This the man declined to do, as not belonging to his place, or ute than usual. rather as derogatory to his consequence. The lady then moved the question to the coachman, but found a still stronger objection.

To save the pride of both, Mrs. Wharton resolved to take the pie to the shop herself. She ordered one man to harness and bring out the horses, and the other to mount and ride behind, and thus the errand was done with all honor and ceremony. Then in due time the coachman was ordered to put to a second time, and the footman to mount behind, and Mrs. Wharton brought back the pie in the same dignified state.

"Now," said the lady to the coachman, "you have kept your place, which is to drive; and you yours," to the United States. footman, "which is to wait; and I mine, which is to have my pie for

LESSON IX, THIRD QUARTER, INTER-NATIONAL SERIES, AUG. 28.

Text of the Lesson, II Kings vi, 8-18.

8. "Then the king of Syria warred against Israel and took counsel with his servants, saying, In such and such a place shall be my camp." From the story of Cain and Abel onward all the characters in the Bible are either for God or against Him and are seen either leaning upon His wisdom or upon their own. But the bor-rowed ax at the bottom of the river tells the condition of all men apart from God. All are lost and helpless to recover them-selves, and how can such think to do aught for or effectually against God? The stick that caused the iron to swim and be recov-ered is, like the tree cast into the waters of Mara, suggestive of Him who is the Tree of Life, who only can recover lost souls or make bitter waters sweet.

9. "And the man of God sent unto the king of Israel, saying, Beware that thou pass not such a place, for thither the Syrians are come down." Surely the Lord God will do nothing, but He revealeth His secret unto His servants the prophets (Amos iii, 7). As He told Samuel about Saul whom He would send to him to be anointed king, and also told him what would happen to him the day he left him, adding, "Do as occasion serve thee, for God is with thee," so He sees the end from the beginning of every day for each of us, and if we leave our way with Him He will bring it to pass and order our steps to His glory and to our highest good.

10. "And the king of Israel sent to the place which the man of God told him and warned him of and saved himself there, not once nor twice." Thus illustrating II Chron. xx, 20, "Believe in the Lord, your God, so shall ye be established; believe His prophets, so shall ye prosper." There is nothing on earth so sure as the Word of God, for it is forever settled in heaven (Ps. exix, 89), and, though all else may fade and fail, the Word of our God shall stand forever (Isa. xl, 8).

11. "Therefore the heart of the king of Syria was sore troubled for this thing, and ne called his servants and said unto them, Will ye not show me which of us is for the king of Israel?" For unless there was a traitor among his men, how else could his plans be made known to his enemy? Thus reasoned the king of Syria, for he knew naught but human wisdom, and yet he knew that the incurable disease of leprosy had been healed in Israel, and was it not possible that one who had connection with such power might also be able to reveal

12. "And one of his servants said, None, my lord, O king, but Elisha, the prophet, that is in Israel, telleth the King of Israel the words that thou speaketh in thy bedchamber." Can any hide himself in secret places that I shall not see him? saith the Lord. Do not I fill heaven and earth? said the Lord (Jer. xxiii, 24). Thou compassest my path and my lying down and art acquainted with all my ways, for there Lord, Thou knowest it altogether. Yea, the darkness hideth not from Thee, but the night shineth as the day; the darkness "Don't you think this war has dragged along too slowly?" Though near his latter end, said, "Well, if this man somehow knows no use in my trying to get him, for he will know that I am coming and can hide himself from me." But he is blinded by his master, the devil, and goes heedlessly on, bent on his own purposes.

14. "Therefore sent he thither horses and chariots and a great host, and they came by night and compassed the city about." He must have felt that Elisha was more than an ordinary man or he man eyes can see what he is doing, for he ness and the light are alike.

15. "And when the servant of the man of God was risen early and gone forth, bedo?" In two cases we have seen servants wiser than their masters, but this servant does not seem to have profited as he might by having such a master. Even our Lord had to say to one of His disciples, "Have 16. "And he answered, Fear not, for they that be with us are more than they that be with them." Here is faith seeing the unseen. Moses endured as seeing Him who is invisible. The things seen are temporal, but the things unseen are eternal. Happy are those who have learned to see the things that are invisible to ordinary ly into heaven and see the glory of God and Jesus and find comfort in His words, "Because I live, ye shall live also" (John xiv, 19). God would have His people without fear, and a prayerful study of the 'fear nots' from the first one in Gen. xv, 1, onward would greatly tend to this hap-py state of mind which would be very much to God's glory.

17. "And Elisha prayed and said, Lord, I pray thee, open his eyes that he may see. And the Lord opened the eyes of the young man, and he saw, and, behold, the moun tain was full of horses and chariots of fire round about Elisha." We read in Rev. v, 11, that the angels are 10,000 times 10,-000 and thousands of thousands, and a few of these would be sufficient to take care of would give Him 12 legions of them if He asked for them, and we are told that they are ministering spirits, ministering unto the heirs of salvation (Heb. i, 14).

18. "And when they came down to him, Elisha prayed unte the Lord and said, Smite this people, I pray thee, with blindness. And He smote them with blindness, according to the word of Elisha." Notice also Elisha's third prayer and answer in this incident in verse 20, and if you earnestly covet such intimate fellowship with God, make John xiv, 18, 14, a very prayer ful study, understanding that "in His name" means at least "on His business, and asking such things as He Himself would ask. We must not imagine Elishe speaking anything but truth in verse 19, and was really the king of Israel.
