ORCHARD ADVICE.

Clemson College, Sept. 19.—The information gathered by looking through the mass of letters, catalogs and quotations that have come into the horticultural extension office within the last month from nurseries all over the country, foretells a shortage in nursery stock for planting this fall and winter. With the shortage also comes an increase in price. Pecan stock alone seems fairly plentiful, and has not increased in price to such a great extent as other nursery trees. The shortage leaves a tremendous opening for the unreliable and crooked agent to do a big business.

At present there is no law in this State requiring the fruit tree agent to put up a bond before doing business within its boundaries. The field is open to reliable and unreliable alike; and it is almost impossible to know the reputation of the stranger who comes to your door with highly colored pictures and specimens of fruits and nuts, and with unusual politeness and remarkable fluency of speech secures an order. It is unfortunate for these strangers to have to be looked upon by the intelligent with suspicion, and it is most unfortunate for the few that are reliable to have to suffer for the bad reputation that the majority have established. However, under present laws there is no way to make a discrimination.

The only way to avoid getting "stung" is to order only directly from some reliable nursery and thereby get what you order, and save the middle man's or agent's profit. Those contemplating setting out an orchard, large or small, should make final decision as soon as possible, and place orders for trees before the nurseries are sold out of first grade stock. For information concerning reliable nurseries and varieties adapted to each section of the State, ask the county agent, the agricultural instructor in the community, or the Horticultural Extension Service, Clemson College.

IN MISERY FOR YEARS

Mrs. Courtney Tells How She Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Oskaloosa, Iowa.—"For years I was simply in misery from a weakness and awful pains—and nothing seemed to do me any good. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so and got relief right away. I can certainly recommend this valuable medicine to other women who suffer, for it has done such good work for me and I know it will help others if they will give it a fair trial."
—Mrs. LIZZIE COURTNEY, 108 8th Ave., West, Oskaloosa, Iowa.

Why will women drag along from day to day, year in and year out, suffering such misery as did Mrs. Courtney, when such letters as this are continually being published. Every woman who suffers from displacements, irregularities, inflammation, ulceration, backache, nervousness, or who is passing through the Change of Life should give this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a trial. For special advice write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of its long experience is at your service.

DEATH OF MRS. V. L. WALLIS.

Was Young Daughter of Jas. E. Singleton, of Westminster.

(Tugaloo Tribune, 16th.)
After an illness of only two weeks Mrs. Vennie L. Wallis, the young wife of M. N. Wallis, died about 2 o'clock Saturday morning, September 13. The death of this most excellent young woman brought sorrow to our entire town and community, as she was very popular and possessed scores of friends.

Mrs. Wallis was the eldest daughter of Jas. E. Singleton, of Westminster. She was of an affectionate disposition, bright and winsome in her ways. She was married to M. N. Wallis, of Forsyth county, Georgia, December 24, 1917. Shortly after marriage Mr. and Mrs. Wallis went to his old home in Georgia to live. Mr. Wallis was in training camp several months, and after his discharge came to Westminster and was associated with his father-in-law in the mercantile business. Here Mrs. Wallis came to establish her home, and it is indeed sad that she was called to the better home so early in life.

Mrs. Wallis was a cultured and talented young lady. She was a graduate of the Westminster High School and the State Normal, of Athens, Ga. She was only 23 years old. She was a devoted member of the Methodist church for several years and at the time of her death was a member of the Westminster church.

Her husband, father and one sister, Miss Annie Singleton, survive her.

The interment was made in the Nazareth cemetery at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon, where her mother was buried several years ago. Funeral services were conducted by her pastor, Rev. J. W. Lewis. There were many there to witness the sad rites and drop the sympathizing tear. The casket was covered with beautiful floral contributions.

To the husband, father, sister and other relatives is extended the tender sympathy of many friends in this sad dispensation of Providence.

Notes from Holly Springs.

Westminster, Star Route, Sept. 14.—Special: The schools are closed for a brief spell, as all hands are needed to pull fodder, pick cotton, etc. The early tang of Indian summer is here, and the leaves are fast turning red and gold.

Two good meetings were held at the church Sunday, and the Sabbath school exercises were also held. Many of the young folks walked five miles twice—but what matters that? Are there not hickory nuts, muscadines, squirrels to throw rocks at and a creek to cross, where "shiners" dart and leap!—no impediments of shoes and stockings to bother; and the old church, with bare benches—with what joy we gather about the organ and sing "The Old-time Religion," "How Firm a Foundation," "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name," etc., and listen to the plain, simple sermon on Christ Crucified. We care not for the higher critics who may spout Darwin and evolution. To-morrow is brekfast with its H. C. L. and cotton problems—But to-day—"Oh, sing unto the Lord a new song."—(96th Psalm.) Thos. Rose.

