HOUSE AND SENATE OVERRIDE

President's Veto of Prohibition—Country Stays Dry.

Washington, Oct. 27.—President Wilson so unexpectedly vetoed the prohibition enforcement bill to-day, and within three hours the House had repassed it over his veto by a vote of 175 to 55. The total vote was barely more than a majority of the entire membership.

Dry leaders in the Senate immediately began laying plans to re-pass the bill there. They expect to ask unanimous consent for its consideration to-morrow, claiming enough votes to put it through.

The President refused to sign the bill because it included the enforcement of war-time prohibition. The objects of war-time prohibition, the President said in his veto, had been satisfied, and "sound public policy makes clear the reason and necessity for its repeal."

Senate Acts Promptly.

Washington, Oct. 28.—The Senate passed the prohibition enforcement act over the President's veto to-day and made immediately effective machinery for preventing sale of beverages containing more than one-half of 1 per cent alcohol.

The vote was 65 to 20, or eight more than the necessary two-thirds majority.

While there was a wrangle over taking up the measure in place of the peace treaty, which had the right of way, there never was doubt as to how the Senate stood. It was overwhelmingly "dry," like the House, which repassed the bill within three hours after the President vetoed it.

Before Congress at 3:40 o'clock finally clinched enactment of the enforcement law, despite Presidential objection to linking wartime and constitutional prohibition acts, there came from the White House the announcement that the wartime law—which was put into effect after the cessation of hostilities—would be annulled the moment the Senate formally ratified the German peace treaty.

Leaders Disturbed.

It was the most definite of all official or semi-official statements bearing on the wartime act. Prohibition leaders were plainly disturbed by the news, for they had counted firmly upon the country reaching the effective date of constitutional prohibition—January 16, 1920—without reopening the saloons.

Despite the clamor set up by wet and dry forces over the White House pronouncement, Senate leaders said they would proceed with consideration of the treaty as heretofore. Senators who have taken an active part in the prohibition campaign branded as unfair and absurd reports that they would delay the treaty simply to keep the liquor traffic from getting a foothold in the comparative short period remaining before the country will go dry for good.

Formal denial was issued from headquarters of the Anti-Saloon League that its officers would take any part in any movement calculated to delay the treaty. League officers stuck to the opinion that it would be necessary to first ratify the Austrian treaty before lifting the wartime prohibition ban, which was said to have been the ruling of Attorney General Palmer, and they declared their position was not altered by the fact that President Wilson was prepared to cut through legal doubt and wipe out a law the necessity for which he believes to have passed.

REBELLION IN STOMACH

"Pape's Diapepsin" at once ends Indigestion and Sour, Acid Stomach

Lumps of undigested food cause pain. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sick, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented and turned sour; head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food—just take a tablet or two of Pape's Diapepsin to help neutralize acidity, and in five minutes you wonder what became of the pain, acidity, indigestion and distress.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless stomach antacid is Pape's Diapepsin, which costs so little at drug stores.—adv.

NEWS NOTES FROM MADISON.

Pastor Puts Congregation to Think—Among the Sick.

Madison, Oct. 26.—Special: Mrs. T. A. Spencer is very ill at this writing, much to the regret of her many friends, who wish for her speedy recovery.

Our efficient mail carrier, J. R. Reynolds, has been on the sick list, but is recuperating.

I. B. Duke, who was seriously injured at his saw mill about a month ago, has so far recovered as to be able to be at Sunday school and church Sunday, much to the delight of all his friends.

Mrs. Mary Duke, of Westminster, is visiting her son, A. P. Duke, and worshipped at this place Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Cleland, of Westminster, spent the week-end with Mrs. Cleland's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Reynolds.

Henry Spencer, who has been West for the past four years, has returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Spencer, of Westminster, visited T. A. Spencer recently.

Miss Lula Cleland, of Gaffney, spent the week-end at the home of her father, W. P. Cleland.

Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Spencer, of Nazareth, and Robert Spencer, of Cornelia, Ga., recently visited their mother, Mrs. T. A. Spencer, who is quite ill.

Mrs. C. E. Walters was shopping in Teocoa last Wednesday.

Neils Brewer, of Central, called on friends last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cleland, of Charlottesville, Va., are visiting relatives here. Mr. Cleland is in the insurance business and made a flying trip through to Chattanooga via Atlanta. Mrs. Cleland remained over for a while. They have many friends here who are always pleased to have them among us.

Our Sunday school collection for the orphanage was most gratifying Sunday.

Rev. L. M. Lyda filled his regular appointments here Sunday and delivered two impressive sermons. The morning subject was "Taking time to turn aside from secular affairs to see the providential blessings that God has bestowed upon us." If we would all do that, oh, what a different world this would be. Why, we have men right here in our little town who are so busy getting the almighty dollar that they can scarcely take time to go to church once a month, to say nothing of Sunday school and prayer meeting. Rev. Lyda's evening discourse was "The Golden Wedge," and another deep and interesting subject was expounded. And we truly believe if all the Achans were routed out of the church God would be with the faithful few, as He was with Joshua of old, and we would have a revival such as never before witnessed.

WOMAN'S NERVES MADE STRONG

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Winona, Minn.—"I suffered for more than a year from nervousness, and was so bad I could not rest at night—would lie awake and get so nervous I would have to get up and walk around in the morning would be all tired out. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and thought I would try it. My nervousness soon left me. I sleep well and feel fine in the morning and able to do my work. I gladly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to make weak nerves strong."—Mrs. ALBERT SULTZE, 608 Olmstead St., Winona, Minn.

How often do we hear the expression among women, "I am so nervous, I cannot sleep, or 'it seems as though I should fly.'" Such women should profit by Mrs. Sultze's experience and give this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a trial.

