

cash accompanied with the cash $2 75 If an accompanied with the cash $5 00 Contract Advertisements inserted upon the most Contract Au liberal terms.

MARBIAGE and FUNERAL NOTICES, not ex-

For Terms Cash in Advance. "OR a young fellow as ever turned his back on the bustling city, for a life of health and freedom in Nature's towns-the woods.

He was tall-taller than most men, but you would scarcely have thought it, he was so admirably proportioned, and his handsome sun-my soul!" "Then, Harry, break with me a stick at the running stream, and be true to me as to your soul." Taking up a slender twig, she held it towards her lover and with her blue eyes pierc-ng his very heart, she said : "When Enomah forgets you, may the Great the frest rose, but his meaning like the thorn Spirit of her nation forget her, and forever concelled beneath, and with his double tongue leny her entrance to the happy hunting he lured away a daughter of our tribe-my rounds of her father and brothers."

"Speak !" "On the day that Harry Houston proves alse to his Heartsease, may the good right hand which holds this twig wither from his arm, and may his Great Spirit blot his name from the book of life."

broken twig had touched the stream when they Great Spirit is stronger than ours, and he clasped each other in a fervid embrace, for- shall be free. I have said it, and it shall be getting all the world beside.

"But my father !" suddenly exclaimed Heartsease, disengaging herself from Harry's arms, "he will never consent."

"No? Is he so inveterate in his hatred to our ruce ?"

orbid my marriage with one of you." "Then our only plan is to journey two days toward the dawn, where we will find a mars of And, who will make us men and will Mannoise then 19 nee us fo reiveness hannole then return us in get eness, we will her adsband stood, calm and unmoved. and her left arm terribly lacerated as if with pass our lives in happiness and contentment, living for each other and our children. Shall left her conductors and bounded to his side.

panther, claiming to have slain it, then she stick has made me yours." Ctold her tale-how the monstor came upon her Five days after this wildwood betrothal the sealed

"The pale hunter," continued Manaoue, when the the murmur had died away, "came to us as a flond, and we opened our wigwams to his tired feet and gave him of the best to eat, he came to us with honey on his tongue hiding the sting within his heart, his words were like child. Enomah. What is thisfalse friend's doom??

smile played upon his features, "we will give him a chance for his life. He shall leap from They scarcely waited till the pieces of the the pald rock ; if he escape death then, his so 12

There were a few among the assembled warniors who murmured because they could not have the demoniacal pleasure of torturing the panter, but the majority took the side of "Terribly so ! and more especially would he terring whoops, to the edge of the precepiceyou aw it to day.

chold her pale face warrior die," comubcollist, and poor Heartscase, now englilly sha led to where Look came into his clear, dar's eye, as she "Harry, husband, must you die?" she wailed.

"So it has been decreed by your stern fathcruel thing about me," and here the sobs chocked her voice so that she could hardly speak ;" he said I wasn't anybody, and that father drinks."

"My poor little girl," Mrs. Ellet said, very sadly. There were tears in her eyes, too. Such taunts as this were nothing new.

"Oh, mother," Susie said, as she lifted her face, wet with tears, from her mother's lap, "I can't bear to have them say so, and act just as if I had done something wicked. I wish father wouldn't drink ! Do you suppose he'll ever leave it off!

"I hope so," Mrs. Ellet answered, as sh kissed Susie's face where the tears clung like "No," said Manaone, and a dark, sinister drops of dew on a rose. "I pray that he may break off the habit, and I can do nothing but pray, and leave the rest to God.". That night Mr. Ellet came home to supper, as usual. He was a hard-working man, and a good neighbor. So everybody said, but he had the habit of intemperance, so firmly fixed upon him that everybody thought he would end his days in the drunkard's grave. Susie kissed him when he came through the gate, as she always did, but there was something in her face Man pone, and the victim was dragged, amid that went to his heart. A look so sad, and full of touching sorrow for one so young as "What ails my little girl ?" he asked, as he patted her curly head. "I gan't In you, father," she answered

> Why ? he ask "Because it would make you feel bad," Susie replied.

M.r Ellet made no reply. But something stirred in his heart that made him ashamed of himself; ashamed that he was the cause of se

After supper he took his hat, and Mrs. El evening, but the force of habit was so strong that he could not resist, and he yielded, prom ising himself, that he would not drink more

Susie had left the table before he finis hed

"Oh, good Jesus please don't let father

Susie's father listened to her simple prayer with a great lump swelling in his throat. And when it was ended he went up to her, and knelt down by her side, and put his arm around

"God in Heaven," he said, very solemnly, back into the house where his wife was sitting with the old patient look of sorrow on her

I cannot tell you of the joy and thanksgivthe prices with the ing that went up from that hearthstone that

Was not Susie's prayer answered ?

do."

itid marker as mother's sake and mine."

her, oh, so lovingly !

a better man "

"I guess not," he said, as they walked up to the door together. "What is it, Susie?" "Oh, father," and Susie burst Into tears structed and restored to the Union. The undersigned therefore, announce that no such disabilities exist by force of any law, or supposed law, or authority whatever; and they urge their hitherto disfranchised fellowcitizens, in every part of the State, to exercise their right, to vote at the coming election for President and Vice-President, of which right they have been so long deprived by military power. By order of the.

