Grand Jury Presentment.

State of South Carolina,
County of Oconee.

To His Honor George E. Prince,
Judge Presiding in Tenth Judicial Circuit:

We have passed upon all bills of indictment that have been handed us by the Solicitor, and beg leave to report to the honorable Court as follows:

By committee we have examined the poor farm, jail and chain gang and find same in satisfactory condition, and by committee appointed to examine the county offices, have made arrangements for the same and will report at the fall term of the Court.

We recommend that our County Supervisor provide a closet for the colored people, separate from the toilet that we now have.

We recommend that our County Supervisor maintain the road from what is commonly known as the Pendleton road toward Newry, on the Southern Railroad, and have the Southern Railroad build an overhead bridge at crossing on new track on the Cherry farm, and not abandon said road, as rumored, from Cherry farm crossing to Pendleton road.

Having passed upon all matters brought to your attention, we wish to thank your honor and the other officers of the Court for courtesies extended us in the performance of our duties and beg to be excused from further attendance upon this Court.

Respectfully submitted,
W. L. Thomas, Foreman.

Why Birth Registration Necessary.

The only way of keeping an official record of a person's birth is by birth registration. It is probably the most important record in a person's life, because it is a proof of his or her legitimacy, his or her descent, his or her right to inherit property belonging to the family, and his or her age for schooling, voting and marrying. It will not be long before a birth certificate is required for almost every kind of service and occupation. It is really not safe to travel in any country without the legal authority of one's citizenship, which is supplied by a birth certificate.

LEMONS MAKE SKIN WHITE, SOFT, CLEAR

Make This Beauty Lotion for a Few Cents and See for Yourself.

What girl or woman hasn't heard of lemon juice to remove complexion blemishes, to whiten the skin and to bring out the roses, the freshness and the hidden beauty? But lemon juice alone is acid, therefore irritating, and should be mixed with orchard white this way: Strain through a fine cloth the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing about three ounces of orchard white, then shake well and you have a whole quart pint of skin and complexion lotion at about the cost one usually pays for a small jar of ordinary cold cream. Be sure to strain the lemon juice so no pulp gets into the bottle, then this lotion will remain pure and fresh for months. When applied daily to the face, neck, arms and hands it should help to bleach, clear, smoothen and beautify the skin. Any druggist will supply three ounces of orchard white at very little cost and the grocer has the lemons.—Adv.

"Ef I Cud Jest Go Home Wunce More."

(By Peggy Conway, who recently died in the service of Uncle Sam.)

Ef I cud jest git back wunce more
To the lan' whar I wuz born,
En he waked up by a rooster
Instead of some dern bugle horn,
En cud hear mah Maw a callin'
"Son, it's time youse gittin' up!"
"Stead o' some Sergeant hollerin'":
"Fall out, you lazy pup!"
I'd hev sumthin' to remember
That would help me out a heap,
'Bout my gittin' up at mornin'
When I druther lay and sleep.

Ef I cud jest sit down wunce more
To some sure nuff eggs and ham,
Some good ole country butter,
Hot biscuits, milk and jam;
And hev mah Maw a passin' things
All nice and smokin' hot,
"Stead a grabbin' an' a snatchin'
Fur everything I got—
I'd hev sumthin' to remember
That would sorter take the rub
Out o' settin' down and eatin'
This yere regier army grub.

Ef I cud jest git back wunce more
To the old Kentucky Hills
En see th' woods, en fields on streams,
En soak up all th' thrills,
Uv the misty April mornin's,
En the Indin Summer days,
En the Autumn's meller moonlight,
En the Winter sun's red rays—
I'd hev sumthin' to remember
That would stan' me well in hand
When I'm lookin' on the horrors
"Over There" in "No Man's Land!"

Ef I cud jest go back wunce more
To the gurl thet waits fur me,
En stroll across the pasture
To the ole sweet apple tree,
En meet her as I us'er
When the sun hed gone to rest,
En take her in my arms wunce more
En hold her to my breast—
En see the soft light glowing
In her eyes o' cornflower blue,
I'd hev sumthin' to remember
That would keep me clean an' true.

Ef I cud jest go back wunce more
En climb the sun-kissed hill,
Tuh whar my Grandad's lying
Sorta peaceful-like and still,
En git right down upon my knees
Beside the grassy mound
"En cud seem tuh hear his Spirit
Sayin' to me from the groun':
"Conn, go fight fer flag and country
As yer folks has always done."
I'd hev sumthin' to remember
That would never let me run.

