Then follow references to her early life and the respectability of her family.

She says she was "born in Trastenere,

(that portion of Rome beyond the Tiber,) and was reared almost within the

The two women are be taken before the Court of Assizes, and after very little ceremony, they will be found guilty of murder and condemned to

A Fiendish Woman-

Mr. and Mrs. X. of Pittsburgh are believed to have lived as happily together as man and wife commonly do in their social position. Some time ago Mrs. X., with or without reason, began to fancy that Nr. X. preferred Ida D. to herself.

absense of the wife on a visit to rela

One day Ida received a message from Mrs. X., requesting her to call at her where she was met at the door by the la-ly about the state of her health, and placed her in the most comfortable chair

in the room, an armed rocking chair brought by the amiable hostess, who

The woman then went into an adjoin ing room, from which she speedily re turned with a strong cord of rope ar ranged in the form of a noose. Smiling and talking pleasantly all the time, she stepped behind her visitor, and, dropping the noose over her head and arms, with a sudden jerk, she soon bound the young girl helpless to the chair- Ida,s "Now," said the woman, "you shall see how I avenge myself," whereupon from the table drawer she took a pair of feet were next tied to the chair.

herself took a drink.

church's doors."

death.

VOLUME 7.

SATURDAY MORNING. FEBRUARY 15, 1873.

NUMBER T

THE ORANGEBURG NEWS

PUBLISHED AT ORANGEBURG Every Saturday Morning.

BY THE ORANGEBURG NEWS COMPANY

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION. One Copy for one year ..... $2.00 Any sas sending TEN DOLLARS, for a Clab of New Subscribers, will receive an thing from your hand before I say the EXTRA COPY for ONE YEAR, free of word 'I remember,' then I am ready to bharge. Any one sending FIVE DOLLARS, become your bride. But if, on the or a Club of New Subscribers, will receive AR EXTRA COPY for SIX MONTHS, free of

RATES OF ADVERTISING. 1 Square 1st Insertion ...... $1.50

A Square consists of 10 lines Brevier or one inch of Advertising space. Administrator's Notices, ..... Notices of Dismissal of Guardians, Administrators, Executors, &c ......$2 00 most liberal terms.

MARRIAGE and FUNERAL NOTICES. het exceeding one Square, inserted without

Terms Cash in dvance. "Ga

Browning & Browning. ATTORNEYS AT LAW, MALCOLM I. BROWKING.

AUGUSTUS B. KNOWLTON (Formerly of the New York Bar.) ATTORNEY AND COUNSELLOR

AT LAW, ORANGEBURG, S. C.

W. L. W. RILEY TIMAL JUSTICE.

Residence in Fork of Edisto. ALL BUSINESS ENTRUSTED Will be promptly audicarefully attended to.

SURGEON DENTIST,

Graduate Baltimore College Dental Surgery.

OFFICE MARKET-ST. OVER STORE OF J. A. HAMILTON.

THE UNDERSIGNED HAS ON HAND all of the various Sizes of the above Cases, which can be furnished immediately on ap-plication. Also manufactures WOOD COFFINS as usual, and at the shortest notice.

Apply to H. RIGGS, mar 5-6m Carriage Manufacturer.

REEDER & DAVIS. COTTON FACTORS

General Commission Merchants, Adger's Whurt,

CHARLESTON, S. C. OSWELL REEDER. ZIMMERMAN DAVIS

R. R. HUDGINS W. F. BRODIE. H. C. Hudains.

BRODIE & CO. COTTON FACTORS AND

COMMISSION MERCHANTS, NORTH ATLANTIC WHARF, CHARESTON, S. C.

Liberal Advances made on Consignment. REFER To Andrew Simonds, Esq., Pres Ist National Bank, Charleston, S. C.

WASHINGTON HOUSE

Mrs. M. W. Stratton. CORNER

SERVAIS & ASSEMBLY STREETS COLUMBIA, S. C. Convenient to the Greenville and Charleston

Railroads and the Business portion of the City. Rate of Transient Board-Two Dollars

Regular Boar lers received at Reasonable

The Origin of Philopona.

LITTLE STORY FROM THE GERMAN

There was once a beautiful princess who had a great fondness for almonds, and ate them constantly, but nothing would induce her to marry, and in order to rid herself of her suitors, of whom there were a great number, she invented the following advice : "If your lordship can succeed in getting me to take any contrary, you receive anything from 'me without thinking to speak these words. then you must agree to have your hair shaven entirely off your head, and leave the kingdom."

