

company might have an established rule for future action.

With Messrs. J. S. Brice and W. B. deLoach representing the plaintiff insurance company, and Mr. G. W. S. Hart representing the defendant, Mr. Hall, the fight centered on the powers conferred in this provision of the charter: "Every member of the said corporation shall be and is bound, and is obliged to pay his * * * portion of all losses and expenses accruing to said corporation."

Mr. Hart based his defence principally upon the word "accruing." He held that in connection with the general character of the charter and the policy contract, it could not be taken to mean losses that were to occur; but that it could only be held to mean losses that had actually taken place and which had become obligations on the members of the company. He also pointed out that if any other construction should be given the meaning of the word, then there would be practically no limit to the assessments that could be levied, even in the absence of any liability whatever.

the day; but the house worked industriously. A large number of new bills were introduced, some of them of especial general interest.

Mr. McDow introduced a joint resolution requiring the county supervisor of York county to draw his warrant in favor of E. A. Crawford, ex-sheriff of York county, for $71.25—certain fees and costs in criminal cases—and the treasurer to pay the same. This is a bill that had been duly rendered by Captain Crawford; but its payment was postponed and the original was finally lost in the office of the supervisor.

Mr. Moses introduced a bill to provide for ten judicial circuits. Under this bill the Sixth circuit consists of Fairfield, Chester, Lancaster, Kershaw and York.

SOUTH CAROLINA NEWS.

To Increase Its Capital. The secretary of state has granted the Clover Cotton Manufacturing company authority to increase its capital stock.

Died In Jail. James B. Williams, under death sentence for the murder of Chas. P. Potts, in Greenville county, last August, died in the Greenville jail last Friday. He had been ill with dropsy since his trial in November. Death was sudden and unexpected. Williams frequently said long confinement would kill him. He expected a new trial by order of the supreme court, and was confident of final acquittal. Williams was 39 years old and unmarried. He had been in business here 15 years. In 1891 he killed Major Dixie Williams, but was acquitted. His parents are quiet, good people in Pickens county. He was kind hearted, and not regarded as a violent; but a dangerous man when aroused.

Washington correspondence News and Courier: Two of the pending South Carolina contested election cases are to be taken up for consideration in committee next Friday. The contest against Representative Stokes falls by reason of the death of the contestant, Johnston. That leaves the cases of Murray against Elliott and Chatfield and Murray are both here looking after their respective interests, and Representatives Elliott and Talbert are preparing for contest before the committee. There is no way of telling how soon these cases will be called up for consideration by the house after they have been passed upon by the committee. It is probable that the session will be well advanced before they are reached, if they are ever reached before the 4th of March. It will be remembered that Tom Miller, in his contest with Colonel Elliott, was not awarded his seat until the closing hours of the congress. By the time he settled in his seat congress died on his hands.

Tom Dixon Will Resign.—The New York Herald says the Rev. Thos. Dixon, Jr., will resign the pastorate of the People's church next Sunday morning, at the Grand opera-house. Mr. Dixon will henceforth make his home in Cape Charles, Va., where he has a summer residence. He intends to abandon pulpit work. It is hinted that his determination to resign was partly caused by the fact that his congregations recently have not been so large as formerly.

THE SENATE.—The tax extension resolution was discussed at length. Several senators called attention to the folly of making this extension every year; but the resolution was passed so as to extend the time in which taxes may be paid without penalty until March 1. Among the important new bills introduced, was one by Senator Blakeney to authorize bonded magistrates constables of this state, having warrants of arrest in criminal cases, to execute the same in any part of the state without endorsement, and to provide compensation for the same.
