The Board of Jury Commissioners have been work making out their new list for 1874.

Mr. A Steel a well known horse deal er has just arrived in town with 40 head of stock. Horse buyers will do well to call on him at Sain's stables.

We wonder why our City Fathers have not communed work on that New Street. We hope they have not let it slip their memory entirely.

The lacked on all sides when will that New Street be opened, and can only refer our friends to the City Papa's for information.

James P. Mays Esq., Coroner, has appointed P. M. Jearal, James J Micchell and W. R. Browne Esq., deputy Coreners.

We notice that our friend James A Williams, are erecting two neat little cota on his lot on Market Street. Go ahead friend James.

Tax payers have only nine more days to pay their tax in Don't wait until Ale last moment to attend to this little matter, for if you do you will find it a hard matter to get in the office, as there will be a great many who will wait until the last minute. So now is the time to call up to the boss office. HORSE FORKD

A dark bay horse, says the Columbia Union Herald, having a large wart near the shoulder, and surposed to be stolen from a woman named Reilly, of Grange burg has been captured by the police, and is now for the custody of the chief, awaiting indeptification by the owner.

We notice a new and hand some store group up one door below Mr. P. Doyle's store on Pussell Street, notwithstanding the high tex s. But our people don't. intend to let the above lit le ite a deter on Amelia Street Mr. L. Ransdale has light completed a nest store and is now wants to supply the people with groceries of all kinks from said new store.

One of the med who has soul trust preveived less from the party, and who Rias taken the least money from the County of State than anbody also, is Jue Alarkius Eag., the Jury Commissioner of this County. He has been a thorough Toing sturdy Republican throughout and mething else. He is in favor of low staxation and of honesty and probity in everything. He deserves the thanks and goodwill of the community at large, and we belive that he has them. He ·deserves them, at any rate.

P. PRY AFTER LOCALS FOR THE

Merchants, grocers, citizens, buy all the rough rice you can, for from the hand bills that ornament the wayside trees, it is evident that we may soon hear the pulsation of our central town machinery.

Hush! heart of Orangeburg, thy beats—
Hush! pounding mill of "Straus & Street's Let us sleep."

27 ABDUCTION.

Not long ago a wagon was seen trying to kiduap a cow. The wagon had succeeded so far in the abduction as to have all but the hind legs loaded, when the teamster discovered the game; fortunately the cow escaped, but with the sign of the souffle-a bundle of fodder on each horn, and one in her mouth. It brought to mind an old song in which a Yorkshire boy falls in with a female thief, thus:

"Now I had some precaution took—
My pocket held a small fish hock,
And groping for my pocket-book
The hook it stripped her finger Of a diamond ring.

Li whack fal de riddle a I'se Yorkshire tho' in Lunun."

Our country friends may draw their own conclusions.

PETIT LARCENY.

A female with golden locks was discovered in the streets (while the black bludgeon was roasting by the fire) with a stolen bonnet and its contents in a QUANDARY. "Now if I stop to munch the contained gunger I shall lose the bonnet, and if I keep on with the bonnet I cannot eat the gunger," and she (like the freedman who hit precisely between two rats to kill both lost) all. She had evidently been badly taught when she was a little pig. She eluded her pursuers for the time, but may be recognized hereafter by an irregular twist in her nose, and several in her character. If she have a kink in her tail, it is advisable that the Council attach a card with "beware of the corporation law' thereon written.

INGRATITUDE.

Backwoodsmen, when they blow about the "best shooting gun in the world," say "she." L. Murray say it." Others say that objects that are are indicative of power, force, &c. should be her. Let us 'split the differ ence." A gentleman stands at Buli Scovil! & Pike's corner, with his ears and tail knocked off, and his nose stuck in the ground. His lady, an old ac quaintance of ours stands at Louis corner, with her ears and the alb at the end knocked off, and her nose stuck in the ground; and these careless courtrymen, for they are Rebs, are continually adding insult to injury by trying to bark them with their heavy wagon wheels, which is ungrateful after their having barked so much for the friends of the "Lost Cause. She is an old equaintance, and many of us remember we wish we could forget) when we watched her as a special nurse would watch a lady in delicate health. Hot frons were kept ready, not to put to her feet, but to touch ther off at imaginary enemies, tho' she was not loa led.

May we here indulge in a cry-no more for us please. Humanity is frail, and we all remember a certain old adage which says, "No matter-no more for us." The upshot of it all was that thou sands of us were unaccounted for to our mothers. We boarded away from home at uncle Sam's, who at the best, kept a contemptible table. Some outon please.

SAVINGS BANK TAXATION .- There has arisen a conflict between the officers of the savings institutions of the country having capital stock and the commissioner of internal revenue, with respect to the liability of stock in such institu tions to assessment. The commissioner of internal revenue rules that the present act exempts from taxation only such savings banks as have no capital, and are used simply as depositories for the money of the poor. Many of the savings banks claim otherwise, and have appealed to Congress to determine the matter. The subject was brought before the committee on ways and means, when a sub committee was appointed to invesgate it. The The The Street

THE TROUBLE IN TEXAS .- The at torney-general received the following telegram last week : "The newly-elect ed Governor, Cohie, was inaugurated last night. Armed men are guarding the approaches to the offices of the capitol. Other armed men have possession of the legislative halls. A conflict seems inevitable. A message from you may save us from this disaster."

The attorney general telegraphed in reply : "I can only appeal to the parties o peacefully adjust their difficulties if possible. Can not some one negotiate a settlement? I have no power to interfere with force, nor have you any duty to perform in respect to the matter except to exert your influence for peace."
