- General Campos, commander of the Spanish forces in Cuba, is not so sanguine now as he was about his abilcent interview with the correspondent of a Spanish newspaper, he said that the best thing for Spain to do under existing circumstances, is to compromise the whole thing. Otherwise, it will require 150,000 troops to put the insurgents down, and even then, 75,000 of these men will perish.

- "By a chancery decision handed down last week," says a Chattanooga special, "Cross & Tenny, the government contractors at Chickamauga park, must refund to their employees, 400 in number, the amount of doctor's fees and rent money, deducted from their wages, a sum approximating $6,000. This construction of the law makes it unlawful for an employer to require employees to sustain a physician, known as the 'company's doctor,' or live in tenements owned by an employer, and virtually kills the system of 'docking,' which is an octopus to the Tennessee workingmen. - In this column, not long ago, was told the story of how an Indian, con-nected with Buffalo Bill's Wild West show, killed a Baltimore boy with a still greater. stone. The boy, with others, was teasing an Indian baby. The Indian one of them over the heart, causing injuries that afterward duced death. When the boy died, the Baltimore authorities sent a detective after the show to arrest the Indian. In Atlanta, last week, the writ of habeas corpus was sued out. Judge Newman, of the Federal court, heard both sides of the case with great patience, and finally decided that the Indian should go back to Baltimore to stand his trial for manslaughter.

- The long and tedious trial of Theodore Durant for the murder of Blanche Lamont, in San Francisco, last spring, is ended. The case was given to the jury on the morning of October 31. The jury remained out only 28 minutes, lately as to the position that York's repand returned with a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree. The Reception at Mr. Ferguson's-Debat on Friday-Other Notes.

Correspondence of the Yorkville Enquirer. FOREST HILL, November 4.-The reception given Mr. Turner Ferguson and bride at the residence of Mr. Perry Ferguson on last Wednesday evening, was an enjoyable affair. Quite a number of the friends of the bride and groom were present, and after partaking of a sumptuous repast, they spent the evening in a lively way. Some enjoyed themselves in the parlor conversing or listening to music, while others repaired to the large dining room that had been cleared of its loaded able, and converted into a ball room, where they performed Terpsichorean evolutions to the music furnished by some young gentlemen who volunteered to play, the musicians who were expected having failed to put in an appearance. As we stood and looked on at the merry dancers, we were carried back to the time when we thought nothing could take the place of the dance and, as Bret Harte expresses it, we saw again, as it were, 'Harrons' barn with its muster, of flags festooned over the wall, and candles that shed their soft luster and tallow o'er head, dress and shawl, of the steps that we took to one fiddle, of the dress of my queer vis-a-vis, and how I once went down the middle, with the man that shot Sandy McGee." The bride and groom were of course the central figures, and we think that their happy appearance put everbody else in the room in the notion of getting married, including two old bachelors, one of whom is known as the Chief of the as preferring the semi-weekly, and that Point. The chief made no secret in declaring that all that kept him from committing matrimony right then was that he instead, however, at any time they may didn't have the "boodle." One of the indicate a preference for it; or any subgroomsmen, it is said, was so carried way with his fair partner that when Mr. McAllister told the bride and groom to join right hands, he took the lady's hand he was with, and if she had not jerked it away there would have been two couples instead of one joined in the holy bonds of wedlock. Among the ladies who were at the infare were Mrs. J. G. McClain, Mrs. Alva McClain, and Misses Mollie and Janie Glenn. Miss Anna Neely and Misses Lois and Mamie Suggs arrived in time for the dance. # WILL GO TO ATLANTA.

Pursuant to the call of Commander Hart, pubublished in THE ENQUIRER of Friday, Camp Micah Jenkins, U. C. V. met in the court house last Monday for the purpose of considering the proposed trip to Atlanta. Commander Hart explained that there would be no special day set apart for the Confederate veterans, as he at first had reason to believe; but during the week commencing November 25, there would be a South Carolina day, and he thought this would be an appropriate occasion for the proposed visit. He went on to explain that he had been in correspondence with the railroads, and had succeeded in getting the lowest rates yet offered to any organization. This rate had been offered by the Seaboard Air Line and was not to exceed $4.50 for the round trip. The veterans could leave by way of the O. R. & C. or Narrow Gauge, according to which might be most convenient, take the G., C. & N., either at Catawba Junction or Chester and go straight to Atlanta. The rate, although made especially for Camp Micah Jenkins, has by request, been extended to Confederate veterans and their families throughout the State.