For forty years it has been overcoming such serious conditions as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, dizziness, and nervous prostration of women, and is now considered the standard remedy for such ailments.

Long Staple, 60c. Pound.

(Anderson Daily Mail.) Probably the highest priced load of cotton ever sold in Anderson county was that of W. T. Morrison on Wednesday to Ligon & Marshall. Five bales were sold in one lot, and 60 cents was paid for four bales and 45 cents for the fifth. The total amount for the five bales was $1,312.12. If this record has ever been equalled in the county it is not generally known. The variety of cotton is Coker's No. 11, long staple, and this is the second year Mr. Morrison has planted that variety of seed, which he obtained from Hartsville, S. C., two years ago.

Mr. Morrison, who lives in the Mountain Creek section, planted six acres of this cotton and has already ginned and sold six bales and will get two more. Two bales had been previously sold at 50 cents and four on Wednesday at 60 cents. The fifth bale, sold on Wednesday, which brought 45 cents, was not of this lot, but was raised by a tenant.

Eugene Smith and family, of Maryville, Tenn., were visitors through this section last week. Mr. Smith has been working for two years or longer as a salesman.

Brack Lusk has returned from Ohio. He came back on account of his health, for he has just recovered from a severe case of measles, and it was most too cold up there for him. He reports good wages for laborers in that State.

The Little River school opened Monday, Oct. 13, with Miss Bessie Alexander as teacher. Miss Alexander is one among our successful teachers, and we are sure the school will be a good one.

A. R. Galloway is thought to be improving at this writing. Mr. Galloway has been suffering from a stroke of paralysis. We hope for his early recovery.

Oscar Wigginton has purchased a saw mill and has it in operation on his father's timber. We hope the young man will have good success in his new work.

A number of men met at the Moody cemetery Oct. 11, and there was quite a change made in the looks around the cemetery before they went away.

Rev. Pick Alexander filled his appointment at Little River Baptist church last third Sunday. The congregation was small on account of unfavorable weather.

D. T. Madden, who has been sick for some time, doesn't seem to be improving very much. We hope Mr. Madden will have an early recovery.

Silas Cannon, of Lantonia, Ga., was a recent visitor of his brother, J. W. Cannon. Mr. Cannon is one of the leading men of Lantonia.

W. M. Perry, who has been sick for some time, seems to be improving, but he is not able to walk yet. We hope that he may soon be on foot again.

Mrs. W. H. Talley, son and daughter, of Salem, were recent visitors in this community.

Mann Patterson, of Boone's Creek section, was visiting relatives and friends of this section last Sunday.

Rev. Foster Speer began a series of meetings at Whitnirre Methodist church Monday, Oct. 20, at 11 o'clock. There was a very good congregation, considering that the people are so busy picking cotton and doing other work. We hope the meeting will be a successful one.

DEATH OF WILLIAM J. HARBIN.

Another Confederate Has Answered the Last Roll Call.

(Tugaloo Tribune, Oct. 28.)

William John Harbin, one of Oconee's most highly respected citizens, died last Thursday, Oct. 23. Mr. Harbin and his two sons, Walter and Marshall, lived at the old home place on Chauga creek, near the Gilmer old mill site, since the death of their wife and mother, which occurred about 13 years ago.

Mr. Harbin had been in declining health for a long time, but was critically ill only two weeks. He had stayed close at home for a long time, as it had been ten years since his last visit to Westminster. His death was due to the infirmities of age. He was 80 years old on the 15th of last June, having been born the year 1839. His wife, who preceded him to the grave, was Miss Rhoda Adams, a daughter of the late Jasper N. Adams, who lived a few miles above Westminster.

Mr. Harbin was a brave Confederate veteran, having served four years in the Civil War. He was in the battles of Virginia and the Carolinas and received two wounds.

In the death of Mr. Harbin Oconee loses a good citizen, one who was loved and respected by all. Mr. Harbin was a faithful Christian, humble, peaceful, and lived to a good old age. His death removes one of the landmarks of the Chauga section. He had been a member of the Chauga Baptist church for 60 years. His body was interred in the cemetery of that church Friday afternoon, funeral services being conducted by Rev. J. A. Martin, of Westminster, in the presence of a large concourse of sorrowing relatives and friends.

The deceased was the last member of a large family. His father was William Harbin, who died 28 years ago.

Mr. Harbin leaves seven sons and two daughters, as follows: Henry M. Harbin, Westminster; Walter and Marshall, at home; Plumer and Stephen Harbin, of Helena, Ga.; Arthur Harbin, Roanoke, Va.; Paul Harbin, of near Westminster, who is a recent overseas arrival; Mrs. Cora Maret and Mary Smith, of Westminster. Three children are dead. The sympathy of many friends is extended to the children.

PICKENS SHOWS INTEREST

In Railway Project from Brevard, North Carolina.

(Pickens Sentinel, Oct. 30.)

We are giving space this week to an article taken from the Brevard News, and also some correspondence with reference to a proposed railroad, which would come through Eastatoe Gap into Pickens county. The route proposed would mean much to Pickens county, as it would run through the county from the North Carolina line to some point on the Southern Railway.

If Pickens county is to get this proposed line they will have to get busy, as it will go whichever way the most inducement is offered.

An effort is being made now to get some of the committee from Brevard to come to Pickens Court House and explain in detail the entire plan. When the date that they will be here is ascertained a mass meeting will be called to hear what they have to say. They will discuss the matter with Pickens county citizens, and it is to be hoped a large attendance will be had of representative men from every section of the county interested. The date of meeting will be announced later. Pickens county must not let this opportunity slip if any way can be devised to meet the requirements.

(This is the projected road to which reference was made last week in The Courier, through a letter addressed to J. R. Earle, Esq.)
