

LOCAL.

SATURDAY, FEB. 22, 1873.

The Legislature has concluded to adjourn sine die on the 26th, instant.

Guano.—The Depot at Orangeburg is redolent of Guano again.

Segars.—A very large and fine stock of segars are to be seen at the Enterprise Saloon.

Debtors.—The Delinquent list of this year is very small. Only editors grumble about taxes and sidewalks; other people "grin and bear."

Our thanks are due and tendered to Hon. R. B. Elliott, Member of Congress for valuable public documents from Washington.

GRIN AND BEAR.—Or rather "Smile and Bear" are the terms of art at Mr. C. D. Korjohn's popular Saloon. Fine Segars also.

Valentines.—Valentine, day was thoroughly celebrated by our young folks on Friday last. Ours arrived; contents noted.

Dukes Hotel.—The substantial comforts of Dukes Hotel are most inviting. Quite a revolution in the matter of Hotels has taken place in Orangeburg during the past year.

Law Carl.—D. R. Jamison Esq. who is well and favorably known to the community advertises his law card in this issue. His office is that formable occupied by Judge Cooke in Court House Square.

The newest and best fence in town has been undermined by "gruners." Still we believe in pork. So let them run and root. Our citizens are equally divided on the hog question. The two parties consist of those who own hogs and those who do not.

Post Office Removal.—A new building erected next to Moseley & Crook's store on Market Street is to be occupied by Mr. DeMars as the Post Office. Why the Government are moving from under us, we have no understanding. Still it is well to be posted about the postoffice.

The Young Americans are preparing to sit down to their Anniversary banquet at Meroney's Hotel as we go to press. This is the Nineteenth Anniversary of this spirited corps. The parade of the Companies in the afternoon was very handsome.

Mere (Mayor) Mention.—Several days of rain have rendered the streets navigable for small craft again. Our Municipal Parents have hardened their hearts. Would that they harden the pavements. As long as our citizens continue talking on this subject, we will have to continue writing about it. It may do good. Who may tell?

Columbia.—A hasty trip to Columbia during the week convinced us of the rapid growth of that city. Main Street is built up, on both sides, and the buildings are substantial large and handsome. The Wheeler House has been recently opened and truly it is a magnificently appointed hotel.

We enjoyed the pleasure of a visit to the Evening Herald office, Judge Andrews paper. Our representatives were entertained by Mr. Rose at his hotel, which we recommend to our readers visiting the capital.

THE JOLLY PROFESSOR.—One Professor Mason, travelled and learned to a wearying degree, edited a pleasant crowd on Monday night.

The "Elliott" Hall was his place! His theme all space. Science superficial indefinite and general was his subject.

A pot pourri of profound but familiar positions about the Solar system; the poles, the poll, exquisite suggestions about connubial kissings, and a hasty dash of the New Testament, involving a laughable sketch of Church history made up of the legends. The Professor was elegantly habited and chuckled over his fifty cents, which were pocketed.

One salient point made in the course of the lecture, was that the U. S. had purchased Alaska to secure a foothold from the storm of heat that will soon succeed the melting of the poles now in process.

The Professor deserved great credit for his "check" but not much in his contracts. The Professor we understand examined many heads of citizens, all of whom to use his own phraseology at the lecture he found to be "almighty geniuses."

PETROLEUM.—The frightful accidents and horrid deaths which are daily caused by the explosion or breaking of Glass Lamps, and the fact that these calamities are increasing with alarming rapidity demand that Kerosene or Coal Oils in all forms must be burned in Mental Lamps, so constructed as to be perfectly safe from explosion.

REVUE DE LA MODE surpasses every other Fashion Journal of its kind. It is imported from Paris and translated in English. It gives yearly over 1500 beautiful fashion cuts, and some 200 valuable patterns, varying in style and size to suit all, besides novelties for trimming and fancy work. It is received monthly in advance, and put at the astonishing low price of $3.50 a year; single numbers 35 cents.

One Williamson at Philadelphia Saturday, tried to escape from a woman whom he had married sixteen years ago and by whom he had had seven children on the plea that the marriage was invalid according to the English statutes he being Protestant and she Catholic. The judge said that the English statutes being in violation of all morality were not recognized in this country.
