He did not answer questions with much satisfaction and he was committed to jail.

The reporter is informed that the people of the neighborhood were considerably stirred up over the matter. All the developments in the case were not generally known until Wilson was safe in jail. Otherwise it is likely that there would have been a hanging. That is the way the talk is going; but now that the Negro is in the hands of the law, it is not probable that there will be any attempt at violence.

Mrs. Robert Whisonant and daughter, Miss Iva, of Blacksburg, spent Wednesday and Thursday in Yorkville with Mrs. J. Q. Wray.

Colonel Joseph W. Barnwell, of months during and after the war. His family refugeed here in 1864, and after he was wounded he came here also to get well again. To the reporter he said that the town looked pretty familiar, especially along Main street; there were not a great many changes. On the side streets, and especially on King's Mountain street, he noted wonderful changes for the better. He enjoyed his expedition over the town. Colonel Barnwell returned to Charleston Wednesday night.

WITHIN THE TOWN.

-A number of local Democrats, more conspicuous for their party loyalty than sound judgment on political matters, gave up many hard-earned dollars on account of the McKinley landslide of last Tuesday.

-Ed White, colored, was in Yorkville Thursday, and he wants his friends to know that he has a good job cooking at a lumber camp at Globe, N. C. He says he likes the place so well and the people like him so well, that he ternoon at 3.30 c'clock. Evening ser- you will know. will probably remain there forever.

- The county board of commissioners held their regular monthly meeting last Wednesday. Some accounts were audited, and petitions were considered asking for help for outside poor, etc.; but none of the petitions were granted. No business of public interest was transacted.

- The roof of a cottage on Pinckney street, occupied by Mr. J. H. Lucas, caught fire last Thursday afternoon from a spark from the chimney. A school at 4.30 p. m. Evening service at 11 a. m. Sunday high wind was blowing at the time and 7.00 o'clock. the situation was one of considerable uneasiness. The telephone, however, facilitated a prompt sending of the fire alarm, and the Queen City hose reel got to the scene of danger in time to check the flames before they could make much headway. The entire fire department answered the alarm. The damage was very slight; not amounting to more than two or three dollars. The marriage of Miss Maggie L. Ferguson to Mr. Robert F. Smith, of Columbia; took place at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. R. L. Ferguson, in Yorkville, last Wednesday afternoon, shortly after 5 o'clock. The cer emony was performed by Rev. J. B. Bozeman, pastor of the Yorkville Baptist church, in the presence of quite a number of friends and relatives of the young people. After the ceremony the day) afternoon at 4 o'clock. young people received the congratulations of their friends and then took the southbound Carolina and North-Western train for Columbia. LOCAL LACONICS.

The Occasion of Conference. On account of the annual conference of the Methodist church of South Carolina, at Chester, on November 28-December 4, the Carolina and North-Western railroad will sell round trip tickets at the rate of 5 cents a mile from Gastonia to Chester. Will Be Abandoned

The proposed big Thanksgiving hunt over the country between Yorkville and Rock Hill will probably be abandoned. Those who were most active in their efforts to organize it have been hearing notes of alarm from the farmers who have already gotten their wheat and oats sowed, and they have about decided that the scheme might occasion considerable damage. As the situation now stands, it is not likely that the big hunt will come off-at least not along the lines suggested.
