A NORTH : HN BELLE.

A correspondent of the New York Herald, writing from Long Branch, thus describes a Northern Belle. Heaven save the South from such belles :

In conclusion let me give you another incident of the life of a Long Branch belle. I was stroling through the bar room of the Continental Hotel last eveping, when a horse galloped up to the door, and a young lady sprang from the sabstration guarantee as to the character of the saddle unaided. She was dressed in Goods they will send out.

A large and w.ll associal stock of came up, she give him directions as to what fare the horse should get for all the world like a turfmaster who had been brought up among horses-all his lifetime. The groom had no sooner gone than she deliberately walked up to the bar, in company with a gentleman, $20 and over who met her at the door, and called for a glass of bottled ale, and what is more, she stood at the counter until she had drained the last drop out, and until the ways kept up to the highest standard. gentleman, who did't drink, had paid Manufacturers and Dealers in Mon's and Boys for it .. This young lady belongs to one of the best paying parties stopping at the Branen, and is a lady, in the ordinary acceptance of the term. In the face of her bar room feat, what becomes of the beauties who, they say, horrified a foreigner here the other day by drinking punches out on the lawn? Are we Planters and Merchants.

AWKWARD

The great objection to the compulsory concation law in Texas is that many of the ladies in that State marry young, and as the act compels all between the ages of six and eighteen to attend school a large number of youthful married women are raziously inquiring what is to become of the babies while the mothers are being educated. An exception clause for their benefit is urgently demanded, but as the law goes into effect before the Legislature meets again, the situation is an embarrassing one for wives, husband and

Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restore to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous, and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can enly benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a
