For the Times. LETTER FROM CHARLESTON.

CHARLESTON, S. C., May 12. This has been a gala week in the "City by the We have had the most delicious weather and a variety of sensations. A big excursion party from Georgia one day, overflowed the whole city in search of pleasure, and some got more than they contracted for.

Then we had the Press Association, with Dr. Bagby's inimitable personal illustrations; then Cantatas and Mrs. Jonley's Wax works at night by the juveniles, and Regattas in day time by vention, and Memorial Day, crowned by the satisfaction of knowing that the old State is once more free under "Hampton and Home

The Bankers, Brokers and Factors have been wonderfully exercised about the Usury Law, and the "Chamber of Commerce," as usual, has been called on to scotch if not kill the snake .-There is a grim humor in the whole proceedure, and the poor farmers ought to feel very thankful for the interest those gentlemen take in their affairs. Of course their only wish in making money plenty and cheap is to benefit the borrowers-the poor farmer.

There is one difficulty in the solution of this problem, however. If money can be borrowed in New York or anywhere else for 3, 4, 5 or 6 per cent., it is sure to become dearer when it gets down here. The risks of transportation are so great, we guess

2d. We are told by the Banks and Bankers that they have millions lying idle in their vaults. The trouble is, not the scarcity of money, but of collaterals. Any man who can pile up the collaterals, and is willing to pay one per cent. a month, can get his note cashed.

2d. When the Usury Law was about to be abolished, these same Bankers and Brokers assured us of the most beneficial effects which must follow. The benefits did not come to the class which most needed help-the money went into the Banks; the Banks declared large dividends, and the poor people paid the penalty.

We are not taking a "political economy view of this question at all. We don't deny the right any man has to sell his money at the highst price he can get for it.

We don't wonder at the opposition of Bankers to a Usury Law. They know where the shoe pinches, but we do object to their basing their opposition upon false grounds. The other party have a right to try the experiment-particularly as they are to be the sufferers. We reckon the Bankers can stand it as long as the borrowers have stood the other experiment.

The Legislature seems inclined to give the question the go-by for the present, and during the recess the subject will be ventilated in the press and on the stump. Well, when the crop is laid by the people will need a little stirring up. Times are in danger of growing dreadfully dull. There are evident signs of improvement in business in the City since the new regime began. The old houses are being repaired, new houses built, new fences and fixtures are going up. The whitewash brush has been brought into requisition and a more cheerful look is given to everything. Although trade cannot improve until the new crop comes in, there is a hopefulness about the peoble, a feeling of security and an assurance that times must grow better, that is quite cheering.

Wages are better and men work with a better heart. The health of the City is very good. The market gardeners have been enjoying their harvest. Immense quantities of fruits and vegetables have been shipped North, we presume with profit. Green Peas, Snap Beans, Beets, Turnips and Asparagus, are now so abundant that any body can afford to indulge in such luxuries. Strawberries are abundant and cheap, and Blackberries are being ding-donged about the streets at low down figures.

The war news still continues to be startling. The position of Great Britain is critical. If that power should become involved there is no calculating how or when it will end.

cotten and grow more provisions. Will they do it? It is madness to plant a large crop of cotton, under the present aspect of things in the old world, with a knowledge of a full supply on NOUS VERRONS.

A DEN OF WICKEDNESS. - During the discussion of the Appropriation bill in the House of Representatives last Monday, the following expositions

Wells, from Richland, moved to add an apply ion of $1,108.67 for the support of the Residence of the Residen Wells, from Richland, moved to add an preparation of teachers.

Mr. Simpson—It has been said that the Dem-oratic party is pledged to provide educational facilities for the colored people. Well, sir, we have fulfilled those pledges in appropriating large sums for the public schools, and we have appropriated nothing for the education of the white children. We intend to keep our pledges, but we do not intend to foster every institution that has been gotten up here in the last few years. In those years the white people have been almost entirely excluded from education by

Mr. Sheppard-The constituents of the gen-Mr. Sheppard—The constituents of the gen-tleman from Richland (Mr. Wells) do not pay 1-10 of the taxes, while they get 9-10 of the ben-efits of education by the State. What recogni-tion have the white people had upon this floor for the last ten years? Our pledges are more than redeemed by the appropriations we have already made, and my only apprehension is that our constituents may not sustain us in them.— As far as the character of the institution is con-cerned, I would tell this House about it, were it not for circumstances which at this memerature. net for circumstances which at this moment sur-round us (the presence of ladies in the hall.)— I have information in relation to the conduct of that institution which would justify this Legislature in wiping it out of existence at once, for it is a disgrace to the State and to civilization. Against the good that is done there I can show that it does ten times the harm. It is a den of wickedness and a hot bed of infamy.

The motion to amend was laid on the table.

FAREWELL, FATTY.—Old fraud Whittemore had left us. Rebellious, Ku Klux South Carolina was too hot for the old firebrand, and the burly "Duke of Darlington" will be no more among us forever. The old thieving mush tub suddently discovered yesterday that the salubrious climate of South Carolina had been made very sickly for him by the investigation committee. mate of South Carolina had been made very sickly for him by the investigating committee, and asked for an indefinite leave of absence in consequence of "sickness in his family." God forbid that we should deny even a condemned murderer such a privilege, if he really required it, but, from sources which we could not doubt, we learn that the old cadetship-seller, seeing the penitentiary in the distance, and not disease and death in his family, concluded to pretend the one and avoid the other, and so "got up and got;" like a good, little, fat Radical thief as he is. Good-bye, old boy. South Carolina has been cursed with no greater scamp than the Senator from Darlington, who made his start in South Carolina by marrying the emancipated blacks at a dollar a head in gangs of fifties and hundreds,—Columbia Register.

