The place of meeting of the stockholders of the Atlantic and French Broad Valley Railroad and the Edgefield, Trenton and Aiken Railroad has been changed from Ninety Six to Greenwood on account of the inability of Ninety Six to furnish accommodations for the meeting.

The College.

Our editorial in last week's issue on the subject of a college at this place seems to have met with unanimous favor in this vicinity. One gentleman has informed us that upon certain reasonable conditions he will take one thousand dollars worth of stock in the building.

No definite plan for raising the money has yet been agreed upon; neither has the amount the building should cost been fixed, but these and other subjects necessarily connected with the college are being thoroughly and intelligently discussed.

Another Black Brute Lynched! A black fiend named John Johnson, aged 17 years, outraged a little white girl by the name of Alice McDowell 13 years old, at Rock Hill, in York County, on the 11th inst. The little girl, with others, went out in the edge of town to pick plums, and when by herself, was assaulted and outraged. The negro was arrested and identified by the girl and placed in the guard house. He made a full confession of the crime to the Mayor of the town on the evening of his confinement in the guard house though the guilt was fastened to him before the shadow of a doubt before he confessed to the Mayor. About 10 o'clock on the morning following, about one hundred masked men proceeded to the guard house, overpowered the guard, carried the negro out and hung him to a tree in Main Street about forty feet from Robertson's Hotel. When dis-covered, his tongue was out of his mouth and his feet were only a few inches from the ground. His neck was not broken, death ensuing from strangulation. His breast displayed a placard upon which was written the following emphatic proclamation: "Our women shall be protected." The little girl was badly hurt and suffered much pain. The men of Rock Hill only did their duty.

Civil Service Reform.

The Republican party just before an election always becomes very penitent and promises the dear people, if allowed to retain power for one more term, to rectify past abuses and do better in the future. Some of the rank and file have been crying lustily for civil service reform, but what does the leaders care for that so long as they can carry out their schemes by taking a portion of the salary paid each officer of the government. It is really the government indirectly paying the campaign expenses of the Republican party. Here is one of the documents received by a postmaster of this county handed us by him for publication or such comment as we might think necessary. It is needless to say they backed up the wrong tree:

HEADQUARTERS OF THE REPUBLICAN CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEE, 1882. 520 Thirteenth St., N. W., Washington, D. C. WASHINGTON, D. C., May 15, 1882.—Sir: This Committee is organized for the protection of the interests of the Republican party in each of the Congressional Districts of the Union. In order that it may prepare, print and circulate suitable documents illustrating the issues which distinguish the Republican party from any other and may meet all proper expenses incident to the campaign the Committee feels authorized to apply to all citizens whose principles or interests are involved in the struggle. Under the circumstances in which the country finds itself placed, the Committee believes that you will esteem it both a privilege and a pleasure to make to its fund a contribution, which, it is hoped, may not be less than $5. The Committee is authorized to state that such voluntary contribution from persons employed in the service of the United States will not be objected to in any official quarter.

The laborers of the Committee will effect the result of the Presidential election in 1884 as well as the Congressional struggle; and it may therefore reasonably hope to have the sympathy and assistance of all who have with them, upon the possibility of the restoration of the Democratic party to the control of the government. Please make prompt and favorable response to this letter by bank check or draft, or postal money order, payable to the order of Jay A. Hubbard, acting Treasurer, P. O. Lock Box 582, Washington, D. C. By order of the Committee.

The Democrats of Anderson are making it hot for Mr. W. W. Russell, the Greenback Apostle of that County. Maj. Murray and Col. Simpson met and demolished him at Sandy Springs, and Maj. Murray met him subsequently at Lee's Mill with the same result.

Club Meeting—Public Meeting at this Place July 1st Proximo.

The Pickens C. H. Democratic Club met on last Saturday. The following delegates were elected to the County Convention: R. A. Child, J. K. Kirksey, J. T. Price, J. H. Newton, J. E. Boggs, W. B. Allgood, A. E. Kelley, Alternates G. W. Singleton, Job Mauldin, C. Griffin, J. C. Thompson, O. P. Field, C. L. Hollingsworth, W. B. F. Taylor. Mr. H. C. Grady was elected a member of the County Executive Committee. Mr. Boggs offered the following resolution: "Resolved, That it is the sense of this Club that the mode of nominating candidates by primary election should be adhered to." Mr. Child opposed the resolution on the ground that it amounted to instructions to the delegates, and while he individually favored primary elections, he was opposed to instructing the delegates. After further debate by Messrs. J. E. Boggs, A. E. Kelley, W. B. Allgood, J. H. Newton and G. W. Singleton, the resolution was withdrawn and each delegate and alternate requested to state to the Club how they stood on the question. All favored the primary plan of nominating candidates, which seemed to be the unanimous sentiment of the Club. Mr. Child offered the following which after debate, was unanimously adopted.

