Robins retail in Raleigh at 50 cents per dozen. There are now 118 children in the Oxford Orphan Asylum. A sulphur spring has been discovered near Hickor, N. C. The Mercantile Reading Association of Charlotte gives hope. New York has over 800 accidental deaths annually. Charlotte has 18 bar rooms, Raleigh has 100, Goldsboro 33, and Lumberton 15. Richmond has 60,605 population by the census just taken, an increase of 9,600 since 1870. A "gaming" horse thief, black, and about 10 years old, has been captured near Valdosta, Ga. Three hundred and fifty grangers attended the meeting of the State Grange in Raleigh. From September 1, to February 1, 1874, 10,036 bales of cotton were shipped from the State. John Jones, of Atlanta, Ga., was killed Tuesday by his horse running away. One dealer in Atlanta has received nearly four loads of oranges from Florida this season. For the year ending December 31, 1873, it cost $1,048,800 to clean the streets of New York city. All Wilmington rejoices because a lime kiln has been erected ten miles from the city. St. James church, Wilmington, was robbed of a large mirror and hair brush on Thursday night. The Supreme Court of Massachusetts has decided that a woman is eligible for the office of School Commissioner. The wife of Mr. Edwin Shaver of Salisbury, was robbed of $120 last Saturday. The thief was a little white boy, about ten years old. A gentleman, named Bolling, is about to enter suit for the recovery of the ownership of nearly one-half of the city of Richmond, Va. The State Life Insurance Company of Raleigh, is about to loan $1,500 to the Fernal College of Robeson county, for the purpose of aiding that institution. It was lately stated in Congress that, within fifteen years, at the present rate of cutting the land in the United States yielding heavy timber would be entirely stripped. Before the war it was an unusual event for a bale of cotton to be shipped from the town of Greenville, but there has been shipped this season about 10,000. This means business. Nineteen unclaimed boxes, containing tobacco belonging to R. M. Blackburn, of Greensboro, were seized by a coroner's officer at Laurinburg, Rich. County, on Thursday. A man named Woods, living in the southern part of Guilford county, killed another man who knocked at his door, and then shot his own brains out. He was supposed to be in a state of mental aberration. Smith Abernathy, of Forsyth, Ga., a son of fifty years of age, suddenly disappeared on the 9th, taking with him it is believed, $5,000. He owes no one, and leaves a wife and son behind him. A little girl, daughter of Mrs. Watson, of Columbus, was killed by lightning last Tuesday afternoon. Her body was badly scorched and her clothing burned. Several persons in the same house were knocked down at the time. There is a boy named Slosser in Jonesboro, Tenn., nineteen years old, who stands six feet six in his stockings and is still growing. His foot is six feet inches long. To agree with the saying of the time, he should have been named Slosser. The late reports concerning the Indian troubles in the Platte valley have been exaggerated. There are no indications of a general war, and the Sioux are said to be peaceful, or, at least, quiet. Nevertheless, several murders have been committed by them. In the Court of General Sessions, in New York, a police officer, named Slatery, was sentenced to the State Prison for seven years and six months on the charge of assault with intent to kill a respectable citizen. Slatery was drunk at the time, and beat the complainant in a shocking manner, and would have killed him but for the interference of a bystander. Dan'l Robinson, one of the oldest lawyers in Washington, is what he was called for the last sixty years, and as such is known all over the country; but "Judge" Robinson he will be hereafter called as Governor Shepleard has appointed him a Magistrate, and he is doing well. The first case that he tried he found that the plaintiff was a type, and, true to his profession, he gave judgment in his favor.

LIFE INSURANCE EXTRAORDINARY. Mr. Wm. N. Switzer, an old citizen and once a wealthy miller of St. Louis died last week at the age of sixty-three. In the course of a prosperous business he had accumulated a large estate, but most of it was swept away in the financial crisis of 1867. He left, however, a handsome provision for his family in the shape of insurance policies that aggregate no less than $310,000—the whole of which fall upon Eastern companies, except $10,000 on the St. Louis Mutual and $20,000 on the Northwestern of Milwaukee. Hartford companies are taxed $85,000. Mr. Switzer's premium amounted to $15,000 a year.

THE ORANGEBURG NEWS

AUGUSTUS B. KNOWLTON, EDITOR.

