Local News from Seneca.

(Omitted from Last Week's Letter.)

Seneca Dancing Club complimented the young ladies of our nearby towns with an enjoyable card dance last Thursday evening at the Chamber of Commerce hall. Wallhalla musicians furnished delightful dance music. About thirty couples were present.

Mrs. D. P. Thomson entertained Friday evening in honor of her guests, Miss Margaret LeMond and W. D. LeMond, of Chester. The handsome home was a blaze of bright lights and lovely flowers, and delightful refreshments were served during the evening. Quite a number of young people enjoyed this event.

The interdenominational Sunday School Convention held its annual session here Tuesday. A large number of prominent Sunday school workers were present, and much interest was shown in this very important department of Christian effort. Seneca Sunday schools entertained the visitors at dinner in the Chamber of Commerce hall, and a pleasant social hour was the result.

A. T. Moore, of Ridgeway, passed through town Tuesday on his return trip home, and his family having been some days in Wallhalla seeking mountain climate. Mr. Moore is inclined to the belief that "the mountains leak."

Friday evening Miss Sarah Davis invited a few of her friends to meet Miss Edith Hutson, of Florida, who was Miss Davis's classmate at St. Mary's. Miss Hutson will be at the Davis home for some weeks.

Another interesting visitor at the Davis home is Mrs. Davis's uncle, Robert Lewis, of Texas. Mr. Lewis has been 34 years away from his childhood home, which was known as "Wayside", the old Lewis mansion, now in ruins, on the road from Seneca to Cherry's Crossing. He pleasantly recalls the time when he, in early childhood, commanded a whole big carriage, drawn by two fine horses, driven by a whole big driver, and was accompanied by a whole big "black mammy" when he went "out for an airing, in the good old days."

W. W. Moore, Adjutant General, was with relatives here Saturday. Gen. Moore has many friends in Seneca who were pleased to see him. Miss Sarah Verrier was the charming hostess at a dancing party for the young society 'set Monday evening.

Miss Ravenel, of Aiken, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. J. H. Burgess, on Wallhalla street.

Mrs. Thomson, Sr., is visiting her son and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. D. P. Thomson.

Mrs. Bell has returned to Seneca and will spend the winter with her daughter, Mrs. J. S. Stripling, on Townville street.

W. P. Nimsom was in town for a few days last week arranging to bring his family home from Asheville the first of September. Mr. Nimsom is looking remarkably well, having improved greatly in health during his stay in North Carolina.

Wagonman Holland is convalescing from a recent illness.

The two children of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Whitworth, who have been ill with fever, are much better.

Sad Memories.

Looking back a long and eventful career in which we have said many foolish things, the words we regret most are those we uttered one day back in 1913 when we said: "No, I don't believe I'll take any to-day."

Skin Eruptions Cause

Constant Torture

Disease Germs Must Be Eliminated From the Blood.

Eczema, tetter, boils, pimples, ulcers, irritations and scalp eruptions, as well as all other forms of skin diseases, come from a disordered condition of the blood. They must be cured through the blood, and this explains why local treatment fails so absolutely. The radical and rational treatment is to take a thorough course of S. S. S., which will root out the disease germs from your blood, your complexion will begin to clear up and you will soon be rid of the disease as thousands of others have. Get a bottle of S. S. S. today, write to our head physician, who will gladly give you full medical advice without charge. Address Medical Director, Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

Honea Path Policeman Shot.

Anderson, Aug. 24.—Arthur Hughes, policeman at Honea Path, was seriously wounded just after the county campaign meeting there was over to-day. Ernest Ashly is charged with the shooting. Hughes was shot twice, once in the head and once in the abdomen. A third shot went wild. He was brought to a hospital here this afternoon. It is not yet known whether he will recover.

The origin of the trouble is not definitely known. One report says that it was previous bad feeling and another that it was on account of a bet on politics.

IS YOUR HEALTH GRADUALLY SLIPPING?

Interesting Experience of a Texas Lady Who Declares That if More Women Knew About Cardui They Would Be Spared Much Sickness and Worry.

Navasota, Texas.—Mrs. W. M. Peden, of this place, relates the following interesting account of how she recovered her strength, having realized that she was actually losing her health: "Health is the greatest thing in the world, and when you feel that gradually slipping away from you, you certainly sit up and take notice. That is what I did some time ago when I found myself in a very nervous, run-down condition of health. I was so tired and felt so lifeless I could hardly go at all. "I was just no account for work. I would get a bucket of water and would feel so weak I would have to set it down before I felt like I could lift it to the shelf. In this condition, of course, to do even my housework was a task almost impossible to accomplish. "I was . . . nervous and easily upset. "I couldn't rest well at night and was . . . just lifeless. "I heard of Cardui and after reading I decided I had some female trouble that was pulling me down. I sent for Cardui and began it . . . "In a very short while after I began the Cardui Home Treatment I saw an improvement and it wasn't long until I was all right—good appetite, splendid rest, and much stronger so that I easily did my house work. "Later I took a bottle of Cardui as a tonic. I can recommend Cardui and gladly do so, for if more women knew, it would save a great deal of worry and sickness." The enthusiastic praise of thousands of other women who have found Cardui helpful should convince you that it is worth trying. All druggists sell it. I 78

"Didn't Rest Well"

Prominent Georgia Lady Suffered from Faint Spells and Sleeplessness—Relieved by Ziron.