This, however, was an artful stratagem, for according to the court custom. no one dared to hand anything directly to the princess, but first to the court lady, who then offered it to her. But Contract Advertisements inserted upon the it, on the other hand, the princess should desire to give or take anything, who could refuse her? So it was useless for her suitors to make the tr'al, for when they seemed likely to be successful, and had diverted the princess so that she was about to take some thing from them, the court lady always stepped between and spoiled the best

When the princess wished to dispose GRANGEBURG C. H., So. Ca. of one of them, she would appear so charming and encouraging to him, that he would be entirely fascinated, and when he sat at her feet, overcome with joy, then she would seize upon anything near her, as though by accident : "Take this as a remembrance of me," and when he had it in his hands, before he could think or speak the necessary words, there would spring out at him . from it, perhaps a frog, or a hornet, or a bat, and so startle him that he would forget the words. Then, upon the spot, he was shaven, and away with him. This went on for some years, and in all the palaces of the other five kingdoms the when she had the cherry between her princes wore wigs. Thus it came to be the custom from that time

Finally it hoppened that a foreign prince came upon some peculiar bu-i ness, and by accident saw the almond A friendly little gray man had given lives together in privileged to smell, and then there came u his mind a very wise idea, and he had become much renowned on account of his deep wisdom. Now, it was exactly time for him to make use of his upple. So, with the scent from it came this warnfing : "If thou wouldst win in the game of giving and taking, under no circum stances must thou either give or take anything."

So he hid his hands in his belt ; and went with his marshal to the palace, and asked to be allowed to eat his almond. The princess was secretly much pleased with Lim, and immediately handed him an almond, which his marshal took and placed in his mouth. The princess in quired what this meant, and moreover. why he constantly carried his hands in his girdle.

He replied that at his rourt the custom was even more strongly suforced than at hers, and he dared out give or take anything with his hands, at the most, only with his head and feet. Then the princess laughed and said : "In this case we will never be able t have our little game together."

He sighed and answered : "Not usless you will be pleased to take something from my boots."

"That can never happen !" exclaimed the whole court. "Why have you come hither," asked the princess, angrily, "when you have such stupid customs?" "Because you are so beau iful," re plied the prince. "And if I cannot win you, I may at least have the pleasure of secing you."

lar gratification," said she.

So the prince remained at the palace way unfavorable. This climate is an and it pleased her more and more but excellent one-this society is exwhen the humor seized her she tried in every manner to persuade him to take main here, and after visiting a week or the public authorities to beg their clehis hands from his girdle and receive two with friends, go back to your work mency in my behalf. Another is the something from her. She also enter- and follow this regimen : tained him charmingly, and frequently offered him flowers, boubons, and trink ets, and finally her bracelet, but not middle of the day once did he forget and stretch out his "24. Eat a good beefsteak or mutton ance in which I committed the deplorhe would nod to his marshal and he received them, saying, "We remember."

Then the princess would become impatient, and would exclaim "My handkerchief has fallen ! can your lordship pick it up for me?" Whereupon the prince would fasten his spur into it, and wave it carelessly, while the priness would have to bend and remove it from his foot, anguily saying "I remem-

Thus a year passed away, and the princess said to herself:

"This cannot remain so. It must be ettled in one way or the jother." She said to the prince :

"I have one of the finest gardens in the world. I will show your lordship over it to-day."

The prince smelt of his apple, and as they entered the garden he said :

"It is very beautiful here, and in order that we may walk near each other n peace and not be disturbed by the desire to try our game, I beg you, my lady, that for this one hour, you wil. take upon you the custom of my court. and let your hands also be fastened. Then we will be safe from each other's arts, and there will be nothing to annoy

The princess did not feel very safe about this arrangement, but he begged o strongly that she could not refuse him this small favor. So they went alone together, with their hands fasten ed in their girdles. The birds sang, the sun shone warmly and from the trees the fred cherries hung so low that hey brushed their checks as they passed. The princess saw them and exclaimed : "What a pity that your lordship is not able to pick a few for me." "Necessity knows no law," said the prince, and he broke one of the cherries with his teeth from a branch, and offered it to the princess from his

The princess could not do otherwise than receive it from his mouth, and so her face was brought close to his .. So lips, and a kiss from him besides, she was not able to say at the instant, "I remember."

then he eried, joyfully, "God morning, much loved one;" and drew his

A Chat with a Clergyman.

