Miss Norma Moore, being the lucky winner, a lovely box of stationery was presented to her, and to Mrs. Chas. G. Jaynes told the consolation prize, a hand-embroidered guest towel. He was educated in the public schools of that county, later attending Wofford College, and completing his education in Europe. His father was a Civil War veteran, he having served in the ranks of the Southern Confederacy. The little chapel that will be soon completed will be of the bungalow type of architecture, and the mission which it will serve will be attached to the Greenville work. Chas. Kleckley, of Greenville, has the contract for the erection of the building, and it is expected that it will be completed in six weeks' time. The structure will be of wood. W. D. Oconee's Financial Condition

To the People of Oconee County:

Following is a statement of the financial condition of Oconee county, to wit:

The annual settlement of my office was made by the Comptroller General, Carlton W. Sawyer, July 27th, 1916, and he said that my records were well kept and that the county was in good financial condition. That all claims against the county as audited have been paid, and on the date of that settlement, I had to my credit, as Supervisor, a little over SEVENTEEN THOUSAND DOLLARS IN CASH to run the county until taxes come due this fall.

There is no indebtedness that has been created against the county which is not paid since I took charge on January 1st, 1913. It is true that this county owes a bonded indebtedness of $30,000, but that was placed on this county in the year 1904, to the amount of $45,000. I paid off $15,000 of this in 1914. The balance falls due in two equal installments of $15,000 each, one-half on July 1, 1924, and the other on July 1, 1934.

In each and every year, Oconee county, as well as all other counties of the State, and also the State itself, have to borrow money in the spring to run them until the taxes are paid. This has always been done in this county, and will continue to be done that way, because the county is not on a cash basis. The last Legislature authorized the Treasurer and myself to borrow $35,000 to run on this year. We obtained this money from the Bank of Walhalla at 5 per cent interest—the lowest rate the county has ever had to pay. Last year the county borrowed $35,000 at 6 per cent, and it was paid off when the note fell due in January. The amount so borrowed this year will be paid off next January. The taxes for 1916 will yield over $15,000. So this loan cannot really be called a debt against the county, because that is just the way the county does business.

THERE HAS BEEN NO REAL INDEBTEDNESS created against the county since I took charge of this office. Last year I spent about ten thousand dollars more than the previous year, but that was on account of 160 bridges being washed away by the freshet. I paid this big loss without putting the county in debt one cent above the levy and income. I have never spent more money in any year than the levy and amount of taxes for ordinary purposes. The county's financial condition to-day is the best it has ever been.

W. C. FOSTER,
Supervisor Oconee County,
Walhalla, Aug. 15, 1916.—Adv.

IN SECOND RACE.

My business brings me in all parts of the county, and this little fellow they call Little John J. Reeder is being talked of more than any candidate I have heard of. His one-term idea is going to elect him, I believe. He is a young man of good moral character and a strictly sober man. They say he is small, but they believe he will make a good Sheriff. It seems to be the belief of the people in general that Reeder will be one of the men in the second race. Citizen.—Adv.

Sow Burr Clover.

Burr clover is a good fellow to be found growing on any farm, as it furnishes winter grazing and enriches the soil. For a seed patch, sow burr clover on your turnip patch when you sow turnips. This will make a seed patch from which you may gather several bushels of seed next spring. G. M. Barnett, County Demonstrator.
