SAURDAY, MAY 9, 1874.

A good many people are buying land now a days, and many of them are buying...

There is only one safe way to buy land, and that is to take an out and out deed for it, giving a bond and mortgage for any unpaid purchase money.

We repeat, there is only one safe way to buy land—every other mode of purchase is attended with risks to which no ought to be subjected.

Loans and Public Companies.

South Carolina Rice Plantations Trust (Limited). Incorporated under the Companies Acts, 1862 and 1867, with limited liability. Capital £500,000, in 50,000 shares of £10 each.

Each share of the subscribed capital, as per terms stated hereafter.

The shares will be entitled to dividends up to £10 per cent. per annum, and the bonus certificates will be redeemable by annual drawings at £10 each.

The remaining 25,000 shares of capital will be held in trust by the trustees, not to receive dividend until the total redemption of the bonus certificates, after which they will be handed over to the vendor for completion of purchase, and rank pari passu with all other shares.

After payment of dividends on shares 90 per cent. of the remaining profits will be lodged by the directors to the credit of the bonus certificate Trust Fund, which fund will be exclusively devoted to the redemption of the bonus certificates.

No part of the purchase money will be paid to the vendor until a committee appointed by the directors has personally inspected the properties and the statements contained in the prospectus have been substantially verified to the satisfaction of such committee.

Subscriptions to be paid: £2 per share on application; £3 per share on allotment; £2 per share two months after date of allotment; £3 per share four months after date of allotment. If no allotment is made, the deposits will be returned without deduction, and where the allotments are less than the amount applied for, the surplus receipts will be credited towards the allotment.

OFFICES. 3, Market buildings, Mincing-lane, E. C. 1. This undertaking, which has the sanction and support of the Governor of the State of South Carolina and many of its chief citizens, is for the purpose of rehabilitating and beneficially developing large freehold rice plantations and naval store timber tracts of extraordinary richness and fertility thrown out of cultivation by the late war.

2. These lands are composed of rich alluvial soil of great depth, yearly renewed by the deposits brought down by the rivers, and thus made practically inexhaustible and independent of artificial manures; they are well known to be among the best rice plantations in the State, nearly all being perfectly safe from frosts and salts. Their value before the war, with clean rice at one-half its present price, was from 150 dollars to 300 dollars (£30 to £60) per acre, and their average production from 30 to 70 bushels per acre—a yield which created an annual yield of £2000 to £3000 per acre, and their average production from 30 to 70 bushels per acre—a yield which created an annual yield of £2000 to £3000 per acre, and their average production from 30 to 70 bushels per acre—a yield which created an annual yield of £2000 to £3000 per acre.

3. Twenty-two of the estates are on the North Santee Rivers and three on the Ashepots; they comprise an area of 36,666 acres of freehold land, of which 10,113 acres are rice lands under bank, with about 2,000 acres now in cultivation; 8,700 acres of rice land not under bank; 2,790 acres cleared upland for corn, cotton, &c., and 15,062 acres wood land, on which there are pine forests for resin, turpentine, &c., besides much heavy timber, such as live-oak, white oak, cedar, &c., invaluable for shipbuilding and other commercial purposes. Upon the various estates there are 18 dwelling for managers and overseers, with all necessary outbuildings, about 200 labourers' cottages, 39 barns, and many other buildings, together with 10 steam thrashing mills, engines, boilers, elevators, fans, and all necessary machinery, to thresh and prepare the rough rice or paddy.

4. The rice grown upon these estates, known as Northern Rice, is the heaviest and best that is brought to the market of Charleston, and always commands a better price than that grown further south. From 19 to 21 bushels of Santee rough rice make a barrel or tierce of 600 lbs. of clean rice, while it requires from 15 to 20 per cent. more of the Southern rice to produce the same quantity. It is the most certain crop that can be grown. Excluding the accidents of salt and frosts (from which, as ho-fore stated, these lands are mostly protected by their situation) there can, with ordinary care, scarcely be any failure.

5. The present price of clean rice in the Charleston market is 7 to 8 cents per lb., or just double what it was before the war, and, furthermore, it is protected by a duty of 2 cents per lb. upon all imports of foreign rice. But in the estimates herein given the price assumed for the rice (1.40 dollars per bushel in the rough) equal to 4 1/2 cents per lb. of clean, and, at the same time, no notice is taken of the value of the pine and other timber lands, which can be worked to great advantage.

6. Including what is now in cultivation, it is contemplated to have in seed by the Spring of 1875 about 10,000 acres of rice land; and during that time to put under bank some thousands of additional acres; to repair and reconstruct two canals going through the estates, and otherwise vigorously bring the property into profitable operation. The result of working the said 10,000 acres will be as follows, and will thus provide the cash required for dividends, drawings, &c.

Table with 2 columns: Description and Amount. Includes items like 'A large portion of these lands have produced, year after year, 50 to 70 bushels of rice per acre', '24,000 bushels of seed rice in addition to above crop, at 2 dols.', 'Straw (used for paper making), at 2 dols. per acre', 'Profit from naval stores', 'Rent and income from stores, &c.', 'Sale of Timber', 'Deduct cost of working', 'Net profit'.

