

FARM AND GARDEN

(Progressive Farmer.)

"I noticed a statement some time since that squashes planted with cantaloupes would be taken by the worms and the cantaloupes let alone. I have always heard that squashes, cucumbers and cantaloupes will cross with each other and the cantaloupes would be ruined. Is this a fact?"

No, it is not a fact. Squashes will cross with other squash varieties and with pumpkins and gourds, but none of them will cross with cantaloupes or watermelons, and cucumbers will not cross with them either.

Barren Pear Trees.

"I have some fine Kieffer pear trees which fail to bear, and have a little blight. Is there anything I can do to make them bear?"

The Kieffer pear is often imperfect in its flowers and fails to produce pollen enough to set the fruit. The best thing will be to plant some trees of the Garber and Leconte varieties near the Kieffers to set the fruit on them. Cut out the blighted wood into sound wood.

Legumes for Low Land.

"What legume is best for low land? How can I tell when the soil is in good condition to plow?"

The best legume for low land is alkali clover. When the soil crumbles nicely from the plow it is all right, but when the furrows turn shiny it is too wet.

Heading Lettuce.

Sow lettuce seed in February and March and transplant to heavily manured soil eight inches apart and push the plants along with nitrate of soda to head before the weather gets too hot. Seed for the fall crop are sown early in August, and for the winter frames in September. For the spring sowing use the Hanson or the Wonderful, and for fall Big Boston.

Reduce Cotton Acreage.

This is our "last call" for reduction of cotton acreage and an increase in forage crops. If the South fails to produce her feed crops this year she can have no excuse to offer, no matter how high feed prices go, or how low cotton sells next fall, or how hard times become. Corn, soy beans, velvet beans, cow peas lespedeza, sorghum, peanuts and a profusion of other crops scarcely less valuable offer us a great opportunity. Will we do the same again this year?

Cost of Cultivation.

Among the most important of all the benefits of thorough preparation we believe is the saving of expense in later cultivation. We do not overlook the benefit of preparation in obtaining a good stand, nor any of the other results of tillage; but the use of those implements which are most efficient and economical in the early cultivation of the crop is so dependent on thorough preparation that we regard this one benefit alone which results from good preparation sufficient to justify any one in giving extra work to the soil before the crops are planted.

It is a well known fact that the most expensive implement used for cultivating corn, cotton and other row crops in the South is the hoe. Until we reduce the hoeing to the lowest possible amount we cannot produce such crops most economically. That the abundance of labor in the past has fixed on our practice a too extensive use of the hoe cannot be denied. Even our best farmers are frequently victims of this expensive habit and there are few among us who give as much thought to cutting out this expensive method of cultivating a crop as we should.

Free Flower Seed. Hastings' Catalogue Tells You About It

If you are engaged in farming, or if you plant only vegetables or flowers, you cannot afford to be without the big catalogue published fresh and new every year by the great Southern seed house, H. G. Hastings & Company, of Atlanta, Ga., and sent absolutely free, postage paid, to all who write for it, mentioning the name of this newspaper.

In this catalogue we tell you of a splendid offer of free flower seed to all our customers, five magnificent varieties that mean beauty about your home and a pleasure to wives and daughters that nothing else can give.

This catalogue tells you, too, about our big cash prize offer to the Corn Club boys of your state. It tells all about our fine yielding varieties of corn and cotton—the kind we grow on our own 3,200 acre farm. It tells about the best seeds of all kinds for planting in the South. It should be in every Southern home. Write today and let us send it to you.—H. G. HASTINGS & CO., Atlanta, Ga.—Advt.

OLD SUIT AGAINST J. B. DUKE.

Quarrel Between Client and Attorney Reveals Hidden Facts.

New York, March 11.—A secretly instituted and carefully concealed suit for $200,000 damages, brought by Mrs. Louise M. Ball in the spring of 1913 against James B. Duke, the tobacco financier, and settled out of court a year later for $7,500, came to light yesterday when Supreme Court Justice Lehman handed down a decision in an action between Mrs. Ball and Walter L. Severance, her attorney, over the division of the money.

Mrs. Ball charged that Duke had agreed to support her for life in return for information and evidence she had obtained for him.

At the office of Grossfield Brothers, attorneys for Mrs. Ball in her action against Severance, it was said their client is a sister of Mrs. Lillian M. Duke, the first wife of the tobacco millionaire, and that the information Mrs. Ball obtained for him made it possible for her to win a divorce suit against her sister.

Must Stand by Contract.

In the action before Justice Lehman, Mrs. Ball charged that Severance had kept more than his half share of the $7,500 settlement. She made other charges, but the Justice decided she made the arrangement with her eyes open and would have to stand by it.

In an affidavit attached to her motion, Mrs. Ball says that in March, 1913, she engaged Mr. Severance to bring the suit against Mr. Duke. He explained to her, she said, that as she could not afford to pay him a retainer, 50 per cent of what he could get from Duke would be a proper reward. She signed the agreement, but received no copy of it.

April 8, 1914, according to the affidavit, Duke settled for $7,500, of which she claims her attorney kept $4,162.50, saying he had to pay additional counsel $825.

Mrs. Ball sets forth that the additional counsel she never saw, and knew him only as "my Jew friend," as Severance called him.

Complaint Never Filed.

