WALHALLA, S. C.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 21, 1916.

“THE ANGEL OF THE RAIN.”

Last week we published a few verses from the pen of John B. Adger Mullally, “The Angel of the Rain”—a beautiful plea for the bestowing of the blessing of showers to relieve the distress of a drought verging upon the point of seriousness. We do not discuss the propriety of the publication of such petitions. That is a matter for consideration by the individual. We do believe in the efficacy of prayer, without which belief, to our mind, the whole structure of faith and religion falls.

It is sufficient, at least, to state that within the past few weeks many prayers have ascended for the blessing of rain, and it is encouraging to the believer in prayer to know that beautiful blessings in the way of copious showers have fallen—not in that superabundant measure described by the faithful old preacher of the hills as “a gully washer and trash mover,” but in gentle showers continuing in such manner as to indicate Divine direction.

We lay no claim to any marked degree of piety; it may even be that our prayers, like the prayers of all the wicked, “avail nothing.” Yet we find consolation in the belief that “the prayers of the righteous avail much,” and in the old record which tells us that if perchance but a few righteous ones were still found to remain in a wicked city, for their sakes the whole city, wicked and righteous together, would be spared. So we prefer to cling to the old-time belief in prayer and its efficacy, through the medium of which saint and sinner together share the blessings that come to mankind. We might even, without impropriety, paraphrase a portion of Mr. Mullally's petition into an acknowledgment of the blessings that have come:

We thank Thee, Lord, once more,
For blessings, clear and plain,
Relieving our distress so sore
Through Thine Angel of the Rain!
Forgive distrust, doubt, disbelief,
Help us to show our gain
In better life, in better self,—
We thank Thee for the rain!

SAV NELMS SISTERS LIVE.

It is Now Claimed that Reported Dead Are in Alaska.

Atlanta, May 21.—Telegraph messages to a local newspaper purporting to come from Chief of Police Billings of Snohomish, Wash., and from an individual signing “W. J. McGurnes,” of the same town, are to the effect that Mrs. Elois Nelms Dennis and Miss Peatrice Nelms, sisters, who disappeared from their home here more than two years ago, are alive and residing in Alaska. Victor E. Innes and his wife were tried in San Antonio on charges of killing the women, but it never was proved they were dead. Innes and his wife were freed of the charge, but are in jail here facing indictments alleging larceny after trust in connection with the Nelms disappearance.

The message signed “the chief of police” came last night and was to the effect that Mrs. Dennis had resided in Snohomish from September, 1914, until August, 1915, when she left for Dawson City, Alaska. A message to-day signed “McGurnes,” said that the sender had positive information they were in Alaska, and would find them if given time.

Suicided by Leaping from Train.

Waycross, Ga., May 18.—Mrs. Herbert R. Gore, en route from Gould, Fla., to Chicago on the “Dixie Flyer,” apparently leaped from a Pullman in the train early to-day 50 miles northwest of Waycross, between Tifton and Alapaha, on the Atlantic Coast Line. Death was instantaneous. Her body was found and brought here, where it is being held pending the arrival of relatives from Gould. No motive for the woman killing herself is known. Investigation fails to show how she could have gotten out of the Pullman window other than intentionally. The screen of the only open window at her berth was found missing at Macon, and a search of the train by the Georgia Southern and Florida conductor failed to find the woman. Train crews on the Georgia Southern and Florida and the Coast Line were notified to look out for the woman's body.

A small boy accompanying Mrs. Gore continued on his journey. In a bead purse found with Mrs. Gore was a card indicating she was going to Fort Dodge, Iowa, from Chicago. Further investigation of the case is being made.

To practice what you preach is one of life's most important rehearsals.

DESPONDENCY BRINGS SUICIDE.

Native of Scotland Ends Life in Spartanburg County.

(Spartanburg Herald, 21st.)
Becoming despondent over his physical condition, James Gray, a farmer living on land of B. M. Anderson, near Redville, took his life with a pistol Friday night between 8 and 9 o'clock. Gray was a native of Scotland and was about 30 years of age. The body was found about 200 yards from Mr. Anderson's barn, a bullet hole in the forehead and a 38-calibre pistol lying beside it. An inquest was held yesterday over the body, the jury finding that the deceased came to his death by suicide.

Left Letter.
A note, written on a piece of scrap paper, but in a fairly good hand, was found near the body, addressed to Ben Anderson. It was as follows:

“Dear Mr. Ben: Do not think this a harsh step; I've thought of this ever since I got this way. When Dr. Leland said I couldn't be cured that settled it, as I can't bear to be a burden on my wife or any one else. Good-bye to all, and tell Maggie I thought of her to the last. As a last request, please have them sing ‘Jesus, Saviour, Pilot Me’ over my grave.”
James Gray.

Mr. Gray had been in this country for some time and had been living on B. M. Anderson's farm about nine years. He was known as a good worker and reliable citizen. About three years ago he was married. His wife survives him.