States, the disabilities therein expressed having reference to office-holding, and not to

3. That, no such disabilities exist by the so-called State Constitution of 1868, under which it is claimed that the State has been recon-voting. Watant all to be starf Brady Aug

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

BANARA Items. Orangeonario

The Indianapolis pension agency has 12.000 names, and the annual payments amount to $1,800,000.

The eastern shore of Lake Michigan furnished Chicago with 50,000 bushels of peaches this season. 22 miles of fence inclose a farm of 13,090 acres in Illinois, which is subdivided by 70 miles of hedre.

The needle-gun has been introduced into the armies of Denmark, Sweden, Holland, and

The length of England, from Berwick to Land's End, is estimated at 426 miles.

It is said that Mrs. John Wood, the actress, has married a London journalist.

the fangs of some wild beast. It was on the day following, when a party of warriors it be so, darling?" brought in the dead body of an enermous "I will do as you say, Harry; the broken left the branch upon his deadly spring, when she felt herself pushed one side, and knew that another had received almost the full force of the beast's decent, one of the armed claws.

"Then a change came. Heartscase, when

At last after a week had passed uncheered by her presence, he determined, weak as he was, to seek the Indian village, and, if possible see

"He was not destined to exert himself so much on that occasion, for scarcely had he ion neved half the distance when he can e upon the objects of his thoughts, carelessly tos sing pebbles into a little stream which flowed

"My preserver !" And the guileless forest child sprang to meet him; then suddenly

"Why have you stayed so long from me, Heartsease ?" inquired the hunter, with a

"Did my white friend miss me, then."

checking her ardor she paused, and with a confused blush, gave him her hand.

glance of unconcealed admiration.

cent walk

the Indian maiden.

at he. feet.

"Heartscase !"

Before me, the towering precipice rising in majestic grandeur, with scarce a crevice to relieve the monotony of perpendicular face, nearly two hundred feet heavenward ; to the left. the straggling broken chain of rugged mountains, scanty clothed with the hardy verdure indigenous to this part of our country. To my right and rear, as far as eye could reach, the rolling prairie, whose single stream meandering liggthly from the foot of the hills through the tall w. ving grass until lost in the distance: and at my feet, the graves-the grave of the true and beautiful; the grave of health seemed suddenly to have conceived an the fearless and manly.

I had halted for the night within a mile of this storied spot, and my octogenarian host, whose faculties were still as clear as the rippling rill running past his door, had kindly promised to relate to me the mournful tale which gave to the precipitous mountain the name of Enomah's Leap.

"But," said he, "while supper is in course of preparation, you should view the soot more closely; it may serve to bring the last scence more vividly before you.

This suggestion I had acted upon, and the grand and gloomy beauty of the place had prepared my mind for any legend, however weird. But this, my host said, was no legend, but simple truth, for he saw and knew the principal actors in it before it happened, and was among the first of the white race at the scene of the tragedy.

After a hearty backwoods supper, we twain seated ourselves, with our corncob pipes, upon the bench before the door, in the bright moonlight, and the old man commenced :

unawares, and she had expected nothing but hunter entered the Sioux village, leading by a terrible death. The pauther had already the hand his happy, yet anxious bride. Hearts- leap from this rock." case had been sorely missed by Manaone, but as she was in the habit of straying off to the settlements, and remaining absent for days together, her disappearance occasioned no real only, having reached her left arm, the wounds alarm ; nevertheless Manaone received her pais."

feet

with a species of grim pleasure.

"Was Enough lost, that she is led home by the white hunter ?" said her father, after a stately nod to Harry

"Heartsease remained silent, while a deeper crimson suffused her cheek and brow.

"No, Manaone," quickly replied Harry who saw that the power of speech had for the moment left his bride. "Enomah was not lost. but she has journeyed with me to the lodge of a servant of Mauito, who has married us. Panther-slaver comes to you as a son. Will you forgive us ?"

"What ! dog of a pale face !" almost shricked Manaone. "The daughter of a great chief has become your squaw, and you have come to me for forgiveness? Ha! ha! you shall have it! You shall have such forgiveness as the rounded bear bestows upon one who steals her feebled form, when he took his first convales- cubs. Ho! Taoman !" The painted visage of a warrior appeared at the opening of the wigwam, and the chief continued, addressing she saw her patient regaining his wonted him : "Lead forth the dog of a hunter, and see that you guard him well. To-morrow, at aversion to the cabin, and many a weary hour sunrise, either he or you must die !" did Harry spend in watching for her return.

Although surprised at this reception, so different from what he had expected, Harry would have resisted to the death, had it not been that a number of warriors had rushed to the spot, upon hearing the thunder tones of Manaone, and thrown themselves upon him ere he could draw a weapon. With his arms securely pinioned he was led away, while the gentle Enomah sank in a swoon at her father's

"Take hence the traitress to the memory of her fathers," he said to a squaw who was in the wigwam, "and see that she be restored in time to witness the death of her pale lover."

