

The Great Effort.

It is now thoroughly known and understood that the people of South Carolina have resolved to make one more effort to redeem the State. That effort is to be made upon a platform of facts. The people of South Carolina recognize the fact that the colored man is a citizen, endowed with the civil rights of a citizen of this State. They do not now give or concede this right to the colored people. This is unnecessary. A higher power than theirs has given them this right. They do not concede; they simply admit, and recognize this right as theirs irrevocably. And they go further. They guaranteed their influence to secure and perpetuate this right to them; they forever renounce all opposition all protest against this fact; they treat it as a fact, and would use it as a means to deodorize, to disinfect, their state of the reeking corruption that sullies and degrades their homes, their altars, and their government.

This is no mere show of words, no decoy to the colored people. Such would be childish folly! What they say they will do, at once. They will prove their faith by their works.

They are ready to nominate an honest colored man and to vote for him for office. And then they ask the colored men to select an honest white man, a citizen, and let the ticket for State and County officers be thus selected and supported by the honest citizens of the State.

Do the colored people of the State want more than this? Their full equality, as citizens, is admitted and guaranteed by the white citizens; of the State. There is now no barrier to their union with the white people of the State—a union to purify, to elevate the tone of morality and intelligence of those who are to rule and represent us.

We can now appeal to them from a position where they will hear us.

There is no mental reservation on our part. Their citizenship is a fact; we treat it as such.

The road to success, comfort, wealth is as open to them as to us.

Surely the intelligent and honest of their race will join with us! They will not any longer permit their suffrage to be the dread instrument to perpetuate the reign of corruption; they will use it to assist us in purifying their State.

United now in the bonds of perfect sympathy and community of interest, we shall live and work together.

This is the union, this the effort that the people of South Carolina are about to make. And we are confident that it will be a success. It is certain that this movement will carry many of the Counties of the State.

Let us see that it succeeds in Orangeburg County.

Who will prate now of prejudice? Deal with facts! Upon the holy altar of the public good let such things be offered.

We call upon the men of this County to join in and work for this great effort. We who would purify the atmosphere of the State, so that purity and honesty can live here; who would live here, and have our wives and mothers, and sisters to live here, let us make this great effort the only one with a promise of success, together, and we can redeem the State, we can make it a fit place for honest men and virtuous women to live in.

Terrific issues hang in the balance, this is the only chance for us.

South Carolina Association.

This Association has for its object the building of a monument, in the city of Columbia, by the women of the State, to the memory of the South Carolinians, who died in the service of the Confederate States.

The following appeal addressed by the State Board of Managers of the Association to every woman in the State, will surely go to the heart of every noble woman of our District, who, during the late war, worked and prayed at home for the gallant soldiers:

APPEAL. Women of South Carolina, there needs no urgent appeal to your sympathies in a cause so sacred as that which we now undertake. The great tide of adversity which has swept over our unhappy land, has hitherto stifled effort in this direction; but not, therefore, have our hearts ceased to beat for the glorious goal. Scarcely is there one among us whose thought does not, on the first mention of our object, turn at once with loving affection, to some grave which this monument is intended to honor.

Mothers, widows, sisters, daughters, whose hearts thus cling to the soldier's grave, let us then unite with an earnest, loving effort in this holy duty. Let even our lisping little ones be brought to give their mite to its accomplishment; that thus impressed upon their minds, they may never forget to love and honor the memory of those who battled and fell in our cause. If a lost cause, even therefore the more holy. Even therefore does it become the more incumbent upon us, to bring to this great sacrifice of pure purpose and heroic deed, that homage and veneration which the world pays only to success.

With the wish that all who have shared in a common sorrow, may share also in the privilege of raising this testimonial to our lost heroes, the annual subscription for membership is put at the lowest point practicable, that thus it may be within the reach of those, who, having little to give, have still the right, through tears and suffering, to join us in the fulfillment of this most sacred duty.

To all others, men as well as women, old and young, to all who cherish the name of Carolinian, and cling with a fond love to whatever is left to us of our "good old State," we would say, give to us freely, according to your means; give generously; give gratefully to the memory of those who gave their lives for us.

The President of the S. C. Monument Association is Mrs. Louisa McCord, at Columbia.

Mrs. Thomas W. Glover has been appointed District Manager for Orangeburg County, and the following Committee to act under her direction in collecting subscriptions throughout the County. Collection Books, or (for those collecting in the Village) Subscription Lists having been placed in their hands for this purpose.

As additional Managers are appointed on the Committee throughout the County public notice will be given:

THE PRESS CONFERENCE.—The Newberry Herald copies the resolutions adopted at the press conference, and adds:

The conference could not well have done less than adopt the above generous line, and we are rejoiced that it went no further, and we have no doubt that all the Democratic papers in the State unrepresented on the occasion will fully and heartily endorse the resolutions. We go further in believing that they will meet the approval of all anti Radicals, white and black, in the State, and we indulge the hope that an earnest and determined rally will be made in the canvass approaching to rid the State of its corrupt government.