Mr II., a well-known elergyman, says Dio Lewis, came to consult me about his throat, and b gan by telling this two, when I was converted, and immediately resolved to study for the ministry We used oxen, and indulged in that unearthly habit of velling at them all day long. The neighbors who lived two miles away declared that they heard me from morning till night. 1 emember that one old man in the neighborhood said when he heard that was studying for the ministry:

"Well, there is one thing about that chap; he'll make 'em hear anywhere in the country. When he once gets into the pulpit, if he yells as loud as he does at them cattle, they'll hear him all over heaven and all through the t'other

"And now," continued Mr. "H., "I have been preaching seventeen years; and although I have had no attacks of sickness, have gradually lost my health and strength, till preaching one sermon week completely exhausts me I don't feel like speaking loud before Wednes day; and besides this, I have lost my legs, until I can't walk two miles without complete hexhaustion My church has given me a year's vacation, and now I come to ask what I had better do?"

First," I said, "I'll tell you what not to do. Don't go to the Holy Land The dirt and discomfort which you must encounter there won't help you, while "On the other hand, I have no simi- the lack of opportunity to use your faculties, physical and mental, is every Francesco Porro, of Genoa, abandoned ceptionally good; so I advise you to re- of the grounds upon which I approach

"1st. Go to bed at nine o'clock every night, and sleep half an hour in the lowed my husband's desertion. Yet an tf hand to take them, for the pressure of chop, with stale bread and butter att. able crimes, which I never truly realized twelve of them since.

his girdle reminded him in time. So libitum, for breakfast, with a cup of the enormity of until God's hand placed weak coffee. For dinner, at two o'cook, me here." take a large dish of oatmeal or cracked wheat. Eat no supper.

"3d. Bathe your skin in the morning with cold water, and rub it hard rough towels. On going to bed at utht rub yourself all over with hair glove

"4th. Work five hours a day out. 1 in some regular employment, like nat of farming or that of a carpenter. up your habit of morning study.

"5th. Dou't be extra good-I to say don't be solemn and reserved Be jolly. Have a good time. Even i think this life a weary pilgrimage act. for the sake of your health, as the ugh the world were a pleasant hom and designed for happiness rather than misery."

Mr. II engaged with one of his par ishioners, a carpenter, and bargain'd to begin at nine o'clock every morning and work till two. He was to have what he could earn, which, at the end of a month, was thought to be a dollard day. Wi hin three months he could rame timber as well as the best of them

The only desagreeable result from this prescription is this: Since ... H got well (and he declars that honever felt so well in his life) he has then to preaching this sort of table and da door work to his people, and thus, tu see deprives me of the opportunit to reneat this prescription to otherstat five dollars per head. In this way for famishing children are deprived of that bread which but for this clerical inter ference, their father would woly to them from the sweat of his broa

American cleraymen should be the healthiest men in the country. Their life, healthwise may easily be made the

Infants Starved to Death and Infants Poisoned for Money.

A letter to the New York . dated Naples, January 8, says: Mrs. Rose Perro has made the follow blood curdling confession :

"Trusting that the ignominy which them. I administered poison at intervals to about the same number of babics:

Coraldi concealed the corpses below the tiles of the several floors of my house and beneath the gravel in the cellar.

These murders only occurred when I could not rid myself of the infants in any other way. I adopted another wicked means of procuring gain by advertising that I could provide childless women with beautiful children for adoption, being compelled to part with them on account of my poverty. In connection with the causes of my crimes.

I will state that my husband, one Lurgime without cause when we had been

this declaration will bring upon me will shears, a large knife and revolver, ail o be accepted by my merciful Creator in which implements she spread upon the princess. "He thought her very beauti- hands from his girdle, and embraced truthfully state in the presence of my ready to faint with terror. atonement of my crimes, I, Rose Porro, table before her victim by this time ful, and at once perceived the stratazem.

A friendly little gray man had given lives together in perfect perce and hap for the murder of those infants whose off the girl's hair as close as possible to bodies were found in my late residence the skin leaving only a single handful by the public officers, on the 13th day of on the top of the head for the purpose December. For three years, I, pursued as she explained, of facilitating the a terrible system of crime, in order to subsequent operation of scalping. The satiate my greed for money, and I pregirl screamed and called for help as vailed upon Margarite Coraldi, now in loudly as she could, but the house stands this prison, to assist me in perpetrating in a lonely place, and no deliverer ap-the crimes of which I stand charged, and pared. am gui ty. I caused advertisements to After cutting off the hair, Mrs. X be published in Neapolitan journals, brought a looking plass that Ida might stating that any persons desirous of rid- see the change produced in her features. ding themselves of their children, to As the girl begged for release, saying prevent shame and infamy, or for any that she was freezing, she was told with cause, could precure relief by calling a plentiful application of mocking epiupon me; that I was prepared to take thets, that she would be warm enough full charge of their children upon a cer- before she get away.

