South Carolina's proportion of this tax is a little over $1,000,000 a year, or the equivalent of the value of 20,000 bales The Horkville Enquirer. an industry which has no place in the State.

- The Mankato flouring mills at Mankato, Minn., have been informed by their Chicago correspondents that owing to the McKinley law the flour merchants of Holland and Belgium will not buy any more second grade baker's flour made in this country. This shuts out this market, which has annually taken over 12,000 barrels of this grade of flour from Mankato mills alone. The result will be the discharge of a large number of men. - "The grip is here again," says The Cincinuati Enquirer. "Not only has it ssumed an epidemic form, but it promise to be more virulent and deadly than last spring. There is probably not a promi-nent physician in the city who has not several cases of the disease under care at present. The victims are found among all classes, but those who do outdoor work seem to be more liable to attack. The street car employees especially are suffering severely.'

- The recent registration in North Caro-lina indicates that the colored people of that State are losing interest in politics. From all sections of the State comes infortion that the colored people in large numbers have failed to register. In Raleigh there was a falling off of 700 in colored registration, whilst in Charlotte there are but 896 registered colored voters against 1,500 in 1888. On the contrary the whites have generally registered very well, which causes The Raleigh News and Observer to reckon between 30,000 and 50,000 majority for the Democratic ticket.