Ef I cud jest go home wunce more
En tell the folks "Good-bye,"
Cud grip my Dad's rough-worn han'
An' say, "Now, Maw, don't cry,
'Cause when this war is over
I'm a-comin' home tuh stay"—
I'd wrap my arms aroun' her
En I'd kiss her tears away.
Then of Death should ever fin' me
Enny time or enny place,
I cud march into the shadders
With a smile across my face.

WHY GERMANY WARRER ON US.

To keep supplies from reaching the allies, Germany ruthlessly used her submarines, in defiance of international law, in order that the food and equipment necessary to the efficiency of the allies might not reach them.

To keep those necessary supplies from reaching her enemies Germany was willing to have the United States become one of her enemies. She used her submarines and we accepted the challenge of the lawless war lords.

The fact that Germany was willing to incur our enmity is conclusive proof of the utter importance of supplies. It proves beyond the faintest shadow of a doubt that this is a war of resources, and when we buy unnecessary luxuries we are unconsciously helping accomplish what Germany hoped to accomplish by the use of her submarines.

To manufacture and market luxuries requires labor and material which the government needs in the successful prosecution of the war.

If you help make that labor and material useless to the government you are in effect doing what a successful submarine attack does—and so unconsciously prolong the war. The responsibility is heavy and solemn on each one of us to avoid these useless expenditures, and refrain from competing with our government.

Why not invest those dimes, quarters and dollars in War Savings and Thrift Stamps, thereby not only spending safely and patriotically, but making an investment that will pay a good dividend?

Thrift and War Savings Stamps.

Thrift Stamps sell for 25c. each. Sixteen of them, pasted on a card, which will be furnished free, can be converted into interest-bearing War Savings Stamps, simply by paying the few cents difference between the value of the 16 stamps and the current cost of the War Savings Stamps. (This difference is 18 cents during July, with one cent additional for each later month).

On January 1, 1923, the government will redeem every War Savings Stamp you have for $5, which is the original price plus interest at 4 per cent, compounded quarterly. These stamps are pasted on certificates furnished free, and they may be registered. They are as safe as the United States.

Thrift Stamps can only be redeemed in War Savings Stamps. The latter can be redeemed at any time before maturity at the rate of 3 per cent.

87 Perished in Disaster.

Peoria, Ill., July 10.—An official check completed to-day shows 87 persons perished in the steamer Columbia disaster. Eighty-four bodies have been recovered and identified.

Evidence brought out at the investigation tends to show there was nothing wrong with the hull, but that after the boat slid off the sand bar, it listed heavily, first to one side and then to the other, causing the superstructure to collapse.

220 Sick and Wounded Return.

Washington, July 10.—Sick and wounded men from the overseas forces arrived in the United States during the two weeks ending July 5 totaled 229, the War Department tonight announced.

SPARTANBURG WOMAN MAKES HIGHLY INTERESTING STATEMENT.

FELT LIKE BRICKS.

Says She Feels Fine Now, and "Sure Can Praise Tanlac" for Its Aid.

"It is the best medicine I ever took for stomach trouble, nervousness and palpitation of the heart. I sure can praise and recommend it," declared Mrs. H. E. Lawter, of 116 William street, Spartanburg, in a statement she gave in endorsement of Tanlac. "The National Tonic," on February 1, 1917. "I suffered from very bad cases of indigestion, nervousness and palpitation of the heart," continued Mrs. Lawter. "I could hardly sleep, and would just roll and tumble for hours, and my nerves were so badly disturbed that I was kept miserable almost all the time. I could eat scarcely anything. What I did eat felt like bricks in my stomach, and I had a kind of choking in chest after meals.

"My heart fluttered a great deal, and this, I think, was partly caused by the great quantity of gas that formed on my stomach.

"Finally, I decided to try Tanlac, as it had helped so many others who had troubles somewhat like mine, and now I am not bothered with stomach troubles, thanks to Tanlac. I feel a great deal better in every way, too. My nerves are much stronger and steadier, and I used to get so nervous that I jumped when any one spoke to me. I'm certainly not that way now, as Tanlac has relieved those nervous troubles and I have not been bothered a bit with palpitation since I took the first bottle of Tanlac.

"I feel fine now in many ways and I sure can praise Tanlac and I give it credit for the change in my condition. I am fifty-nine years old and it takes a powerfully good medicine to help any one as old as I am as much as Tanlac has helped me."