PEOPLE who get to feeling weak every now and then, and who do not seem to get the proper refreshment from rest, sleep and recreation, need a tonic to help their blood revitalize and build up their system. For this, you will find Ziron Iron Tonic very valuable, as the testimony of thousands already has proved. Mrs. J. W. Byars, lady of a prominent Georgia family residing near Cartersville, says: "I didn't feel like myself, I would be just as tired when I got up in the morning as when I went to bed. I would get weak, and have kind of faint spells—at times hardly able to do my housework. "I heard of Ziron, and felt maybe a tonic would help me. I thought it would at least strengthen me. "I believe Ziron has done me good. I feel better. I am glad to recommend it as a good tonic." Try Ziron. Our money-back guarantee protects you. At your druggist's.

WHEAT AND OATS THE OUTLOOK

SOME FACTORS OF SUCCESSFUL SMALL GRAIN PRODUCTION IN SOUTHERN STATES. C. A. Whittle, Southern Soil Improvement Committee.

WHEAT IS TOO CLOSELY RELATED TO HUMAN HUNGER EVER TO SUFFER A SERIOUS SLUMP IN DEMAND.

At this time the great wheat producing areas of Europe give no signs of getting immediately back to normal production. Soviet Russia, the greatest of all, offers no signs of growing wheat beyond—if even equal to—the needs of Russia. Roumania, Austria, Hungary and the Balkans are so depleted in men and means, and so disturbed with war and international politics, as to grow not even enough small grain for their own hungry and starving millions. Other leading European countries are importers and not exporters of grain. The Americas will, therefore, be the hope of Europe's bread. In fact, the demand will continue to be very urgent.

LABOR—The labor requirements per acre of wheat is less, of course, than for cultivated crops. Where labor is scarce wheat and oats are, therefore, to be looked upon with favor.

But the labor problem involved in producing wheat will not be completely solved unless the farmer goes in for large yields per acre. It requires no more preparation, and seed, to grow a big crop of wheat than a small one. Therefore, the intelligent farmer will look well to his soil treatment so that maximum yields may be made at a minimum cost per bushel. Farm labor is too expensive to neglect this precaution.

PREPARATION—Wheat and Oats do best on upland soils. The stiffer, firmer soils are preferred. But it does not pay to sow these crops on eroded, thin soiled slopes. If the crop is to follow cotton, corn or other cultivated crop, the soil may be disked. Deep breaking is not necessary. After drilling in the seed, the soil may be firmed and smoothed with a roller.

FERTILIZATION—Intelligent fertilization will pay on wheat and oats. Fertilizers will create a good root development and thus protect the plant against winter-killing; they will hasten the growth of wheat that has been sown late on account of the Hessian fly; it will increase stooling or tillering, and make plumper grain and fuller heads; and well-fed plants are also more resistant to rust and other diseases.

GOOD SEED—A variety of wheat may be good, but the germinating power of the seed poor. A farmer should give more attention to his wheat and oat seed. He should find out their yielding record. Different strains of a variety will have different yielding ability. Get only the best—it pays.

Good seed includes clean seed. Make them smut-free by a dip into blue stone. Use only the varieties that have rust resistance power.

FARMERS OF THE COTTON BELT WOULD DO WELL TO GO INTO THE GROWING OF CEREALS ON A BROADER SCALE.

Small grains fit in with a well arranged crop rotation. They provide necessities, and thereby add to the independence of the farmer and to his power to conserve the returns from his money crops.

Southern soils are much in need of organic matter or humus. An excellent opportunity for providing it is afforded by rye sown in the fall and turned under in the spring.

Not only will it increase the organic contents of the soil, but it will conserve plant-food and increase the yields of subsequent crops. It uses nitrogen that would have leached out and would have been lost during the fall and winter. It also utilizes the phosphoric acid and potash that becomes soluble during the winter. All these and their elements of plant food go into the ground with the spring plowing and will be released for the subsequent crops.

Winter legumes are excellent where they can be grown with success, but it is much easier to get a stand of rye on all kinds of soils and under various climatic conditions.

Rye is in fact the most dependable crop for poor soils, and it is the poor soil, of course, which needs a winter-crop most.

Mistakes are sometimes made in a failure to plow under rye at the right time. If the spring is dry it should be turned under early, no matter what its stage of growth is.

The danger, of course, is that rye will pump out too much soil moisture, rendering the soil hard and lumpy when plowed and giving the following crop a poor show. If the spring is wet or normal, of course, the rye should be allowed to grow as long as possible, since it will be adding benefits to the soil.

Rye being such a good soil helper ought to be given a better show than is usually accorded it. The seed bed should be well prepared and fertilizers should be applied, to both of which it makes ready response.

Georgia Has 2,893,900 People Washington, Aug. 25.—Georgia's missing census enumeration district has turned up, adding 299 more to the State's population, recently announced, and making the revised total 2,893,900. The missing district was in McIntosh county, but its addition to the previously announced total population of the State does not amount to sufficient to change the State's percentage of increase, which still remains at 10.9 per cent.
