CHICAGOAN WANTED IN N. Y.

Located After 20 Years of Search by Metropolis Police.

Chicago, Dec. 3 .- At the request of the New York police that they detain, as a fugitive from justice, Carleton H. Betts, accused of forgery in New York in 1894, the Chicago police to-day took into custody Carleton Hudson, a wealthy Chicago financial operator. A fugitive warrant vias sworn out for Hudson, who refused to make any statement.

The message to the Chicago police was signed "Faurot," inspector of police, New York, and read:

"Arrest for forgery and fraud Carleton H. Betts. Assumes the name of Carleton Hudson: years of age. Complainant, Margaret McGowan, of this city; offense committed March 19, 1894. son or Betts now located in your city. Hold and wire me information of arrest."

Carleton Hudson, of Chicago, the man arrested to-day, has been known for years as a pillar of the Moody church, and his acquaintances here were stunned by the news of his arrest and by the statement that throughout his life here he had been sought by the police of New York.

Hudson was taken to the Central police station, but was not placed in Oconee counties are all "home couna cell. Later he conferred with his attorney, Clarence Darrow, but neither Hudson nor his counsel would make a statement concerning the ar-

Fled Twenty Years Ago.

New York, Dec. 3 .- Carleton H. Betts fled this city 20 years ago while awaiting trial on a charge of forging the name of Mrs. Margaret McGowan to a check for $500. He was out on a bond of $1,500, which was furnished by Joshua Saunders, his father's friend. The bond was forfeited.

Several attempts to locate Betts failed. Yesterday Lowell Thomas, a Chicago newspaper man, appeared at the office of Henry S. Cook, attorney for the heirs of Saunders, and announced that he knew where Betts could be found. Thomas later appeared in District Attorney Whitman's office and a warrant was sworn out.

A detective will be sent to Chicago immediately to bring to this city the man the police assert is Betts.

Andrew J. Shipman, counsel for Mrs. McGowan, said that when his client first met Betts he (Betts) was president of the Incorporators' and Investors' Company, of No. 1 Broadway, and Mrs. McGowan was administratrix of her husband's estate and guardian of two infant children. Mr. Shipman said that Betts induced Mrs. McGowan to give him $3,000 of her money to invest.

Checks Were Worthless,

"Finally," continued the attorney, "Mrs. McGowan wanted her money. Betts gave her checks on banks in Tennessee and other places, which were returned as worthless. We then had him brought into the Supreme Court, where he produced a check for $500 marked 'For payment in fall,' which was ostensibly endor ed by Mrs. McGowan.

The court took the check and Berts was charged with having forged Mrs. McGowan's signature. About the same time Betts was arrested by the sheriff of Cortland county, New York, on a charge of altering a leed. He stood trial for that and was acquitted. Then he was brought back to New York city and lodged in Tombs prison because he could not furnish a bond of $3,-

"He made a plea that his bond be reduced so that he might obtain his liberty and repay Mrs. McGowan. The court then reduced the bond to $1 .-500, but Mrs. McGowan's money was not forthcoming. The case was then called for trial.

"Betts failed to appear. We have been looking for him ever since then.'

Minneapolis, Dec. 3.-Carleton Hudson is defandant in a suit brought here by Mrs. Caroline M. King, widow of Col. Wm. King, to revoke a deed made in 1912 to a Minneapolis business block valued at $40,000. Mrs. King alleges the deed was obtained by fraud and

The suit also involves the validity of judgment notes amounting to approximately $120,000, alleged to have been executed by Mrs. King to Hudson during twelve years of their business relations. A BISHOP AND COLLEGE BOYS.

Only Two Members from Delegations Bishop Kilgo Waxes Warm. Over Folly of Trinity Boys.