The Sumter Watchman says; at the close of an editorial on this same subject:

"We may, therefore, say that we heartily endorse the position assumed by the Press Conference, and call upon our people of all classes to unite upon it. We also endorse the call which has been made for a convention of the people of the State, on the 15 of June, irrespective of race, color or previous condition. Let there be a convention which shall represent all classes of our citizens, and let these, eschewing for the time, national politics and past party names, and looking only to the reformation of our State Government, unite in constructing a platform upon which all honest men may stand. When this shall be accomplished, then may we look with hope for deliverance, and the dawning of that day of peace and prosperity which shall break upon the long night of disaster, misrule and blood and oppression, through which we have passed."

"Do you believe in second love, Mister McQuade?" "Do I believe in second love? Hump! If a buys a pound of sugar, isn't it swate? and when it's gone don't he want another pound? and isn't that swate too? Troth Murph, I do believe in second love."

ARREST OF ALLEGED INCENDIARIES.—Our attentive correspondent in Marion informs us that Constable Hubbard has arrested Richard Henry and Lewis Clarke, the male occupants of the store which the late fire in Marion originated. They are charged with arson and murder. The last charge is based upon the fact that Mr. Iseman was burned to death during the fire.—Charleston News.

STATE CONVENTION OF TEACHERS.—After an informal consultation of persons interested in the cause of education, the undersigned has been requested to invite the teachers of the State, not connected with the "free common schools," to meet in convention at Columbia.

The immediate purpose of this convention is to secure, as far as practicable, uniformity in text books, and other advantages arising from concert of action. It is also proposed to make this meeting the basis of a permanent organization of the teachers of South Carolina.

Such associations have been formed in several of the other States, and where properly conducted, their tendency has been to raise the standard of education and increase the efficiency of schools.

The time suggested for the meeting is the first week in May—the day to be determined hereafter.

Those teachers who favor the proposed convention, and who are willing to attend it, are requested to communicate at once by mail with the undersigned; and if the assent be obtained of such a number as will indicate the probability of a general representation, due notice of the time and place of meeting will be published.

When it is decided to call the convention, an effort will be made to secure at the hotels and on the railroads such reduced charges as are usually made to the members of similar bodies.

HUGH S. THOMPSON, Principal Columbia Male Academy.

LIEUTENANT-GENERAL SHERIDAN.—The New York World, referring to the recent Indian massacre by United States troops, and to General Sheridan's part in it, says:

"This is our Glencoe. Lieutenant-General Sheridan is our Master of Stair. He waits, like his old exemplar, till the dead winter; he 'steals' in his own word, on the hapless village; deep snows encompass it without; small-pox is raging within; all but the old men are hunting, and sleep is on every eye. Then he strikes, 'strikes hard'—hard enough to cut the throats of ninety women and fifty children under twelve.

"This thing he calls a victory; he defends it; he procures a threat as that of fiercer who, with the natural horror of a Christian gentleman, gives the true reading; and then he declares, with a bravado for the whole country, that if he cannot be sustained he must be moved to another place. Where shall we put him? Shall it be in front of a court-martial, as one who has brought a shame on American honor, and then, when the verdict is rendered, break before his eyes the sword that is red with woman's blood?"

THE VILLAGERS ECLIPSED.—A late number of the Scientific American contains an illustration and description of a new locomotive invention, called a Pedesped. It consists of a pair of small wheels to be fastened on the foot, and by their assistance a man, it is claimed, can eclipse the speed of the winged god Mercury. THOS. L. LUDERS, of Olney, Illinois, is the designer of this new appliance for locomotion.

ARREST OF ALLEGED INCENDIARIES.—Our attentive correspondent in Marion informs us that Constable Hubbard has arrested Richard Henry and Lewis Clarke, the male occupants of the store which the late fire in Marion originated. They are charged with arson and murder. The last charge is based upon the fact that Mr. Iseman was burned to death during the fire.—Charleston News.

ANTI-RADICAL MOVEMENT.—According to notice many of the members of our State press, opposed to Radicalism, met in conference in Columbia on the 16th inst. The object of the meeting was the adoption of some plan by which our citizens might free themselves from the corruption under which our State at this moment totters. The Conference was pleasant and harmonious, and nearly every anti-radical paper in the State was represented, either in person, or by letter. We want honest men to govern us—to steer the ship of State—let them be white or colored, Democrats or Republicans, and we believe that every honest reader of the Star, who desires the restoration of a Government creditable to himself and children, will give the resolutions adopted by this Conference, his hearty support.—Marion Star.