tain sum being paid. I required no per- Mrs. N. then put the poker in the son to leave his or her name, and am stove, and while calmly waiting for it to therefore unable to implicate any of become red-hot, she told her victim what those parties who encouraged me to per- she intended to do with it. "First, I petrate those crimes, for which I crave will burn your eyes out," etc., etc, And the Divine mercy. As far as I am capa she really began to execute her threats, ble of remembering, I willfully starved but when she was trying to blind the to death about twenty children, male and girl, the latter, by a super human effort female, by locking them in an empty succeeded in releasing one of her hands apartment, where I could not hear their with which she seized the glowing poker eries and whence no others could hear and for a while arrested the monster in the prepetration of her crime. The interruption made it necessary to reheat and when dead, I, assisted by Margret the poker; and in the meantime the unlooked-for return of her husband was all that saved the girl from prolonged torture and death at the hands of Mrs.

> A croupy youth in a neighboring town, having strongly objected to taking his medicine, was induced to make a hearty meal of buckwheat cakes and be hive syurup of soulls. The boy said he thought something ailed the molasses the minute his father told him he could eat all he wanted to."

married only five months. This is one The husband of Mrs Robert Asher of Springfield, Ill., became addicted to the miserable habit of following her on the street until she purchased a rawhide and unsullied virtue of my early life and the dressed him down once or twice, when hopeless poverty and anxiety which folhis annoyance ceased.

other ground is the blind, rash ignor-Virginia, which didn't have a cotton factory before the war, has erected

New York City.

It seems monstrous that there should be no effective way of preventing the introduction and sale in our markets of diseased and poisoned meat. But there is no such way. Within a fortnight past, those best informed upon the subject estimate that 4,000 head of sheep have been brought to New York with a taint in their blood which has broken out in a disgusting disease of the skin, and have been sold and eaten, nobody interfering to prevent the sale. Even this is not the worst. These sheep have been hurried into the market prematurely, lest they should die upon the hands of thrir owners. In consequence, a number of the sheep have been ewes heavy with young. The result of the transportation of these in crowded cars, This young girl had, for a while, kept and deprived of food for many days, house for the husband in the temporary may only suffering from a loathsome disease, but utterly unfit to be eaten by reason of their condition, have been bought by unscrupulous dealers and sold to unsuspecting householders. And yet house, as she (Mrs. X.) had a letter if there is a power in the Board of health from the country for her. In the afterto prevent the distribution of this poisnoon Ida dressed herself in her best oned meat as a food for human beings clothes and went to Mrs. X's house, it has not been exercised, and every householder is at the mercy of the men roman who kissed her, inquired particuin whom the lust of, gain outweighs humanity and decency. We have laws regulating the sale of poison by the drachm but no effective laws, it seems restricting Mrs. X. offered the girl refreshments, the sale of poison by the car load .which were declined, with a request for New York Worle. a glass of water. This was at once

A Brave Brakeman

A train was snowed up on a Wisconsion railroad recently, and the passengers began to suffer from hunger, no provisions being obtainable. Intelligence of their condition having reached Cal. mar, seven miles distant, a brakeman, named James Wilson, taking thirty pounds of crackers and cheese, set out to walk to the train. The Milwaukee t. cening Wi.consin describes his walk and its sequel as follows:

The wind blew a gale, and, with thermometer at twenty seven below, he had a hard road to travel. It was hard work ; the win's penetrated through his at the simple fellow. To penetrated through his hood, and, notwithstanding he felt his face and ears freezing, trudged until he reached the train, almost exhausted and unable to speak distinctly, his face, cars and nose badly frozen.

The train reached by Mr Wilson was one on which, among the passengers, was Mr. John Lawlor, of Prairie du. Chien, who had some ladies under his care. Mr. Lawlor applied snow to the frozen face of Wilson, and did all that was needed to restore him as much as possible. Mr Lawlor then took from his own neck a massive gold chain. which he had worn for a long time, and putting it around Wilson's neck re. marked, "It's a pretty good man that has worn that chain, but I have found a better, and he shall have "it." The chain is reputed to be worth up among the hundreds of dollars, and was a hand. some present, worthily bestowed. Un. der touching circumstances like these. the writer of such au incident can hard ly tell which to admire the most, the heroism of the brakeman, who periled his own life to carry aid to his fellow. creatures, or the man who so promptly and generously rewarded the deed of

'apture of a Whale in Hampton Roads.