Taxable Property in York.

A synopsis of the annual report of the comptroller general has been published. According to it, the total taxable property of the State is $169,449,251. Of this amount York furnishes $6,220,390, and will pay in State taxes, $27,991. In addition to this, besides her ordinary county taxes, she will pay 5,931 polls, against 4,895 last year.

Two Crops A Year.

Mr. M. C. Parrott, who lives in the neighborhood of Filbert, has handed THE ENQUIRER some second crop "Harvest" pears that have been borne by the trees on his place since last summer. The pears are more than half grown and look as if they could get about three weeks more of growth before frost, they would become perfectly mature.

The Fire Alarm.

There was another alarm of fire in Yorkville last Saturday morning at about 10 o'clock. The fire was at the residence of Mr. R. B. Lowry, on Cleveland avenue, and had originated from a stove flue between the ceiling and roof. The fire department answered the alarm promptly; but, happily, the flame had been extinguished before it got there. The damage did not amount to more than a few dollars.

County Division. So far as THE ENQUIRER is able to learn, there are no new developments in the county division question. There were quite a number of Rock Hill men in Yorkville on Monday; but they had little to say on the subject. One or two expressed themselves assured of the fact that the county would yet be divided; but as to essions for York county, convened in how they hoped to bring about such a consummation, they were unwilling to

With many much larger streams, in all parts of the county, either drying up or becoming greatly reduced in volume, a question has naturally arisen as to the conmade inquiry of Mr. Gossman, the pump-

man. He says that so far as he is able to see, there is about as much water in the onor was very brief. He presumed that stream as there was last winter. This cirthat the waterworks branch is fed by a number of live springs that can stand a have had, before showing any serious di-

Three Negro Children Burned. Three Negro children, aged 2, 4 and 7 years, respectively, were burned to death two miles east of Tirzah last Sunday mornself to jurors, witnesses and court officials ing at about 8 o'clock. The facts in the case are about as follows: The mother of usual, made a fire and went to the spring after some water. She stopped at the home of her father to get some breakfast their names: G. M. Cline, Alexander for herself and children. As she was about to return, she noticed that her cabin was on fire, and when she got back it was too late to do anything for the children, all of whom had been burned to a crisp. Smith, R. S. Torrence, W. A. Love, R. Trial Justice Anderson, acting coroner, summoned a jury, and after a thorough investigation, the verdict was to the effect that the three children came to their deaths by "mischance."

Amzi McNeel, colored, was knocked silly by Allison Burt, the colored cook at Roth's restaurant, last Saturday night. Amzi, who is very well behaved and peaceably disposed while sober, has the reputation of being especially turbulent when drunk. Mr. Roth serves meals, including fish and oysters, to all comers. guilty as to both; but recommended Mary He has a special arrangement for colored people in the kitchen. Amzi came in under the influence of liquor and asked for oysters. While Burt was preparing the oysters, Amzi said to him, "You don't treat me right when I come here." yes, I do, Mr. McNeel," replied Burt. McNeel did not like the idea of being contradicted, and in a very offensive manner used the word liar. Burt promptly knocked him down with a stick of stove wood, and for 10 minutes or more, it seemed to be a serious question as to whether Amzi would recover; but he is now getting better. There have been no arrests.

Shaken by an Earthquake. Quite a number of Yorkville people report that on last Thursday morning, at about 5 o'clock they felt what they thought at the time to have been an earthquake shock. There is now little reason to beconvicted of largeny of live stock, and lieve they were mistaken. The daily papers of Friday morning say that the shock was felt from beyond Omaha, Neb., eastward to the Atlantic, and southward was convicted of burglary and larceny to the Gulf of Mexico. In Chicago, the shock was strong enough to shake objects off of mantels and desks in tall buildings, and in St. Louis many clocks were stopliam Perry, all colored, were convicted of ped. A later cable from Rome brings the news that that city was badly shaken up. Nearly every church bell in the city was rung by the vibrations and several palaces and public buildings were rendered unsafe for occupancy.
