APPALING ARMENIAN EXIST IN Armenia—Extracts from Letter of Thos. Mills, of New York City.

Two days' traveling about and observing generally the conditions of the refugees in the city of Erivan, Armenia, has been more than sufficient to convince a field man, long familiar with relief work that it is not disease which is killing off the inhabitants of Erivan. It is plain hunger—starvation—exposure. "Outside one of the Near East Relief's soup kitchens I saw shivering in the cold and snow hundreds of starving children, who cried bitterly from hunger and exposure. They kept coming in from everywhere all day, presenting a heartrending picture in their scanty rags and shoeless feet. The impending end to many of their short lives was plainly written in their glassy and staring eyes. "All possible relief is given to those applying at the Near East Relief soup kitchen, and a bowl of soup or boiled grits is given out to each child until the kettles are empty. Dreadful as it may seem, it is absolutely necessary to turn away many unaided owing to lack of supplies. "The number of orphans keeps increasing to such an extent that the Near East cannot hope to properly care for all, and many are dying every day in Erivan. Fifteen victims of starvation were removed from the central district of the city yesterday. "The above extract was taken from a letter written Feb. 20th, 1922. Send your contributions to Miss Addie Tatham, Chairman Near East Relief, Walhalla, S. C.

Some Later Facts. To the above appeal we take the liberty of appending the following letter which comes to us from the Columbia office of the State Treasurer of the Near East Relief: "Alexandropol, April 6, 1922.—With the break-up of winter in the mountain villages of Central Armenia Near East Relief investigations revealed terrible starvation among the refugees and orphans. K. A. Downer, of Kingston, N. Y., returned from a five-day horseback visit to twenty villages having a population of 25,000 people. He says that foodstuffs throughout the area are exhausted. "Bread is made from all sorts of substitutes, including flax, chaff and sawdust, having no appreciable food value. The people are extracting undigested materials from old refuse and giving it to the children. The health conditions are critical. Gastric and intestinal troubles are prevailing, due to malnutrition. A large per cent of the people are suffering from skin diseases. One-fourth of the adults are incapacitated and bed-ridden. Only one in fifty of the population is normal. "In the villages visited there are 1,500 orphans who should be removed immediately if they are to live. Even in small villages the weekly death list includes ten children. In many villages all children have lost their hair during the winter. "Several cases were so desperate that the people resorted to eating of human flesh, which practice was very sharply punished by the authorities. Officials said that they are doing all they can to prevent it, but the people lose their senses from hunger. "At Mahmaudenchuk, visited family of fifteen persons a month ago. Now only three of the family remain. The dead include all the male members of the family. "All village inhabitants expressed concern about securing seed and grain for spring planting. Hope is expressed that the Armenian government would obtain seed, particularly barley.

"The headman of the largest village said: 'If we can secure seed we shall be on our feet by mid-summer. If we don't get seed, we are doomed to death. Jaquith.' William M. Gibbs, Jr., Treasurer, Palmetto National Bank, Columbia, S. C.