Tanlac, the master medicine, is sold exclusively by Bell's Drug Store, Walhalla; J. C. Cain, Oakway; Salem Drug Co., Salem; Seneca Pharmacy, Seneca; Stonecypher Drug Co., Westminster; Hughs & Dandy, Richland.—Adv.

It Is Time to Intrench!

The wise soldier prepares several lines of trenches to protect himself against the assaults of the enemy. In case the first-line trench is not sufficiently strong, he may retreat to his second or third, etc.

In like manner the wise provider for his family intrenches himself behind an

FOOD ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTES.

South Carolina Wheat Crop of 1918.

Millers are authorized to grind from the wheat raised by farmers enough to supply the farmers, the members of their families and their tenants for a year, on the basis of 12 pounds of flour per person per month. Farmers are expected to use flour substitutes, pound for pound, with the flour they have ground from their wheat.

Farmers are at liberty to sell their wheat to any one who wants to buy it. Purchasers of wheat from farmers can have it ground into flour on the same basis as farmers, but are expected to use flour substitutes, pound for pound, with the flour.

When farmers sell flour to individuals they must sell flour substitutes, or take millers' certificates from the individuals showing that they have had flour substitutes ground to cover the flour they buy, pound for pound.

Farmers can sell flour, from their wheat, to merchants, but when the merchants resell this flour, it must be sold, pound for pound, with flour substitutes to the persons who buy it.

These regulations apply to threshermen as well as to farmers.
B. L. Herndon,
County Food Administrator.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give one hundred dollars for any case of catarrhal deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All druggists, 75c.

The Real German Drive.

(Greenville News.)

"The real German drive is back of the lines—the ever-increasing pressure of the population for relief from the almost unbearable burden imposed by the war," the New York World declares.

The organ of the Krupp interests, Rheinisch-Westfalsche Zeitung, is calling on the German people to "go barefoot this summer and help the Fatherland." "In view of the alarming scarcity of labor," it goes on, "rich and poor alike should dispense with boots and shoes."

German newspapers lately received in the United States contain advertisements of the new drug produced by Dr. Ehrlich and Dr. Lener to subdue the pangs of hunger. It is praised as "an excellent preparation to still the premature feeling of hunger and thirst, or when food is not forthcoming at the proper time." The public is admonished that "it is not a substitute for the daily minimum of nutrition, but is used with the greatest success by persons who are made ill by hunger between meals."

In Simplicissimus is printed a long list of the pharmacies where these tablets can be bought, including 19 places in Berlin alone.

"When the population of a great Empire reaches a stage in war in which it is urged to go barefooted in order to save leather and its scientists begin to produce patent nostrums to overcome the feeling of hunger, its military autoeracy is bound to fight with greater and greater desperation in the effort to obtain some sort of decision that will satisfy the people," says the World.

The German general staff expresses its own judgment as to the seriousness of the situation by the effort it is making to break the allied lines regardless of cost. Hunger and destitution at home are enemies no less to be dreaded than the ever-increasing forces of the allies. No doubt the dispatch of U-boats to lurk around the shores of America was mainly intended to stir the pride and patriotism of the Huns at home and allay their unrest.

The bagpipe was known in England and Ireland as early as the twelfth century and is believed to have been in existence before the Christian era.

TWO WOMEN.

(Anderson Mail.)

There were two young women whose husbands had been drafted for the army.

One sat down and cried, and said: "I don't know what will become of me. I will get $15 from my husband's pay, and the government will allow me $15 more, but that won't be enough. I can't go to work, for what would my friends think of me if I did? I don't know what will become of me."

The other one had a good cry, and then she said: "I will get $15 a month from my husband, and the government will allow me $15 more, and I am going to save every cent of it. I can make my own living, and it is my duty to do so while the war lasts. I would be ashamed not to support myself now, and the $30 a month saved while the war lasts will give us a good start after the war is over."

If it were in your power to select a mother for a child to be born five or ten years from now, which of these women would you select?

Prompt Buying Urged.

The State War Savings committee urges that those who pledged themselves in the June W.S.S. campaign to purchase War Savings Stamps during the remaining months of the year should not wait until the last minute, but should co-operate with the government by purchasing the specified amount of stamps at the earliest day possible. That is, if stamps are pledged for July, the subscriber should make every effort to purchase them in the early part of the month. This will make the work of the post offices and agents easier, and will enable the State to make a better showing at Washington in the campaign. The committee points out that the pledges were made to the government, and, therefore, all should co-operate to the fullest extent in fulfilling the pledges.
