THE WALHALLA HIGH SCHOOL Will Open Next Session on Monday, the 6th of September.

The Walhalla High School will open on Sept. 6th. Pupils who have deferred examinations will have the opportunity to take them on Friday before the opening day of school. The opening exercises will be held in the auditorium, beginning at 8.45 o'clock.

The school will take on another grade this year—the 11th. The standard of our school will then be as high as that of any other first-class high school. The State Board lays down a course of study for the 11th grade, and all pupils entering this grade will be required to take that course. One-half or one-third time pupils will not be accepted into the grade. All rules and regulations which apply to any other grade in our public schools will apply to those pupils who enter the eleventh grade. Pupils finishing the course of study of the eleventh grade satisfactorily will be given by the State a high school diploma, which should be a source of pride to any pupil.

Miss Ruth Rhodes, of North Carolina, who will have charge of the music department of the school, will be at the school house on Friday before the opening of school for the purpose of taking the names of all pupils who desire to take music.

First grade pupils who will become six years old by Christmas should enter school at the opening; those who will become six after Christmas we prefer would remain out of school until another year.

MR. RICE REACHED WALHALLA

And Spoke to a Few at the Court House—Wants Fair Cotton Deal.

(Political Advertisement.)

Leon L. Rice, candidate for Solicitor, was the only candidate to appear last Wednesday evening at the Court House, where the candidates for Congress and Solicitor were scheduled to speak. The rain and bad roads seemed to keep the others away.

Mr. Rice hesitated to speak, but was urged by the chairman and other voters who had gathered to hear the candidates. He spoke of the cotton market situation in the counties of Anderson and Oconee, where competition was limited and at times conditions were so onerous that our cotton had to be hauled to Lavonia and Hartwell, Ga., across the Savannah, to get the fair market price. He said that he only asked that the mills give the market price or get out of the local markets, or let some one else come in without being discriminated against. He told of a merchant in a town in Anderson county who had to sell his cotton in the name of a negro drayman to get rid of it, for the simple reason that he had bought it in competition with a certain mill. He gave other instances showing allotment of territory and boycotts, which he said has gone on to an unbearable extent and ought to be stopped.

He said that he believed in obeying the law and enforcing it, but promised not to prosecute a man for having in possession or transporting blockade liquor and have in his own possession or transport blockade liquor.

He said that he had twelve years of experience at the bar in Anderson, had tried over 100 cases in Sessions Court, and felt that his experience fitted him for the position of Solicitor.

In conclusion he thanked the voters of Oconee county for the splendid vote they gave him four years ago, and for the 136 votes he received at Walhalla he was indeed very grateful. He said that he was sorry that his opponents were not present, and thanked those present for their courteous attention, and said that he hoped the people would give full consideration to the fact that the fitness of the man is paramount in the selection of public servants.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Mulkey and children have returned to their home in West Union, after a pleasant visit to the former's mother, Mrs. E. S. Mulkey, of Danville, Va. Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Mulkey, who have also been visiting in Danville, returned this week to their home in East Point, Ga.

—There will be special services at the Oconee Orphanage to-night and Thursday and Friday nights of this week. E. A. Dillard, speaker, of Columbia, S. C.; I. M. Ellis, musician, Chicago, Ill.; W. H. Gerow, singer, Washingtonville, Va.; H. S. Ashley, business manager, Thomasville, Ga., will be at the orphanage for these special services. A cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend. All of those named above are from the Moody Bible Institute.

BRADLEY SPEAKS FOR FELLOWS

Regretted Inability of Candidates to Meet Campaign Appointments.

For Keowee Courier:

On behalf of the candidates for Solicitor of this Circuit and the candidates for Congress, for whom campaign meetings were arranged at Westminster, Oakway, Walhalla and Salem, I desire to state that, owing to excessive rains, it has been utterly impossible for us to fulfill these appointments.

Wednesday night at Westminster the meeting was called off because of the rain and the further fact that the city lights were out for quite a while.

Wednesday at Oakway the speaking was interrupted by a heavy rain, which continued till night and prevented our meeting the Walhalla appointment.

Thursday rain was continuous for the greater part of the day and prevented our going to Salem.

The statement is made to assure the people of Oconee county that, while we regret our inability to fulfill our campaign appointments, it is through no fault of ours, or, for that matter, of anybody else, but it is merely our misfortune that we could not meet the people of Oconee county as we had anticipated.

Very respectfully,
W. W. Bradley.

T. SUMNER FENNELL DEAD.

Passed Away at His Home in Pelzer Wednesday of Last Week.

For several weeks past it had been known that T. Sumner Fennell could live but a short while, nevertheless when the announcement came that he had passed away on the morning of Aug. 18, it brought sorrow to those who knew him. He had not been sick enough to call it serious for many years until last winter, when he had influenza, from the effects of which he never rallied. It finally developed into paralysis, from which he died as stated above.

Mr. Fennell was the oldest son of the late John L. and Mary P. Fennell, and was born near Ninety-Six, S. C., July 11, 1856, and came to Oconee county with his parents while he was quite a small boy.

On Dec. 25, 1877, he was happily married to Miss Maggie McDonald, whom he leaves to mourn his passing away. The following children also are surviving: Henry B., Mack T., Raymond B., Ernest L., Hardy P. and Clyde Fennell; also Mesdames Millie P. Wakefield, Mary F. Davis and Margie F. Browning.

Mr. Fennell was a member in good standing of the Odd Fellows, Red Men and Woodmen of the World. He was a faithful and consistent member of the Methodist church. In early boyhood he joined Rock Springs church at Richland, but for many years past had been actively identified with the Methodist church at Pelzer, where he lived.

On Thursday, the 19th, his remains were laid to rest beside his father and mother in the cemetery at Rock Springs church. The service was conducted by his pastor, Rev. W. L. Mulligan, who accompanied the bereaved family on their sad mission.

Mr. Fennell was well known in our county, and there are many who will join with us in extending to the bereaved ones sincere sympathy in their hour of grief and sorrow.

Local Notes from Conocross.

Conocross, Aug. 24.—Special: The protracted services closed here last night. Our pastor was assisted by Rev. C. A. Kirby, pastor of the Green Street Baptist church, Spartanburg. Rev. Kirby is an earnest servant of God, and each sermon was preached with great power. We feel that the church was greatly revived and that much good was accomplished. Six were added to the church.

Misses Pearl Hunsinger and Eva Arve, who have positions in Greenville, spent their vacations with home folks here, as did also Miss Selma DuBose, who was here for the week-end.

Miss Beulah Barker and brother, T. D., spent Saturday and Sunday with friends in Fair Play.

Rev. and Mrs. H. T. Abbott and two children, of Murphysboro, Ill., were among relatives and friends in this community recently. Rev. Abbott is pastor of the First Baptist church of Murphysboro. He is a native of this section, and was converted and became a member of the Conocross Baptist church at the age of ten years. Leaving here he went to Furman University, and later to Richmond College (Virginia), then to the Southern Baptist Seminary at Louisville, Ky., at which institution he spent three or four years. He served as pastor of the First Baptist church of Franklin, Ohio, for some time, and three years ago moved to his present location. Rev. Abbott is a consecrated young man, and Conocross church and community are proud of him. We were delighted to have him preach for us on Monday evening.

Miss Zadie Hesse and brother, Henry Hesse, visited relatives in Fair Play recently.
