—Community Silver is built by overlaying solid silver upon a "backbone" of stiffer metal. This solid silver is so especially thickened at the wearing points, and toughened to resist wear, that in a long lifetime you will never see or touch anything but pure silver. R. A. McLees, Jeweler, Walhalla. 38-39-adv.

—Mrs. R. C. Strother left last week for Atlanta, where she will spend the winter. She was accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. L. W. Meakin, who had been spending some time in West Union. Mrs. Fair Dodd and son returned to Atlanta last week, after having spent the summer here. Their departure is regretted by a host of friends.

—Evangelist W. P. Yarbrough, of Leesville, assisted by Rev. J. O. Burnett, pastor, will begin a series of revival meetings at Newry next Sunday, September 21st. Services will begin at 7.30 o'clock in the evening, and it is probable that both day and night services will be held. On Sunday, September 28th, Rev. Yarbrough will preach a special sermon, for men and boys only, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

—The Courier is in receipt of what it considers reliable information to the effect that V. L. Norman, a former resident of Walhalla, will take charge of the Oconee Inn ("The Hotel that Made Seneca Famous") on the first of October. Mr. Norman is well known as a hotel man, and no better manager could be found. We, with a host of other friends, will be delighted to welcome Mr. Norman and his estimable family back to Oconee.

—Louis C. Harrison, who has for some time been filling a position with the Southern Railway at Augusta, Ga., spent a short while here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Harrison, this week. He left yesterday for Greenville, to which city he has been transferred. He will be assistant to Commercial Agent Alex McFee and also a local freight solicitor for the Southern. His transfer from Augusta is in the nature of a promotion, and Mr. Harrison is highly pleased at his return to this section of South Carolina.

—One full carload McCormick mowers, rakes, implements, etc.; McCormick repairs; Nissen and White Hickory wagons; Norman and Rock Hill buggies; harness, etc. Get our prices before you buy. We can save you money. Special prices on Rock Hill buggies for the next sixty days. Dickson and Matheson, Westminster, S. C. adv.-t.

—Mr. and Mrs. Sam J. Isbell arrived in Walhalla last week, to the delight of the many friends of Mr. Isbell, who were pleasantly surprised at the announcement of his marriage, which took place at Paolet last Wednesday, the 10th, at 11 o'clock, at the residence of the officiating minister, Rev. A. H. Best, of the Methodist church. Mrs. Isbell was Miss Nannie Myrtle Hayes, of Spartanburg. Both Mr. and Mrs. Isbell have been most cordially greeted by many friends here, who will join with The Courier in congratulations to the groom and all good wishes for the young couple. They will be at home to their friends at the residence of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Isbell, on Main street.

—The following society item clipped from the Greenville Piedmont, September 13, will be read with interest by the many friends of Miss Goodlette, who is well known in Walhalla: "One of the first of a series of pretty parties planned for Miss Corinne Goodlette was given by Miss Virginia King at her home on West Washington street yesterday afternoon. After several interesting rubbers of bridge, refreshments were served in a very lovely manner, white roses being laid on the plates, which held green and white ice cream and cake. The honoree was presented with a pretty luncheon set, and Miss King's house guest, Miss Mary Julia Reid, of Seneca, with a dainty piece of lingerie. The place cards carried out the idea of a bride and were very attractive."

—Southwest Georgia Farms—I have several farms for sale on easy terms. Can furnish each buyer the number of acres desired. Lands near Plains are very fine; all things considered, the price is reasonable. Lands in Terrell county extra good; price $15 to $35 per acre, governed by improvements. I own these lands; you deal with me. Write or call on T. M. Lowery, Plains, Ga. ad.-t.

—The home of Mrs. J. A. Steck, on Faculty Hill, was again thrown open on last Thursday afternoon, when Mrs. S. A. Lockwood complimented a score of matrons at an ideal summer party. After the guests assembled they were presented with small pictures of automobiles, cut apart for matching partners for the afternoon's contest, "An Automobile Romance." Miniature automobiles were placed on the tables for each guest as the afternoon's souvenirs. When time was called it was found that some of the matrons had not forgotten their "auto-romantic days of yore," and these drew for first prize. Mrs. Jas. H. Darby proved to be the lucky winner of an exquisite hand-painted piece of china, while the consolation, a large toy automobile, fell to Mrs. John Ansel. A refreshing sweet course closed this pleasant occasion—one which will long be remembered.

