WANT TO CONSIDER BONDS.

Senator and Representatives Call for Meetings on Important Matter.

The Oconee delegation in the General Assembly desires and hereby calls mass meetings of the whole citizenship of Oconee county, to be held as follows:

One at the Court House, in Walhalla, at 11 o'clock a. m., on the 2d day of August next, to which meeting every citizen of the county is cordially invited, but people residing in the townships of Wagener, Keowee, Whitewater and Chattooga are urgently requested to attend.

A meeting at the public park, in Seneca, at 11 o'clock a. m., on the 9th day of August next, at which meeting the whole public of the county is cordially invited to be present, but the people residing in the townships of Keowee, Seneca and Center are urgently requested to attend.

A meeting at the school building, in Westminster, at 11 o'clock a. m., on the 16th day of August next, at which meeting the whole public is invited to be present, but people residing in Center, Tugaloo and Pulaski townships are urgently requested to attend.

The question to be considered at these meetings is the issuance of bonds for the improvement of the public roads. This is everybody's business, and all should attend. Come and lend your influence to the question that should interest you, and in which you should have great concern.

J. W. Shelor,
J. R. Orr,

M. R. McDonald,
Members of General Assembly.

PRESBYTERIANS TO DEDICATE

Their New Church at Seneca—Planning Interesting Services.

Seneca, July 15.—Special: The Presbyterians of Seneca are planning to dedicate their handsome new church building. The services will be held on Saturday and Sunday, the 26th and 27th of this month. Dr. Jas. I. Vance, of Nashville, Tenn., has been secured as the principal speaker.

There will be two services each day. The general theme of all these services will be: What Presbyterianism Stands For.

At the Saturday morning service Dr. Vance will deliver an address on this general theme. The Saturday evening service will be an informal one of a reminiscence nature as to the past and future significance of the local church. Short talks will be made by former pastors and others, also by Dr. Vance.

At the Sunday morning service the dedication sermon will be preached by Dr. Vance, and the formal act of dedication will take place. It is probable that at the Sunday afternoon service, at 6:30 o'clock, Dr. Vance will deliver his great address, "With the Doughboys in France."

The Presbyterians feel that they are exceedingly fortunate in securing this distinguished orator and author for this occasion, as he is generally recognized as one of the ablest pulpits orators of the day. And they extend a cordial invitation to the general public to attend all of these services.

D. A. R. School to Open.

The D. A. R. Industrial School at Tamassée will open its doors for the summer session in a few days. Misses Hannah Miller Harrison, as principal, and Janie Harrison, as assistant, will have charge. The opening date will be Monday morning, July 21st, at 9 o'clock.

Pupils of all grades, parents and friends of the school are earnestly requested to be present at the opening exercises. Matters of interest to the school and community will be discussed. Remember the date and the hour.
Mrs. Hayne Jones,
Secretary of School Board.

Farm Dynamiting Demonstration. The DuPont Powder Company, by their expert, will make a demonstration of stumping with dynamite on the farm of J. R. Earle, Esq., just north of Walhalla, on July 25th, at 10 o'clock a. m. Farmers contemplating the use of dynamite in farming are requested to attend this demonstration. The same company will give a demonstration at Clemson College on the 24th of July.

Rev. Corpening to Leave Seneca.

Seneca, July 14.—Special: He became known in Seneca last week that Rev. J. S. Corpening, who has been pastor of the Baptist church here for several years, has accepted the call of the Baptist church at Lancaster, this State, and will go to his new field either in August or September. His removal will be greatly regretted, both he and his family having identified themselves with the various interests of the town in a marked degree.

Come!—Come!

Where?—To West Union school house.
When?—Friday evening, July 18th, after 9 o'clock.
What?—A lawn party and ice cream supper.

How?—Ready to have a good time.
Why?—To help buy a piano for the school.
Come!

MILITARY LAW DECLARED

In Texas County, Following Clash Between Whites and Negroes.

Longview, Texas, July 13.—Martial law was declared to-day in Longview and the rest of Gregg county as a result of race troubles here, precipitated by a fight early Friday between white men and negroes, and marked the slaying of one negro to-day after he had resisted arrest. There was no further disorder to-day.