The deceased has one brother living in Canada. All of his other relatives live in Scotland, his former home.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

The following resolutions on the death of Mrs. Kate Holleman Moss have been adopted by the members of the Parsonage Aid Society of the Walhalla Methodist church, of which society she was a charter member.

Whereas, God in His all-wise providence has seen fit to remove from our midst this dear sister, who had served so faithfully; and

Whereas, we will miss so sorely her leadership, her helpfulness in the work, and her genial presence from among us; therefore be it resolved:

That since death has laid his icy fingers upon her, we shall hereby bear testimony to the faithful and untiring efforts she gave to make the society a success.

That while each one of us cannot hope to fill her place in planning the work of the society and going ahead with it, yet we can cultivate her spirit of willingness to help and her readiness to serve.

That while a rare and beautiful combination of gifts made up her character, we may strive after those graces which she so boundlessly possessed—gentleness, kindness, helpfulness and cheerfulness.

That we bow in humble submission to a gracious Lord, whose every act is for the best.

Tribute to Grady Wood.

New Hope, May 22.—Special: A deep silence and great darkness came into the home of Mrs. E. P. Wood, of this section, when her beloved son passed away to that great beyond. A voice they loved to hear is hushed; a presence which was bright in the home is gone from them to that eternal home of the blessed.

God sent his angel on Saturday morning, May 13, to bear away the spirit of Grady Wood, a loving son and brother. His life had been an inspiration to many, for he carried sunshine with him always, with his cheering words for everybody. For several months he had been a sufferer from tuberculosis, and as his friends met and talked with him we heard no complaint. His suffering was borne with the spirit of a true Christian.

In early life he gave his heart to Christ, and always felt it his duty to be useful in his church work and at home. We feel that we have lost one of our best members at New Hope. There is a vacancy in every department that cannot be filled, and a bright and happy face is no more to be seen. But in our hearts and minds we have a fond picture of the man.

Grady Wood was born in Spartanburg county on October 15, 1895, and was brought to this county when quite small. He is survived by his mother, three brothers and four sisters. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Willie Hammond at New Hope Baptist church on the day following his death. Many gathered around to take a last look into the loved face and sympathize with the heart-broken family. The beautiful flowers that covered the grave were but an earnest of the tribute of great love that is paid to him.

The sympathy of the entire community goes out to the bereaved ones in their great sorrow.

SHORT SKETCH OF

JOHN A. HORTON.

(Rev. D. W. Hott, in Pickens Sentinel.)

John A. Horton, of Belton, now a candidate for Congress from this district, was born 41 years ago, on a farm near Neal's Creek church, in Anderson county. When he was old enough he worked on the farm in summer and went to school after crops were laid by, and in this way prepared himself for college. He worked his way through school, teaching during vacation, and graduated from the Patrick Military Institute, in Anderson. In this institution, under the instruction of Col. J. B. Patrick, the great and good Christian teacher, young Horton had the principles of honesty, honor and duty in all things deeply impressed upon him. These principles have been taught him by Christian parents in the home. Now they were more permanently fixed in the very foundation of his character, and when Horton left the school he went into the school-room as a teacher, and into the store-room as a salesman, and later into the mercantile business with his father at Belton. The principles of honesty, honor and duty guided him in buying and selling goods, and he succeeded.

When the Farmers' Bank was organized at Belton in 1903 Mr. Horton was elected cashier, and so faithfully did he discharge his duties and prove his ability to manage the business of the bank that he was promoted from cashier to president in 1908, and under his management the bank has done well and has accommodated many farmers in the community, as well as others. People who have dealt with his bank will tell you that they have had a square deal.

When the subject of this sketch was quite a boy it was my pleasure to receive him into the fellowship of Neal's Creek church, and I am glad to hear that he has been a consistent member and active worker in the church and Sunday school.

While every man ought to, and must, stand on his own merits, yet it is not against a man to have good and honorable kin people. So in the case of John A. Horton—he has good and honorable kin people on his father's and mother's side. His father and grandfathers were successful farmers. He has two uncles who are honored and successful lawyers in Atlanta, Ga., and his brothers are successful business men. He is closely related to the Majors and Longs, successful farmers and business men of Anderson county. His wife was a Miss Tate, of Elbert county, Georgia, closely related to our popular fellow-citizen, E. W. Tate, of Norris. Dr. W. M. Long, of Liberty, married a sister of Mr. Horton.

Should Horton be elected to Congress he would fill the seat of one of our most honored and lamented representatives, who was a kinsman of his by marriage. I refer to the lamented Asbury C. Lathner, who was, perhaps, one of the most popular men among the masses of his district.

Horton's friends do not claim for him the gift of great oratory, but they do claim for him honor, integrity, fidelity to duty; that he is a business man of fine ability, a man from the people, of the people and for the people; a man who has worked himself up and who knows the needs of the people. He pledges himself, if elected, to do his best for all the people as God shall give him light to see his duty and grace and strength to discharge the same.—Adv.