"Resolved; That this club hold a public meeting at this place on Saturday the 1st day of July next at 11 o'clock A. M., and that all candidates in the County be requested to be present and address the meeting." It is the purpose to have quite a large meeting, if possible, on this occasion and formally open the campaign in the County on that day.

Atlantic and French Broad Valley Railroad.

We were gratified to meet Capt. Kirk, Chief Engineer of the Atlantic and French Broad Valley Railroad, in town last week. The Captain was on his way to the mountains where he goes for the purpose of a few days recreation. He informs us that it is the intention of the contractors to complete the Atlantic and French Broad Road from Aiken to this place as rapidly as possible, and that contracts for furnishing cross ties along the line will soon be let out. The syndicate to construct the entire road has been formed in New York, and they are to be represented at the meeting of stock holders at Greenwood on the 29th inst. The outlook for the road is encouraging and within the next twelve months we hope to see the cars running to this place.

Eastate Items.

Mr. Ebery's Corn has begun to grow, but cotton fails to make much show. Mud dogs are passing around and scattering that fatal disease. I know of several dogs that have been bitten that are running at large. I think the good people should make a rule to kill every dog that is bitten, whether the owner has enough respect for the safety of the public welfare to want his dog that has been bitten killed or not.

If the Legislature is called in extra session, I think they ought to pass a law, forcing the owner to either kill or to keep securely confined every dog that has been bitten by a rabid dog or pay a severe penalty. I believe that is the only way to get rid of the disease.

James King has had a sever spell of fever, but has got able to go to Broad where his parents reside. He will stay there until he recruits up. Wash Bowen and T. C. Akins went to Hendersonville, North Carolina, T. C. A. brought a lady back with him from there, and it is just Ellen now, not Miss Ellen.

W. R. Price has resumed operations at his distillery. He commenced in May. G. W. Taylor and James K. Kirksey contemplate building a good road from, or near, W. R. Price's to the top of the Bald Knob, thence to the Table Rock. If they go ahead and build the road and put up a good hotel, it will be another Caesar's Head. With the advantages of the Atlantic and French Broad Valley Railroad, which on the present survey, will run in one mile of the foot of the mountain, will help to make it one of the most important summer resorts in the South when it is built.

Peas! have you got any peas you can spare me to replant my cotton patch? Has been the cry for two or three weeks. Go register, all ye folkies, whether you be Democrat, Radical, Independent, Greenbacker, or whether you are anybody or not. Your vote is one, just the same as the Governor's. Remember the time is out the last of this month all you Eastate mountain boys, is the way I have it in LOOKING ON.

To the Brethren of the Twelve Mile River Baptist Association.

The Union Meeting to appoint the time and place for the meeting of the Association in 1883, was appointed at East Fork, in the Third Union District. I had the pleasure of visiting the Transylvania County Convention, where the most of the churches of said county met, and in their body they recommended all the churches of said county to form themselves into a County Association, to be known as the Transylvania County Association. They are to meet on Wednesday before the first Sunday in October, before our time—ours being on Thursday before the 2d. I think we had better meet and appoint the place in the 4th Union District, and for a meeting of this purpose, be at Holly Springs Church, and invite the churches of the 4th Union District to send up delegates on Friday before the fifth Sunday in July next, and hope that each church that would desire the body to meet with them will make it known through your a legation. We invite the brethren from all the churches of the Association to meet with us, and we especially invite the ministering brethren to come prepared to stay a few days—we would like to have a revival. Yours fraternally, JAS. T. BURDINE.

Judge Cothran for Governor.

We publish the following endorsement of Judge Cothran, for Governor of South Carolina. Mr. Wellborn, we presume, did not intend the letter for publication, but as the commendations are so eminently deserving, we take the liberty of transferring the letter to our columns: BART N'S CREEK, OGDEN CO., S. C., June 9th, 1882.

To Hon. D. F. Bradley:

DEAR SIR—Being on a visit at this place and seeing your request in the SENTINEL to the Democratic voters of PICKENS, as their choice for our next Governor I, as one, give you my choice, which is Judge Jas. S. Cothran, of Abbeville. My knowledge of Judge Cothran only extends back to 1876. I then only heard his expressions on the stand, and from that to his position as Solicitor, then to his Judgeship. With many acts of personal kindness, one of which was the care he took of old Mrs. Ladd, by securing for her comfortable quarters during her trial at Greenville, finding her on the streets homeless, I believe Judge Cothran to be wholesome and deeply interested in the welfare of the State.

Very respectfully, MARTIN J. WELBORN.

[From the Philadelphia Times.] The Gettysburg Reunion.

Trotting down the by-road the party reached the wooded crest of Seminary Ridge, and following the crest came to the rough patches of timber where Wilcox's brigade was thought to have made its start. The interest of the Southerners deepened, over Pomeroy's massive features coping the smile of recognition as of an old time friend. Their tongues were unloosed and turned off incidents now remembered for the first time since the battle.