The above calculations are based upon the experience of old rice planters, whose statements are duly sworn to and certified by the British Consul at Charleston, who also gives his voluntary certificates and opinion of the great value of these lands and their profit by culture.

9. The reports of Messrs. Arthur Middleton, Rawlins, H. Lowndes, John A. Hume, all old-experienced rice planters, and of H. Pinckney Walker, Esq., Her Britannic Majesty's Consul at Charleston, fully corroborate, by their own personal knowledge, the foregoing statement.

10. The great want of the South, in endeavouring to revive and develop her enormous resources of agricultural wealth, particularly the rice fields of South Carolina, is capital. By furnishing the capital the labor is procured, and these rich rice lands are again made to produce their valuable crops, thus rendering the State an essential service, which will be hailed as a great boon by the entire people.

11. No difficulty is anticipated in procuring an ample supply of efficient and instructed labour from the negroes upon the spot. These people, warmly attached to the localities where they were born, are peaceful, orderly, and willing to work when honestly and fairly treated. They have invariably preferred the rice plantation on account of the abundance of game, wild fowl, fish, oysters, &c., to be found there (which they have always been permitted to enjoy without restriction.) Many of them are mechanics, carpenters, blacksmiths, &c., of remarkable intelligence and usefulness. Since the emancipation different systems have been tried in the employment of the freed men, but it is now generally admitted that the most successful in attracting and retaining labour is that of weekly payment of wages in cash. It is this plan which will be adopted, and by paying with scrupulous punctuality, the directors are assured and believe that their supply of labour will be ample, regular, and reliable. They propose however, to introduce all labour saving machines which can be usefully and profitably employed.

12. There is a contract entered into between John Chadwick, the owner of the property, on the one part, and J. W. Sherman, on behalf of the company on the other part, dated 1st October, 1873, for the conveyance to the company of 36,666 acres of freehold land, with all improvements, canals, banks, trunks, gates, dwelling-houses, and out-buildings, barns, labourers' houses and threshing mills, steam engines, elevators and all the machinery thereto attached, with the goodwill of the several stores doing business on the estates, upon a payment of the sum of £190,000 in cash, and £250,000 in fully paid-up shares. These shares to be held in trust until each certificate holder (in addition to dividends on his share up to 10 per cent. per annum) is paid back the whole amount subscribed as a bonus, still retaining the share, which will participate, pro rata, in all future profits of the undertaking.

12. Until the complete redemption of the bonus certificates the net receipts will be apportioned as follows: 1st. The payment of interest up to 10 per cent. per annum upon the subscribed issue of 25,000 shares. 2nd. 90 per cent. of the remaining surplus profits will form a sinking fund for purposes of the redemption trust, to be called the Bonus Certificate Trust Fund. 3rd. The balance of such surplus profits being 10 per cent. thereof, will be paid to the vendor under the provision of deed of purchase.

13. All the expenses of the formation of the company up to the allotment of shares will be borne by the vendor.

14. The various reports, memorandum and Articles of Association, and the trust and contracts therein, may be seen at the offices of the solicitors, Messrs. Davis, Campbell, Reeves, and Hooper, and prospectuses and forms of application for shares may be obtained of the secretary, at the offices of the Trust; the solicitors; and the bankers.

Upon application a copy of the reports, &c., alluded to in this prospectus will be forwarded post free. Forms of application for shares may be obtained from all London brokers.—London Observer April 19.

TRIBUTE OF RESPECT.

At a meeting of the Orangeburg Lutheran Church held on the evening of May 7th 1874, the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, It has pleased Almighty God in His wise providence to remove from our midst Bro. F. OLDENDORFF, we bow in humble submission to the will of our heavenly Father, believing that our loss is his eternal gain; therefore let it be resolved, That in the death of Bro. F. OLDENDORFF, the Lutheran Congregation of Orangeburg has lost a worthy member and a firm and faithful supporter of the Church of the Reformation.

Resolved, That our united sympathies are hereby tendered to his mourning wife and family in this the hour of their sore affliction.

Resolved, That a blank page in our Church book be inserted to his memory; and that it shall ever be a reminder to us of the certainty of death, and the uncertainty of life.

Resolved, That a copy of the above preamble and resolutions be furnished to the family of the deceased and published in the Lutheran Visitor, the Orangeburg News and Orangeburg Times.

Extract from the minutes. J. HERMANN WAILERS, Secretary L. C.

IN MEMORIAM.

At a regular communication of Shilbelleth Lodge, No. 28, A. F. M., held at Masonic Hall on the 7th April 1874, the following preamble and resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, the supreme Grand Master of the Universe has summoned another of our fellow workmen to those mysteries, as yet unrevealed to us, but which we will all in His good time be called to realize; and in His Providence has seen fit to remove brother J. H. O'CAIN from our midst, we hope to a nobler work in a better and happier sphere; therefore be it resolved, That in the death of brother J. H. O'CAIN, our lodge has lost a member who has ever exemplified his attachment to the order, by identifying himself for years with its active workings and esteeming it one of his highest privileges to be associated with the fraternity of the mystic tie.

