COUNTY AGENT'S NOTES.

Winners at County Show. The annual Live Stock Show of the Oconee Jersey Bull Association and the County Club Show were both held at the Court House in Walhalla on Friday last, Nov. 19. Both the exhibits and the crowds who witnessed them proved the show a success.

In judging the pigs exhibited by club members, Mildred McDonald, of Richland, won first, but it was found too difficult to determine the winner of the second prize, so the judges voted a tie and gave a prize each to Mary C. Fowler, of the Fairfield school, and to Claude Brewer, of the Flat Shoals school.

In the Jersey Bull Association contests the three bulls were in better condition for show than the cows and heifers, and this condition should be improved upon before the next show, in the opinion of the live stock judge.

Only two pure-bred heifers were exhibited, and these were exhibited by Mr. LeCroy, of Ebenezer, who won first and second prizes, the 3d prize not being taken. The exhibit of heifer showing greatest improvement over mother (both shown) was won by W. R. Cobb, of Oak Grove, and in the opinion of the judge, Mr. La-Master, this was one of the outstanding features of the show.

Exhibits by the Girls. The exhibits of canned goods, sewing and poultry, exhibited by members of the Girls' Clubs, made a most creditable showing. W. H. McJunkin, Duroc breeder of the South Union section, brought three fine registered pigs to show the club members. He will give a similar pig to the county prize winner in the Pig Club next spring, and will offer a $15.00 cash prize for the best Duroc in next year's club.

The judges were: Corn, cowpeas, pigs and peanuts—A. A. McKeown, district agent, of Rock Hill, and B. O. Williams, Boys' Club Agent, of Bishopville.

Bull Association Show—J. P. La-Master, dairy husbandman, of Clemson College.

The merchants, business men and others who contributed prizes for this show deserve a great deal of credit for its success. Mr. Wilson, owner of The Rex Theatre, entertained the crowd royally with a free picture show, consisting of a five-reel feature, "Hearts and Jerseys," a picture show, consisting of a five-reel Cattle Club, and a one-reel picture on Pig Club Work, obtained from the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

UNION THANKSGIVING SERVICES.

Thanksgiving services will be held in the Lutheran church of Walhalla on Thursday morning of this week, the 25th, at 10 o'clock. All the congregations will unite in this service, and Rev. L. W. Langston, of the Baptist church, will preach.

The offering will go to the different orphan homes. The offerings will go as designated on the envelope of the giver.

The hour is early enough for every one to attend and reach home in time for the Thanksgiving turkey.

The assembling of ourselves together for thanksgiving and praise to the Living God is the command of our government as well as a privilege and duty to God. We have cause for gratitude for the blessings that have come to us through enormous harvests.

Miss Mary Hines, a member of the senior class of Winthrop College, will spend Thanksgiving holiday with her home folks.

Miss Jessie Lawrence and Miss Maggie Sheridan will take advantage of Thanksgiving holiday and visit their home folks in Greenwood. They will leave Wednesday afternoon. Before returning they will attend the State Teachers' Association, which will be in session in Spartanburg on Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

W. M. Nield, for a number of years a resident of Seneca, but who now claims Washington, D. C. as his home, is expected to arrive Thursday for a brief visit to his brother, R. D. Nield.

The usual Thanksgiving services, in which all the denominations of the town unite, will be held in the Presbyterian church Thursday morning at 11 o'clock. Rev. H. B. Hardy, the new Methodist pastor, will preach the sermon, but all the resident pastors of the other churches will have a part in the services. An appropriate music program will be given. The offering will be equally divided between the four church orphanages of the State unless otherwise specified on the envelopes.

Little Macie Sitton Pickrell was a welcome arrival last week and will make her home with Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Pickrell in Atlanta. Mrs. Pickrell is remembered here by a host of friends of her girlhood, as Miss Glenella Sitton, and they congratulate the parents on the happy event.

The teachers from Seneca who will attend the State Teachers' Association, which meets in Spartanburg this week, are as follows: Supt. J. P. Coats, Misses Lawrence, Adams, Smith, Holland, Croner, Sheridan and Misses Maggie and Lela Thompson.

Mr. and Mrs. John Edwards attended the Clemson-Furman football game in Greenville Saturday.

Seneca school has the distinction of having its superintendent, J. P. Coats, elected president of the association for the ensuing year. Congratulations! The 24th Annual State Conference of the Daughters of the American Revolution was held in the First Baptist church of Anderson on the 16th, 17th and 18th. There were 74 registered delegates, nine State officers, four regents, besides a large number of visiting D. A. R. and other organizations present. One remarkable feature of the occasion was the presence of four ex-regents—Mrs. H. W. Richardson, Columbia; Mrs. Louise F. Mayes, Greenville; Mrs. F. H. H. Calhoun, Clemson, and Mrs. R. M. Bratton, York, and the presiding regent, Mrs. Eleanor Humes Duvall, were all on the platform with the nine State officers. The business sessions were presided over by Mrs. Duvall, and every detail of the business was dispatched with rapidity and with ease. The work done among the 52 chapters showed increasing interest in Tamassée Industrial School, which was launched by the State D. A. R. four years ago, and is owned and supported by the organization. In the $50,000 drive for founders in June the whole amount was raised—Walhalla leading in securing the largest number of found-

EXPORT CORPORATION SUBSCRIPTIONS CALLED FOR.

Former Governor Richard I. Manning, president of the American Export and Import Corporation, has issued a call for all subscriptions to this cotton export corporation.

After this week cotton will be taken at market price, so it will be well for those who subscribed cotton and Liberty Bonds to send them in at once. Geo. R. Briggs, County Agent.

Herring Given Eight Years.

Anderson, Nov. 21.—Houston R. Herring was sentenced by Judge Gary here yesterday to eight years in the penitentiary for killing Clarence Tolly on Sept. 1 last. His attorneys gave notice of appeal and he was released on bond.

There were sixteen homicide cases on docket at this term of Court, but only a very few were reached.

ers, having reached the grand total of 36 founders, while several chapters made a close race.

Great interest was also manifested in the rehabilitation of Tillytully, a devastated town in France, and also in many other worthy causes. The reports of the State officers were all of great importance and showed wonderful growth of the organization since its birth 24 years ago. But the most important of all the reports was that of the treasurer, Mrs. M. T. Turner, which showed that $20,000 had passed through her hands during the past year. The local clubs of Anderson served an elegant four-course luncheon in the dining room of the church each day of the Conference. An informal reception at the Country Club was given the members of the conference Thursday afternoon and another the same evening at the elegant home of Mr. and Mrs. Dexter Brown.

Charleston extended a cordial invitation for the 25th annual conference of the S. C. D. A. R., to meet in the "City by the Sea" in 1921, which was accepted.
