COMMON PLEAS COURT SHORT.

Illness of Judge Rice's Wife Brought Session to Early Close,

The Court of Common Pleas, whose ession should have extended well into the present week, possibly occupying the whole of it. was brought to an abrupt ending by the receipt of a telegram announcing to Judge Rice the illness of his wife and the necessity for an operation. Upon receipt of this advice, Judge Rice asked if there were important cases that could not go over to another calendar, and it was found that the majority of the cases to be heard were of no pressing: importance. Several there were which should have been disposed of at the March term, but the attorneys representing these clients would not press the matters to the inconventence of the Judge in his unfortunate situation. Thursday afternoon, therefore, the Court was adjourned authorization of subsequent addi-tional increments of equal force so-soon as they may be needed and can sine die, and Judge Rice left imme-diately for Baltimore, where his wife is under the care of specialists.

Several cases of interest were tried during the few days of the session. among them being that of J. Marion Moss (by his guardian) vs. the Blue Ridge and Atlanta and Charlotte Railway Companies. This was an action for the tion for the recovery of punitive damages growing out of certain failures to furnish to the young plaintiff ticket that had been telegraphed to him from Walhalla, for delivery in Atlanta. Since notice of the suit was filed Jas. M. Moss has become Sheriff of Oconee County, and attorneys for the railroads made motion to set aside the jury chosen to try the case and asked for a change of venue. The contentions were sustained by Judge Rice, and later a settlement of the case was agreed to by the attor-neys for both sides, the agreement being that the plaintiff be paid the sum of $300 by the defendants, ending the suit.

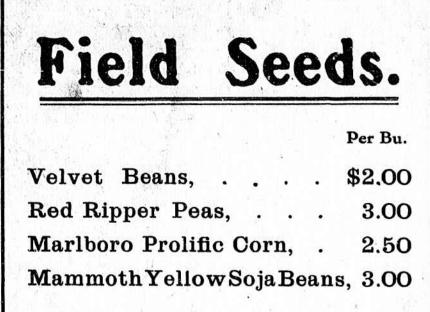

Another railway case heard was that of Julius Grant Harden, a hoy of some eight or ten years, who asks damages from the Blue Ridge Rall-way Company for the loss of a leg. The accident happened in the locs? yards of the Blue Ridge in Walhallu The case went to the jury, and after some hours of deliberation the an-nouncement came from the jury room. that an agreement on a verdict could how be reached. A mistrial was or-dered and the case will be heard at a future term of Court.

In the case of O'Shields vs. J. H. Wigington, administrator of the personal estate of the late Leonard Rogers, a verdict was returned sustaining a certain deed to 20 acres of land deeded to plaintiff by the deceased in consideration of the performance of certain services enumerated. The plaintiff claimed that the deed had never been delivered to him, and he rejected it, suing for $1,000 in money as compensation for services. jury returned a verdict to the effect that the deed had been delivered to plaintiff and accepted by him, and awarded him the sum of $150 for special services.

With the conclusion of this case the session ended. There were a number of orders paused, references rdered, and matters Prohate Court and in the hands of the Master confirmed and orders issued.

PLANNING SUPREME EFFORT. LADY ATTACKED BY SHE-WOLF.

Age for Active Service Has Been Raised to Forty-five Years.

Copenhagen, April 1.-Germany, according to information reaching here from Berlin, now is gathering to the colors every available man for a supreme military effort to bring year and are retaining with the colors line, landsturm men who have passed this age.

The policy of the German war department, as stated in the Reichstag this week, by a military representa- chewing one of the digits off. tive, is to withdraw those men over 45 from the front line after they have done six months of duty there, but military exigencies compel the holding of these over-age men for service in the so-called Etape, or region behind the actual fighting front. For some time the German acthorities, in a grand combing-out of men earlier pronounced unfit for service, have been mustering men on the very present they have announced that the young woman. The cable message gave no infor-mation as to the fate of the crew. There were 37 men aboard the vessel? 16 of them native born Americans.

The Aztec sailed from New York March 18 for Havre. She was commanded by Capt. Walter O'Brien.

The Oriental Navigation Company, owner of the Aztec, also owner the Orleans, one of the first American vessels to run successfully Ger-many's submarine blockade. The Az-tec carried a full cargo of foodstuffs and general supplies valued at more then $500,000 than $500,000.

The Aztec was armed with two 5 inch guns, one forward and one aft. The crew of naval gunners on board was in command of a warrant officer. The Aztec, formerly owned by the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, was a ship of 3,727 tons gross and 2,345 tons net. She was built in Newcastle, England, in 1894. She was 350 feet long with a beam of 43 feet.

Number of Men Missing.

Paris, April 2.-The American steamer Aztec has been sunk by a submarine near an island off Brest. Some of the crew were rescued and are being brought into Brest. A number of the men are missing and little hope is held that they can be saved, the steamer was torpedoed at night while a heavy sea was running. Wm. G. Sharp, the American ambassador, was informed this after-noon by the French government of the torpedoing of the Aztec and immediately cabled the State Depart-ment at Washington. Representatives of the American government will proceed to Brest to take the depositions of survivors of the disaster.

28 Still Are Missing, Washington, April 3.—A dispatch from Ambassador Sharp, nated, as Papis, e p. m. yesterday, said 19 sur-vivors from the Aztec were landed yesterday afternoon at Brest, and 28 persons still were missing and their rescue was doubtful because of the heavy sea and storm.

ACTION BY CONGRESS SOON.