Resolved, That while shelling the tear of sorrow over his grave, we tender to those who are allied to him by the close ties of kindred our heartfelt sympathies.

Resolved, That a blank page in our minute book be inserted to his memory, and that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the relatives of the deceased.

Extract from the minutes. F. S. DIBBLE, Secretary.

IN MEMORIAM.

At a regular communication of Shilbelleth Lodge, No. 28, A. F. M., held at Masonic Hall, May 5th 1874, the following preamble and resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, Death has again stretched over us his dread right arm, and again our Lodge is draped in mourning and our hearts grieve for a departed brother. "The young man may die, the old man must" for death comes to all—and so our brother FREDERICK FERNER having completed his three score years of a life full of usefulness to his fellow men, and of love for our venerable and cherished order, suffering for years from a painful disease, heard and obeyed the order from our Supreme Grand Master, and having all of his life acted by the plumb, he has parted from us on the square, to take his journey through the dark valley of death, we sincerely hope, to that fairer and better land to which masonry with its unerring finger points;

And as it is our desire as a Lodge to put upon record our appreciation of our deceased brother, therefore be it resolved, 1st. That while we can but feel that the Omnipotent God, the Supreme Architect of the Universe, has done what seemeth good in his sight; yet we miss sadly from among us the hearty greeting and friendly tones of our brother, and grieve over his vacant seat, trusting however, that his soul, that "immortal part," like our Grand Master Hiram—has gone to that better land" where it can never more be missed.

Resolved, 2d. That our warmest sympathies be and are hereby extended to the family of our deceased brother, and that a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to them.

Resolved, 3rd. That in order more effectually to keep the recollection of him fresh among us, a page in our minute book be inserted to his memory.

OBITUARY.

IN MEMORIAM.—F. OLDENDORFF, aged fifty nine years one month and 4 days. It has pleased the Great Creator of the Universe to take from our midst, one who was respected and beloved by all those whose opportunity it was to know him. No better and no nobler heart ever ceased to beat, than that which made the bosom of our departed friend a sanctuary for those sentiments which lead to the cultivation of those broad and catholic feelings that alone embrace the Scriptural injunction: "Love thy neighbor as thyself."

F. OLDENDORFF was born in Braunshweig, Germany, April 1st 1815. In 1849 he settled up in Orangeburg, and it is from that time up to his death that these who mourn his loss amongst us, know him best. He was Elder of the Lutheran Church at this place and one of its most constant and earnest members. It was his most earnest wish to live to see the new Lutheran Church at this place finished. Alas! the hands of an All-wise Providence interposed, and the respected and loved Elder Oldendorff is now shrouded in the cold and icy drapery of death. That voice which we had hoped to hear join with ours, in the rejoicing which must follow the completion of the Church of the followers of the great and good Luther, is hushed forever to this world. It is only at intervals that we hear those death-notes pealed, which touch and awaken the chords of sorrow in the bosom of those of two nations. Oldendorff of Orangeburg, his death is being mourned as sadly to-day at Braunschweig (Germany), as it is in his own family circle here. Both were his homes; one his native, the other his adopted. He loved them together, their people and his religion. Quiet and unassuming in manner he did nothing to offend any one. On the contrary, the late Mr. Oldendorff would rather have suffered himself, than by any act or deed of his own to have caused his fellow man to feel aggrieved. His society and his friendship were always sought after. Frequently have men gathered around him to reap the benefit to be derived from his conversational gifts. By his courtesy and associations many are indebted to him. He is dead and his friends will not make this acknowledgement in all sincerity. A man is never appreciated in the flesh; it is only when he is dead that we wonder how the blank he has left can be filled up. He was pre-eminently a man who attended to his own business. And yet he is gone! Sorrow's purest sigh has been sent up for him, and mourners, with heads bowed low in grief and anguish, have wailed the funeral cry which witnessed the covering of the face of our departed friend forever.

Those who knew him on this earth will know him here no more. He will never again walk among us; never counsel his youthful friends and relatives more in this world's business. And yet he is gone! Those sober lessons of wisdom and experience which he was wont to instil into the minds of the young and thoughtful will live, but his presence will no longer bless them; but that force of truthfulness which his frank face never failed to inspire.

Mr. OLDENDORFF was taken ill on Saturday in the forenoon and died early Monday morning with that grand self-entrance in God which ever bestows "death of its sting and the grave of its victory." He sleeps the sleep that knows no waking, and that face which was always wreathed in smiles, now lies beneath the earth and the turf in some neglected grave-yard, and all that is left to us of him is a kindly remembrance of his many noble virtues.

May it please thy God, faithful tomb! Take thou my presence to thy trust; And give this sacred relic room to make To slumber in the silent dust." J. H. W.
