THE MISSING MEMORANDUM.

Those of us who depend upon "paper memories," as lists and memorandums are scornfully called by those who can remember without their aid, can appreciate this story, told at the expense of a certain justice of the peace, who lived years ago in a Massachusetts

He carried about with him a slip of paper on which was written the brief marriage form which he used when called upon to unite a pair in the bonds of matrimony. He never trust-ed himself to begin the ceremony without reference to this document.

One day, at a county fair in a neighboring town, he was approached by an neuralgia." elderly couple, who expressed their wish to be married then and there. After some conversation the "squire" agreed to perform the ceremony on way. the spot, and the three, accompanied by a grown-up daughter of the man and a sister of the prospective bride, stepped into a convenient horse shed.

There the "squire" began a fruitless search for the important paper, growing more and more perturbed as each succeeding pocket played him false At last he abandoned the search.

"Are you willing to marry this woman?" he asked the man, who replied with a prompt "Yes."

"And you want to marry him?" asked the justice, turning to the bride. "I do," said she, with promptness equal to the bridegroom's.

"Then," said the "squire," in his most impressive tone, "I hereby pronounce you married, according to the memorandum left at home in my other trousers' pocket."

LESSON VIII, THIRD QUARTER, INTER-NATIONAL SERIES, AUG. 21.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Text of the Lesson, II Kings v, 1-14. Memory Verses, 13, 14 - Golden Text, Jer. xvii, 14 - Commentary by the Rev. D. M. Stearns.

1. "Now Naaman, captain of the host The religion that cannot be prac-ticed always is not worth practicing his master and honorable." The verse goes on to tell why, but closes with the sad statement that he was a leper. The Word of God from beginning to end reveals God to us working in and through and for His people and for all who are willing to receive His mercy. Even by those who do not know Him He sometimes works as in this case, delivering Syria by Naaman. All the great and honorable men of Scripture, such as Boaz, the mighty man of wealth (Ruth ii, 1); Mordecai, who was great among the Jews (Est. x, 3), and others lead the believer to say with heartfelt gratitude, "I know a greater and more honorable than all others, and He can heal even lepers.'

2. "Brought away captive out of the land of Israel a little maid, and she wait-ed on Naaman's wife." Thus did the Syrians with God's permission, but what about the little maid's father and mother, and what about her own poor little heart? It is very evident that God does not al-ways seek the comfort of His people, but He does always seek the highest good, and the greatest eternal glory of each one. Consider Joseph and Daniel, etc.

8. "Would God my lord were with the prophet that is in Samaria! For he would recover him of his 'leprosy." But for the love of God manifested through the little maid we might never have had the story of Naaman. The faithfulness of the little boy Samuel and of this little girl are great lessons for all boys and girls. Jesus at the age of 12 was about His Father's busi ness, and it is the business of all who know of the land of Israel." So said one to the king, and thus the message of the little maid is passed on to headquarters, even the words of a little boy or girl are worth being passed on and will accomplish God's pleasure if they concern Him or His servants who live unto Him. He will use any vessel that is willing to be used by Him that He may be glorifled. 5. "And the king of Syria said, Go to, go and I will send a letter unto the king clean floors while standing upright. of Israel." So Naaman departed, taking as a present 10 talents of silver, 6,000 pieces of gold and ten changes of raiment. God gave His Son freely and with Him freely all things (Rom. iii, 24; viii, 32). Those do not know Him who think to buy His gifts, neither do those know Him as they should who bring Him no thank thee, behold I have therewith sent Naaman, my servant, to thee, that thou may-est recover him of his leprosy." Our messages for God often get twisted and per-verted by those who hear them, but God will somehow accomplish His pleasure. It is not for us to worry if we have acted according to Jer. xxiii, 28. The little girl had said that the prophet, not the king, would do.it.