GEORGE BOLIVER, FINANCIAL AND BUSINESS MANAGER.

Official Paper of the State and of Orangeburg County.

THE ORANGEBURG NEWS HAS A LARGER CIRCULATION THAN ANY OTHER PAPER IN THE COUNTY.

SATURDAY, FEB. 28, 1874.

Owing to absence on professional business during the greater part of the week we are compelled to ask our reader's indulgence for the limited amount of editorial and local matter in the present issue.

We beg to call the attention of our readers—especially of our colored readers—to the able and timely speech of the Hon. R. B. Elliott which appears in full on the first page of the present issue.

Gen. Elliott has sounded the keynote of the coming campaign. Let white-washed Republicans and all other political scamps stand from under!

Colored men! Read General Elliott's noble speech on our first page. No truer or more timely words have been spoken since the year 1.

Two year old Republicans, and other knaves who have joined our party for the sake of plunder are robbing us and killing the party while they grow fat and rich on stolen monies. These rascals understand their game! and the poor hardworking colored man loses every time!

If we want our party to live a year longer we must sweep all such fellows overboard to the sharks, their brothers.

The time has come to "unload"—Grant says so—Elliott says so—and all intelligent Republicans know it. Now let's go straight to work and do it!

Siamese Twins.

PHILADELPHIA, February 25. The second edition of the Medical Times states that the autopsy of the Siamese twins was continued on Monday last, resulting in some interesting disclosures. It says that on Friday the commission continued the autopsy upon the Siamese twins, and made some important discoveries. They found that the two livers, which were supposed to be joined only by blood vessels, were really one body, the pancreas being continuous between, so that when they were removed from the bodies and placed on the table, they formed one mass. The so-called tract of postal continuity is, therefore, a liver tissue. It will be remembered that Chang was said to be possessed of one more pouch than Eng, but when the liver was removed, an upper hepatic pouch was found also proceeding from Eng, so that the band contained four pouches of portonem, besides the liver tissue. These disclosures show that any attempt during life to separate the twins would, in all probability, have proved fatal.

Gen. Lewis T. Wigfall, who died in Galveston, Texas, on Wednesday last, was well known throughout this country, having been a Senator of the United States from Texas previous to and at the time of the breaking out of the late war, and afterwards a General in the Confederate army and a member of the Confederate States Senate. He was a native of South Carolina, and went to Texas when a young man. His ability as a lawyer soon gave him a prominent place at the bar of that State, and equal success attended him in his political career. In the Senate of the United States, he was a leader of the advocates of secession, and was noted for his boldness. Upon the secession of Texas, he resigned his seat in the Senate, and took an active part in the movement of the Southern States. He was present at the taking of Fort Sumter, and received the surrender of the fort. Soon afterward, he was given the command of a brigade of troops from Texas, and participated in a number of battles. Later in the war, he was elected a member of the Confederate Senate. After the war, he went to England, and became interested in mining operations in Colorado and the far West. About eighteen months since General Wigfall made his home in Baltimore. His age was but little more than fifty. General Wigfall was essentially a man of force, and was full of energy and will.

State News.

Several companies of immigrants arrived and settled in Rock Hill last week. Bishop Wightman will lecture before the Cheraw Lyceum at its meeting tonight.

Mr. Walter Keeble, the well known theatrical manager and actor, has stilled in Aiken.

Mr. J. Davis, the oldest man in Anderson county, died recently, at the advanced age of 102 years.

Twenty four German immigrants arrived in Abbeville, last week, and were provided with homes.

Mr. Thomas Guffin, a well known citizen of Abbeville, and Mrs. John C. Chiles, of Midway, died last Sunday.

Heavy rains have continued throughout Colleton County, the past week swelling the streams higher than has been known for a number of years.

A shooting affair occurred at Effingham last Saturday, in which a colored man was shot several times by one McGee, from Williamsburg.

This is the way the editor of the Ker shaw Gazette wishes to be remunerated: "Potatoes taken in payment for the Gazette. Don't all speak at once."

The income of the Greenville and Columbia Railroad during the month of January, we learn, was about $84,000, being larger than in any month of its past history.