Spread-eagle orators of the past were very fond of drawing comparisons between England and America, to the great prejudice of the former. England has an enormous debt; the United States a very small one. Heavy taxes and large duties were referred to, against comparatively light ones in this country; an inferior navy and commercial marine to our own; a huge standing army and expensive government, in marked contrast to our better system. One by one these relative facts have become reversed. With a total debt largely in excess of England's, a more expensive government, higher duties, more onerous taxes, a fourth-rate navy, and the mere skeleton of a commercial marine, we now find our last coin of vantage gone by the recent reduction of England's standing army to only 24,000 men. Hereafter, orators suffering from anglophobia, must draw upon new material in trumpeting our national greatness, if indeed all their eloquent efforts are not required to apologize for the wreck of the old—the ruin wrought by radical rascality.—New Orleans Times.

GOVERNOR SCOTT, in his Washington oration, declared that he spent "four years in the army," in the service of his (not this) beloved State, and that he "never felt greater danger on a pocket line" than he did in South Carolina "during the (political) campaign of 1868." Jes' so! But the "pocket line" of his affections must have been an exceedingly safe place, or else "His Excellency" is as easily scared as Congressman Hoop, the burden of whose song, during the campaign of 1868, was this:

He who fights and runs away,
Lives to fight another day;
But he who in the battle slains,
Shall never run nor fight again.

THE TERM "LOYAL."—In a recent debate in the United States Congress, the following point was made. It is well taken:

Mr. Eldridge declined against the word loyal as a word he despised and hated. It always reminded him of a definition of it given by a contractor during the war, when pressed to explain what he meant by saying he felt loyal. He said he felt as if he wanted to steal something or somebody. For himself he was patriotic, not loyal. The word did not belong to this country; it only belonged to Massachusetts.

A Pennsylvania bachelor thus getteth after a lovely woman;

"I impeach her, in the name of the great whale of the ocean, whose bones are torn asunder to enable her to keep straight.

"I impeach her in the name of the pea cock, whose s'rat, without his permission, she has, steadfastly, and without honor, assumed.

"I impeach her, in the name of the horse, whose tail she has prevented from its use to the making of wavy tresses to decorate the back of the head and neck.

"I impeach her, in the name of the kangaroo, whose beautiful figure she, in taking upon herself the Grecian bend, has brought into ill favor and disrepute."

Here the old fellow heaved a sigh and heaved himself overboard.

Horrid old yank: he ought to have had a millstone about his neck and taken the plunge long before he uttered the above slanders.

CUBA.—There is a surmise current that the Administration contemplates action of a most extraordinary character upon the Cuban question, it being the recognition of the volunteer organization now holding high carnival in the principal cities of the island as the de facto Government, and the accordance of belligerence thereto. This action is supposed to be a part of the policy of Mr. Fish in his diplomacy with Madrid.

The Kansas Legislature has passed a Bill appropriating $10,000 to build a home for friendless women in Eastern worth. This is good, but the Eastern girls who have been urged to go West, and assured that plenty of food and work and a choice husband were certain to reward their enterprise, may wonder why it is necessary.

A Teacher in a Springfield (Massachusetts) public school, says the Republican, was recently the victim of a poetic joke by a poet—an eight year old Irish student—which runs thus:

"A little mouse ran up the stairs,
To hear Miss Blodgett, say her prayers."
On being threatened with a severe whipping if not able to produce another stanza within five minutes, he again sang out:

"Here I stand before Miss Blodgett,
She's goin' to strike, and I'm goin' to dole it."

After which the "poet" was allowed to escape unpunished, and repaired triumphantly to his seat, followed by peals of laughter from the whole school, the teacher included, as a reward for his genius. This recalls the story of Watts, the hymnist, who, when his father threatened to punish him for turning everything into rhyme, said:

"Oh, father, on me pity take,
And I will no more verses make."

Whereupon the chastisement was omitted.

A WONDERFUL SOUTHERN DISCOVERY.—In the South where Liver complaint and bilious diseases prevail to so great an extent, there has long been "elt a need of a medicine that would act specifically and promptly on the Liver, restoring it to its normal functions, and at the same time be safe from after effects, and yet so simple that it might be used by any one. It is claimed that DR. TUTT'S VEGETABLE PILLS supplies this want. They act directly on the Liver; their constant use will not injure in the slightest degree the most delicate constitution. Females at any period may use them with great benefit, and realize great relief from the distressing nausea which they experience at certain times. These pills are not recommended as a universal cure-all, but simply for diseased Liver, and those maladies which follow a derangement of that important organ, such as Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, Costiveness, Piles, Jaundice, Sour Stomach, Ladies Heartburn, Chills and Fever, Foul Breath, Restlessness at night, and Flatulency. These invaluable pills may be found in every Drug Store of any note in the South and West.

Wilcox, Gibbs & Co.'s Manipulated Guano equal to any used.

I have used this year Peruvian Guano and Plaster, and with and without dissolved bones. Soluble Pacific, and Wilcox, Gibbs & Co.'s Manipulated Guano, noting the places upon which each was used. I can see very little, if any, difference, but am satisfied that the Wilcox, Gibbs & Co.'s Manipulated is equal to any I have used, according to the cost.
