HAD HIS WAY .- A Boston journal says: "Among the passengers on the St. Louis Express yesterday, was a woman very much overdressed, accompanied by a bright-looking and a selfwilled, tyranical boy of about 3 years.

'The boy aroused the indignation of the passengers by his continued shrieks and kicks and screams, his viciousness toward the patient nurse. He tore her bonnet, scratched her hands, and finally spat in her face, without a word of remonstrance from his mother.

"Whenever the nurse manifested any firmness, the mother chided her sharply. "Finally, the mother composed herself for a nap; and about the time the boy had slapped the nurse for the pantry and it will help keep it dry 50th time, a wasp came sailing in, and flew on the window of the nurse's seat. The boy at once tried to catch it.

LESSON V, FIRST QUARTER, INTER-NATIONAL SERIES, FEB. 2.

Text of the Lesson, Luke v, 17-26-Memory Verses, 22 to 24-Golden Text, Luke V, 24-Commentary by the Rev. D. M.

17. "And it came to pass on a certain day as He was teaching that there were Pharisees and dottors of the law sitting The 11 cables now in operation by, which were come out of every town of across the Atlantic have cost upward Galilee and Judea and Jerusalem, and the power of the Lord was present to heal them." The title of this lesson is "The Power of Jesus," and it is seen in this chapter in the draft of fishes, the healing of the leper and of the paralytic, but spe-cially in the forgiveness of sins. As He was teaching on this particular occasion the house was full of leading and influential religious people, but He, the humble car-penter of Nazareth in their estimation, thought not of their opinion and so, as al-ways, pleasing the Father, He preached the word unto them (Mark ii, 2). Although the power of the Lord was present to heal, they had come not to be healed, nor to be blessed, and they got neither.

18. "And, behold, men brought in a bed a man which was taken with a palsy, and they sought means to bring him in and to lay him before Him." The Pharisees and doctors needed no help, in their own estimation, but here is a poor, afflicted, helpless man sadly needing help and very conscious of it. There is a saying that "God helps those who help themselves," but the whole story and teaching of Scripture are to the effect that "God helps those who can-not help themselves"—the utterly helpless and hopeless, humanly speaking, as the lepers, the blind, the dumb, the deaf and no recompense but themselves in gratitude for His loving kindness.

19. "They went upon the house top and let him down through the tiling, with his couch, into the midst before Jesus." Their sympathy was practical, they were very persevering, they manifested their faith by their works. It may be that each of the four had himself been healed of some infirmity and therefore they could truly sympathize with their friend, and having each for himself seen and known the power of Jesus they knew that could they only get him to Jesus the thing would be done.

20. "And when He saw their faith, He said unto him, Man, thy sins are forgiven We read in Math. viii, 8-13, of the faith that said, "Speak the word only and my servant shall be healed," and without even seeing the sick one Jesus healed him. The faith of these men seems hardly so great as that of the centurion, but it was real faith in Jesus, though different in degree, and it pleased the Lord. "Without faith it is impossible to please Him' (Heb. xi, 6). The man was brought to be healed of his palsy, but Jesus, like a skillful physician, sees the true source of his troubles and begins the cure at the fountain head. Not all sickness is the direct result of individual sin, but sometimes it is so, as in

21. "Who can forgive sins but God alone?" Thus reasoned the scribes and Pharisees as they heard the words of Jesus to the sick man. We may imagine their consternation and possibly scowls and anger as they saw the roof broken up over their heads. Contrast the perfect calm of Jesus, unmoved by having His discourse interrupted, or by the disturbance overhead, or by the hatred in their hearts, the very essence of peace and quietness, He who said to winds and waves, "Peace, be still!" was Himself always peaceful and of all the farms in Holland are less than still, for He lived in the presence of God, the God of peace.

22. "But when Jesus perceived their thoughts He, answering, said unto them, What reason ye in your hearts?" It is written of Him, "I know the things that come into your mind every one of them" (Ezek. xi, 5). He understandeth even the imagfor the pleasure and profit of children. ination of the thoughts of the heart (I In the tower will swing a fine set of silver chimes.

ination of the thoughts of the heart (I Chron. xxviii, 9). He understands our thought afar off (Ps. cxxxix, 2). It is a reat comfort to a sincere heart that trusts in Him that He can read the heart and that He thoroughly understands us. It is, on the contrary, anguish to the unsaved when they allow themselves to think of it that their every thought is known to the searcher of hearts. See Jer. xvii, 10.

23. "Whether is easier to say, Thy sins be forgiven thee, or to say, Rise up and a sister better. walk?" An ordinary physician may effect If You W a cure for the body, but only God can heal the soul. One has said that the work of creation was completed in six days, but the work of redemption kept the Son of God on earth for over 33 years. Concerning the first, He spake and it was done, but to accomplish the second God became man and suffered indescribable agony of body and soul for our sins. To forgive sins is surely the greatest work, for it cost God the most.

24. "The Son of Man hath power on earth to forgive sins." Therefore the Son of God. but God alone?" faith would have said, "He forgiveth sins, therefore He must be our God," according to Isa. xliii, 25. What a joy that He still forgives sins! I have been glad for 22 years that He has forgiven my sins, and I first saw it in I John ii, 12. I have had no droam or vision about it, but I believe God. I rest in the finished work of the Lord Jesus Christ and just take Him at His word. I believe also that as truly as He redeems the soul He will in due time redeem the body.
25. "And immediately he rose up before them and took up that whereon he lay and departed to his own house, glorifying God." We read at least seven times in this gospel of "glorifying God." The shepherds glorified God when they had seen the babe in the manger, the people glorified God when they had seen the widow's son raised to life, the woman who was bowed down 18 years glorified God when she was made straight, one of the ten lepers glorified God, the blind man glorified God and the Roman centurion glorified God (ii, 20; v, 25, 26; viii, 16; xiii, 13; xvii, 15; xviii, 43; xxiii, 47). We glorify God when we believe in Jesus Christ, when we make it manifest to others that we have confidence in Him, and do actually trust Him, when we, by patience and meekness, by love and joy and long suffering and kindness, make it very plain to others that Christ Himself is living in us and that we belong to Him.

26. "And they were all amazed, and they glorified God and were filled with fear, saying, We have seen strange things today." They had seen an impossibility, humanly speaking. They had seen the well, and they saw a preacher undisturbed ger of the influential people in his au-dience. All these things were superna-