Brig.-Gen. R. H. McDill returned to Longview to-day and immediately took command with more than 250 cavalrymen of the Texas National Guard under his direction.

The proclamation of martial law was signed by Gen. McDill and Lieut.-Col. H. C. Smith, representing the State adjutant general's office. All residents of Longview were given until 8 o'clock to-night to turn in their firearms to the military authorities.

Further arrests are expected to-morrow in connection with the clash Friday between negroes and whites, which resulted when a group of whites went in search of S. L. Jones, a negro school teacher, accused of writing an article appearing in a Chicago newspaper regarding a white woman of this county. The negroes arrested Friday have not been removed to another city as had been planned. The negro killed early to-day was Marion Bush, 60 years of age, father-in-law of Dr. C. H. Davis, accused with Jones of being the ringleader of the negroes. The sheriff and a deputy had gone to Bush's home to arrest him. After mildly protesting, they assert, the negro went into his home, reappeared with a pistol and shot at them five times.

NEWS NOTES FROM LONG CREEK

A Near Tragedy at Gasoline Tank—New Teachers Arrive.

Long Creek, July 14.—Special: Services are held at the Long Creek church every third Sunday at 11 o'clock and on the first Sunday at 4 o'clock p. m. Rev. L. H. Raines is pastor of this church.

Prof. W. B. Yates and wife have arrived at the Long Creek Academy. Both Prof. and Mrs. Yates will occupy places on the faculty of the academy for the next term. There will be five teachers for the next session, which will begin the first of September.

Miss Laura Matheson opened the Mountain Grove school this morning, and Miss Ethel Matheson took charge of the Unity school at the same time.

Miss Eugenia Davis left on the 7th of this month for Thomson, Ga., where she goes to take charge of a school.

"We wish for these young ladies much success in their new work."

Mrs. Nettie Hamby and daughter, Miss Estelle, and little son, Carter, visited at Long Creek Academy last Monday.

Erving Cannon and sister, Miss Ethel, of Rabun county, Georgia, visited at the home of J. J. Moore and family the week-end.

Solomon Woodall and sister, Miss Bessie, of Walhalla, visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jonah Woodall, last week.

Eugene Moore and wife and two little children, and Edward Lee, have just arrived from an extended visit to Oconee, Ga.

Last Sunday night I. W. Henry and Harley Thrift had a very narrow escape from losing their lives and sustaining property damage also while Mr. Henry, at his store, was measuring gasoline for Mr. Thrift for his Ford car. They had a lighted lantern and the gasoline ignited and caught the oil in the gallon pot and then caught in the 50-gallon tank. They had quite a fire for a few seconds. Mr. Thrift succeeded in getting away with the gallon pot, then ran and drove his car away, and they threw dirt on the tank, smothering the flames. While Mr. Henry and Mr. Thrift received severe burns on their hands, they extinguished the flames without further damage.

Long Creek Sunday school is contemplating having an all-day singing at Long Creek in the near future. The Sunday school is progressing nicely.

Rev. L. H. Raines is conducting a series of meetings at Laurens this week. He is accompanied by his wife and little son.

Rev. W. B. Yates will preach at Long Creek church on next Saturday and Sunday at 11 o'clock.

Charlie Wilbanks, of the Mountain Rest section, is confined to his bed with a severe case of typhoid fever. We hope to hear soon that he is able to be up again.

Cases in Common Pleas.

In the Court of Common Pleas the following cases have come up for hearing:

Sloan Teasley vs. District Grand Household of Ruth. Suit on insurance policy. Verdict for plaintiff in the sum of $125.00.

John B. Tompkins vs. W. A. Bowen. Suit for damages growing out of trespass by chickens. The contention of the plaintiff was that Bowen had killed the chickens that had trespassed on lands of defendant. Verdict in favor of defendant, W. A. Bowen.

The case of E. C. Marett vs. Baxter Roach, a suit for damages on account of mule being injured by automobile being driven by Roach. This case is now before the Court and will doubtless be concluded some time during this morning.

HEAVY DAMAGE DONE BY HAIL.

