COURT WEEK.—The Court of Common Pleas and General Sessions, commences its sittings on Monday next, 11th of October. It is supposed that the Court will be in session about three weeks.

SALE DAY IN OCTOBER.—Large and jovial was the crowd that thronged our streets on Monday last. Horses, mules, buggies, carriages, wagons, men, women, children in admirable and picturesque confusion were massed around the Court House Square, or were grouped along the streets. 'Twas a busy day for clerks, too, for nearly every one of these people had to "get something." Many a jolly face protruded into our sanctum, and many an old subscriber praised and paid us. Every one was in a good humor too. Men laughed, the ladies smiled and the girls looked as if they would as leave that with a person as not. "They made us glad." It was really a jolly and a busy day in Orangeburg. Among the features of the scene, we noticed Jim Williams, everybody noticed him, clad and indeed in a new and neat suit of clothes. He moved nimbly here and there in the crowd and eyes followed him. He really looked neat. It attracted suspicion; created alarm. Men were at a loss. At length some one said, "It's an advertisement; new clothes at Stocker's." And a good many people, we learn, went into the store of that gentleman to buy. Mr. Stocker's new goods are arriving this week.

Sheriff Riggs made the following sales of real estate.

One tract of 200 acres property of J. B. Morrow purchased by Dr. O. H. Ott, for $330.

One house and lot, 11 acres, in the town of Branchville, property of J. B. Morrow, purchased by Dr. O. H. Ott, for $400.

One tract of 306 acres, property of S. E. Moorer, purchased by Wm. O. Collier for $505.

One tract of 372 acres part of estate of Jacob Riley, homestead, purchased by Onan B. Riley for $3000.

One tract of 1041 acres, part of estate of Jacob Riley, purchased by Onan B. Riley for $2,510.

One tract of 382 acres, part of estate of Jacob Riley, purchased by Onan B. Riley for $1420.

CHARLESTON OYSTERS.—An enterprising Charlestonian has undertaken to put these delicious bivalves within reach of the benighted people of the interior, and the first class names to which he is authorized to refer are a guarantee that he is all right. See advertisement.

We are sorry to learn that the estimable lady of our friend Geo. Barton has lost her mind. She was conveyed a day or two since to the Asylum in Columbia for medical treatment.

A Protracted meeting in the Orangeburg Baptist Church, commences to-night.

The Agricultural Society of the County invite attention to the Pic Nic, to be given on Wednesday, November 3.

We learn that Capt. F. M. Wannamaker will deliver the annual address before the Society.

NEW FIRM, NEW GOODS.—The coming press upon the heels of the advancing. It is our pleasing duty to chronicle the opening of a new establishment in Orangeburg. We call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Messrs. Cartmill & Vince, who have opened a large and varied stock of Dry Goods, etc., at the store recently occupied by Messrs. Stocker & Co.

We commend the new firm to our community and wish them much success.

The communication from "A Citizen" will appear in our next, the press upon columns prevents its appearance this week.

THE RURAL CAROLINIAN.—The first number of this monthly magazine, "devoted to agriculture, horticulture, the mechanic arts and domestic economy, and to the intellectual, and moral improvement of our people, is on our table. It is published at Charleston, by Messrs. Walker, Evans & Cogswell.

We are sensitive of the inferiority and short life of our Southern serials as a general rule, especially those of a purely literary character. Perhaps the cause of their being inferior and short-lived is the want of support by our people. We would conscientiously recommend to the support of our community this new magazine. It is chiefly agricultural, and in this department it is prepared to meet the new systems and plans of farming, which the means at our command necessitates. It will be up to the times. This, the first number has a likeness of David Dickson, the most successful planter in Georgia, a sketch of his life, and an interesting description of his improved system of farming, with a full table of contents comprising very interesting matter. We do hope that our farmers will subscribe to it, and that it will live. Price $2.00 a year, in advance. Mr. Andrew C. Dibble is the Local Agent, and can be found at the office of Messrs. Izlar & Dibble.

Have you been to examine that fine lot of Cloths, Cassimeres, etc., that has just been received by Messrs. McNamara & Jones, if not, do so before buying your Winter supply. They have a full supply in every line of goods. See advertisement.

THE BLESSING OF THE AGE.—No more Sick Headache, no more Dyspepsia, no more Indigestion, no more Piles, no more Chills, no more Liver Complaint, no more Jaundice, no more Pain in the Back, no more Kidney Disease, no more Costiveness, no more Heartburn. That's Vegetable Liver Pill is a certain guarantee against all these distressing complaints.

One of the last sensational papers, in view of the recent revenue decision, requiring base ball clubs to pay a tax on receipts, represents, in an illustration, a game of ball with each player displaying on the seat of his unmentionables a large placard bearing the notice of "Licensed to play."