—Gray Macaulay, of Statesville, N. C., spent the latter part of last week and first of this with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Macaulay, and family in Walhalla. He was most cordially greeted by his many friends here.

—Misses Norma Moore and Mary Ellen Wilson have returned to Rock Hill and re-entered Winthrop College. Miss Moore returned last week, going first to Lancaster, where she spent some days among friends. Miss Wilson left yesterday morning.

—Newton Crenshaw and daughter, Miss Augusta, spent several days at the home of the former's brother, Samuel Crenshaw, of Pelzer, who died last Saturday. Miss Crenshaw remained at the bedside of her aunt, who is seriously ill. Mr. Crenshaw's death marked the third in connection with this home in less than a month.

—Fifteen head of good country mules and horses to sell at right prices. Some of these are as fine as the country affords; all free from colds and ready to work. Will make terms to suit purchaser. W. M. Brown, Walhalla, adv.

—Revival services are being conducted this week each night at the Walhalla Cotton Mill church by Rev. J. O. Burnett, the Methodist pastor. It is hoped that large crowds will attend. All Christians are asked to come and unite for a revival. Services at 7.30 p. m. The people of the town are urged to co-operate with us, as well as all the people of the village. Pastor.

—Mason C. Seaborn, of Indian Springs, Ga., is spending this week in Walhalla with his mother, Mrs. Jas. Seaborn, and other relatives and his numerous friends. He has just closed "The Wigwam Hotel," which he has been managing during the past season. During the winter months he will manage one of the most popular hotels in Birmingham, Ala.

Samuel Crenshaw is No More.

News of the death of Samuel Crenshaw, which occurred at his home near Pelzer on September 13th, was received here with much sorrow. Mr. Crenshaw had been a great sufferer from Bright's disease for some time, but bore his suffering with little complaint. On August 21st he came to Walhalla, accompanied by his wife, for the purpose of answering a request to come to the bedside of his nephew by marriage. Arriving here Mr. Crenshaw found that the young man who had requested him had passed away and been buried. This was a shock from which he never recovered. Leaving here on September 2d for home he was stricken with paralysis, and he lingered only a few days.

Samuel Crenshaw was born near Walhalla on July 10, 1835, being a little more than 78 years of age. He was a son of the late Henry D. Crenshaw and Sarah E. (Thorne) Crenshaw, and one among a family of thirteen. He was a gallant Confederate soldier of Co. C, Orr's regiment. At about the age of 40 he was married to Miss Mary Cobb, of near Walhalla, and to this union eight children were born. Those left to mourn his death, beside his wife, who is seriously ill, are four sons and two daughters—Mrs. J. J. McAbee, Piedmont; Mrs. E. Rogers, Greenville; Luther and West Crenshaw, Pelzer; Thos. and B. F. Crenshaw, of Columbia; three sisters and two brothers, N. Crenshaw, of Walhalla; Thos. Crenshaw, of Newry; Mrs. Sallie White, Coneross; Mrs. J. M. Kelley, Walhalla, and Mrs. C. D. Hill, San Antonio, Texas.

In the death of Mr. Crenshaw this community feels the loss of a landmark and an influential citizen. He was an humble Christian, devoted husband, kind father, sincere friend, and his life was a benediction to all.

WANTED—Beef cattle and hides. Ellison & Co., opposite Post Office, Walhalla. 38-tf.

Our other sick are all improving.

Death of Little Bessie Sullivan.

On last Wednesday morning the angel of death visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sullivan and plucked a flower for the Heavenly Father's garden. Little Bessie, aged three years, had been ill for months, and all that physicians and loving hands could do was done by her fond parents, other loved ones and friends. But it pleased an All-wise God to take her home to heaven, where aches and pains are not known.

When we are called on to give up our loved ones there is a scar left which God alone can heal. God gathers the buds as well as the full-blown flowers and adds them to the beautiful bouquets of heaven.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. L. M. Lyda, after which the little body was laid to rest in Neville cemetery. To the fond parents we extend heartfelt sympathy. May they find comfort in the thought that God doeth all things well, and that little Bessie is waiting at the pearly gates of heaven for them.