George Bushy Head (chief of the Cherokee) and his wife, are in the city, of Columbia on their way to Washington, to look after moneys due them by the Government. The old man is a Baptist minister.

PARDONED.—Gilbert Bynum, William Stowers and Henry Williams, the policemen who were convicted of riot and assault at the last term of the Court of General Sessions for Richland county, and sentenced by Judge R. B. Carpenter to pay a fine of five dollars each, and the costs of prosecution, were pardoned by the Governor yesterday, and the fine and costs remitted.

SMALL POX.—This dreaded disease, which created such an excitement among the people of our County in July last, has again made its appearance in Camden. Allen DeSaussure colored, of Charleston, arrived by Friday night's train, and found lodging on the premises of Mr. William Ficken in the extreme southern portion of the town, where he remained until the following day, when it was discovered that he had small pox. Mr. Ficken has changed his place of abode, and there being no other parties living in the neighborhood, we feel confident that there will be no further spread of the disease. The afflicted man has been provided with an experienced nurse, and the Town Council have taken the necessary precautions to prevent persons from going too near the house where he is.

Our friends in the country shall be correctly advised of the progress of the case. Out of five children which composed the family of John Jacob Atar, one only remains. This is William E., who is now upwards of eighty. He is now one of the oldest native born residents of New York, and has seen a wonderful series of changes. He can remember the first steamboat which greeted his boyish eyes when he was a youth of fourteen, and he has seen the city increase from 20,000 to a population of more than 1,000,000. He has also seen his father's estate expand from $20,000 to $50,000,000.

Lone Wolf, the war chief of the Kiowas, was comparatively civilized until he lately heard of the death of his son. He had an ambulance and a pair of mules, and said he was trying to live like a white man. The son was killed while raiding in Texas. Lone Wolf drew his revolver, shot his mules, broke up his wagon, piled it and his lodge on top of the mules, and burned the pile. He shaved one side of his head, stuck a black feather behind his ear, and started his followers on the war path.

Suicide for love is still in vogue. Miss Doverous, twenty and pretty, took arsenic, fatally, in Oswego county, some days ago, because her lover proved faithless. Ed. Simmons, of St. Johnsville, was even worse; for, after taking sugar of lead because a girl snubbed him at a dance, and making several doctors an all-night job in pumping it out, he ate green paint and died.

A Reptile in a Lady's Stomach.

IT COMES UP INTO HER THROAT.

There is a young lady living within a mile and a quarter of Christians, who is afflicted as singularly as was the celebrated Miss Godsey, the "Sleeping Beauty." For four years past she has been suffering with violent fainting spells, that come on periodically, and are produced by some kind of reptile which comes up into her throat. She is choked to such an extent that her muscles become rigid, her extremities cold, the pupils of her eyes dilated, and the skin breaks on her hands and face, and is in all other particulars, thoroughly convulsed. She is only relieved by the reptile itself, being, it is thought, partially choked, withdrawing itself into the stomach.

The reptile has at previous times been seen by different persons. On one occasion a Methodist preacher was visiting at the home of her parents, when she was seized with one of the usual attacks, and the parastical object even came out of her mouth and was grasped by the minister. Being of a very superstitious turn of mind she had conceived the idea that its death was her death, and refused to have it removed, although that could at that time have been easily accomplished. The minister avowed that the reptile felt as cold and clammy as any other snake, but that it offered no particular resistance when he clutched it with his hand. When it made its appearance outside the mouth it curled its head rather under the chin, but when let loose went immediately down the young lady's throat again. It frequently comes up into the mouth, and the young lady says that whenever it does so it appears to lick the roof of her mouth with its horrible tongue, and then recedes again.

A neighboring physician has been attending her during the period of her indisposition, and has been treating her for tape-worm, believing that to be the true malady. The symptoms are, however, entirely different from those produced by tape-worm. The girl still continues robust, instead of being emaciated, and the appetite, instead of being ravenous, is fickle, at times scarcely taking any food, while at other times she has a very good appetite. The strongest tape-worm remedies were used, but without any effect whatever, and the physician, thinking the case hopeless, gave it up a short time ago; when two others were called in, who are using every means in their power to effect a cure with what result remains to be seen. The first step to be taken was to disabuse her mind of the superstitions that had taken possession of her in regard to her disease. She has at last consented to have the monster removed, if possible, and destroyed, as she is now convinced that her life depends on it. The physicians in attendance are anxiously awaiting an opportunity to effect a removal, and are keeping constant watch for the appearance of the reptile.