Section of County Ten Miles Long and Mile Wide Suffers.

Last Sunday afternoon about 3.30 o'clock heavy clouds gathered over this section from the northwest and east, giving promise of something nifty in the way of a storm. The immediate vicinity of Walhalla was very fortunate, however, as the two heavy clouds met some three or four miles southeast of this place, where heavy damage was done to crops by the wind and hail. So far as we have heard there was no damage done anywhere in our county by the lightning, though there was a very considerable electrical storm accompanying the wind and rain.

Mile Wide, Ten Miles Long.

The main force of the storm broke at a point near the R. M. Davis farm on Coneross creek, we are informed, traveling up Coneross to the Chauga section, breaking up above Chauga church. Great damage was done to crops, especially to cotton and corn, through a territory from eight to ten miles in length and a mile wide. Bal Breazeale, whose farm is in the path swept by the wind and hail, stated Monday morning that he had about 75 acres of cotton stripped of practically all the leaves, a considerable proportion of the bolls and squares. He estimates that, with favorable conditions from now on, he will be able to realize about a half crop from this section of his lands. Others in the vicinity suffered losses similar to his, some to a greater extent and some to a lesser degree, as the hail jumped frequently, leaving some sections unharmed or but slightly damaged.

On the McClain farm, above Westminster, Mr. Breazeale said, it was reported that the damage to crops is more extensive than anywhere else, crop destruction being practically total. Within the whole area that was visited by the hail-storm, Mr. Breazeale states that he does not think the damage to early corn will be so great, but that there will be practically no fodder or roughness saved, as the corn is stripped of all blades in many sections, while in others all of the roughness is in shreds.

In the town of Westminster not a few windows, we are told, were smashed in by the force of the hail. The hail-storm lasted for about 30 minutes in all. Mr. Breazeale says that where the hail-stones drifted or were washed by the rain they were lying four or five inches deep at dusk Sunday. On a level the hail lay a couple of inches in depth at the end of the storm.

MATTERS OF NEWS AT SENECA.

W. P. Nimmons Sells His Store and Building—Dr. Marett Returns.

Seneca, July 15.—Special: W. P. Nimmons has sold his business house on the square to Mr. Alexander, a real estate dealer of Anderson, but retains possession until January 1, 1920. R. L. Nimmons bought the stock of goods and will have charge of it in the same store until such time as he sees fit to remove it. W. P. Nimmons will devote his energies to his other business interests in Seneca, after a vacation spent in the mountains of North Carolina.

Mrs. L. W. Jordan and Miss Ludie Jordan, of Union, who have been visiting Mrs. E. C. Doyle, went to Greenwood on Monday to visit Mrs. Brooks, Mrs. Jordan's sister-in-law.

Mrs. J. S. Stribling is reported to be quite sick with a mild type of continued fever. Her many friends hope for her speedy recovery.

A special music program for the dedication of the new Presbyterian church, which is to take place on the 26th and 27th, is being prepared by the choir. Dr. Vance, of Nashville, Tenn., one of the most noted men in the Southern Presbyterian church, will preach each day.

J. A. Brock has removed his family from the home they occupied for some years, on First North street, to the residence lately vacated by Dr. Stribling.

Dr. and Mrs. Marett and their little son are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Marett until their residence at Newry is ready for them. Dr. Marett has lately returned from France, where he served his country faithfully and scientifically in the Field Hospital Corps for two years, and where he often worked under the heaviest shell fire. We welcome him home with sincere gratitude for his tender ministrations to our boys over there.

Dr. Bardin, who filled Dr. Marett's place at Newry, has moved into the Wright house on Fair Play street and will practice medicine here.

John Lowry, son of our mayor, is being warmly welcomed home by relatives and friends. He belonged to the 28th Regulars and saw service first on the Mexican border. He and his comrade, Claude Hopkins, were the first Seneca boys overseas and did some of the hardest fighting, being for months in the trenches. Each returned with a casual company, but fortunately are now fully recovered.

