THE ORANGEBURG NEWS.

SATURDAY, MAY 30, 1868.

While we reserve to ourselves the right of defiwing our blin political position by means of our editorial columns, we will be pleased to publish contributions from our fellow-citizens upon the grave questions which now agitate the public mind, whether their opinions coincide with ours or not. A district newspaper, we consider, should be an index of the various shades of popular sentiment in the section of country in which it circulates. Our columns are open, therefore, for any communications p openly written, accom-panied by a responsible name, not personal in their character, nor absolutely injurious in their

"Principles, not Men."

The political contest of next week will be fought squarely on the basis of Democracy into insignificance, when this one great question is agitated: To the white men of the only political party, which is in favor of according to the South any of the rights of a free government. It is the only party, that is in favor of carrying out the faith pledged to the South on the surrender of our armies. It is the only party which throws itself fairly and squarely on the platform of the Constitution. On the other hand, so debased is the Radical party; so perfidious in its faith; so deeply dyed with the leprosy and corruption of political prostitution, that to the upright, the intelligent, the honorable, its very name is fraught with Coop disgust. Every good and virtuous citizen shuns it with horror : and among those who have the insight and intelligence to comprehend its loathsomeness, its only adherents are those who are bought by money, office, or the promises of power.

As for the colored people of the country, a plain question is brought before them, and it behooves them to weigh well their decision. They express by their votes in this election, whether they will choose as their friends those whose history is strange, to them, whose feet pre from afar jor whether they will prefer to take their choice with the white people of the country, among whom they have lived for years. The record will be emphatic; and the issue will be recorded, plearly and distingtly. The white people of South Carolina, down trodden as they have been, in adversity as they now are, have the power in themselves, by the indomitable energy, the superior intelligence, and the unconquerable will of Caucasiaus, to master their present difficulties; and the time will come, when the "baseless fabric" of the present, will totter and fall. In that hour of returning prosperity, the white people of the South will remember those colored persons who have wisely preferred their friendship to the delusions of false prophets; and as to the others, they have made the breach, and let them abide by it. We will see.

Canby, an Independent Voter.

Canby postponed the Municipal Elections, all over the State. But just afterwards, he ordered another election in Charleston for Alderman, and DIDN'T ALLOW ANY-BODY TO VOTE AT IT BUT HIMSELF. He showed his proclivities clearly by the ticket he voted, which embraced the names of seven darkeysant and stody new words

The question is; Would Canby vote that way in his own State, at the North?

An Item of Encouragement.

From Statistical Returns, it is estimated that the RED TICKET will be 200 ahead in the Fork of Edisto: The Registration there shows a white majority; and a number of colored Democrats are to be found at every [COMMUNICATED.]

In regard to the admission of the "carpet bag" Senators, by the passage of the Omnibus bill, the Baltimore Sun says : "Taking it for granted that impeachment on the present articles is dead, the question of the fate of the Omnibus and Arkansas bills becomes a matter of the gravest and most immediate consequence. What security can the dominant faction give the anti-impeachers in their own ranks that they will not take advantage of the influx of spurious Senators from the South? If they are caught in such a trap they will deserve either the execuation or contempt of every man in America! They well know that the removal of Mr. Johnson a single month before the expiration of his full term is intended to and must inevitably result in civil war. The right to make a President on grounds of party exigency alone is as clear as that of removin for precisely the same reason. With Wade in possession of the executive power, and their nominee in that of the military, what would the present House of Representatives care for a preponderance of electoral votes, even should the Radicals be in a minority after counting the full vote of all the Southern States?
