It is simple in construction and operation and on the firing line requires no tools or special equipment of any kind. The gun can be assembled or dismounted in 30 seconds with no other tool than

Made Four Bales to the Acre.

Milton A. Deese, of Dale county, Alabama, last year got first prize of 3250 for largest yield of cotton-1,936 pounds of lint on one acre. J. E. Culpepper, of Carroll county, Georgia, second prize ($100), for 1,539 pounds of lint on one acre. The prizes were offered by American Cynamid Company, whose fertilizer ammoniate is made from atmospheric nitrogen by electricity at Niagara Falls. Here is Mr. Deese's method of cultivation and fertilization:

"I broke the land about 12 inches deep with a two-horse plow on February 1, rebreaking it about 30 days later in order to thoroughly pulverize the soil. About April 10 I laid off in 6½-foot rows with S-inch shovel. In this furrow I put 16 per cent acid phosphate at the rate of 600 pounds to the acre. I listed on this with a two-horse turner, running very shallow, making a wide, flat bed. I let lie about 10 days, then I ran S-inch shovel in center of bed. At this time 1 put on 600 pounds of 10-2-2 cynamid mixed blood guano. In same furrow I ran seed planter, covering seed with springs on planter instead of board. got a good stand of cotton. As soon as cotton had been up about 10 days sided it with a 20-inch scrape. Following this I chopped it out to about 4 feet in drill. After this I plowed it every week, using scrape and small shovel, till after July, being careful to keep it perfectly clean of grass, weeds, etc. During the latter. part of June I applied 200 pounds nitrate of soda, dropping same alongide of cotton. I used seed that ran high in lint, same having run 48 per cent on this yield. Cetton lapped in 61/2-foot rows till one could scarcely get through it, and would average about 7 feet tall. The cotton held up perfectly green until frost.

Foolish Advice About Farming.

(Southern Farming.) Congressman Heflin, of Alabama, recently made the statement that he expected to see cotton sell at 20 cents this coming winter. Of all the ridiculously absurd statements that ever came from the mouth of a supposedly intelligent man, this is the climax. How any man with a thimbleful of sense can make such a statement is more than we can understand. It is an absolute and positive fact that there are several million bales of surplus cotton in the United States at present, and this year's crop added to that, even though the coming crop may be small, makes it absurd to talk about such a price.

That statement, coming from a Congressman, attracts more attention than if it came from a private citizen. and if any attention is paid to it. harm may result. We warn our readers to put absolutely no stock in such fool statements.

The man who plants cotton this spring with the expectation of getting 20 cents a pound for it next winter, would better go on to South Africa and shoot elephants with a popgun. He will come just as near killing the elephant as he will getting 20 cents a pound for his cotton next winter.

Prisoners to Work Mines.

Berlin, Germany, Feb. 11.-Coal mine owners have reached an agreement with military authorities for employment of prisoners of war in the mines, according to announcement here. This step is taken to relieve the scarcity of labor, acute during the past few months.

Mine owners have been trying in vain to keep coal production equal to market requirements, which have increased as a result of military demands.

The military authorities purpose to select laborers from among French. Belgian and Russian prisoners who previously have worked in mines.

D. E. Nicholson, of the Whitewater section, who has just been appointed as one of Oconee's County Commissioners, along with R. A. Reeves, of Seneca township, was in Walhalla for a short while last Friday. He paid The Courier a pleasant visit, and requests that we extend to all his friends who gave him endorsement his sincere thanks for their efforts in his behalf, and to the members of the General Asesmbly. Mr. Nicholson says, however, that it will be his endeavor to show his appreciation by conscientious service to the public in his new office.

SYMPTOMS

SLIGHT SYMPTOMS SOMETIMES PRESAGE SERIOUS RESULTS.

Do you feel tired, have you a sallow complexion, constipation, headache, bad breath, sleeplessness or circles around your eyes? If so, you are undoubtedly suffering from some liver complaint.

Perhaps you don't feel very badly now, but delay is dangerous. To allow your liver to continue out of order is to invite a serious chronic illness.

Whenever you have the slightest symptoms of liver trouble, stop it immediately. You can do it harmlessly and mildly by taking LIV-VER-IAX, the natural vegetable compound that is replacing calomel everywhere. It has all the effectiveness, not the effect of calomel.