"Right, heah," said the Alabama Congressman (Pomeroy) in the Gulf-State tongue that seemed about as odd to Pennsylvania ears as the Down-East enunciation of the Maine colonels present; "right heah by this white oak Gen. Lee stood, and he began, sirs, scanning the other fella's with a long glass. Captain Walter Winn says, 'General, it's no use for you to stay heah.' 'Oh,' says Gen. Lee, 'I don't think they'll shoot an innocent man.' Just then a bullet came co blip, and I remember, —yes, I remember—hit the tree just above his head." This is one of a hundred incidents just as interesting, few of which have found their way into print, told as the party stood at various points upon the field. While some were humorous, as many were tragic. If sermons were not found in stones, trees, fences, fields and the little pools of spring water furnished the missing links whereby suggestions came.

Co. D. Wyatt Aiken was not particularly excited until he stumbled upon a black gum tree, the top half of which was missing. "Now," he exclaimed, standing back, his eyes firing with the light of sudden and vivid recollection, "I am as certain as I live that I saw a man killed right there. He was an officer in Semme's brigade, my support, and was laughing and talking with my men. He sat down by the side of that tree, the picture of health and gallantry. As he sat there a round shot from a Federal battery cut the trunk of the tree off, and though the shot never touched him, he was dead in a second. The concussion alone killed him." By means of the tree Col. Aiken knew the position of his troops and could point out the spot where Gen. Semmes fell, swooning into the death sleep while hopefully tying a bandage about his wound.

ON TO THE FEDERAL LINE. The Confederate position on that part of Lee's left was established in this way, a knoll suggesting this and a dell that. At every one of these points a small stake, duly numbered and registered, was driven, under Col. Bachelor's scrutiny. Indeed the only weapons upon the field were the stake-driver's sledge hammer and the canes of the generals. Aiken, after some what by his discoveries, led a battalion, armed with the latter, over the ground of his charge, first through a wheat field, then between some rows of corn and at last down a rocky bottom, where more stories of daring, of triumph or of loss were told. "I was upon one of these knollers," said Gen. Brooke, not at all out of breath from the long trudge, "what a bullet hit me in the ankle, and then he explained how his brigade came to get into such a tight place, while Aiken listened with both ears for he had faced Brooke there and may have sent the bullet that took the bite of flesh. Congressman Shallenberger, youthful in looks, but grave in manner, also paid close attention, for he was with Cook when that gallant man was slain just on the hill a few hundred yards away. "We are paired for the House to day, Aiken," he said, "and I begin to think we were paired on the 2d of July, '63. This sally the party enjoyed, unmindful that Shallenberger got a bit of lead in his leg on the hill in question—a sort of companion bullet to a much worse one that came later in the Wilderness.

Anderson Intelligence: On Sunday evening a mad dog made its appearance in Belton, and after biting a little child in the yard of Mr. Joel T. Rice, prowled about town nearly all night, having a lively time with the dogs of the place, and about daylight departed for the country. Four or five miles from Belton it bit another child, and late Monday afternoon returned to Belton, when it was killed. We understand that twenty-five dogs were killed at Belton on Monday. This was right. If all the worthless dogs in the county were treated in a similar manner it would be a good thing. In Anderson County, Mr. D. S. Maxwell made 120 bushels of oats on one acre of ground, Capt. John McGrath 18 1/2 bushels of wheat on a half acre and J. M. Elgin 30 1/2 bushels of wheat on one acre.

A Good Foundation.

In American households the prevailing complaints are weakness of the stomach and its consequences, indigestion, nervousness and rheumatism. Such sufferers can find a good foundation for health by using Parker's Ginger-Tonic as it tones up the stomach and nerves, and keeps the kidneys active to carry off the foul matter.—N. O. Triangler.

Keowee Courier: During the nomenclature excitement in this State Gov. Wilson visited the up country on the occasion of the military reviews. A political meeting was held on Table Rock. Pamphletown artillery company hauled their cannon to the top of the Rock and fired salutes on the occasion. Speeches were made by Gov. Wilson and others and a good old fashioned gathering was enjoyed on that day. There is no "mash" on Table Rock now, but Messrs. Taylor & Kirksey will show you a chance to make a for-

A GENTLEMAN who suffered for years from Nervous Debility, Premature Decay, and all the effects of youthful indiscretion, will for the sake of suffering humanity, send free to all who need it, the recipe and directions for making the simple remedy by which he was cured. Sufferers wishing to profit by the advertiser's experience can do so by addressing in perfect confidence, JOHN B. OGDEN, 42 Cedar street, New York.

To Consumptives. THE advertiser having been permanently cured of that dread disease, Consumption, by a simple remedy, is anxious to make known to his fellow sufferers the means of cure. To all who desire it, he will send a copy of the prescription used, (free of charge) with the directions for preparing and using the same, which they will find a sure cure for Coughs, Colds, Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, &c. Parties wishing the Prescription, will please address, Rev. B. A. WILSON, 104 Penn street, Williamsburg, New York.
