Mr. Harrison is a young man well and favorably known to the people of Walhalla and in railway circles over South Carolina. —The announcement of the marriage last Saturday, in Columbia, of Miss Irene Strother, of Walhalla, and Dr. Charles P. Corn, of Johnston, S. C., came as a pleasant surprise to many Walhalla friends of the bride, who had left Walhalla a few days previous to attend the Crouch-Maxwell marriage at Johnston. Both Dr. Corn and Miss Strother took active part in the marriage ceremony at Johnston, the contracting parties being special friends of theirs. As Miss Strother was returning home she and Dr. Corn decided to take their friends completely by surprise, stopping over in Columbia, where they were married Saturday by Rev. S. A. Steel, pastor of the Washington Street Methodist church. The bride is a most charming young woman and is the youngest daughter of Capt. and Mrs. W. A. Strother, of Walhalla. Dr. Corn is a young physician of prominence in Johnston. He is a graduate of the Augusta (Ga.) Medical College and located at Johnston immediately after his graduation for the practice of his profession. For several years Miss Strother has been a great social favorite among many friends here and elsewhere. She is a young woman of great vocal and literary talent. She is a graduate of Winthrop College. The Courier joins with many other friends in extending to the happy young couple sincere congratulations and good wishes.

After that he will be placed on ship, and will go with the Atlantic fleet on a cruise through the Panama Canal and to San Francisco, where the ships will be in review at the exposition. —Sheriff Davis returned from North Carolina last night, bringing with him Ben P. Sloan, of the Salem section of Oconee, who is wanted to answer to the charge of disposing of property under mortgage, the warrant having been sworn out by J. A. —Cement for everybody. Abundance on hand; prices right! W. M. Brown, Walhalla.—Adv.

—The finest specimen of oats that we have ever seen is now on exhibition at The Courier office. This small sample is not a crop specimen, but rather an indication of the great possibilities of oats under ideal conditions. The bunch comprises a "stool" of 102 stalks, the product of one oat grain. The top of the head stood about 4 feet from the ground. The stalks average about 100 grains, some having as low as 90, others as high as 115 grains. This represents a yield of 10,200 to one. It would seem that this would indicate that active, continued and systematic cultivation in well spaced rows would be a worth while experiment.

—Selma (Ala.) Times, June 16: "Mr. and Mrs. J. T. M. Riser announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Hattie Louise, to Henry Grady Smith, of Ohio. The wedding will be an interesting event of June 30th, at the home of the bride-elect on Dallas avenue, at 3.30 o'clock. Numbers of friends by the city will be interested in the above announcement, as the bride-to-be is an unusually charming and popular young woman who numbers her friends by the score. Mr. Smith is a graduate of Auburn, and is a promising young civil engineer. After a wedding trip to Pass Christian and points in Mississippi, the young couple will reside in Ohio, where the groom-to-be is prominently connected." The above information will be of great interest to the many Walhalla friends of Miss Riser, she being well known and universally liked here, where she spent a number of summers with relatives. In advance of the happy event The Courier, in behalf of itself and many of its readers who know the bride-to-be, extends hearty good wishes.

AT ATLANTIC BEACH 7 DROWN. Storm Caused "Gully" in Sand Bar, Resulting in Undertow.

Atlantic City, N. J., June 20.—Seven bathers, including prominent members of the Philadelphia summer colony, were drowned here today in a heavy sea. Scores of others were dragged to the beach in an unconscious state after life guards had battled desperately to save their lives. One other man was drowned when six fishing snags capsized simultaneously, throwing a score of fishermen into the water.

Life guards say a storm caused an offset or gully between a sand bar a hundred yards out and the beach. The offset extended the entire length of the beach, and with the development of the strong undercurrent the bathers were swept into water of unexpected depth. Many heroic rescues were made by members of the beach patrol and by volunteers, and several persons gave up their lives in efforts to save others.

The dead are: Miss Marion Rhoades Craemer, 18, a student at Beechwood College, Jenkintown, Pa.; John Lysle, 25, a prominent member of the junior bar, of Philadelphia; Philip Arnold, 18; Frank Brigham, 18; Chas. J. Matlock, 28; James McCay and Wm. Crowe, all of Philadelphia.

Charles Green, a fisherman, who lost his life, resided here.

Arnold, Crowe, McCay and Matlock plunged into the surf to assist Walter Marguerum, a guard, who had been knocked unconscious. All of the would-be rescuers were drowned, while Marguerum was brought ashore by another guard.

John Lysle was talking with friends on the beach when he heard Miss Craemer's call for help. He immediately went to her assistance, but was carried away by the tide.

Brigham was drowned while his brother-in-law, Dr. John Coulter, was trying to bring him ashore. The physician was saved by other bathers.

some part our most heartfelt thanks. The sweetness of friendships manifested upon occasions of such distress is past expressing in mere words of the human tongue. We hope that all of these may have their loved ones long spared to them, and themselves be long spared to their loved ones.