"But I am getting tedious stranger," the old man said, "so I will hasten with what followed.

The morning dawned bright and beautiful as that of a wedding day, and the whole tribe "Would you miss the bright sun should it gathered in the centre of the village, where cease to shine? Would you miss the pretty the four head chiefs were soon seated on piles little girl who stood on one side, and seemed to wild flowers if they grew no more? Would of skins.

er, he answered, softly, "but he has chosen for me an easy and painless death. I am to

"Tis an awful leap," said Enomah, dreamily, and 'tis a long distance to go-alone." shall have ceased to breathe before I reach the bottom, darling, so I shall feel no

"And is all ready ?" inquired Heartsease. much sorrow and misery. Whon you have returned to your friends the signal will be given, and those warriors on let knew only too well where he was going. our left will dart forward and hurl me from At first he had resolved to stay at home that my forthold."

Enomah's face had a heaven-born expression on it, as she looked up and said :

"Say one little prayer to the Great Spirit, than once or twice. Harry, and I will pray too ; don't forget to ask your Monito to take me with you wherever his supper, and as he passed the great clump of lilacs, by the path, on his way to the gate, you go after death, and I will ask the Great he heard her voice and stopped to listen to Spirit of the Sioux to let me go." Then, after bowing her head a moment, as if in silent what she was saying.

prayer, she turned her face to where Manaoue drink any more. Make him just as he used to stood, in the midst of his warriors, and, with a look which haunted him until his dying day. be when I was a baby, and the boys and girls can't call me a drunkard's child, or say such she eried . bad things about me. Please dear Jesus, for

"Farewell, father ; in life or death I am Harry's only !"

As she finished she clasped her fettered hus and in her arms, and before a hand could be raised to stay her, bounded from the rock with thrilling erv.

You saw the graves to-day. It was on that spot they found their mangled bodies, he still lasped in the dead arms of his Heartsease, drop of liquor as long as I live. Give me and since that day they have called the moun-

"Come, girls and boys," called out Ned night. I wish I could, but it was too deep a All assented eagerly, and a large circle was joy which filled the hearts of Susie and her mother to be described.

"Come, Susie," said one of the boys, to a

"It's as many as forty years agone, since this you miss the twinkling stars if they should "Bring forth the pale face," said Manaone, "Oh, never mind her?" said Ned, with a were killed and many wounded. track near Gordonsville, Virginia, and four gain as the memory of Ned Graham's words A Kentuckian calculates that he has chewed came up freshly in her mind, "I wish you 1,825 lbs, of tobacco in forty years. wouldn't drink any more for the boys and The wife of Prince Napoleon is in the last girls don't like to play with me, 'cause you stages of pulmonary consumption. 7717 Oont Chinese are flocking by millions to the newly discovered gold minies at Chiefod.

Mr. Chandler of Alstead, N. H., harvested a crop of corn 60 days after planting.

A New York milliner has built a bonned which is a marvel of cheapness at 8125.

The corn crops in the lowlands of Kentucky have been ruined by an inundation ....

Competition has lowered the steamboat fares on the upper Mississippi very much.

Brooklyn's valuation is $161.317.560; an increase of eleven millions since last year.

A regiment of United States troops eight hundred strong, has been sent from Washing ton to Nashville, Tonnessee.

Beast Butler has been renominated for Cont gress by the Bostonians.

The government is to issue arms to citizens living on the Indian frontier.

The United States will be requested to serial representatives to the European Peace Congress at Borne.

There was a grand Democratic denionstration at Mobile on Monday night. Twenty: "I promise to-night, never to touch another five clubs, aggregating eight thousand persons. marched in procession.

In the Surratt case an appical has been strength to keep my pledge, and help me to be taken from the decision of Judge Wylie, and "Oh, father," Susie cried, her arms about a new indictment will be submitted to the jury.

> More carthquakes and volcanic eruptions have taken place in the Sandwich Islands. The reported sinking of the southeastern shore of Hawaii is confirmed:

Ex-President Pierce is very feeble. His nervous system is quite shattered, and it is very doubtful whether he will get about tillis fall or winter-if at all again. HE CALL A WERE

The municipal election in Nashville, Tenita on Saturday, resulted in the re-election of the present incumbent. Both candidates were Republicans.

Confederate General J. C. Hindinan has been assassinated at his residence. Helena, Ark, A train loaded with soldiers, ran off the A man named Robbins, of Springfield Missollri, who served under him, has been arrested; but denies being the murderen tain-Enomah's Leap." VARIOUS. [From Moore's Rural New Yorker.] Susie's Prayer.

It was half holiday. The children were athered on the green and a right merry time they were having. I think children always face,-the look that had become so habitual. do enjoy themselves on such occasions.

Graham, "let's play hunt the squirrel."

formed with Ned Graham for leader because he was the largest.

his neck, and her head upon his breast, "I'm so glad ! I shan't care about anything they say to me now, for I know you won't be a drunkard any more." "God helping me, I will be a man !" he answered, as, with Susie in his arms, he went