GIRLS! USE LEMONS FOR SUNBURN, TAN

Try It! Make this lemon lotion to whiten your tanned or freckled skin.

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of the best freckle, sunburn and tan lotion, and complexion whitener, at a very, very small cost.

Your grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply three ounces of Orchard White for a few cents. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands and see how clear, soft and white the skin becomes. Yes! It is harmless.—adv.

Banders Must Show Cause.

Judge Ernest Moore has issued an order requiring Col. A. K. Sanders, superintendent of the state penitentiary to show cause why county supervisors should not get convicts for county road work from the state penitentiary. The case is brought in the name of Sumter county by L. D. Jennings county attorney.

The Staff to Attend.

The staff of Governor Cooper will attend the reunion of the Thirtieth division to be held at Greenville, according to an announcement made by the adjutant general.

The staff consists of 49 men from various parts of the state.

Dial Opposes Bill.

Washington (Special).—During consideration of a bill in the senate to extend the food control law to clothing and food containers and provide a penalty for profiteering, Senator Dial, Democrat, of South Carolina opposed the bill vigorously as an unnecessary extension of war purposes.

Improve Roads Against Winter.

At the meeting of the state highway commission, federal aid requests to the amount of $83,000 were approved and considerable consideration given to the present condition of the roads in the state.

"Roads in South Carolina are going to be as bad this winter as they were last, unless steps are taken to put them into condition to withstand winter traffic," said a member of the commission in speaking of road problems.

Prices Must Come Down.

That the time has arrived when the retail and wholesale foodstuffs markets should reflect the decline in prices on primary markets, is the opinion expressed by A. D. Oliphant, "fair price" commissioner for South Carolina.

Engineers to be Employed.

At a meeting of the canal commission it was decided to employ an engineer or engineers to make a complete survey of the canal properties for the state preparatory to pushing the case which the state has in force to recover for the people of the state the canal property from the Columbia Railway, Gas & Electric Company. The survey is being made for the purpose of ascertaining the possibilities of the canal as a navigable body of water and also as a generator of electric power.

University Inventory.

Inventory of the property at the University of South Carolina, filed with the state budget commission, shows that the real estate owned by the state of South Carolina, upon which the university is located, is worth $645,000; the buildings valued at $37,500; the educational equipment totals $217,467.67, and that the old library and its valuable collection is worth $178,110, if it is possible to be a money value on such a treasure. The total property is thus valued at $1,485,938.71.

Doctors Enroll for Service.

Two responses to the call sent out by Dr. C. V. Akin, assistant state health officer, for volunteers to work in case influenza should assume epidemic proportions during the fall, were received.

Several days ago, in accordance with advice received from the surgeon general, the state health department issued a call for 100 physicians who would be willing to serve under the direction of the state health department during the fall and winter should influenza become epidemic.

Health About Gone
Many thousands of women suffering from womanly trouble, have been benefited by the use of Cardui, the woman's tonic, according to letters we receive, similar to this one from Mrs. Z. V. Spell, of Hayne, N. C. "I could not stand on my feet, and just suffered terribly," she says. "As my suffering was so great, and he had tried other remedies, Dr. _____ had us get Cardui. . . I began improving, and it cured me. I know, and my doctor knows, what Cardui did for me, for my nerves and health were about gone."

TAKE CARDUI The Woman's Tonic

She writes further: "I am in splendid health . . . can do my work. I feel I owe it to Cardui, for I was in dreadful condition." If you are nervous, run-down and weak, or suffer from headache, backache, etc., every month, try Cardui. Thousands of women praise this medicine for the good it has done them, and many physicians who have used Cardui successfully with their women patients, for years, endorse this medicine. Think what it means to be in splendid health. Like Mrs. Spell. Give Cardui a trial.

YOUR CATARRH MAY LEAD TO CONSUMPTION

Dangerous to Use Treatment for Only Temporary Relief.
There is a more serious stage of Catarrh than the annoyance caused by the stopped-up air passages, and other distasteful features. The real danger comes from the tendency of the disease to continue its course downward until the lungs become affected, and then dreaded consumption is on your path. Your own experience has taught you that the disease cannot be cured by sprays, inhalers, atomizers, jellies and other local applications.
S. S. S. has proven a most satisfactory remedy for Catarrh because it goes direct to its source. Get a bottle today, begin the only logical treatment that gives real results. For free medical advice write Medical Director, 47 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.
