

The man most likely to make his mark in the world—one who cannot write his own name.

Making a "local application" of this rule, what a number of distinguished men we have in Orangeburg County!

Light is like a burglar—it is continually breaking in upon somebody.

So that old fogies are your true "burglar proof." No light ever breaks in on them.

A game of base ball in Cranston, Iowa, was interrupted the other day in a singular manner: A cow caught the ball on its bounding way and swallowed it.

Belton's foot-ball is about a foot in diameter. Let's see the cow who dare swallow that.

Unless she has Mr. bull's permission.

This is from the Augusta (Ga.) Chronicle:

"Delinquent subscribers should not permit their daughters to wear this paper for a bustle. There, being so much due on it, there is danger of taking a cold."

The Abbeville Medium modestly says that "the climate of Abbeville is so genial, and her society so elevated and hospitable, that a number of charming and intelligent young ladies from Charleston will shortly visit us to spend the summer."

S is our climate genial and so is our society elevated and hospitable—but the young men alone are a sufficient inducement in this burg.

Thank heaven, though, Orangeburg isn't obliged to send to Charleston or anywhere else for "charming and intelligent young ladies." Try us and see brother Medium.

The disadvantages of carrying a pistol were illustrated on Sunday in Brooklyn by a young man who, accidentally killed his mother.

But suppose he had killed his mother-in-law.

You may have seen the children of some family walking to church, all clothed in a different color. Yet are they all children of one parent and at least half brothers and sisters.

You may have seen other children walking to church, and all of a different color. Yet are they all children of one parent and at least half brothers and sisters.

That is to say, in this part of the country.

A correspondent thinks that if Rail Road Companies admit negroes to their cars, Lester Wallack ought to admit them to his theatre. It is hardly fair to compare the two, because of this very great difference between them, to wit: that Lester Wallack has a soul to save, and the Rail Road Companies haven't.

That Lester Wallack has a soul to save is the very best reason why he should obey the laws of his country. So, try it again, friend Commercial.

But perhaps Lester, though disregarding his own soul, is doing the best thing he can for those of the colored people by keeping them out of his theatre. Well he ought to know.

A story is going the rounds about a girl dying of tight lacing. These ugly corsets should be abolished instantly; and if the girls cannot live without being squeezed, we suppose men could be found who would sacrifice themselves. We would rather devote three hours a day without a cent of pay, as a brever corset, than to see our girls dying off in that kind of style. Office hours almost any time.

Our business manager attends to that department of the ORANGEBURG NEWS.

In de perate cases, however,—say from sixteen to twenty years, and I very pretty, we —

The latest excuse framed for murder has been found by a Wisconsin widow, who has poisoned her husband, two children and several neighbors by strychnine. She does not deny the killing, but says she was impelled to it by heavenly dreams.

We have felt somewhat easier since the law against the indiscriminate sale of poisons.

Although we are still rather particular about our coffee for several days after hearing our better half sing, "I'm dreaming, &c."

Some men at Louisville were fettering on the weight of a blue pill, when one man, who was a good judge of the weight of live stock, got behind the mule and was measuring his hind quarters, when something appeared to loosen up the mule. Just before the expert died he gave it as his opinion that if the mule was as heavy all over as he was behind, he must weigh not far from 47,000 pounds.

That couldn't have been our Lewisville. The only thing they ever have a doubt about there is as to how to decide a municipal election.

There is another reason: For U and I were together in Louisville, but I am not with U in Lewisville. But this isn't quite right after all, for even there I am with you and your wife,—that is to say with double you. (W.)

(Here, we were obliged to cool off with some of Wahlers Lee.) (Thank U Wahlers!)

METHODIST CHURCH—

There will services in the Methodist Church to-morrow morning and evening, as usual.

FIRST COTTON BLOOM—

J. D. Kiett handed to us, day before yesterday the first cotton bloom of the season. In this County at least.

WATSON O'CAIN ESQ.—

Has our thanks for compelling his brother John O' Cain Esq., to share vegetables with us last week, and John has our thanks for submitting so gracefully to the compulsion.

MESSRS VOSE & IZLAR—

Our readers will find the advertisement of the above firm in our columns this week. These gentlemen are too well known as first class grocers for us to make any further comments.