Senator LaFollette Again Interpose Objections, Postponing Action.

Washington, April 3 .--- Consideration of the war resolution in the Senate was forced over until to-morrow Ly objections of Senators LaFollette, and in the House it was delayed by lack of organization of the foreign affairs committee. It is expected to come up for action in both Houses

Scarcely had the sound died away when the President declared that the Congress should declare that a state of war existed. A second demonstra-tion began. The greatest outbursts came when the President declared for an army of 500,000 men and univer-sal service. Chier Justice White joined heartily in the hand-clapping, which lasted nearly a minute.

The U-Boat Situation.

After going over the various phases of the situation that have forced the United States to the brink of war, the President plunged into the submarine question. This portion of his address we give in full. He spoke as follows: question. The Submarine, Big Tannery Destroyed by Fire. Asheville, N. C., April 2 .-- Fire of unknown origin practically wiped out he plant of the United States Leather Company's tannery at Old Fort Sunday afternoon and caused damage estimated at between $750,000 and $1,000,000. The loss is covered by insurance. The fire started early in the afternoon in the main building of the plant and several nearby dwellings caught fire and were destroyed. Embers were carried on a high wind, and it was several hours before the flames were under control. A quantity of finished leather, hides, acid, wood and tanbark, was saved and it is thought that the plant will be rebuilt. Incendiarism is suspect-ed by officials of the tannery and an investigation will probably be held.

Three Killed in Auto Smash.

Alexander City, Ala., April 1.--Three people were killed and our badly injured in an automobile accident here this afternoon. The dead are: Charley Willbanks, Maggie Par-ish, Helen Williams. Four others were seriously injured. Miss Ruth Carlisle and Miss Annie Lambeth were the only occupants of the car who escaped injury. The car, in which nine young people were pleas-ure riding, went headlong into a ditch about two miles north of Alexander City, when the driver, Jack Nolen, lost control.

to-morrow. Meanwhile President Wilson and the cabinet discussed all phases of preparations for the entrance of the United States into the war, and administration leaders in Congress began laying plans for raising money, most of it, as the President suggest ed, by a system of taxation on the present generation.

The universal military service bill was formally launched in the Senate. Soon after the Senate adjourned. as the climax of a stormy scene which arose over LaFollette's objections, the House also adjourned. It will meet to-morrow at noon, while the Senate will meet at 10 a.m.

Senators of the Democratic steer-ing committee decided late to hold continuous sessions beginning tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock to put the war resolution through.

Action by the Senate within at least two or three days was predicted to-day even by Senators opposing it. Some of the "willful men" it. Some of the "willful men" named by President Wilson declared emphatically there would be no filibuster or protracted debate

Amendments from Republican Sen itors especially to prevent a formal alliance with the entente or a Federal loan to them are expected. That there would be no need for resort to the new cloture rule to pass the resolution was stated even by some of those opposed to war.

before they have shown their own in-tention. They must be dealt with upon sight, if dealt with at all. The German government denies the right of neutrals to use arms at all within the area of the sea which it has proscribed, even in the defense of rights which no modern publicist has ever before questioned their right to defend. The intimation is conveyed that the armed guards which we have placed on our merchant ships will be treated as beyond the pale of law and subject to be dealt with as pirates would be. Armed neutrality is ineffectual enough at best; in such cir-cusmtances and in the face of such pretentions, it is worse than ineffectual; it is likely only to produce what it was meant to prevent; it is practically certain to draw us into the war without either the rights or the effectiveness of belligerents. There is one choice we cannot make, we are incapable of making: We will not choose the path of submission and suffer the most sacred rights of our nation and our people to be ignored or violated. The wrongs against which we now array ourselves are no common wrongs; they cut to the very roots of human life.

"With a profound sense of the solemn and even tragical character of the step I am taking, and of the grave responsibilities which it involves, but in unhesitating obedience to what I deem my constitutional duty, I advise that the Con gress declare the recent course of the imperial German government to be in fact nothing less than war against the government and people of the United States; that it formally ac-cept the status of belligerent which has thus been thrust upon it, and that it take immediate steps not only to put the country in a more thorough state of defense, but also to exert all its power and employ all its resources to bring the government of the German Empire to terms and end the war.

Utmost Aid for Allies.

"What this will involve is clear. It will involve the utmost practicable co-operation in counsel and action with the governments now at war with Germany, and, as incident to that, the extension to those govern-ments of the most liberal financial credits, in order that our resources may so far as possible be added to

"I have exactly the same things in mind now that I had in mind when I addressed the Senate on the 22d of January last; the same that I had in mind when I addressed the Congress on the 3d of February and on the 26th of February. Our object now, as then, is to vindicate the principles of peace and justice in the life of the world as against selfish and autocratic power, and to set up amongst the really free and self-governed peoples of the world such a concert of purpose and of action as will henceforth insure the observance of those principles

"Neutrality is no longer feasible or desirable where the peace of the world is involved, and the freedom of its peoples, and the menacetho that peace and freedom lies in the existence of autocratic governments backed by organized force which is controlled wholly by their will, not by the will of their people. We have seen the last of neutrality in such circumstances,

"We are at the beginning of an age in which it will be insisted that the same standards of conduct and of responsibility for wrong done shall be observed among nations and their governments governments that are observed among the individual citizens of civilized States.

"We have no quarrel with the German people. We have no feeling toman people. We have no technic to wards them but one of sympathy and friendship. It was not upon their im-pulse that their government acted in entering this war. It was not with their previous knowledge or approval.'