Clemson College, Dec. 2,-Enthu-A dispatch from Trinity College, siasm over what they saw and heard N. C., contains the following interand, in some instances, surprise, esting matter:

In a forceful talk during chapel exercises Bishop John C. Kilgo stated that unless the "scoundrel" who on Thanksgiving night secretly hoisted and secretly fastened a large flag, bearing the figure '17 (the numeral of the sophomore class) to the time, being personally conducted flagstaff situated in the center of the throughout the large plant by Presi- campus was apprehended and sent dent W. M. Riggs, at whose invitation away from the institution in disgrace he would "sever himself from members of the entire legislative Trinity, erase the name of Trinity from everything with which he is connected, and spend the remainder Clemson College happens to be ai- of his life in apologizing for ever most exactly at the joining point of having had anything to do with that institution."

The occasion for the bishop's remarks was the placing of the flag bearing the numeral of the sophomore class on the tall pole in front of Craven Memorial Hall. The idenment station and other property of tity of the person or persons who did the work is unknown, although derson county begins within a every effort has been put forth by stone's-throw of the end of Clem- the college authorities to apprehend

Bishop Kilgo made a very pretty oration, in which he told for what purpose the college flagpole and a United States flag had been given to bers of the General Assembly from Trinity by the members of the class of 1899; he showed what the Stars and Stripes meant to the true citizen, and he deplored the fact that there were around the college "traitors, buffaloes, cowards and scounof interest. They were entertained drels who were so base as to hoist in the place of 'Old Glory' a rag bearing the class numeral." He stated further that there was a stain on the class of 1917, and that henceforth it would be known as the "buffalo class."

> Bishop Kilgo stated that unless action was taken by all connected with the college to avenge this deed, it was his earnest wish that there would be a reunion of the class of 1899; that the class would come with axes to cut down the flagstaff and leave the stump as a memorial to the buffaloes and Benedict Arnolds who had heaped such insult upon it."

Resolutions by Class.

Durham, N. C., Dec. 3 .- As a result of the speech made by Bishop John C. Kilgo in chapel, in which he flayed the sophomore class of Trinity College because a pennant bearing the numeraus '17 had been hoisted on the flag pole of the college, a meeting of the class was called and official cognizance of the speech of the bishop taken.

The sophomores, in class assembled, say that the class as a whole was not responsible for the prank, and do not think the whole class deserves to be put into the "buffalo, scoundrel and sons of Benedict Ar nold" column. They adopted a set of resolutions, in which they say that they do not believe that it is the business of the class to ferret out the man or men who did this deed. The lass also resents Bishop Kilgo's 'unwarranted interference" in college affairs.

The speech of the bishop caused quite a stir in the college community and the publication of certain parts of his speech in the daily papers caused quite a stir in Durham. In the town the incident is looked upon as a boyish prank, one that would not have been thought of but for the very decided stand the bishop, who is one of the members of the board of trustees of the college, took on the affair.

The Resolutions

passed by the sophomore clas. when they assembled yesterday aft moon follow:

"Whereas, there are certain conditions now existing in Trinity College which have been brought about by the appearance of the flag of the sophomore class on the Trinity flagstan, therefore, be it resolved, by the sophomore class of Trinity College: "1. That we, the class of 1917, hold it as our opinion that no man of unbiased judgment could possibly interprét the raising of the class numeral as an insult to our nation's

"2. That since we do not believe it is the duty of any particular class or organization to ascertain the identity of offenders against the college regulations, we resent the insult which was offered.

"3. That since the action was not indorsed by the class as a whole, and since there is no proof that the numeral was erected by one of our members, we, the members of the class of 1917 at Trinity College, regard the speech of Bishop Kilgo, delivered during chapel exercises Monday morning in Craven Memorial Hall, as both unmerited and unjust.

"4. That we resent the unwarranted interference by an outsider who occupies no executive position in the college management, or in college affairs, and regard the terms, 'buffaloes, traitors, cowards, scoundrels and sons of Benedict Arnold' as an insult to the members of the class, both as a unit and an individual.

"5. That a copy of these resolutions be submitted for publication."