7. "Am I God, to kill and to make alive, that this man doth send unto me to recover a man of his leprosy?" Thus said Asheville. They bearded the train in the king of Israel when he had read the a shower of rice. "Messrs. Waties letter and imagined that the king of Syria sought to quarrel with him. True, he was not able either to kill or make alive, but he should have known the God of Israel and His servants, the prophets, and in McKinney, Texas, and Helena,

Let him now come to me, and he shall know that there is a prophet in Israel." Thus sent Elisha to the king when he heard that the king had rent his clothes. Mother—Johnny, what do you mean by playing with that Gubler boy? Didn't I tell you never to let in the dividing of the waters, the healing of with him. He has seen the power of God returned to the city Wednesday mornin the dividing of the waters, the healing of ing. the waters and in the miraculous supply of water, in the increase of the oil, the raising of the Shunamite's son and the healing of the pottage. He knows God and feels free to expect whatever will glorify Him. 9. "So Naaman came with his horses and with his chariot and stood at the door of makes us think of the time when all kings shall fall down before Him, whom Elisha served, when every high thing shall be brought down and the Lord alone shall be exalted in that day (Ps. kxii, 11; Isa. ii, 11).

10. "Go and wash in Jordan seven times, and thy flesh shall come again to thee, and thou shalt be clean." Thus said the messenger whom Elisha sent to the door, for Elisha thought k not necessary to go himself. He stood like Elijah before God and considered no greatness that was

11. "But Nasman was wroth and went away and said, Behold, I thought he will surely come out to me." Naaman had it all planned in his own mind just how it ought to be done, for was not he a great and bonorable man and did he not deserve to be honored before his soldiers and by General Toral get back to Spain, they this Israelite? Was he not prepared to pay well for all he got and was this any kind of a way to treat such as he? His pride would not stand it, and he went away in > ers of Damascus, better than all the waters of Izrael?" The water might be as good or possibly better for some purposes, but they were not God's way for his cleansing. Cain's fruits were probably much more attractive than Abel's bloody lamb, but they were not God's way. Good works and a good moral character are very beautiful and all right in their place, but they are not God's way of cleansing the leprosy of sin, and therefore of no avail.

> 13. "How much rather then when he saith to thee, Wash and be clean?" His servants, wiser than he, thus reasoned with him that he would gladly do some great thing, and why not this simple thing? There are many who would give much money and do many so called good works if thus they could be saved, but simply to receive Christ and depend wholly upon Him and to have all their rightcousness count for nothing is too humiliating for some people, and they will not submit (Rom. x, 8).

14. "Then went he down and dipped himself seven times in Jordan, according to the saying of the man of God, and his

THE ROUND ROBIN.

Origin of the Term-The People at Santiago Perhaps a Little Rattled. Richmond Dispatch.

The protest of the American officers t Santiago against our army's being cept there any longer is spoken of by he dispatches as "a round robin."

And so it is for all practical purposes, though we suppose it is not so in exact form. As we understand it, a round robin is a petition or remonstrance signed in such a way that no name heads the list. The signatures are placed in circular form. The dictionaries tell us that the device is of French origin, and that the term is a corruption of rond (round) and rudan ribbon.) It was first adopted by the officers of the French government as a means of making known their griev-ances, without disclosing the leader in he movement.

We doubt if the officers who signed the Santiago remonstrance took the trouble to sign their names as the Frenchmen did. Quite probably they signed the paper just as they would have done had it been one calling upon a man to run for congress, or begging he executive to pardon a murderer.

However, it was important actionextreme action. It shows that the army officers—seemingly led by Roosevelt-are in conflict of opinion with the war office, and it threw all the responsibility for the further detention of Shafter's army in Cuba upon the war office. The result is that the war office has had to back down and order Shafter's army to Long Island, N. Y. It looks very much indeed as though there were a panicky feeling among our men at Santiago. We presume the death-rate from fevers is increasing, and that the men think they would be better off in this country than in the hill country around Santiago. That may be so; but there are those who doubt it. None but well men can be prudently put aboard the transports, yet should the yellow fever break out among them before they land, the mortality would probably be very

However, the round robin has decided the question-Shafter's army will return to this country, and immunes (socalled) will take their places.
