J. FELDER MEYERS, Assistant Editor.

SATURDAY, JAN. 23, 1875.

Two weeks from today an article will appear in this paper which will be to the point, and show the "machinery" of certain matters. The Democrats may think that some of their leading men are high toned, and all that, but there are certain facts which will be brought to their notice on that day, which may induce even a Bourbon to believe that all that shines is not gold.

Judge Reed is one of the best Judges we ever had. He is strict and yet merciful.

See card of Dr. F. H. Legare in another column.

Thorn & Jackson has rebuilt at their old stand and have a good stock on hand.

W. Perry Murphy Esq., was in attendance upon the Court during the past week. He is a rising young lawyer, and is determined to make his mark.

The Grand Jury made a presentment. Mr. Boliver commenced to read it, but not being familiar with the hand writing, could not get along real well.

Mr John Baxter is a splendid carpenter and is now a useful man to those who want to build again. He does work good and in a hurry.

W K Crook has opened a good stock of clothing, dry goods, hats, &c., besides his well assorted stock of groceries. See his advertisement in another column.

The many friends of Mr and Mrs Kirk Robinson will be pained to learn that they lost their infant daughter on Wednesday morning last. He has our heartfelt sympathy.

Dick is spreading himself, he has a full stock of everything and will drive a smashing trade if low prices will be any inducements to buyers. Go to Kortjohn.

When you want drugs, toilet articles, candies, paints, oils, cutlery, &c., call at Dr A C Dukes drug store and your orders will be filled with dispatch and at the very lowest prices.

Mr. McQueen Salley, at Sain's old stables, has on hand a fine stock of horses and mules which, as every one knows, can be purchased from Mc. all right both in quality and price. A word to the wise, &c.

Dr A M Snider's card in another column deserves the attention of the public. The Dr's reputation as a Dentist is widely known throughout our county and we guarantee to all who visit him will go away well pleased both with the work and price.

On Thursday last we had the pleasure of dining at Duke's hotel. The table was sumptuously spread, and the clever host, Mr. Dukes, saw to it himself that his boarders were taken care of. Those who want good accommodation should go there at this popular hotel.

On the 23rd of December 1872, Mr Richard Way one of our most respectable citizens left this world. He was a man universally respected, and the vacancy made by his death will not soon be forgotten. We extend our kindest sympathies to his family; and trust that they will meet him in the bright hereafter. Mr Way was in the sixty third year of his age.

We are pained to learn of the recent affliction of Rev. A. J. Hartley, the beloved pastor of Antioch Baptist Church, in the death of his estimable wife, on Tuesday, January 12th.

Mrs. Amanda Hatley possessed all those estimable christian virtues which made her character truly lovely to all who knew her. She will be sorely missed in the family circle, and by the congregation of Antioch to whom she had endeared herself as the pastor's wife. She leaves a babe but one day old. Our heartfelt sympathies are with the bereaved, who will find comfort in the death of the righteous, by lifting their thoughts beyond this vale of tears.

As a matter of justice to the man, and not because he is the business manager of this paper we desire to congratulate Mr. Geo. Boliver upon his record as an officer. Searching investigations have been made. Geo. Boliver is all right. Our wish is that he will continue in the future as he has in the past and then we'll have an honest Republican party in our County.

F DeMars has added to his complete stock of liquors and segars, a well assort stock of groceries and other useful articles to housekeepers Frank is bound to keep up with the times and will do his very best to please all that calls on him. His sample room is in rear of the grocery store.

The attention of the public is invited to the advertisement of Mr. J. Von in another column. He has all kind dry goods, boots, shoes and notions to his usual supply of No 1. groceries and all who have patronized the above gentleman can vouch for the fact that no better bargains can be had anywhere in town than at his popular store.

We find it hard to keep up with our progressive post master. He is now moving the post office to Mr Ezekiel's—Orangeburg Times.

We find our friend behind a heap of things. The Times should be tired of the words "progressive" and "patent." Mr Ezekiel, we suppose, will do his duty faithfully as deputy post master. And why go against him, does he not belong to "Granger Sam's" Band?

Thursday night last the Rev. P. F. Kistler lectured in the basement of the Presbyterian church on the subject of temperance. The attendance was large and Mr Kistler made some strong points against the use of whiskey in any shape and was eloquent from the beginning to the end of his lecture. The Rev Mr Campbell followed him, and in kind but decisive language, advised those who drank to stop it. A mouth hence another lecture is promised the public.

Was born 15th day May, 1835. was a native of Florida, was engaged in the practice of medicine for eight years in Southwestern Georgia, and served as Surgeon in the late Confederate army with great acceptability to the medical bureau of the Confederacy. After the war he moved from Georgia to Orangeburg, one of whose fair daughters he married. He won the confidence and esteem of the whole county both as a high toned gentleman and a druggist. The sad event of his death happened on the 11th instant, from injuries sustained by his falling off the roof of his new residence, on which he had gone to adjust a stove pipe. He leaves a widow with three children. His death is deeply mourned by the entire community of Orangeburg.

AUGUSTUS FISCHER— Is just the sort of a man that all towns ought to have in them. Not satisfied with his splendid grocery and saloon, he has gone to work and put up, right next door, another arrangement, in which the lovers of good things to eat can get exactly what they want. Fresh oysters, fresh vegetables of all kinds, apples, oranges, nuts and all kinds of cheese. If one gets hungry and wants a meal he can get it there. If one wants to see a clever man, let a call be made upon Lewis Fischer, the "little bubber" of the popular Augustus Fischer. To sum up, if one wants any others to deal with other than Fischer, proprietor, Dr. Butler, that good fellow, John English and that amiable Lewis Fischer, he must find them outside of Orangeburg.