Mrs. Ball recites that before the settlement, Severance asked her to sign an affidavit in which he had written that she had never had a cause of action and knew it when she brought the suit. This she refused to do. In the County Clerk's office she learned her complaint had never been filed. When Grossfield Brothers demanded it, Severance refused to hand it over.

In his answer Severance says Mrs. Ball not only signed their agreement willingly, but gave him written permission to pay the extra counsel $825. He says the lawyer belongs to a prominent firm, but does not name him.

Severance admits he refused to turn over to Mrs. Ball, or her attorneys, the complaint he had never filed, because he believed she wished to "obtain facts upon which to exploit a prominent and wealthy man and not unnecessarily give notoriety to this proceeding."

LOSING HOPE WOMAN VERY ILL

Finally Restored To Health By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Bellevue, Ohio.—"I was in a terrible state before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My back ached until I thought it would break, I had pains all over me, nervous feelings and periodic troubles. I was very weak and run down and was losing hope of ever being well and strong. After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I improved rapidly and today am a well woman. I cannot tell you how happy I feel and I cannot say too much for your Compound. Would not be without it in the house if it cost three times the amount."—Mrs. CHAS. CHAPMAN, R. F. D. No. 7, Bellevue, Ohio.

Woman's Precious Gift.

The one which she should most zealously guard, is her health, but it is the one most often neglected, until some ailment peculiar to her sex has fastened itself upon her. When so affected such women may rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a remedy that has been wonderfully successful in restoring health to suffering women.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

Economical Conjugation.

A wit has indulged in a little conjugation practice to show the results of a failure to pay debts, and of the results when debts are paid. There is much more truth than poetry in what the man has to say. Here is his production:

I do not pay
Thou dost not pay.
He does not pay
We have no money
You have no money
NOBODY HAS MONEY.
I have paid
Thou hast paid
He has paid
You have paid
We have paid
EVERYBODY HAS MONEY.

That is worth more than a passing thought. Start money in circulation; allow the tenseness to relax, and at one time or another nearly every one will lay hands upon some of the circulating lucre. Pay your own debts, and your debtors will pay you. This is good business, as well as good morality.

By the fumigation of incoming vessels in the port of New York it is estimated that 50,000 rats are killed annually.

You Need a Tonic

There are times in every woman's life when she needs a tonic to help her over the hard places. When that time comes to you, you know what tonic to take—Cardui, the woman's tonic. Cardui is composed of purely vegetable ingredients, which act gently, yet surely, on the weakened womanly organs, and helps build them back to strength and health. It has benefited thousands and thousands of weak, ailing women in its past half century of wonderful success, and it will do the same for you. You can't make a mistake in taking

GARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

Miss Amelia Wilson, R. F. D. No. 4, Alma, Ark., says: "I think Cardui is the greatest medicine on earth, for women. Before I began to take Cardui, I was so weak and nervous, and had such awful dizzy spells and a poor appetite. Now I feel as well and as strong as I ever did, and can eat most anything." Begin taking Cardui today. Sold by all dealers.

The many friends of W. H. Cary, who has been quite sick for the past few weeks, will be glad to learn that his condition has shown some improvement recently.

Greenville Clerk of Court Dies.

Greenville, March 10.—John M. Cureton, Clerk of Court for Greenville county, died this afternoon at 1 o'clock, after an illness of several weeks. He was twice elected to the position of clerk. Mr. Cureton was born in this county 64 years ago. His wife and one daughter survive.

W. M. Scott, Judge of Probate, was sworn in as Clerk of Court to succeed Mr. Cureton, and Harry A. Dargun was selected as deputy clerk. The former will conduct the affairs of the office until a successor to Mr. Cureton is chosen.

THAT TIRED FEELING!

DO YOU CONTINUALLY FEEL SLUGGISH, DISINTERESTED?

If you do, it is probably caused by your liver. When the liver fails to perform its functions properly, the system becomes clogged with poisonous matter, that weighs you down mentally and physically.

The liver gets out of order very easily, and if neglected, chronic trouble usually results. Don't delay if you feel badly. You knowingly lay yourself open to life-long pain when you allow yourself to continue in a run-down condition. Cure yourself quickly and harmlessly with the natural vegetable remedy, Liv-Ver-Lax. It has all the effectiveness, but not the effect, of calomel.

Genuine Liv-Ver-Lax bears the likeness and signature of L. K. Grigsby, and is guaranteed to give satisfaction or money refunded. Insist on it. For sale by Norman Company, Walhalla, S. C.

Wheat in United States.

Washington, March 11.—Wheat held in the country mills and elevators on March 1 amounted to 86,000,000 bushels, the Department of Agriculture estimated to-night, compared with 94,000,000 bushels one year ago, and 118,000,000 bushels in 1913.

Cures Old Sores, Other Remedies Won't Cure. The worst cases, no matter of how long standing, are cured by the wonderful, old reliable Dr. Foster's Antiseptic Healing Oil. It relieves pain and heals at the same time. 25c, 50c, $1.00

Hotel Proprietor Dead.

Anderson, March 11.—H. M. Geer, proprietor of the Belton Hotel and the hotel at Caesar's Head, and known to hundreds of South Carolinians, died at Belton this afternoon after an illness extending over a year.

Clemson College students will very likely hold their spring encampment in Greenville.
