your mother's apron strings; stay closely at home, and shun the worldly glitter and glamor, is a message that I would send through The Georgian to all young girls, especially those who are stage-struck," said Miss Goodwin.

Dream of Stage Fame Gone.
The girl declared that this, her first effort to become a stage favorite, is her last. The dream of becoming a vivacious and coquettish soubrette, she said, once was more alluring to her than the steady daily grind of working as a nurse in a big city hospital, amid the natural gloom of wholesale human ills, but when she was awakened so rudely she saw things in a different light. One rehearsal satisfied her ambition, she said, and she now is ready to return to the simple life.

Miss Goodwin's home is in Pineville, Ky., where she is well known and popular. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Goodwin. Her father is a well-to-do contractor and builder. Miss Goodwin recently left her home for Cincinnati to become a professional nurse, and was in the training school of the city hospital there at the time she was engaged by a theatrical agency to take the role of soubrette in the Metropolitan Musical Comedy Company, in Atlanta.

Miss Goodwin will not return to Cincinnati, but expects to remain in Atlanta, at least until the white slave case against Miss Emma Pauline Hudson, of the show company, is disposed of in the United States Court. Although she has made no definite plans, the girl hopes to obtain a position here as telephone operator, or else in one of the downtown department stores.

She is being cared for now in the home of City Detective W. A. Chowning, in Berne street. Chowning, with Detective Norris, investigated her story and started the slavery probe.

Woman Held for Trial.
Emma Hudson was held under $1,000 bond to await the action of the Federal grand jury after Genevieve Goodwin had told the commissioner her story of her trip from Cincinnati to join a musical comedy company, her meeting with men and women of the troupe; of drinking and smoking, and her sudden awakening from a dream of the footlights. The statement upon which the Hudson wo-

"Cardui Cured Me"

For nearly ten years, at different times, Mrs. Mary Jinks of Treadway, Tenn., suffered with womanly troubles. She says: "At last, I took down and thought I would die. I could not sleep. I couldn't eat. I had pains all over. The doctors gave me up. I read that Cardui had helped so many, and I began to take it, and it cured me. Cardui saved my life! Now, I can do anything."

TAKE CARDUI The Woman's Tonic

If you are weak, tired, worn-out, or suffer from any of the pains peculiar to weak women, such as headache, backache, dragging-down feelings, pains in arm, side, hip or limbs, and other symptoms of womanly trouble, you should try Cardui, the woman's tonic. Prepared from perfectly harmless, vegetable ingredients, Cardui is the best remedy for you to use, as it can do you nothing but good. It contains no dangerous drugs. It has no bad after-effects. Ask your druggist. He sells and recommends Cardui.

Romance Revives Goebel Murder.

Newport, Ky., Nov. 29.—Although the world seemed to be against him in his stubborn and ceaseless fight for freedom from the charge connecting him with the assassination of Governor Goebel, of Kentucky, there was one person in the many thousands who stood by him and believed in his innocence, and to-night, at the home of the bride's parents, Congressman Caleb Powers, who spent years in the State penitentiary for alleged complicity in the crime, was joined in wedlock to Miss Anna Dorothy Kaufman, of this city.

Miss Kaufman stood by Powers during his fight for freedom. The ceremony was performed by Judge Harry Hawkins, an intimate friend of the Congressman. After an extended honeymoon trip through the East, the Congressman and his wife will reside in Washington, D. C.

Broken Bone Lodged in Heart.

Philadelphia, Nov. 29.—A particle of bone from a fractured kneecap received while playing base ball, worked its way through his system to the heart of George Hayes, 15 years old, and caused his death in a hospital here yesterday. The boy's death was believed to have been caused by heart disease until an autopsy revealed the sliver of bone.