On Thursday last, Capt. Wm. Rod. gers, of the oyster schooner Eliza Furlong, of Portsmouth, captured a whale of the black fish variety, in Hampton Roads, between the Rip Raps and Taylor's farm, that measured forty-two feet and a half from tip to tip. The mons-"maple syrup," but the latter proved to ter, when first se n was lying apparently still in the water and lazily flirting his dorsal fin in the sun-light. He was approached by Capt. Rodgrs and his crew in a skiff, and one of the men, by a dexterous throw of the bowline managed to lasso the, large dorsal fin of the fish. He was then quietly towed into Mason's Chreek, in Norkfolk county and after being grounded on the flats, was despatched with axes.

Capt. Roders cut the bladder out and secured over four barrels of oil. The purposes. About five feet of the tail f

The Kind of Mutton Furnished the whole was brought to Portsmouth. and is exhibited to the curious and skeps. tical on Neely's wharf. From a darge 113 contusion on the body, it is supposed the whale was budly hurt when captured. How it came to drift into these waters, so distant from its native element, is and mystery although it is not the first vis. itor of its kind taken in this section by and number .- Norfolk Journal, Bd. vibesta or

Ruling a Wife, dans

A man named Taddles, in Virginia, has got his wife in proper subjection and means to keep her so. Oh, says he, in telling about it, "there ain't many men who know how to rule a wife properly. Now my old woman is oun of the best natured women in the world, but she's got a deuce of a temper. Whenev er I see she's got her madness up. if it's a dozen times a day, I just quietly says nothing, but rather humor her, and shape comes around all right after a mbile Even when she throws things at me on gives a wild desh at me with the broom or rolling pin, I just dodge a little, and she never hits me a third time before get my eye on her, and let her know disapprove of such actions on her park. Perhaps I have to leave the house to show her this, but she sees the point Then, by being careful not to irritate her. and letting her have her own way? manage to make her do as T please. And you bet I make her understand and appreciate my discipliness Oh, Lakono her under perfect control. A man hes, you know, to be master in his own house, or your wife will ride you down as if you wasn't nobody. My wife it a perfect angel in her natural dispositions. but any other man but me would spail her "the all retient paliegons of box

Anderson, the wizard, met a Your who stole a march on him after the following parern : Enter Yankee. I say, are you professor Anderson?" and to alfer at the Yes, sir, at your service. Wa'al, you're a tarnation smart man, and I'm sumthin' at a trick, too, kinder cute; lon, you know."

'Ah, indeed; and what fricks are you up to, sir?" asked the professor, sinused.

Wa'al, I can take a red cont and change it into a ten dollar gold 'Oh that's a mere sleight-of-hand trick ; I can do that too.' 'No you can't. I'd like to see you electer nor this sympathy to Why, hold out your hand with a court mere depends the wellar oft Yankee stretched out his paw with . red lying on it. This your cent, is it, sure?

'It's nothing else." Tableted magu 'Hold on to it tight - Presto ! change. New open your hand? lo arrange Yankee opened his flat, and there was a rold cagle shining on his palm.

Wa'al you did it, I declare; much obleeged tew yeou, and Jonathan turned to go out. Stay, said the professor, you may leave me my ten dollars, dand gat Yourn! wasn't it my cent? and didn't you turn it into this ern yaller thing, ch? Good bye!' and as he left the room he was heard to say ? "I guess there aint anything green about this to aire od be

A minister going to dine after service with one of his deacons came upon the hired boy of his host, digging at a woodchuck's hole. The parson who was unknown to the boy, checked his rein and accosted him with : selsame if Well, my son what are you doing

"Digging out a woodchuck, sir," said

"Why, but don't you know that is vesy wicked? And besides you won't get him if you dig for him on Sunday.'. "Get him," said the boy; "thunder? I've got to get 'im! The minister's coming to our house to dinner, and we ain't got any meat. He ods wain

Wesley, at the ageleft Materiote; "I do not remember to have felt downess of spirit for one quarter of an hour since I was born." An exchange remarks that his marriage occurred later.

A young man pamed Johnson who resides not far front town, buried his wife last "endnesday, went courting on carcass was given to the farmers in the Thursday and was tried up in matremon. vicinity, who had it cut up for compost al bliss by our Clerk of Court on Friday, He loves it .- Marion Star.