

SATURDAY, JAN. 14, 1871.

COURT.—Last Monday was the day appointed for the sitting of Court at this place. Quite a large number of persons interested, as parties or witnesses made their appearance. The Clerk called the list of the jurors and in obedience to instructions received by letter from Judge Graham adjourned the Court until Monday next, 16th instant. Then the crowd slowly dispersed. The cause of Judge Graham's absence was indisposition. We hope that he will be better so as to be here next Monday.

E. B. Seabrook Esq. Solicitor of our Circuit arrived on Sunday last ready for business. Mr. Seabrook is looking well and was met with pleasure by the many friends he has made among our people in the discharge of his duties. He has already made an agreeable impression here as was to be expected from his pleasing manners and address. Mr. Seabrook has just completed his "Compilation of the Criminal Statutes in this State" a task which he was well fitted to perform. His work will be purchased by the State, which should thus ever place a high premium on intellectual labor of public advantage and interest. The author has already made his mark in literary circles, by his articles in various Northern periodicals, and by those which he now continuously furnishes to the six Century Magazine. He is the senior member of our enterprising young firm of Seabrook, Browning & Meyers in the practice of law in this County.

The Citizens Savings Bank will be prepared to receive Deposits on Monday the 15th instant. The advertisement will appear in next issue.

Complaints come to us every day about the irregularity of the mails. Some of our subscribers have not received their papers in weeks. The fault is not with us. Our mailing clerk is most careful in arranging the News' mail. Now is the fault with the Post Office of this place. It is elsewhere. We shall put ourselves to some trouble to ascertain the cause, and publish it.

HUGE FELLOWS.—Mr. Henry Rick-sacker, of St. Matthews, brought into our office on Tuesday last five of the largest turnips we have ever seen. One of them weighed 8 1/2 pounds, and measured 28 inches round. We congratulate Mr. R. upon his success in growing these huge "fellows." May all his efforts in planting be as successful.

WANDO FERTILIZER. The price of this fertilizer has been reduced to $80 cash per ton, or $55 payable Nov. 1st 1871 without interest. Read the advertisement of Wm. C. Dukes & Co., Agents, Charleston.

A DESIRABLE House and Lot is advertised for sale in to-day's NEWS by Mr. W. T. Lightfoot. It can be treated for at private sale until Sales-day in February. This place is situated in a pleasant locality of our growing little "Burg, and any one desirous of settling here, no better place could be offered. Terms easy. Read advertisement.

$60,000 IN PREMIUMS to be given away to the Share Holders in the great ALKON PREMIUM LAND SALE. Only $5 a share. This is no humbug. We have purchased shares. Indeed, every citizen of Orangeburg has or will do so soon. The character and fairness of the enterprise are vouched for by gentlemen of known veracity and integrity. Every one who subscribes for a share receives in return one of the beautiful works of art mentioned in the advertisement. They alone are worth the money. The Marriage of Pochahontas for instance is a perfect gem of a picture. Mr. J. W. Mosely, of Cornelison's is the Agent for the sale of Shares at this place. Another evidence of the fairness of the Great Premium Land Sale. Who knows but that an Orangeburgian will draw the First Grand Prize, valued at $25,000? Somebody's bound to win. Read advertisement and call on Mr. Mosely.

MANN'S RAW BONE SUPER-PHOSPHATE. This great fertilizer for all crops. Send for a copy of Mr. Dickson's letter about its advantage and profit. Claghorn, Herring & Co., Agents at Charleston and Augusta. Read advertisement.

ERRATA.—In our poem on the first page "Annie," the next to the last line should read:
"Till of my life you form a part."

The Columbia Union accuses a correspondent of a Charleston paper with having stolen a part of one of his letters from its editorial columns. Better be more particular hereafter Mr. Correspondent. You might injure your reputation as a newspaper man. Besides, it must certainly be unpleasant and embarrassing when your friends begin to praise your ability to hear a jealous editor exclaim: "That's my thunder, by George!"

Read the advertisement of "MAPES NITROGENIZED SUPER-PHOSPHATE OF LIME." Send for a Pamphlet to Kissam & Howell, General Agents, 128 East Bay Charleston, S. C.