359. Last week we stated that the Tax for State purposes, as reported by the committee, would be only five mills on the dollar. Since then the Committee have added a section to the bill, providing for the payment of the interest on the public debt, which increases the tax to seven mills for State purposes and three mills for County purposes, or ten mills in all, against 18 mills last year. The section providing fer s he interest on the public debt reads thus: "That the sum of three hundred thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, and the same is hereby appopriated, to pay the January and July, 1877, interest upon the consolidated tonds and certificates of the State issued under the provisions of the Act to reduce the volume of the public debt; provided, that no part thereof shall be applied to the payment of the interest upon the said consolidated bonds and certificates of State stock until the holders thereof shall have submitted the same to the inspection and scrutiny of a Commission raised for the purpose by the General Assembly and until said Commission shall have determined the same to be valid and bona fide."

MAJ. RENO RUN OUT .- Washington, May 8, At the Cabinet meeting to-day, the court mar-tial case of Major Reno, 7th Cavalry, was pre-sented to the President for final action, and resulted in the promulgation, at a late hour this afternoon, of the following order:

WAR DEPARTMENT, May 8, 1877. The proceedings in this case, having been forwarded under the 106th article of war to the Secretary of War, have been most carefully con-sidered, and have been submitted to the Presidemt, who approves the findings and scatence but is pleased to mitigate the latter to suspension rom rank and pay for two years from the 18th of May, 1877.

Major Reno's conduct toward the wife of an bsent officer, and in using the whole force of his power as commanding officer of the post to gratify his resentment against her, cannot be too strongly condemned, but after long deliberation upon all the circumstances of the case, as hown in the records of the trial, it is thought that his grave offenses, grave as they are, do not warrant the sentence of dismissal and all its consequences, upon one who has for twenty years borne the reputation of a brave man and honorable officer, and has maintained that repu-tion upon the battle fields of the rebellion and in contest with the Indians. The President has therefore, modified the sentence, and it is hoped that Major Reno will appreciate the elemency thus shown him, as well as the very reprehensi-ble nature of the act of which he was found guilty.

[Signed] GEO. W. MCCREARY, Secretary of War.

PLANT CORN.-How many farmers may be PLANT CORN.—How many farmers may be heard to say next winter, "If I had known the war between Russia and Turkey was going to involve half of Europe, and run provisions up to so high a price, I would have planted no cotton at all, but put all my land in corn, peas and potatoes, to raise bacon." Well they can still carry out a part of this plan, and if the war does not involve half of Europe, Russia and Turkey, aggregating one hundred millions of people, are sufficient to raise the prices considerably; and if the prices were not raised at all, such a provision crop would far exceed in value what the farmer can do with cotton. Corn can be planted until the middle of May and make very good crops, especially if the season is wet. very good crops, especially if the senson is wet as it promises to be. If half the cotton fields now planted, were plowed up and planted in corn, the result would be all the better for the corn, the result would be all the better for the owners and for the country. If the other great powers of Europe should become involved in the struggle, what then will you do with your staple, Mr. cotton-planter? Hold it? Well, if you have no debts to pay, you may do that, but it will require the sagacity of a Philadelphia lawyer, and he to be looking through the most pow-erful perspective, in order to discover the ghost of a chance for better prices.

REUNION OF TWO METHODIST ORGANIZATIONS. -Baltimore, May 10.-A General Convention of the Methodist Protestant Church, and also of the Methodist Church, the two principal non-Episcopal Methodist Churches in the United States, meets in this city to morrow, the special purpose being a formal reunion of the two denominations. Previous to 1858, they constituted one organization, and were then divided on the slavery question. In October, 1875, commissions appointed by the General Conferences of the two churches, with the view of re-establishing frater nal relations, met in Pittsburg, and agreed upon a basis of reunion. To confirm the action of this joint commission by necessary legislation the Conference will meet to-morrow, and will subsequently go into joint session. Bishop Simpson and Dr. Alex. Gibson will be in attendalculating how or when it will end.

The true policy of our people is to plant less Episcopal Church. The reunited body will comprise about one hundred and fifty thousand communicants.

> TIM. HURLET DELIVERED UP.—Messrs. Gaillard and McKinlay, who were on the bond of Timothy Hurley, delivered him up yesterday, by making the following affidavit before Justice Burnety. That some time in the month of February, 1877, he became surety of one Timothy Hurley and appearance in the Course of General Sessions to be held in Charleston on the first Monday of June; that he has good reason to believe that, and does believe he is about to leave lieve that, and does believe, he is about to leave the State, with intent to defeat the ends of justice. Whereupon, he prays that a warrant do issue for the arrest of the said Timothy Hurley, and that he be dealt with according to law.
> Signed, S. E. GAILLARD.

Signed, S. E. GAILLARD. Upon this affidavit, A. Grant was instructed to arrest Mr. Hulley, who did so, and caused him to go before the Clerk of the Court, when he renewed his bond, with Alva Gage as surety, and was discharged.

WHITTEMORE EXPOSED ONCE MORE .- Some of the Radical senators are red hot over the publication in the News and Courier, concerning Whittemore's steal of 2,100, appropriated for the procuring of the pictures of Lincoln and Sumner. Another fact has been brought out by the committee which illustrates Whittemore's veracity. The treasurer's books show that Whitte-more drew $2,000 in October, '75, out of which the $1,400 to Mathews was paid, and also, show that Whittemore drew $1,000 in October, 1876, the other $500 having been given in the shape of a due bill. Now, if Whittemore claims that he lost the money in Sclomon's bank, what be-came of the 1,000 drawn in October, 1876, after Solomon's bank had suspended This is a tough question for the cadetship peddler.—Cor.