The musical for the Episcopal church Friday evening was a success, and quite a crowd enjoyed it. Miss Pack is a charming impersonator, and while all the musicians did well, we wish to make special mention of the solo singing by Miss Ludie Jordan, of Union, and Homer Ballenger, of Richland. Miss Jordan

H. H. WATKINS NAMED AS JUDGE

Of the Federal Western District of South Carolina.

Washington, July 14.—Henry H. Watkins, of Anderson, S. C., was nominated to-day by President Wilson to be Federal Judge of the Western South Carolina District.

Wins Appointment Over Many.

Capt. Watkins wins this appointment over a long list of distinguished opponents, including Circuit Judge Thos. S. Sease, of Spartanburg; Hon. J. L. Glenn, of Chester; Hon. C. C. Featherstone, of Greenville, and Hon. T. P. Cothran, of Greenville.

The position carries an annual salary of $7,500 and the appointment is for life. At the age of 70 years the judge is eligible for retirement, at full pay, for the remainder of his life.

Native of Laurens County.

H. H. Watkins was born in Waterloo township, Laurens County, South Carolina, on June 24, 1866. His father was Capt. Henry H. Watkins, of Laurens, who was born May 26, 1818, and died March 22, 1866. His father was engaged in farming all his life and never sought or held political office, but was a captain in the State militia prior to the War Between the States, and served as a lieutenant in James' South Carolina Battalion. The earliest parental ancestor of Mr. Watkins emigrated from Wales to Virginia in the early part of the 17th century, probably having come over with Capt. John Smith, and settled in Prince Edward county, Virginia, where the family lived until shortly after the close of the Revolution. Not long after that John C. Watkins, the grandfather of the newly appointed Federal Judge, moved to South Carolina, and after remaining for a short while in Abbeville county, moved to Waterloo township, Laurens county, and settled at the old homestead of the family on Reedy river.

The new Judge has for many years been a resident of Anderson, where he ranks at the top of the legal profession. He is well known all over this State, and has hosts of friends and admirers in every quarter who will be glad to learn of his appointment to this high position.

FORDS IN COMPLETE CONTROL.

Now Free to Carry Out the "Ford Policies" that Caused Friction.

Mt. Clemens, Mich., July 12.—One of the largest financial transactions in the industrial history of recent years was announced Friday, when Edsel Ford, the 25-year-old president of the Ford Motor Company, confirmed the report that he had bought out all but one of the minority stockholders, and that the sole control of the company now rests virtually in the hands of his father and himself.

The concentration of the control of the company in the hands of Henry Ford and his son was precipitated by the court decision rendered when the minority stockholders brought suit to compel Mr. Ford to abandon his plan of investing $20,000,000 in profits and forced him to distribute this sum among the stockholders.

This decision, it was felt, stood as a barrier in the path of the Ford policies for enlarging their industries and the perfection of their plans for the extension of their industrial and social benefits.

The Ford policy does not favor large dividends to stockholders. It favors, as is well known, a profit-sharing system for its workmen and the extension of this benefit to the public through the reduction of prices.

"We know of no better way to prevent war than to extend industry," declared Mr. Ford, in commenting on the change in ownership of the company. "We plan to continue the building of plants in all parts of the world, to continue sharing our profits as we do to-day with our employees, and to reduce the price of our product whenever increasing production makes this possible."

With the consummation of this transaction the announcement made last winter by Henry Ford to the effect that he would enter upon the manufacture of a car which would sell for considerably less than the present model, is superseded by plans for the steady extension of the present concern.

All credit for the successful efforts to centralize the control of the company in the hands of Mr. Ford and his son is given to the young president. He it was who persuaded his father that this was the better method of carrying out their established policies than creating and organizing a new corporation.

The sale stands as a striking example of the possibilities of American business when that business is backed by vision and trust in the possibilities of this country. Sixteen years ago the Ford Motor Company was virtually little more than a machine shop, with a working capital of a few thousand dollars. To-day its assets are said to total at least $250,000,000, and every dollar paid in by the few men who had faith in Henry Ford and his invention has returned thousands.

has a sweet high soprano voice, and Mr. Ballenger has an equally charming and far-reaching tenor voice. They answered graciously to repeated recalls from a delighted audience. Twenty dollars was realized for the church benefit.