Alcohol has already been prepared for the reception, so that, when it shall be displaced, so strange a phenomenon may be preserved.

The reptile, so far as has been ascertained, is about half an inch in diameter, of a dark color, with a sort of hairy coating, but no one is capable of judging of its length. It has never been so closely scrutinized by any one as to tell whether it has eyes, but that, we believe is hardly possible. All that is yet known of it that it frequently comes up into her mouth, choking the girl and throwing her into terrible convulsions. It is attracting universal attention about Christians, and all the more so, because her life has been seriously threatened by the peculiar movements of the reptile.—Nashville Banner.

An Eagle Tries to Carry Off a Girl.

On Saturday, the 2d inst., a girl named Elizabeth Moore, daughter of Albert Moore, living in the northeast corner of Colborne county, was returning home from a neighbor's house, whither she had been sent on an errand, when she felt something heavy drop upon her shoulders and the next instant she was borne to the ground. She says that her first impression was that she had been seized by a panther or some other wild beast, but soon felt the talons of what proved to be an eagle, clutching her sides and arms, lacerating the flesh in a fearful manner; and its beak pecking her on the head, she was dragged some distance on the ground. Pretty soon the eagle, having secured his prize, with claws and bill firmly fixed, raised her from the ground and sailed along at from three to four feet above the earth for some distance. Occasionally she was dropped on the ground, but the eagle would as often raise her again, making new and serious wounds with his talons in her body and his beak in her head, till at last he reached the height of ten feet, and attempted to alight on the limb of a red oak tree on the roadside, when his hold again gave way and the girl fell to the earth seriously stunned and hurt. She was unconscious for a time, then clambered over the fence near by into her father's orchard and began making the best of her way to the house, near which she was met by her mother, who had been attracted by her screams and was hastening to her relief. The most remarkable part of the matter is that the girl did not see the eagle at all. A shawl which had been securely fastened about her head, so as to project over her face, hid her antagonist from her view. The track along which she was dragged however, was plainly visible in the road. The girl Elizabeth is 14 years of age, and weighs between 80 and 90 pounds. Her father is a reliable and worthy man. He is a son-in-law of Mr. Hatfield, in the same section of country, and lives about five miles from the Tecumseh Iron Works. The girl was not seriously hurt and is doing well. The eagle has been twice seen since by the hunters, who are making every effort to kill or capture him.—Jacksonville Ala. Republican.

A BALL ROOM DISASTER.—A young lady from Cambridge attended a ball in Boston, where the floor was waxed. During the evening, while dancing in a waltz quadrille, the young lady slipped and fell, and the young man who accompanied her, in his efforts to save her from falling, placed his hand on her side, but also slipped at the same time. When the young lady was placed on her feet she was unable to stand, and was carried from the ball. It appeared that the young man, in his effort to save her, pierced her side with one of his fingers in such a manner as to cause faintness and intense pain. She was taken home in a carriage, placed in bed, and a physician sent for, who pronounced her seriously injured internally. She never again rose from that bed, and only a few days since was borne to the cemetery.

THE TERRIBLE TRICHINA.—A Chicago paper says that a physician of that city has nine patients under treatment, suffering from the effects of trichina superinduced by eating diseased pork. Specimen chunks of the pork used by some of the patients killed eight dogs in thirty-six hours. One of the hogs from which the diseased pork was taken was round and plump, and weighed 400 pounds, and was, to all appearance, sound and healthy.

A member of the Chicago Board of Aldermen has been converted to temperance. This remarkable conversion is due to the singular eloquence of a medical gentleman of that city, who, during the course of a private lecture he was delivering, remarked to the alderman that if he ever took another drink of whiskey, it would land him heels upwards into Hades in less than two minutes and a-half.

Mr. Merriwether T. Walker, one of the wealthiest merchants and largest real estate owners in West Point, Georgia, had his residence, situated about three miles from West Point, entirely destroyed by fire on the evening of the 17th instant, during the prevalence of a heavy storm. The loss is estimated at between five and six thousand dollars. No insurance.
