—Fire alarms are becoming quite common of late in Walhalla. On last Friday another alarm was given, and it was found that a tenant house belonging to C. G. Jaynes, on Spring street, to the north of Grant's stable, was on fire. A number started at once for the fire and rendered what assistance they could give at the moment. Harry R. Hughs, however, jumped into his automobile and headed for the engine house, where an entrance was forced, a number of tools and the chemical engine moved out of the way, and with the assistance of others, hitched his car to the old fire engine and yanked it down-town faster than it had ever made a trip before. The old "water wagon" worked like a charm, too, giving a splendid stream from a Main street cistern that had the fire out in short order. The roof of the house was almost destroyed over the kitchen, but otherwise slight damage was done. The automobile turned the trick that saved the building and possibly others.

—There were two deaths in Walhalla at the Monaghan village in the past few days. On Saturday last James O. Driscoll died after a lingering illness due to complications. He had been in poor health for quite a long time, and his death came as no surprise to his friends. Mr. Driscoll was about 55 years of age and leaves a wife and several children to mourn his death. Funeral services were conducted Sunday, followed by interment, which was made at the family burying ground on Stumphouse Mountain. For many years Mr. Driscoll resided at the little home on the summit of Stumphouse, known as the Dugan place, and was well known not only to the people of Oconee, but to hundreds who traveled the mountain roads. On Monday morning early J. W. Hamby was stricken suddenly with heart failure, dying before medical assistance could reach him. He had been under treatment for serious trouble with his heart for some time, and had had a severe attack the day before his death, from which, however, he had apparently recovered. He was sitting on his front porch at the time he was stricken, death resulting almost instantly. He was about 52 years of age, and leaves a wife and several children by a former marriage. Funeral services were conducted Tuesday morning, followed by interment at the Neville burying ground, west of town. There are many who will learn with deep regret of the death of these two citizens, both of whom were well known farmers before moving to Walhalla to engage in work at the mill.

—Ladies' 10c. undervests—this week only—4 for 25c. C. W. & J. E. Bauknight.—Adv.

—Mrs. Harry R. Hughs and little daughter, Miss Elizabeth, and Miss Pauline Hughs left yesterday for Highlands, where they will spend a month. They were accompanied by Mr. Hughs, who returned to Walhalla.

—The public will please take notice that The Courier office will be closed all day next Saturday, July 4th. All matters of business will be given careful attention, and rush work will be handled promptly during to-morrow and Friday if handed to us at once.

—Master Frank Sloan, young son of Dr. and Mrs. B. P. Sloan, had the misfortune to fall and break his collar-bone last Sunday afternoon. He was playing on top of his play-house when he became overbalanced and fell. The young gentleman is getting along nicely, however, and, as is the case with most youngsters, will soon be ready to do it again.

—Mrs. W. P. Hutchison and family left last week for Columbia, where they will join Mr. Hutchison and will make their future home. Several months ago Mr. Hutchison accepted a position with the Southern Railway and has been in Columbia since that time. Mrs. Hutchison and children have been living in Walhalla. They have many friends here who wish them much success in their new home.

—G. A. Kelley and Sam Pitchford accompanied J. B. Quarterman to Wilmington, N. C., last Monday. Mr. Kelley will have charge of a part of the work being done there by Quarterman & McDonald, contractors, and Mr. Pitchford will also be employed by this firm, which has taken a contract for the erection of a large fertilizer warehouse on the waterfront in Wilmington. A number of others left at the same time to accept employment on this contract.

—Court will convene in Walhalla next Monday morning, and The Courier extends its usual invitation to the people of the county to make its office headquarters. We are always glad to have our friends call and to extend any courtesy possible. Come in at least and take a drink (of water) with us. We keep it always "on tap." And don't forget that one dollar will pay a full year's subscription to (so our friends tell us) the best paper in South Carolina.

—Miss Sallie Goodman, of Staunton, Va., who is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Shelor, had the misfortune last Friday to fall from a doorway into the yard, badly dislocating her shoulder. When the alarm of fire was given from premises not far distant, Miss Goodman hurried to the door, and it was then that she fell. She is quite an aged lady, and this fact adds to the seriousness of her injury. She is, however, doing well, and we trust will soon recover from the effects of the fall.

—There are many Oconee friends of Dr. S. R. Heller, of Townville, who will learn with deep regret of his death, which occurred at his home at Townville last Monday night about 8 o'clock. Dr. Heller had been in failing health for quite a while, suffering from a complication of troubles, and was taken worse on Thursday of last week, his condition gradually becoming worse until death came Monday night. He was about 60 years of age. Dr. Heller was born in Newberry county, and after practicing medicine there for two years, moved to Townville about 35 years ago, and had lived there ever since. He was a graduate of the Patrick Military School in Greenville, and also attended South Carolina College at Columbia. Later he graduated in medicine at the Charleston Medical College. He leaves a wife and eight children. His wife was Miss Ellen Cromer, daughter of the late Lewis Cromer. They were married in 1879. The following are the children: Dr. John R. Heller, of Fair Play; Joe Heller, of Sandy Springs; Dr. W. B. Heller, of Lavonia, Ga.; Mrs. Furman Boleman, of Augusta, Ga.; Misses Venie and Bernie Heller, of Guy and Christopher Heller, Dr. Heller was a member of the Methodist church. Funeral and interment were held at Smith's Chapel Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, conducted by the pastor, Rev. W. S. Myers. We join with other friends of the family in extending sympathy in their bereavement.

Will Close Stores Friday.

The citizens of Walhalla and vicinity are urged to bear in mind the fact that the stores in Walhalla will be closed all day next Friday by mutual agreement. All the merchants have signed an agreement to that effect except C. H. Chastain and R. Duncan. The Friday closing is due to the fact that "The Glorious Fourth" this year falls on Saturday, and to close on Saturday would inconvenience many customers both in town and in the country. Bear this fact in mind—Walhalla stores will be closed, with the exceptions noted, next Saturday, and on the fourth (Saturday) will be open all day as usual for the serving of the general public.