MR. E. EZEKIEL—

Not satisfying with beating his competitors in the jewelry line, Mr. Ezekiel last week administered a beating to the Editor of the News, and the editor herewith returns thanks for the beats.

KORTJOHN AGAIN—

Kortjohn is a peculiar kind of High-Lutch for short John. But Kortjohn is never short of good groceries, good liquors or good cigars. Let those who are short of cash try him; he will shortly convince them that a dollar goes a long way at his store.

STRAUS & STREET—

These gentlemen are prepared to give the highest prices for corn, peas and rice. They also beat rice, grind corn and wheat on the very easiest terms.

Gentlemen who are worthy of the confidence of the people should receive an undivided patronage.

PINE GROVE ACADEMY—

We tender our thanks to the Trustees and Patrons of this flourishing institution, and also to W. G. Tyson, Esq., for an invitation to attend the exhibition and picnic which are to take place next Wednesday, the 25th instant, at the school house.

We hope our town will be well represented on the occasion.

MERONEY & BAXTER'S BUSS—

Has been repaired and repainted. All Orangeburg is crazy in admiration of its beauty. All praise is due those gentlemen for their energy to improve our Town. Meroney's Buss is the best advertisement Orangeburg ever had, and our citizens should admire and uphold such an enterprise. Meroney's hotel is the by jove of Orangeburg, and his "busses" are the best afforded.

N. Y. SUNDAY CITIZEN—

We have received several numbers of this new paper—a handsome quarto, devoted, as it declares, to the best interests of the Irish population of this County. Its editors are evidently Irish gentlemen, which is equivalent to saying that its editorials are able, learned, pungent and witty. It is published by the Irish National Publishing Co. No 50 Catham St., New York City. Success to it.

A MULE—

The other day a mule was standing in Russel Street in front of an apothecary shop, when a stroke of lightning dropped somewhere behind that mule's tail. And if that streak of lightning didn't cause that mule, tail and all, to move from in front of that shop a good deal quicker than anything in that shop could have made that mule, tail and all, to move from in front of that shop, then we don't know the difference between chain lightning and a blue pill—that's all!

Wahlers—
J. Herman Wahlers has a stunning advertisement in this weeks NEWS. Read it and laugh. He now offers Ice for sale at 2 1/2 cents per pound in quantities over 10 pounds—and at 2 cents per pound for 100 pounds and over
We think the whole matter as to Captain Jack's trial, execution &c., ought to be turned over to Wahlers and Asbury Wannamaker. They are the best "fellers" in Town.

THAT OTHER NEW STREET—

Three of the four members of the Town Council reside, and are property holders, on the North side of Russel Street. They recently opened a New Street, the result of which was to enhance, considerably, the value of all property on that side of Russel Street, including their own. Now the people on the other side want a New Street to connect the Five Chop Road with Market Street—and they mean to have it, too.

The opening of such a street is demanded not only by the "South siders," but by all the best interests of the town. The very men who owned property along the line of the last opened street, and who assessed its value at about twenty-five dollars per acre, now refuse to sell building lots along the line of that street even at the rate $1500 per acre!

We need more building lots at prices low enough to enable poor men to buy and build; and to have more lots we must have more Streets.

Wake up! City Fathers! we are going for you every time, as if we have that other New Street.

Professor Goudsmit, of the University of Leyden, reached here yesterday. He comes to study the workings of our institutions and their results. So far as the "workings" of our institutions go, he must need travel around a good deal to satisfy himself, but he can get a perfect epitome of the "results" by simply visiting the Tombs—N. Y. Com. Ad.

Every dog has his day; The following beautiful lines were written before Jack's day was over:
I'm Captain Jack of the Lava beds,
I'm cock of the wall, and chief of the Red-
Ukin "Hif the har!" and scalp the heads
Of the whole United States Army.

Billings give us two items on "gain": The partridge, grouse and pheasant are cousins, and either one of them, straddle, a gridiron natural enuff tew have been born there.

An Iowa church meant to be patriotic in having its steeple painted with "stars and stripes," but the practical result is that strangers are continually led thither to seek an "easy shave."
